KENDRICK TO PLAY IN CAPE LEAGUE

Charles "Buster" Kendrick, star right hander of the Winchester Millionaires and former high school baseball captain, left Tuesday to join the pitching staff of the Bourne Club in the Cape Cod Baseball League. He was driven to Bourne by the Millionaire's manager, Paul Higley.

"Bus," during his high school career and the past two years with the Millionaires, has pitched a lot of good ball, one of his best performances being a year ago on the 4th of July when he handcuffed the Cottage Crest Team of the Suburban Twilight League to win 3 to 2. He is a rangy boy with a loose, easy motion, fairly good speed and a good curve ball. He hits well and his many friends will watch with interest his progress in the Cape League, admittedly faster company than any in which he yet has traveled.

Last Saturday evening his teammates on the Millionaires gathered at his home on Holton street to wish him luck and to present him with a new glove and a good curve ball. An impromptu entertainment program and buffet luncheon added to the pleasure of the occasion.

THEFTS OF AUTO PARTS BOTHERING POLICE

The Police not only here but in most of Metropolitan Boston are having considerable trouble because of the theft of automobile parts to be sold as junk. The fact that most of the parts are taken from machines no longer in use makes the authorities job of apprehending offenders doubly difficult since in few cases is anything like a close watch kept on the cars.

Sunday evening while patrolling on Swanton street, Officer Vernon Derrero and Patrolman James Noonan noticed that the radiator had been taken from a G. M. C. truck, owned by the Puffer Mfg. Co. and parked in front of the house of Mr. Swanton street. After some little investigation a G. M. C. radiator shell was recovered at a home on Summer street, and later two boys came to Headquarters and admitted to Sergeant Derrero that they had taken the radiator and shell, the radiator having been sold to an out-of-town junk man for $2.00.

The Police say that court action will follow the location of the junk dealer responsible.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

The Board of Selectmen plans to have the town highway department reconstruct Bacon street and Everett avenue during the course of the summer after Mt. Vernon and Swanton street changes have been made and work is completed. Although the State has not allocated funds to do Bacon street and Everett avenue as a Chapter 90 project, the vote of the town meeting was such as to authorize the town to do this work with town funds in so far as these funds last.

The next meeting of the Board will be at 7 o'clock on Tuesday, July 6, and meetings will be held at 7 p.m. until further notice.

The list of jurors has been prepared for the beginning of July 1 and is printed elsewhere in this issue. Michael J. Sullivan, 26 Canal Street and Andrew J. Lynch, 53 Grove place, were appointed measurers for the year ending July 1, 1938.

Public hearings will be held on July 12 as follows:

LOCAL YOUNG MEN JOIN CRUSADE UNION BOY SINGERS ON TOUR

As an outcome of the appearance of the Crusade Union Boy Singers at the First Baptist Church of this town on June 13, three young men who are active in that Church have joined the group for their summer tour. These young men are Clifford Macdonald of 21 Kenwin road, Jack E. Burke, of 22 Prince avenue and Mr. Abbott W. Whitmarsh of Medford, who for the past year has been Director of Young People's Work at the Church.

Clifford Macdonald is to be the assistant musician on the tour and all who know him realize the fitness of his ability. Jack Burke will be a member of the Chorus, singing in the bass section. Mr. Whitmarsh is to hold the position of religious worker and assistant to Doctor Whitney during the trip. He has had a great deal of experience in work with boys and his helpfulness and service on the trip will be very beneficial.

The tour was opened last Sunday with three performances in Winthrop, Methuen, and Lowell. At the latter, the Matthews Memorial Church, where the service was held, had its largest congregation in its history and many were turned away. In the absence of the Governor of Massachusetts, Lieutenant Madigan, representative of the Commonwealth to the boys and wished the boys godspeed on their tour. The City of Lowell was officially represented as well as many surrounding communities. The concert given was of a superior nature graciously received. Several Medford people were in the congregation.

The itinerary of the tour which will last for about nine weeks will take in the New England States, Canada, New York State, with the boys going to Niagara Falls, and the hopes of a performance at the Great Lakes Exposition in Cleveland. Dr. Whitney, who founded this national group in 1915, will direct all the concerts during the trip. It is his hope to gather together a chorus of over 5000 voices to appear in a concert at the New York World's Fair in 1939.

The majority of the boys in the Crusade Union Boys Chorus are New England boys who have a limited degree of instrumental ability. Noted among these are Paul Wheeler, baritone soloist, Milford Andrews, baritone, Edwin Johnson, boy contralto, Y. Russell Walsh, boy alto, and a fine view of their Majestic King George VI and Queen Elizabeth.

While crossing the English Channel from France to England after a vacation on the Continent, Rogers, met at Oxford University in England with an interesting story of how an introduction on a channel steamer led to his having an excellent close-up of the big coronation parade and a fine view of their Majesty King George VI and Queen Elizabeth.

It is hoped that the people of Winchester will make it a point to visit the concerts of these boys if they appear in a community nearby. A real treat is in store for them and inspiration will be derived from hearing them. To the boys, we wish godspeed and success and know that much good will be done.

WINCHESTER BOY SAW CORONATION

Arthur V. Rogers, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. A. V. Rogers of Warren street, has returned home after a year at Oxford University in England with an interesting story of how an introduction on a channel steamer led to his having an excellent close-up of the big coronation parade and a fine view of their Majesty King George VI and Queen Elizabeth.

While crossing the English Channel from France to England after a vacation on the Continent, Rogers, met at Oxford University in England with an interesting story of how an introduction on a channel steamer led to his having an excellent close-up of the big coronation parade and a fine view of their Majesty King George VI and Queen Elizabeth.

It was while he was seated on the curbing waiting the dawn that he heard his name called in a loud voice. Looking up, he saw his Channel acquaintance waving to him from a taxi. An explanation of his proposed vigil resulted in the young lady inviting him to join her party at the coronation. The young man was regaled with sandwiches and coffee and where the next day he enjoyed a remarkably fine view of the historic parade.

WILL PLAY IN BARTER THEATRE

Janet Burns, daughter of Marjorie Mills of the Boston Herald, will appear in the role of Louise Lorimer in the Barter Theatre, Abingdon, Va., try-out of Frederick Jackson's new mystery play "The Long Night." Miss Burns, who is a regular member of the Abingdon company this summer, has already appeared in "The Distaff Side." The Barter Theatre is the most famous summer theatre in the country. Founded five years ago, it is the only theatre in the world where produce is accepted at the box office instead of cash. A resident company of sixty-five actors and actresses, headed by such well known stars as Margaret Wycherly, Fred Lawrence, Margaret Swope, George Oliver Taylor, John Cromwell and Paul Yost, is maintained for a twelve week season.

Plays are presented in Abingdon every Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and are trouped to neighboring Tennessee, Virginia and North Carolina towns. The home theatre enjoys the distinction of being an abandoned college rather than a barn.

WORKERS LEAVE FOR MORGAN CAMPS

Specially selected workers under the personal direction of Mr. Fred C. Moore are now busy preparing the camps on Morgan Memorial's 760 acre fresh air farm for the arrival of 400 to 500 guests on July 2. This will be the 30th season for these camps, where underprivileged babies, boys and girls, elderly men and women will have a chance at health away from the terrific heat of city streets and tenements.

OUTING FOR TROOP 7 BOY SCOUTS

Twenty-one boys and seven committee men left Winchester last Friday about 3 p.m. for an outing at Lone Pine Point, Lake Winnepesaukee, Meredith Neck, N. H., owned by Mr. and Mrs. Wadsworth Hight of Swan road.

The 95 miles were covered in about two and a half hours without mishap, but with plenty of noise. We arrived in camp about 7 p.m. very hungry, especially the writers. It paid to wait as Mrs. Hight had a steaming hot lunch prepared for all. After lunch, the camp was ready for bed, and about all some did was to go to bed!

How can any one sleep in a Boy's camp the first night, especially with such talented boys as A. O. Weld and E. H. Butterworth dancing the latest two-steps right over your bed accompanied with plenty of loud singing! The only neighbors we had were screech owls and loons. They were all frightened away. One owl was heard in the distance, he was probably going yet. Mr. Hight will not be bothered with those birds for awhile.

The program for Saturday started with a swim in the lake before breakfast. Some of the committee men wanted to shave and Mr. Swanson was seen walking around among the trees vainly looking for a connection for his electric razor.

About 10.30 a.m. the hike to Pine-ale Mt. was started, a distance of 5 and a half miles. Mr. Butterworth, with one group, and Mr. Swanson with another group, along the route smoothly, until about half of the distance was covered when Mr. Swanson's group got frightened at something and started to run up the mountain. They were so exhausted, a farmer came along and assisted them into his truck which took them the remainder of the distance. They did, however, walk back to camp, and on their return did their best to bring a cow into camp, expecting to have some free milk, but she was too fast for them, and finally got away.

Following is a list of the names of the scouts who walked the entire distance of 11 miles: Bohannon, Casler, Lynch, Twombly, Bolivar, Buckley, Post and Ray Harris.

A ball game started with two teams called the Buttercups and the Swan Divers. Casler did the pitching for the Swan Divers, allowing 3 hits in five innings, and the Buttercups used Jerry Buckley and several others. The Buttercups won the game by a score of 4-3, the umpiring of Mr. Hight being the outstanding feature. Rain started falling and rain checks were passed out to the audience in the fifth inning and the game will have to be finished next year.

Following the ball game, all hands gathered around the campfire and partook of hot dogs, beans and watermelon. It will take several months to reduce the waist lines to their regular size again. Harry Moulton arrived on Sunday in time for dinner, and after dinner, he was leader of the song service. How he can sing! From all reports, Abbott and Casler were the champion quill players.

Following are the names of the Scouts:

David Abbott	Richard Twombly
Richard Abrahamson	Tom Hendrickson
Carlton Bolivar	Richard Bobb
Paul Butterworth	Robert Harkins
Walter Buckley	Ellsworth Post
Ray Harris	Bernard Rasett
Frederick Hatch	Bradley Batson
John Harris	Ernest Butterworth
Prestor Jones	Wadsworth Hight
Ralph Joy	A. O. Weld
Walter Moulton	Martin Swanson
Richard Swanson	Ray Bohannon
Ralph Swanson	John C. Casler

TAKEN FOR A RIDE!

Wednesday morning at 2.30 o'clock Police Headquarters was notified by residents in the vicinity that screams had been heard coming from the direction of the Country Club grounds. Sergeant Joseph Derro and Patrolman James F. Noonan went to investigate and found Special Officer Walter B. Lord who had in custody a young woman who said she came from Cambridge.

At Headquarters in response to questioning by Lt. Edward W. O'Connell the young woman stated that she had gone for a ride with three men who had attempted to assault her in a lonely spot not far from the Country Club. She resisted them and succeeded in getting away from them, but became lost and had wandered about until picked up by Officer Lord.

The young woman was unable to give the number of the car in which she had ridden nor a good description of her assailants. After she had given the authorities what information she could, she was driven to her home by the Police.

MANY ENJOYED CORLISS PICTURES

The seating capacity of the vestry of the Second Congregational Church was taxed Tuesday evening for the showing of the colored travel pictures by Dr. Phillip Gordon Corliss. Over 150 people enjoyed the fine selections of pictures that Dr. Corliss presented in his travels over all sections of the United States.

It was a generous and fitting gift that Dr. Corliss made to the organ fund of the church. It was the gift of his mother several years ago that became the original organ fund. Two months ago a large committee of interested people of the Highland community started building on this fund. To date their efforts have met with outstanding success.

The Organ Committee and the church are most grateful to Dr. Corliss and the workers who made the evening one of success. Much appreciation is extended to the host of friends of Dr. Corliss who attended the showing and contributed so generously.

MRS. LAURA CAROLINE HOMER

Funeral services for Mrs. Laura Caroline Homer, who died Thursday, June 24, at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. J. Nutting, 23 Garfield avenue, were held on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Montvale Chapel, Woburn, with Rev. Arthur Simmins, pastor of the Wilmington Congregational Church, officiating. Interment was in Woodbrook Cemetery, Woburn.

Mrs. Homer, who was the widow of George F. Homer, had made her home with Mrs. Nutting during most of the past five years. She was the daughter of Cyrus Mason, and Caroline Mary (Needham) Tracy, and was born in Lynn, where she was privately educated under her father's direction. She was devoted to literature and art, studying under prominent teachers and doing creditable work.

On Feb. 7, 1874, she married George F. Homer of Lynn, who died in 1919. Their son, Prof. George L. Homer, of the faculty at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, died in 1935.

In 1887, with her family, Mrs. Homer went to Woburn, where for many years she was a well known resident and active and valued member of the Montvale Congregational Church. She leaves, besides Mrs. Nutting, three daughters, Edith T. Homer of Stoneham, and Mrs. Arthur P. Ottaway of Kingston; four grand-children, Chester H. Homer of Washington, D. C., Dr. Miriam J. Homer of Wilmington, Elizabeth T. Homer of Stoneham and Beverly F. Ottaway of Kingston; and one great-grand-daughter, Anne T. Homer of Washington, D. C.

McSPADEN SUCCESSFULLY DEFENDS STATE OPEN CROWN

Harold "Jug" McSpaden, Winchester Country Club's golf professional, successfully defended his Massachusetts Open Golf Championship in the 72 hole tournament, concluded Tuesday on the links at the Oyster Harbors Club. Finishing with a 288, McSpaden enjoyed a lead of three strokes over Gene Andersen, the home club pro, who passed the amateur Johnny Fisher of Fort Thomas, Ky., at one time thought to have the best chance of dethroning the champion, who incidentally is the first performer in 27 years to repeat.

McSpaden and Fischer were tied going into the last 36 holes, the latter who is a National amateur champion, faltered somewhat in his morning round, turning in an 80 against McSpaden's 75, to slip out of the running.

Meanwhile Andersen had forged un-ostentatiously to the fore, after being four shots down to McSpaden at the end of 36 holes. His morning round of 74 got back one of these, and after 54 holes Andersen was in second place. Speeding up his play, a birdie 3 on the 15th sent the home club pro to the 16th only one stroke behind McSpaden.

Andersen, however, gambled on the 16th and finally wound up with a five, giving McSpaden a lead of two strokes with but two holes to play. Trapping his second shot on the 18th, Andersen again took a five and McSpaden's four gave him a decisive three-stroke lead at the end of play.

The Winchester Pro's morning round of 75, exceeded only by Andersen's 74 was considered great golf in view of conditions, but good as it was, it had to run second to his play over the first nine holes in the afternoon, when he carded seven pars and two birdies for a 34.

This fine exhibition really ensured ultimate victory, giving "Jug" enough slack to offset a streak of wildness on the 13th, 14th and 15th. His victory was worth $400, Andersen collecting $200, Harry Nettelblad of Pakachoag Hill, $150, Joe Stein of Sandy Burr and Louis Raimondi of Springfield, $80 each, Davey Devo of Vesper, $40; Bob Crowley of Norfolk, $30; John McAndrew of Albe-marle and John Thoren of Woburn, $10 each.

President E. B. Badger of the Massachusetts Golf Association presented the checks and prizes and also refereed the 36 hole battle between McSpaden, Fischer and Nettelblad, which was one of the features of the tournament. Naturally "Tat" was delighted to have his home club pro a two time winner.

A delicious dinner was served by the Calumet Steward, Fred H. Scholl, after which a number of toasts were proposed with Selectman James J. Fitzgerald, Jr., acting as toast-master. A purse was presented to Mr. Murphy by Selectman Fitzgerald on behalf of the gathered group.

Featuring the entertainment program were violin selections by Isaac Budreau, piano solos by Tim O'Connor of Medford and Al Underhill of Arlington, a monologue by Jim McLaughlin and vocal selections by J. J. McCarron. James McLaughlin and C. J. Haggerty were in charge of arrangements.

UNDEFEATED W. H. S. GIRLS' TENNIS TEAM

WINCHESTER GIRLS HAD UN-DEFEATED TENNIS SEASON

Winchester High School girls' tennis team recently concluded another unbeaten season, defeating seven high school teams and being held to a tie in the final match of the year by Milton Academy.

This year's team was captained by Dorothy Bruno, a very smooth stroking performer who has played consistently good tennis over the past two seasons. Frances Keyes, promising freshman, paced the team at number 1 with Miss Bruno at 2, Priscilla Tapley, 3; Margaret Greene, 4; Barbara Ekern, 5; Jean Drake, 6; and Mary Alice Mason, 7. Muriel Blomquist was student manager and the coach was Miss Rosamond Young of the Physical Education Department.

Of the letter players, only the Misses Bruno, Ekern and Mason graduate, leaving a splendid nucleus for a winning team in 1938.

The juniors won the interclass tennis tournament, which had a large entry list this year, and as a consequence were awarded their numerals.

The team was captained by Eleanor Greene and included in playing order Shirley Smith, Frances Glidden, Margaret Shinnick, Katherine Hall, Jean Tarbell and Ann Marsters.

WOBBURN PLAYING LEAGUE GAMES AT WINCHESTER

Through the courtesy of the Winchester Park Department the Woburn Municipal League is playing many of its baseball games on the Loving avenue playground, due to the poor condition of most of the diamonds in the tanning city and the large number of games to be played.

Woburn is a veritable hotbed of baseball, and there are at best not enough diamonds for the teams that wish to play games in that city. For several years now Woburn nines have been using local playgrounds when they have not been in use by local teams, the Park Board taking the attitude that the diamonds should give as much pleasure to as many players and fans as possible.

AROUND THE BOAT CLUB

In spite of the California weather and the "Wildewed Mystic" things are humming around the club. Of course what could delight and charm our simple hearts would be for all the politicians in neighboring towns to get together, stop playing politics for awhile and clean up the lake.

This is all very well, but one can't help but think that here in Winchester we were a bit slow to act on a situation that should have been corrected at the beginning of the summer. The lake will still have to be cleaned up even after the sewage has been diverted.

There'll be a lull in our life over the "Fourth." Our crew, captained by Ned Bean will wend its way to Harmony, Rhode Island, there to engage in combat with other crews (or is it crew?) May they return heavily laden with laurels!

The week-end at the club will probably be occupied with sailing—if and when there's a wind.

The races Sunday, were called because of no wind. No points being allowed for a drifting contest!

We understand "Dick" Flewelling may change the name of his winabout from "Gone with the Wind," to "Over-in-Wind."

Dick and Henry with Harry Bean and a guest, "bottoms-upped," last Saturday right out in the middle.

They were rescued by Dick La Croix and received "E.A.T.S." (First-Aid To Sailors!) in your correspondent's kitchen—hot chocolate and assorted dry clothes.

Well boys, you are now members and the "Board Club," which corresponds to the Parachute Club of aviation.

New arrivals in the fleet include, the Brook's Annisquam Cat—and the Skrap—looking and sleek after a paint job. Departures—that is for sale, include a sailing dory and a small Toppan Cub, suitable for a beginner. And now Cheerio.

MILLIONAIRES TO TAKE ON RIVERSIDES

The Winchester Millionaires of the Inter-City League will go against stiff competition this evening when they take on the Riverside Pros of the Boston Suburban League in an exhibition game for both clubs on the new athletic field, commencing at 6.15.

Last year on the Fourth the Millionaires played the Riversides, then known as Cottage Crest, winning a close 3 to 2 verdict from the Suburban Leaguers with "Bus" Kendrick pitching one of his best games.

Manager "Eddie" Cartullo of the Riversides looking the Crest nine a year ago, and probably will not make the mistake he did then of sending a makeshift club against the Millionaires and spotting the locals three runs in the first frame on some very indifferent baseball indeed.

The Riversides are not the team the first half Cottage Crest nine was, but unless the Millionaires get some good pitching tonight ought to be a bit too good for the locals, who haven't too much batting punch. The Millionaires, however will be sure to hustle for this one, and if the Suburban Leaguers take them too cheaply may up set the apple cart as they did a year ago.

Westley Swanson of Marshall road is reported much improved this week. He has been seriously ill with bronchial pneumonia.

WINCHESTER GROUP THEATRE

In presenting a schedule for the 1937-1938 season, the Group Theatre has endeavored to select a well balanced program, one that will fulfill the inherent purposes of amateur dramatics. Such purposes should seek to please and entertain the audience as well as the active members of the Group Theatre; should provide the technical department with new and interesting problems; should enhance and promote the capabilities and talents of the Group as a whole.

It is, then, with these purposes in mind that the Group Theatre has chosen the following plays. The fall production to be played on November 20, 1937 is to be "The Cat and the Canary." This mystery melodrama was first produced in New York and is one of the most successful of modern mystery plays. It will ensure an evening of thrills, chills and laughter. The second production to be presented on April 9, 1938 is "Pride and Prejudice." This is a lovely dramatization of Jane Austen's book, full of humor and having a plot of love and romance. Played last year in New York it met with notable success both there and on the road later. Beautifully costumed and staged, it is sure to provide an evening of dramatic pleasure.

The Group is fortunate this year to have obtained as its director next season, Mr. Arthur Holman. Those already familiar with his excellent work in "Michael and Mary" of the last season will be glad to know that he is to do both productions this year. Mr. Holman has long been associated with the stage both professional and amateur having been connected with over thirty two hundred productions.

As has been the policy of the Group in the past, a generous portion of the proceeds for the coming season will be donated to a worthy Winchester organization. Such proceeds will, of course, be contingent upon the continued generous support of the sustaining members of the Group Theatre. Since production plans are already under way it is urged that those who wish to become members for the next season will do so as early as possible. The memberships are two dollars per person and include an admission card for each of the two plays. Memberships may be applied for at once by addressing Mrs. Herbert T. Wadsworth, Box 307, Winchester. Information regarding the Group Theatre may also be obtained by addressing a letter to the above address.

AMAZING RECORD

Co-operative Bank Loans Hit New High

The amazing record of new investment in residential real estate which the people of Massachusetts have been making took another leap into the millions with the announcement of a state-wide increase of 61 per cent over last year in the total amount of new mortgage loans granted during May by the member banks of the Massachusetts Co-operative Bank League.

Maintaining the current million-a-month rate of increase over the previous month, returns from all but two of these institutions indicate that, in addition to the cash investment furnished by the home owners, themselves, these banks furnished a total of $6,283,725 in new loans for financing ownership of homes during May.
According to Warner M. Allen, executive secretary of the league, every regional district in the Commonwealth reported an increase over last year's figures. Bristol County took first honors with an increase of 201 per cent.
The northern half of Middlesex County took second rank with a gain of 101 per cent, followed closely by southern Suffolk County with a 92 per cent.

Due to the fact that these statewide reports were not begun until the beginning of 1933, no comparable figures are available for the pre-depression years. In June of 1933, however, the total volume of all co-operative bank loans was only a little over $1,000,000, while since then loans during the three spring months of this year successively exceeded four, five and six million dollars. Mr. Allen pointed out that the most rapid gains of the banks have been made during 1937, the year beginning abruptly in March and April 1936 when the league instituted its statewide information-service for the general public through the medium of newspapers.

"The significance of these substantial monthly increases in co-operative loans," commented Mr. Allen, "lies not only in their direct evidence of the prosperity of the state, but in the investment and employment in the real estate and home-building fields, but in the fact that these millions of new loans represent the accumulated savings of other Massachusetts people being put to work at interest to help their home-owner neighbors build or buy what, for many of them, is the most substantial and enjoyable investment of a lifetime."

OF INTEREST TO LEATHER INDUSTRY

Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers, of this Congressional District, has suggested to the Department of State that a distinguished Paul van Zeeland of Belgium, who is visiting here, might correct difficulties the leather industry has encountered under the reciprocal trade agreement with Belgium.

She said: "Quotas were arranged for United States leather shipments to Belgium, and a number of leather dealers and commission houses were allocated certain percentages of leather to be imported. It now appears that some of these houses are either inoperative, in financial difficulties, or actually out of business. The result is that while our own leather industry has the permit of the Belgian Government to ship leather over there, the Belgium concerns permitted to import will not, or cannot, avail themselves of the privilege, and our leather industry is the loser. The relations between this government and Belgium are of the friendliest, and I feel sure that the matter can be adjusted."

MARTIN J. CARNEY

Solemn requiem high mass was celebrated this morning in St. Aidan's Church, Brookline, for Martin J.
Carney, a former resident of Winchester, who died Tuesday in Brookline, where for the past twenty years he had been engaged in the florist business.

Mr. Carney was a member of Brookline Lodge of Elks and of Brookline Council, Knights of Columbus. He was a native of Ireland, but for many years made his home in Winchester on Hemingway street. He is survived by his wife and by a brother, Daniel Carney of Boston.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Seven members were absent from the meeting of July 1, 1937, one of whom has already made up for his absence.

Irving Symmes has returned from a short trip to Northern New England and the Provinces. Unfortunately his itinerary did not permit him to visit Rotary Clubs during his journey; instead, he made up his one absence at Woburn.

George Welsh, with his family, is taking a much needed rest at Ocean Park, Maine.

This meeting was our first for the Rotary year 1937-1938, and the officers chosen at the recent election assumed their respective duties at this time. Past President Billy Boggs with a few brief but cordial remarks introduced Warren Hersey as our incoming President. It is not a novel experience for Warren to preside at our meetings as he has been acting President for nearly 3 months and, as Past President Billy remarked, we know that Warren fills his position capably. So we confidently look ahead to a prosperous year under his guidance.

Following our established custom there will be no formal speaking or entertainment at our luncheon discussing the presentation of a report and discussion of various topics of present interest.

It is gratifying to observe that, in the opinion of most of our members, our so-called Junior Rotarian Service, initiated during the past year, has been very valuable and furthermore that every effort should be made to provide another scholarly ship in the coming year for a worthy student. It should require little argument to make it plain that this sort of thing is an extremely valuable contribution to that youth service which is so important a feature of Rotary effort. And we believe that, insofar as resources permit, our members will gladly continue a work so auspiciously commenced. In the years just ahead it appears that much profound and well co-ordinated thought will be required if our nation is to avoid the adoption of various measures which will be destructive to its very existence. It is highly desirable that our young people shall have problems bearing on this condition presented to them in a forcible and understandable manner. We believe that Rotary can perform this service and that our Junior Rotarian and other enterprises are a step in this direction. Let us carry on.

GRANADA ATTRACTIONS

"Cafe Metropole," with Tyrone Power, Loretta Young and Adolph Menjou at the stars heads the bill opening at the Granada Theatre in Malden today. Against the background of gay Paris and the Continent's most luxurious rendezvous, the screen's new love team play love's most exciting game with Adolph Menjou, Gregory Ratoff, Charles Winninger and Helen Westly joining in the fun. "Cafe Metropole" gets off to a lively start in the smart Parisian spot of that name, where, presiding suavely over his restaurant, Adolph Menjou seems untroubled by the possibility that auditors will arrive in a few days and find the cafe accounts are 480,000 francs short, which he has borrowed.

"Make Way For Tomorrow," with Victor Moore, Beulah Bondi, Fay Bainter, Thomas Mitchell and Minna Gombell, is the second attraction on the bill starting today. "Make Way For Tomorrow" is the story of a typical American daughter whose conception of a good time not only conflict with those of her parents, Fay Bainter and Thomas Mitchell, but those of her grandparents, played by Beulah Bondi and Victor Moore.

They shall speak of the glory of thy kingdom, and talk of thy power; to make known to the sons of men his mighty acts, and the glorious majesty of his kingdom" (Psalms 145:10-12).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all. From this it follows that nothing possesses reality nor existence except the divine Mind and His ideas. . . . Allness is the measure of the infinite and nothing less can express God" (pp. 331, 336).

"THE WOMAN I LOVE" AT THE UNIVERSITY THEATRE

Bringing Paul Muni and Miriam Hopkins, two of the screen's foremost dramatic artists together for the first time, the colorful photoplay, "The Woman I Love," will open Sunday at the University Theatre, to present a brightly colored romantic drama involving two French flying comrades and a beautiful girl during the World War. "The Woman I Love," brings for the first time to the American screen a vivid and romantic drama involving two French flyers, their carefree, almost hysterical abandon behind the lines, their heroic and death-defying combats over no-man's land, and their romance with the woman they left behind. The supporting cast includes Colin Clive, Vince Barnett, Louis Hayward, Wally Albright, Paul Guilfoyle, Adrian Morris, Sterling Holloway, Donald Barry, Mady Christians and Elizabeth Rindon.

Carl Hoff and his orchestra highlight the musical production "The Hit Parade," the co-feature. The cast abounds with radio luminaries including Phil Regan, Frances Langford, Eddy Duchin, Al Pearce and his Gang, the Voice of Experience, Molasses and January, Tie Toc Girls, George Givot, Roy Smeek and Ben Grum.

"The Thin Man," always a favorite, co-starring William Powell and Myrna Loy, will be shown again on Wednesday, Rev. David A. Annapolis Farewell featuring Sir Guy Standing, Tom Brown and Richard Cromwell completes the program.

WINCHESTER GIRLS DOMINATE HEARST TENNIS PLAY

With three of the remaining four singles competitors coming from Winchester, local girls have rather completely dominated their division of the Hearst Tennis Tournament being played on the Harvard University Courts opposite the Stadium.

Winners of the Greater Boston tournament are to go to New York for further tryouts with the New York winners going on to California.

Mary Cutter, after more or less passing up tournament tennis of late, has already won her way into the final round, and is waiting to meet the winner of the other semi-final match between Sylvia Hatch and either Dorothy Bruno, captain of this year's Winchester High team, or Baba Madden of Jamaica Plain.

In her semi-final match "Susie" beat the top-seeded Elena Ciccone of Newton, giving a great all round exhibition of courage, stamina and evasive stonewalling.

It was a fine triumph for the Winchester girl, who due to press of studies has had little time to devote to serious tennis. She was girls' intercollegiate champion in 1933, and in 1929, girls' state doubles title holder. She will be plenty hard to beat in the championship round, despite the fact that she has been generally overlooked in the metropolitan wiretaps of her tournament.

Sylvia Hatch was hardly extended in her early round matches and had little trouble defeating Arlene White of Manchester, N. H. in the quarter-finals, 6-1, 6-4. With Miss Ciccone eliminated, "Susie" is the gallery's favorite to win top honors.

"Dot" Bruno, after wobbling a bit in her third round match with Betty McDevitt of Dorchester, whom she beat, 6-4, 6-4, came back nicely to beat Virginia Davis of Dorchester with the loss of only a game.

Mrs. Paul Elliott reached the third round before she was eliminated by Miss Davis, 6-3, 6-0. Mary Alice Mason was out in one of the early rounds by Bertha Tenzar of Adams. Several other Winchester girls were entered, but defaulted.

On the men's side of the tourney, "Bill" Packey was eliminated in the 5th round by Don Martin, one of the ranking players, 6-2, 6-3.

Rover Pettinell played some very steady tennis through the early rounds, survived the round of 64 by defeating the favored Paul Rich of Newton, 6-4, 8-6, and finally was defeated in the next round by Joe Higgins of Arlington.

Rover's game went badly hawire against Higgins and had he played the brand of tennis he showed against Rich, he would have breezed in. Breaking his racquet was a handicap, but he carried the Arlington boy to 6-2, 7-9, 6-3 before yielding.

STRAND THEATRE, MALDEN
"Woman Chases Man," with Joel McCrea, Miriam Hopkins, Charles Winninger, Erik Rhodes and Ella Logan as the stars, heads the bill opening at the Strand Theatre in Malden today. Miriam Hopkins is cast as a woman architect who hits up Charles Winninger for a job. Winninger is an eccentric cuss and has lost a fortune backing worthless inventions. He is broke and the process servers are on his trail.

"You Can't Buy Luck," with Onslow Stevens, Helen Mack, Vinton Haworth and Maxine Doyle as the players, is the second attraction on the bill starting today. Onslow Stevens is cast as a superstitious race horse owner who believes that if he helps other financially he will have more luck at the track.

READING THEATRE

History, romance and adventure are combined in the First National film version of Mark Twain's immortal "The Prince and the Pauper," which comes to the Reading Theatre Sunday for three days.

Former stage presentations of the classic have been hampered somewhat by the necessity of having the two title roles played by one actor (or actress). And in the silent film version, trick "shots" and double exposures were used. But the Mauch twins, Billy and Bobby, 12 year old actors of no mean dramatic ability have solved that problem. Billy and Bobby are identical twins, so what could be more fitting than that Bobby heir to the throne of King Henry VIII, and that Billy (whom you will remember as young "Anthony Adverse") should play Tom Canty, the pauper boy who looked exactly like the prince?

After several consecutive weeks of exceptionally heavy lists the Star found no marriage intentions had been filed this week with the town clerk up to yesterday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Jennings spent last weekend as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Clark at their summer home in Yarmouth, Maine.

Messrs. Samuel Smytheman, Thomas G. Gentry, William Costello, John Shinnick and Christian Thompson are on town employees now enjoying vacations.

A crew of repair men have been busy this week replacing ties on the railroad from Wedgemere to Winchester.

Miss Attale Stevens, who has been attending Stoneleigh College as a Special Student and also acting in the capacity of Assistant Director of Physical Education during the past year, has accepted a position in the Dean's Office at Harvard College.

LINCOLN HOUSE PLAYERS IN "MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM"

From here to Singapore no other play of Shakespeare has had such a universal international appeal. You may see it in the ruins of Heidelberg Castle, in the gardens of Kobe, on the hills of Fiesole, in the public square of Visby. The reason for this universal appeal is of course that "Midsummer Night's Dream" is free from the handicaps of speech—it does not need to be understood to be comprehended. The resounding and important speeches of the great tragedies which outliving their past made plots, still carry them on need language and translate well only into German; while the comedies whose sharp-witted situations have long since passed man's knowledge, and whose fragile riddles, the resourceful and painful words which have no more of their first savor in other languages than Apuleius or Rabelais have in ours.

But for these same reasons modern America may find this play less tolerable than some of the other comedies. The aristocrats of the piece are in all conscience enough, the workmen though extra-good specimens of Shakespearean yokelry are none the less Shakespearean yokelry of which by now a good many people are tired, while the shadows stretch imagination on a stage which never force must approach reality. The three plots working with one another only to a minor degree are not buttressed by the wry and ribald wit, the repartee, the brilliant language of the comedies nor by the sonorous periods of the tragedies; in sooth the language of Shakespeare in this play is not of his greatest.

Hence after the successes with the same group in the same place with the same comedies "As You Like It" and "Twelfth Night" of the previous years Miss Elder must have approached this piece with some reservation to prevail it need a different treatment altogether and to cut the knot at once let it be said that the treatment was different.

There was a production of which the talents most to be credited for success were not parading the stage (this is often the case but it is not usually quite so apparent). Of Miss Elder's general certain direction Winchester surely needs no commendation by now. But Messrs. Nixon, Weisberg and Saver who arranged the lighting and stage effects, Miss Hamilton who did the costuming, Miss Hughes who did the dancing, the clever top of credit for what they contrived. The lighting for example went far beyond previous efforts here which in themselves have taken good advantage of the possibilities in a wooded and rocky spot. But after a somewhat inept start on the first two scenes laid on the Chidley porch, the electricians took firm command as soon as the plot shifted to the lawn; their green spot which always bathed Oberon in unearthly light, the red which gave character to Puck, the white which typified Titania, the twinkling fairy light which illumined the scene, the light which fell upon the bat costumes with their far-reaching wings, the gossamer web draperies of one of the fairies again showed the imaginative hand and the light touch. The quality of the costumes and the lighting, that the principals at least were graceful and light when in demand is enough to say that Miss Hughes did her job exceedingly well.

The acting of the play really breaks down into three parts, the somewhat straightforward comedy part of the aristocrats, the low comedy (or what we now call modern satiric) efforts of the workmen and the unearthly comedy of the shadows. That the aristocrats fared least well is fully as much the fault of the writers as of the actors; probably more for some of these same people had shone in the earlier comedies; their jobs were well done but their jobs were not important enough in the face of the others; however it is said that Miss Golden was splendid in the role of Hermia and did a grand job of the scene where Hermia becomes a snifter indeed.

The Bottom-like weaknesses rise above the ordinary Shakespearean many sequences because we have in them a splendid joke at amateur dramatics in general antedating "The Torchbearers" and better too. The egregious Bottom, the man who in every amateur group thinks he can play every part, and who plays them all too often like the braying ass he is, later became the central figure of the scene in which the desperate registrar, Quince, (John Vaguenus) seeks to bring order from chaos by planning each act in turn and all too vividly of similar efforts. When after the casting committee meeting, and the meeting of the production committee the play finally came to the stage the bland playing of Daniel Marshall as Wall was the outstanding joy. Many have felt that the low comedy of this scene was overplayed but it was quite in the Shakespearean tradition and was certainly for the most part very very funny.

But it was the shadows who dominated the play. Miss Renna was so perfect, so flip, so wry, so jocular each in its proper term that she was a truly Puckish Puck which leaves naught else to say. Miss Mantos was a graceful and charming Titania; but outstanding among the shades who in themselves were outstanding was Mr. Irving Berlow's Oberon. Mr. Berlow has a voice of splendid carrying quality and pleasing timbre, he reads Shakespeare with more than usual care, he has presence and grace and a real sense of pantomime. He is impressive in dramatic scenes than in sentimental ones it is possible to say of his performance what can hardly be said of an amateur, that it is a masterpiece of interpretation of the same role.

The book itself cut somewhat liberally but with no loss except that one may see the dramatic reason for Bottom and all the fairies had been preserved because when Bottom starts giving orders he becomes a true bottom. But the cuts gave the play play and continuity which in the full version it somewhat lacks.

This is the finest production we have yet seen at Grey Rocks; these youngsters put the pretensions of their elders in the matter of dramatics to shame; the reason for it has been hinted before—that reason is thorough-going sincerity—sincerity and Miss Elder. One quotation from their own play may clinch the point. "I will not play for money, never anything can be amiss, when simplicity and duty tender it." "A word we here might heed."

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES Presentation of Antiques—Northampton Pilgrimage and Luncheon

June 24th the Antiques Group of the Fortnightly Club, the longest pilgrimage in its history by going to Northampton, the home of Wiggins Old Tavern. Perhaps no guest house in New England carries with it such a homey and unique atmosphere created by the extensive collection of rare antiques as does this famous old tavern.

The tavern building is over 100 years old and was used as an inn until about 1899 years ago. There are 33 dining rooms; the ordinary, the tap room, the old "kitchen" on the ground floor and the college room, yellow room, the Yankee room on the floor above, all complete and furnished with genuine early American pieces that have been collected by Mr. Wiggins and restored for daily use.

The hand-hewn beams in the ceiling of the dining room left just as they were found after removing many layers of boards and plaster. The walls in the ordinary and tap room are covered with old paneling, boards and doors which were taken from the houses. The "kitchen" ceiling timbers were taken from a very old house in Northampton. In this room is a great assortment of furnishings such as the daily domestic life of our life of our ancestors. The fireplaces are reproductions of early ones and are built with stone and brick taken from old fireplaces near Northampton.

In the tavern court yard is the old country store built, furnished and stocked as a store might have been before 1850. In the attic is the room filled with old spinning wheels and old tools working again as they were in early days. In one end of the cellar is an old stone fireplace equipped with many interesting early cooking utensils, in the other end a large collection of churns, cheese presses, etc. The counters and cases of drawers in the store are from an old New England store. In one corner is an apothecary shop with rare old bottles on the shelves and packages of old medicines. Hanging from the ceiling are lanterns and herbs, with hooks for hams and bacon. On the shelves are old oil vials and all sorts of merchandise, including several types of whale oil lamps which were never used, stocks of boots, shoes and tinware. In another corner is located the old post office boxes now filled with letters, invoices and records of an old time store. The candy counter piled high with old fashioned penny candy brought back happy memories to the group and was well patronized.

Adjoining the store is an ell, on the first floor of which are the tools of household industries, a carpenter's shop with a large collection of tools for the blacksmith, a cobbler's bench, and cooper's tools. In the room above is a collection of household and farm utensils, rakes, cradles, tickles, ironwood axes, with odds and ends that might be stored in an old loft. Also in the court yard is the old wagon shed filled with early tools, farming implements, an old ox cart, and a silage of horse harness.

The gracious hospitality of Mrs. Wiggins and Mrs. Hubble will long be remembered by the group. Members making this trip included Messrs. Robert Wiggins, George Hay, Adon, Fred, Marion, Harold Partridge, E. Adele Emery, William Wightman, Marshall Symmes, Edward Ladd, Walter Rice, F. H. Butterfield, Earle Andrews and Misses Louise and Eleanor Bancroft.

THE WINCHESTER STAR

SYLVIA HATCH WON HEARST TROPHY

Defeated Mary Cutter in Final Round at Harvard

Sylvia Hatch, one of Winchester's best tennis players, defeated another grand performer from this town at the Harvard Courts last Saturday, when she won from Mary Cutter, former girls' intercollegiate champion, in the final round of the play in the William Randolph Hearst Tennis Tourney, sponsored by the Boston Sunday Advertiser and the Evening American.

Sylvia's victory rewards were the handsome gold Hearst Women's Trophy and a trip to New York where she will participate in the Eastern Elimination tournament to determine who will go on for the final round matches in Southern California. Needless to state she will take with her the best wishes of her home town and tennis fans in Greater Boston generally with whom she became a great favorite during the nine days of play at Harvard.

Sylvia's road to victory last Saturday was by no means an easy one. "Susie" Cutter has for some time been considered "tops" among Winchester's girl tennis stars and despite the fact that she has had little time for tennis during the past two or three years she is always a formidable opponent, particularly for a younger Winchester girl who has long known her ability.

"Susie" won the first set, 6-2, Sylvia appearing very nervous and far from sure of herself. The second set was very evenly contested, with Sylvia showing marked improvement, and finally winning after the games had been downed 7-5.

The final set was in every sense a thriller, though there were very few in the gallery, particularly those who knew the Cutter tennis ability, who gave Sylvia much of a chance for victory when they saw "Susie" leading 5-0. Yet win she did, but only by playing virtually perfect tennis and by doing what we will venture a small wager no other girl has done, by taking seven straight games. It was a wonderful set to win and a heart-breaker to lose, and as the girls clasped hands at the net they were given a great ovation.

As a matter of fact another Winchester girl is deserving of high praise for her performance at Harvard. "Dot" Bruno, captain of this year's Winchester High girls' tennis team, played through to the quarter-final round where she was defeated by Baba Madden of Jamaica Plain, who in turn fell before Sylvia Hatch. Mary Cutter won her way into the final by defeating the top seeded Elena Ciccone of Newton in the semi-final round. It is quite a tribute to the quality of girls' tennis in Winchester and incidentally to the father's moving spirit, Park Commissioner "Bill" Packer, that three of the last four players on the women's side of a tournament having 1100 entries, both men and women, came from this town.

Paul Guibord of Melrose was the men's singles winner, defeating "Ed" Fuller of Salem. Guibord and Fuller paired to beat Vaughn Pipes and Walter Levitan in the men's doubles final.

EN KA ACTIVITIES PROGRESSING

Those who through their efforts and support contributed to the success of this year's En Ka Street Fair will be interested to know that progress is being made in utilizing the funds so generously contributed for the improvement of the Winchester Home for the Aged and the Winchester Hospital.

The committee appointed to supervise the expenditure of funds, headed by Mrs. Harold Meyer, chairman, who is ably assisted by Mrs. Harold Richmond, Mrs. Eliza George Pierce and Mrs. Richard Clark.

In the present writing the Home for Aged has been improved by the completion of an entirely new roof, and the installation of new steps and double screen doors leading from the porch to the garden. Plans for further improvements and additions are under careful consideration.

Mrs. Harold Richmond has been in the charge of the work at the Nurses Home where a list of the improvements includes new fixtures and paint for third floor bath, refinishing of floors in seven nurses' rooms, extensive repairs to maid's bath, purchase of nine new mattresses and spreads, new curtains and window shades. With minor exceptions this completes the work necessary at the Nurses' Home.

Several projects are being studied by the committee in conjunction with the Hospital staff, and at a later date announcement will be made of the Club's plans for furnishing new equipment to the Winchester Hospital.

En Ka is especially eager to have its public spirited friends realize the assistance their loyal support has afforded these two essential Winchester institutions.

MORE C.C.C. BOYS WANTED

Only five of a quota of ten young men between the ages of 17 and 23 years had been signed for C.C.C. Camp at the town hall as the Star went to press. Miss Hennessey at the Board or Public Welfare office is eager to fill the town's quota for this camp and it would certainly seem that there are five young men in Winchester whose families could use the money they would receive from their attendance. Any interested should apply directly to Miss Hennessey at the town hall.

WINCHESTER'S FOURTH QUIET

Town Sponsored Swimming Meet and Band Concert

Winchester had another of its quietest Fourths, the long week-end taking many away and leaving the town something of a deserted village from Saturday noon until Monday.

On the two "night before" but one arrest was made, that on Saturday night when Patrolman John H. Boyle engaged in a scuffle with a man looking for trouble on upper Main street, and took him to headquarters somewhat the worse for wear. A slight rubbish fire on upper Main street Sunday afternoon and a run to Lake avenue in Woburn where a firecracker had set fire to the roof of a house Sunday night was the total activity at the Central Fire Station until the holiday was actually over. There were no false alarms.

The usual ringing of the bell at the town hall took place at intervals through Monday and at 10 o'clock the American Legion, conducted a swimming meet at Palmer street.

On the whole the meet was not interesting, either from the standpoint of the spectators or from that of the swimmers. There were little actual competition with the results of the various events pretty much known as the few competitors lined up. In some cases the boys' competitors were so that all were prize winners.

Helen Carroll had the distinction of leading the individual scores, with 17 points, on the basis of five for first, two for second, one for third; winning the girls' 50, senior girls' diving and girls' backstroke, with a second in the girls' 100 yard. Leo Tracy rolled up 15 points to lead the boys' competitors, winning the junior boys' diving, 50 yard and 100 yard swims. Joyce Pray was the busiest of all competitors, placing in six events, senior and junior, and running up 13 points. She won but a single first, the junior girls' diving, but might easily have won the younger girls' 25, had she kept out of the girls' 100, in which she placed third.

Husky Marjorie Stevenson again demonstrated her superiority in the girls' 100, though she was not too far in front of Helen Carroll. In the open race across the pond, some 300 yards or so, Marjorie proved too good for a small field of several boys, winning by about ten yards without a bit of trouble.

Big "Doug" Edwards, handicapped by a lame ankle, won the senior boys' diving, and the senior girls' diving, and the boys' 100 yard. Doug Perry defeated Helen Carroll and Joyce Pray, Doris making the mistake of trying some difficult dives while the other girls stuck to more simple straight diving efforts. The way the diving is run in these meets the competitor who really tries to do some fancy stuff is likely to find himself or herself defeated by an opponent who leaves the hard dives alone. Something should be done to have the competitors judged on the same sort of dives, then permitting them one or two of their own choosing. They also should be allowed to have at least a reasonable number of entries for the events if the meet is to continue. The Star has covered these meets each year, and they have been growing steadily better.

BOYS ARRESTED IN ARLINGTON THOUGHT IMPLICATED IN WINCHESTER BREAKS

Two Winchester boys, arrested in Arlington Wednesday night on charges of breaking and entering and larceny, are believed by the Winchester Police to be responsible, with a Woburn boy, taken into custody this morning, for breaks at the Calumet Club, the theft of a quantity of Copper wire from the Edison plant on Horn Pond, the theft of an automobile from Bonnell Motors and the theft of plates from a car left in the parking space at Winchester Chambers.

Sergeant Thomas F. Casey questioned the two Winchester boys locked up at Arlington and the Woburn boy was brought to local headquarters where he was questioned at length by Detective William J. Rogers. The authorities claim they have confessions linking the boys with several cases which the local department has had under investigation.

WINCHESTER BOY CALLED CHAMPION CAPE COD FISHERMAN

Gray Twombly, 15, of Winchester, held the crown yesterday as Cape Cod's champion fisherman.

The youth pulled a 32-pound striped bass from the waters off Eastham, where the Hyannis fishermen said was not only the largest reported thus far this season, but the earliest catch of bass ever made on the Cape. It was inches long and weighed 24 inches. Fishermen said that if it had been weighed as soon as it was taken from the water it would have weighed several pounds heavier.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Prof. and Mrs. Henry C. Brownell of Linsinger University, Canton, China, announce the engagement of their daughter, Priscilla Bartlett, to Mr. William Clay Brown, son of Mrs. Alfred E. Sweet of Chesterford road.

MARASHIAN—MOURADIAN

The marriage of Miss Gladys Mouradian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hagop F. Mouradian of Woodside road, and of Marashian, took place on Monday evening, July 5, in the First Congregational Church. Rev. Samuel Hallajian, of the Cilician Armenian Church of Cambridge, performed the ceremony at 8 o'clock in a setting of Madonna lilies, delphinium and roses. The wedding music was played by Frances Hagar, organist at the Old Baptist Church in Cambridge.

Miss Mouradian was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of rose point lace with a veil of white and antique lace arranged with a coronet of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white tea roses and lilies of the valley.

Her honor attendant was Miss Armen Marashian, sister of the bridegroom, who wore a Grecian style gown of amber chiffon with a gold bandeau instead of the conventional hat, and carried talisman roses. The bridesmaids, two cousins of the bride, Miss Elizabeth Norian of North Bergen, N. J., and Miss Lydia Vartanian of Cambridge, wore aqua sheer chiffon gowns with bandeaus to match the yellow tea roses carried. Two little flower girls, Miss Lillian and Miss Grace Norian of North Bergen, N. J., wore yellow georgette frocks and carried baskets of roses.

Barker Booth of Brighton was best man, and Arthur Marashian of Brighton was his brother's best man, and the corps of ushers included the bride's brother, Aram Mouradian of Winchester, Elias Kupalian of New Boston, Stuart B. Barnard of Winchester and Frederick Elmajian, John Hagopian and John Boole, all of Brighton.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the parish hall of St. Joseph's Church in Woburn, the mother of the bridegroom assisting in receiving with the bride's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Norian of North Bergen, N. J. An instrumental trio for the reception, and refreshments were served, each guest being presented with a piece of the bride's cake.

Upon their return from a wedding journey through the White Mountains, Mr. Marashian and his bride will make their home in Brighton at 146 Nonantum street. The bride is a graduate of Winchester High school and a member of the C. W. E. and C. U. Clubs. Mr. Marashian, a graduate of Tarsus College in Armenia, is associated with the Noyes Bacon Club in Boston.

MURPHY—ROGERS

A marriage having much Winchester interest took place in the rectory of St. Joseph's Church in Woburn on the afternoon of Sunday, July 4, when Miss Grace Loretta Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph N. Rogers of Medway, became the bride of Charles Anthony Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Murphy of Clark street. Rev. Fr. Joseph Collins of St. Mary's Church in Milford, a cousin of the bridegroom, performed the ceremony at 4 o'clock.

Miss Rogers, wearing a gown of peach colored satin with a white Milan hat and carrying gardenias with lilies of the valley, was attended by her sister, Miss Carolyn Rogers of Medway. She wore a gown of green and white peppermint striped organza with a leghorn picture hat and carried talisman roses with gardenias. John J. Murphy of Winchester was his brother's best man.

A reception for the immediate families was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents at 17 Holliston street in Medway. Upon their return from a wedding journey through the White Mountains and Canada Mr. Murphy and his bride are to make their home in Stetson Hall.

The bride is a graduate of Medway High School, of the Carney Hospital Training School, and is a nurse-secretary at doctors' offices on Church street. Mr. Murphy attended Winchester High School and is a member of the firm of Murphy & Reardon, Winchester Texaco dealers.

Miss Anita Y. Todesca, daughter of Mr. Catherine Todesca of Tremont street, and Neil C. Kerrigan, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kerrigan of Westley street, were married Saturday afternoon, July 3, at 3 o'clock in the rectory of St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Joseph E. McGoldrick.

Miss Todesca wore a white gabardine suit with a corsage of white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Georgiana Todesca of the town, who wore a pink lace gown with a rose corsage to match. Charles Doherty of this town was Mr. Kerrigan's best man.

FORMER ENGLISH MAYOR'S GUEST HERE

Mrs. Harry Collis, widow of the Mayor of Winchester, England, who was Winchester's official guest at the time of the tercentenary celebration in 1930, was in Winchester over the holiday week-end as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Y. Hills of Wedgwood avenue, and of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Wagner of Crescent road. She was driven on Wednesday by Mr. Wagner to Salisbury where she will spend two weeks with relatives before returning to England.

Mrs. Collis came to this country on short notice. She had not been in good health and her physician had advised a cruise, when she received the invitation from Dr. and Mrs. Howard J. Chidley to attend the marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Mr. William J. Sprys Jr. She accepted at once and sailed as soon as passage could be booked, arriving in Winchester for the ceremony and subsequently dividing her time between friends in this town and relatives in Salisbury and Newburyport.

She informed the Star reporter that she is much improved in health and asked the paper to remember her to the many friends in Winchester, whom she was prevented by lack of time from greeting personally.

At the time of Winchester's tercentenary celebration relatives of Mrs. Collis' husband, living in Salisbury, heard of her arrival in this country as Winchester's guest, but were unable to contact him. The English Mayor knew nothing of the relationship between her father, through whose house the connection existed, had died when he (Mayor Collis) was a very young child.

Later Albert Edward Collis, named for their father, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney T. Collis of Salisbury, visited Mrs. Collis at Winchester, England, while on a cruise as a cadet with the U.S.S. Nanuet, Massachusetts Naval School Ship, establishing the fact that his father and the late Mayor Collis were cousins.

On her current visit to the Collis home in Salisbury, Mrs. Collis located some 32 relatives, brought to her attention through Cadet Collis' visit to her in England. She told the Star reporter she expects to find several more before returning to England.

MISSIONARY CONFERENCE

A very unusual and interesting conference on missions will be held July 16, 17, and 18 at Adelynnood, South Byfield, under the auspices of the Society of the Companions of the Holy Cross, a society of women of the Episcopal Church. The Conference is not limited to members of the Society; anyone interested in missions is urged to attend, either for the whole week-end or for any of the sessions.

The program is in charge of Miss Charlotte L. Brown, former missionary worker in the Diocese of Nevada, now retired. The Rt. Rev. Gouverneur Frank Mosher, D. D., missionary Bishop of the Philippine Islands, Bishop Remington of Eastern Oregon, and possibly also Bishop Moulton of Utah will take part in the Conference. The Conference will open with dinner, at 6 p.m. (D.S.T.) on Friday, July 16; followed by the opening service, out-of-doors, an address by Bishop Mosher; and the service of Communion at 9:30.

On Saturday, the day will start with a celebration of the Holy Eucharist at 7:30 a.m., and breakfast at 8:15. From 9:30 to 12 there will be conference sessions and discussion on various missionary topics. Another conference session will be held at 4:30 p.m. and a missionary play will be presented at 7:30 p.m.

Sunday will be a day of devotion. There will be a celebration of the Holy Eucharist at 7:45 a.m.; a Meditation at 10:30; and a Quiet Hour at 3 p.m. The closing service will be at 7:30 p.m.

Adelynnood is near the Governor Dummer Academy at South Byfield, a short distance from the Boston-Newburyport Turnpike. Rowley and Newburyport are the nearest railroad stations, and a taxi will meet trains if requested in advance. Further information may be obtained from Miss Jessie Towne, Adelynnood, South Byfield, Mass., (Tel. Newburyport 1660) or from Mrs. Clifford Towner, United Thank Offering Treasurer, Parish of the Epiphany (tel. Win. 0855-R).

Those women who share in the United Thank Offering (there are now over half a hundred in the Parish of the Epiphany), setting aside an offering for the extension of Missions; and others who would know more of that work have a rare opportunity in this Conference of meeting some of the outstanding figures in the mission field, and of learning more of the ways in which their offerings are being used.

INJURED AS CARS CRASHED

Mrs. Hugh F. McPartland of 41 Myrtle terrace complained of injuries when the Pontiac coach in which she was riding with her husband was the victim of a collision with a car at the junction of Washington street and Mystic Valley Parkway with a Pierce Arrow funeral car, driven by Stephen Caruso of 3 London street, East Boston.

Caruso was driving south on Washington street and the Pontiac, which is the property of the Luckenbach Motor Sales of 632 Main street, was heading east on the Parkway. Both machines were damaged, and Mrs. McPartland was taken to her home by her husband and Sergeant Thomas F. Cassidy of the Police Department. She was treated by Dr. Philip J. McManus.

WINCHESTER AT LONGWOOD

Frances Keyes paired with Cissy Madden of Jamaica Plain to win the younger girls doubles and the only championship to come to Winchester in the 13th annual State Junior Tennis Championships completed last week-end at Longwood. Bennett Wightman was runner-up to Arthur Nelson of Brookline, waging a hard battle to lose, 6-4, 7-5. Harold Salzman and Dick Bugbee were runners-up in the boys' doubles, losing to Arthur Nelson and George Wright in a surprisingly close three-set battle, 3-6, 6-2, 9-7, and Dorothy Bruno paired with Baba Madden to win similar honors in the older girls' doubles.

WINCHESTER IN HARMONY

No, the above caption does not refer to our feeling toward the terrible condition of the lake water. (By the way, if the water is clearing up a little and, it is, we hope the "beautiful" samples which completely encrust the whole water surface of our entire waterfront from "Gut to Aqueduct" isn't a specimen of the clearing up.)

"Harmony" is the name of the township in Rhode Island where the All New England Canoe Races were held over the 4th. Winchester Boat Club was represented by Capt. "Ned" Bean and his deck-sailor, "Ebb Tied," in the sailing races. Brother Harry Bean also did some sailing on the 5th of July. For the canoes, there were the following: Jimmy Gustin, Harry Downey Bowlers, Jim Fitch, Ken Pratt, Phil Cabot, Red Irving, Bill Croughwell and Capt. Ned Bean.

There was some doubt whether a crew of 9 paddlers would be on hand so W. B. C. did not carry her own War Boat but instead took Medford's Boat as they had at least 12 men in camp, ready to wield the blades.

It was a perfect week-end to be out in the open under canvas, and was every-one pleased!! The weather was so good that "Ebb" (That's Ned Bean for short) slept atop an improvised bed on the boat rack of his car. He "says" he slept. But with the rockets, bombs and salutes bursting in air most of the night, we wonder how.

Medford started in early, to garner points on the first day of racing, but out of possible chances in four events Winchester was able to annex but one point and this came in the tandem double blade race. Jim Fitch and Ken Pratt earned a third place. We say "earned" because in the "regatta" at Medford in June they had a hand-out of first place in this same class race.

On the 6th however W. B. C. fared a little better.

A Junior Double Blade four composed of Phil Cabot, Red Irving, Jimmie Fitch and Bill Croughwell won their race, but unfortunately it was not allowed because one of the boys' names had been withdrawn on the original entry blank. The officials are very technical in all these boat races and a very small detail can throw out an entry.

The Intermediate Double Blade Four Boat of "Happy" Bowler, Jimmie Gustin, Downey Bowler and Ned Bean nearly came home with first honor, however, were badly nosed out by the Needham crew. This was a tough race to lose but when it's only a matter of inches between the leading boats then you have something there. "Happy" Bowler and Ned Bean, in the double blade tandem event, were well up in the field but not far enough ahead to place. The same was true of Ken Pratt in the double blade single and also of Jim Fitch and Ken Pratt in the single blade tandem. A fifth place does not net you any points.

Medford in their new Arnold, White Swan, single blade four, won the event. Winchester Boat Club should look to be laurels—even though W. B. C.'s boat Club is some 25 years old, it can travel if rightly propelled. Here's food for thought, boys.

Around the Boat Club is nothing but Green Slime—how can these clean thoughts or do good deeds says "Peg"??

Last week-end was dead. Between the two clubs—Med-Win—a couple of sailors were all that could muster out. All others musta went places. No breeze Sunday, but a swell one Monday.

The Ducks, "Mike" and "Ike" know what's what and also what's what. They vented out into the "Mystic Waters" when worried by a "Wurf Dog." At all other times they hang close to the clear water of the brook. The only place where it is clear is directly beneath the Short Falls at the rear of the Club House. Who says "Dux is Dum"? Meet Mike and Ike!

STOLEN CAR RAMMED WALL

Medford Boys, Alleged Thieves, Arrested by Officer Boyle

Two Medford boys were arrested by Patrolman John H. Boyle on Main street near Symmes corner shortly before 10 o'clock last Friday night after a Ford coupe which it is alleged they had stolen in Medford crashed into a stone wall at the residence of Mr. Cecil C. Couvert at 376 Highland avenue.

Patrolman Boyle had noticed the machine before the accident, proceeding along Highland avenue toward the residence of Mr. H. Manley Ives without lights. He tried to stop the car, but without success, and as he hurried after it, heard a crash and found the car piled up on the Couvert Wall, badly wrecked. About 30 feet of the wall was damaged by the impact.

At the scene of the accident Patrolman Boyle learned that two youths had ran from the car down Chestnut street toward Main street, and giving chase, he was able to pick them up, both denying at first having stolen the Ford.

At Headquarters after further questioning by Lt. Edward O'Connell and Patrolman Boyle, the youths finally admitted, the Police say, that they had stolen the car from Andrews street in Medford.

They gave their names as John J. McCarthy, 16, of 244 Fulton street, Medford, and Joseph B. Meehan, 16, of 45 Foss street, Medford. Meehan was said to have been driving the machine which was found on the Couvert Wall.

The youths were turned over to the Medford Police and appeared in court Wednesday at Malden, their case being continued.

Worcester, from a competitive standpoint. We aren't taking a bit of credit from competitors like Marjorie Stevenson, Helen Carroll, Leo Tracy, Joyce Pray, O'Donahue, Vespucci and the Hendrickses, but there should be more like them to make things interesting, both for the swimmers and the crowd.

Following is the meet summary: Boys' 25 Yard (1st year swimmers)—1st, Franklin Stevenson; 2nd, Edward O'Connell; 3rd, Tony Sarraco.

While the last of the swimming events were being run off, ice cream was distributed to the youngsters and any grown-ups who happened to want some, there being plenty for every one. The distribution was handled much smoother this year than last, there being plenty of Legionnaires on hand to ensure every kiddie getting a "pop" before seconds started.

Comdr. Otis Alley led the detail in action, and was assisted by "Jack" Moynihan, "Pete" Cullen, "Nate" Thumim, Frank Migliaccio, Hezikiah Griffiths, Lee Mellett, "Pat" Foley, Whitlaw Wright, "Tom" McKee, Antonio Jacobellis, Fred Cameron, Victor Froberg and "Bill" Rogers.

Harold Dover and Harry Dodge acted as custodians of the prizes which were distributed by Commander Alley at the conclusion of the meet. Chief William H. Rogers, Sergt. Thomas F. Cassidy, Patrolman William E. Cassidy and Motor Cycle Officer Winthrop A. Palmer were at the beach, with Chairman George T. Davidson of the Park Department, Supt. Thomas McGowan, "Jack" Donaghey and Paul Daigault.

The crew men of the Winchester Boat Club were all at Providence over the holiday so they could not put on one of their shows at the pond.

In the afternoon the Winchester Cubes, Manager "Payzan" Marone's baseball team, dropped a couple of games to the Arlington Cubs on Leonard Field, losing the first contest, 1-0 and the second, 11-5. The first game was interesting and well contested, the locals having the tying run on in the ninth but lacking the hit to bring it in.

The second game saw the locals go pretty much to pieces behind the ineffective pitching of "Libby" Gaudio, who had handcuffed Arlington in a game played the week previous. "Libby" was wild and his backing not too spirited. At the bat the locals were woefully weak.

Only a handful of people were on hand for the excellent concert which the Winchester Post, 97, A. L. Band played in the evening in Manchester Field, though there were more automobiles than a year ago on the Parkway.

Leader Charles E. Young selected an interesting program of standard band music, interspersing his selections with popular hits and favorite songs of the day. As usual the band played almost continually, and gave a fine performance from a musical point of view.

The program follows: March—Invercauld; Overture—Morning, Noon and Night; Waltz—La Golondrina; Selection—Victor Herbert's Favorites; March—Indiana State; Intermission; March—Man of the Hour; Selection—American Patrol; Overture—Carrillon; Selection—Prince of Pilsen; March—New Colonial; Star Spangled Banner.

Whitlaw Wright headed the committee of Legionnaires in general charge of arrangements for the day.

CAR THOUGHT STOLEN RETURNED

Last Friday evening at 9 o'clock John J. McGovern of the Lake Motors on the Shore road reported to the Police that early in the afternoon three men had come to his establishment in a Packard coupe, and had taken out an Oldsmobile coupe to try, failing to return it. A radio broadcast was sent out and it was learned that the Packard, which had been left at Lake Motors, was registered to a Woburn man living on Arlington road.

At his boarding place the Police learned that he had called for his clothing with a new car and had left for Maine. A second broadcast to stop the car was sent out, but at 12:15 Patrolman John E. Hanlon discovered the missing Oldsmobile parked in front of Lake Motors and the Packard coupe gone. Apparently the prospective customer gave the borrowed car a thorough tryout, but at last reports Mr. McGovern had not received his opinion of the car.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

Camp Notes

On Tuesday, July 6, the doors of the cabin on the Brook's Estate, once more opened and admitted a happy group of Girl Scouts to enjoy the summer camping season.

Miss Eva Gregg, member of the faculty of the Shore Country Day School in Beverly is the director again this year. She is assisted by Miss Ruth Cobligh of Newton Highlands. Miss Cobligh is a graduate of Sargent College.

After camp was opened officially with "colors" the girls enjoyed a game of dodge ball.

This was followed by an interesting quiet nature game. The girls were given the word "Camping" and were to write the name of a bird, an animal, a fish and a flower beginning with each letter in the word. They were given five points for each correct word. Joyce Pittman was the winner with a score of 140.

The lunch hour was welcomed by all the girls and was thoroughly enjoyed under the cool shade trees.

A short half hour rest period of absolute quiet was enjoyed after the busy morning.

Then followed the happiest period of all for many of the girls the period for handicraft. Many new and interesting articles are being made this year including rings, bracelets, weaving and the making of matched purse sets.

Just before the day ending, the girls were served orange aid. The day ended with "retreat" at 4 o'clock. One girl musing aloud said: "This certainly has been a happy first day at camp; and I'm not going to miss a day this summer."

Wednesday

Another warm day greeted us as we climbed the hill to the Cabin. After "colors" the girls assembled in the cabin and began rehearsing the operetta "Robin Hood" which is to be presented the last day of camp. The music is catchy and tuneful and the first rehearsal was a decided success.

A nature hunt was then enjoyed. Each girl was asked to find something in nature beginning with each letter of the alphabet. Mary McCaul won this contest, finding all but six.

At 11:30 Mrs. Lowell Smith and Mrs. James Doty arrived in camp laden with good things, which they cooked and served the girls. Judging from the seconds and even thirds that were asked for, their work was appreciated. Many thanks to Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Doty for adding so much to the pleasure of the campers. Mrs. Smith plans to serve a hot lunch each Wednesday during our camping season.

After our noonday meal the girls scattered under the trees reading quietly "The American Girl" magazine. The rest of the afternoon was spent in doing handicraft. Book ends, ring leashes, bracelets, hair bands, rings, etc. were made by a group of eager happy girls.

Next week lessons in archery are to be given. We will be held on Tuesday, July 13. Come and enjoy the treasure. We will be glad to welcome any Girl Scouts who have not already registered with us.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

Attendance records at Loring avenue and Leonard Field showed a higher figure for the first week than for any other week during the last six years. Unquestionably much of the increased attendance is due to the excellent work of the popular girl instructors.

Baseball continues to be the most popular sport, the senior and junior leagues attracting over 125 active players. Tennis follows in line with a total of 65 daily players and basketball comes in a close third.

The senior league which is composed of three teams will start next Monday at Leonard Field when the Yankees meet the Cardinals in a double header.

The junior league contains the following teams: Rotary, American Legion, Pirates, Elks, and the Lions. At the present time the Elks are out front with three victories and six defeats. Peter Provanzano, Richard and Charlie Murphy and Joe Malachuk are the hitting stars on this club. The Rotary boasting of such stars as Paul Connors, Tim Connors and Ske Doherty fell into second place after a surprising 6-5 defeat at the hands of the galloping Elks.

Two enthusiastic Junior League fans have volunteered to take the league leading team to Revere Beach for a half-day outing at the end of every two weeks schedule. Inasmuch as no team can go more than once, this splendid invitation would take every league team which plays out its schedule has an opportunity to get a holiday.

With the first week of the season half gone, Camp Fellsland is in full swing with 30 Scouts and nine cubs participating in the program under a staff of 15 leaders. The camp began to hum Sunday afternoon when the campers arrived, were registered, checked by the camp doctor, and assigned to their cabins. After a strenuous afternoon of getting settled, swimming, athletics and mass games, the boys were glad to hear the call of "retreat" and the some of them could not be aroused to watch the bon fire which welcomed the "4th." The holiday was observed by a special program which included: swimming tests, an inter-troup water meet, athletics, the ceremony of digging up the "treasure" buried at the last council fire of last season, and ended with a display of fireworks contributed by various camps.

Additional zest has been added to this week's program by the search for six "treasures" which were hidden about the camp by Mr. Edwin Whittemore of the camp committee. Mr. Whittemore represented the Fellsland Council at the brief ceremony which marked the official opening of the camp last Sunday and, after the work on the real significance of the "4th," challenged the campers to make the most of their stay on the shores of the Powow River. As symbolic of the opening of the 1937 season, the new American flag and a new camp flag were raised for the first time.

A new feature of the camp program this season is the giving of the Rogers Physical Fitness Test under the direction of Douglas Raymond of Boston University track fame. The campers are taking great interest in these tests and it is the camp thing to say "How many pullups can you do?" or "What is your lung capacity?" It is expected that these tests will provide the staff with information that will aid in planning the program to fit the needs of the individual boy.

Several of the staff are attending the Scout Jamboree at Washington but will be on hand for the start of the second week which promises to be a banner period with well over 60 boys in camp. The camp is under the direction of Scout Executive Edward W. Nelson, who is now in Washington on the Regional staff of Jamboree. The leaders now at the camp are assigned as follows: Edmund C. Bray of Framingham, assistant director; Earl Doyle of Hudson and Richard Tilden of Middleboro, Scoutmasters of the Camp Troops; Walter Hannon, Jr. of Medford, Camp Cubmaster; Richard Gray of Woburn, Camp Doctor; Richard Wheeler of Medford, Waterfront Director; John Donlan of Medford, clerk and bugler; Douglas Raymond of Beverly, Director of Rogers Physical Fitness Tests; Miss Anna Lister of Winchester, Camp Cook; George Dotten of Medford, Truck driver; Robert Hayton of Medford, Nature Study Instructor; Charles Morrell of Stoneham, Assistant Instructor; Richard Groves of Winchester, Supervisor of mess hall and rifle range and assistant Waterfront Director; Edward Benjamin of Medford, Instructor in Handicraft and George West of Woburn, assistant camp doctor.

ROGERS STILL IN CHAMPIONSHIP PLAY

Arthur V. Rogers of Winchester, by virtue of two wins in match play yesterday, reached the quarter-final round of the State Amateur Golf Championship at the Winchester Country Club. F. O. Adams, the other local qualifier was defeated in the first round by Leo Martin of Sandy Burr, 3 and 1.

Rogers won his first round match from R. W. Wilson of South Shore, 4 and 3, defeating Walter Hunt of Boston in an extra hole match on the 22nd green. Today he meets F. J. Wright, Jr. of Trappe in the quarter-finals.

The other quarter-finalists are Arthur Peterson of Oak Hill vs. Edward Martin of Sandy Burr; Leo Martin of Sandy Burr; and David Whitehead of New Bedford vs. Wilfred Crossley of Norfolk.

It is worth remembering that we render complete funeral service away from home. Personally in New England, elsewhere through affiliations, we are prepared to assume every responsibility.

ROGERS AND ADAMS QUALIFIED IN STATE OPEN

Arthur Rogers, Jr. and F. O. Adams were the Winchester golfers to qualify for match play in the State Amateur Golf Championship after Tuesday and Wednesday's grueling qualifying rounds at the Winchester Country Club.

FIRE AT PALMER STREET BEACH

A fire which threatened to destroy the bathhouse at Palmer street beach was discovered shortly after 10:30 Monday morning by Harold Elliott of Linden street who smelled smoke while driving through Palmer street and notified the Police. Meanwhile Patrolmen Henry Dempsey and John Hanlon in the cruising car had also located the fire when they were informed by radio of its discovery.

The Fire Department went to the beach on a still alarm received from Police Headquarters, Box 41 being also sounded. The men found a small but hot fire in progress in the small store at the rear of the building which had been closed on Monday because of a violation of the town's Zoning Laws.

The store, which was in the old tool-house, remodelled and attached to the bathhouse during the past spring, was entirely separate from the part of the building used by the bathers which was not harmed. It started on a staircase leading to a blind attic and burned out one corner of the room, including a closet in which were stored all the materials used by the playground instructors. The loss was estimated at about $200.

HOT WEEK

The Winchester has experienced a real heat wave this week, commencing on the holiday and increasing in intensity yesterday when the temperature in several places about the center was at the 100 degrees mark with many higher figures reported in many places where the wilting sun got a better chance at the glass.

Thursday night was one of the most unpleasant Winchester has experienced in a long time, the heat being absolutely no air stirring to temper the stifling heat which continued long after sun-down. This morning found the sun a trifle less scorching and the weather man promising showers.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Nine members were absent from the meeting of July 8, one of whom has already made up for his absence. The first News Letter of 1937-1938 issued by Rotary International contains an abridged report of the Convention held at Nice, France in June. Of the 18 enactments and resolutions presented for consideration at the plenary sessions of the Convention we note that ten were adopted as presented or amended, six were withdrawn from present action and two were rejected. The proposed that club officers shall begin their terms of office on Jan. 1 rather than on July 1 was withdrawn for further consideration. The two resolutions concerning attendance during sea voyages were also withdrawn.

It is worthy of note that a campaign is underway for the purpose of raising a fund of two million dollars for the support of the Rotary Foundation. The Foundation, as is well known, sponsors the development of international understanding and the extension and perpetuation of Rotary throughout the world.

The 1938 Convention of Rotary International will be held in San Francisco, California. Secretary Chesley Perry of Rotary International emphasizes the fact that Rotary for the past four years, has grown at the rate of 10,000 members a year. This rate is approximately that developed in the so-called pre-depression years. The present number of Rotarians in the entire organization is in excess of 183,000.

Winchester Rotarians will be interested to learn that Ralph B. Redfern, a former resident of this town, has been elected Governor of District 1393 R. L. This District is located principally in the State of Maine and is substantially the area formerly known as District 38 R. L. It appears that our own District, formerly District 31st, is now designated as District 197 R. L.

Members should take especial care to attend meetings during the summer months. Our attendance during this period suffers greatly due to the fact that so many of our number are out of town either for short outings or on leaves of absence. You can keep cool both in mind and body at our local meetings.

Percentage of Attendance July 1, 1937—83.87 per cent.

RIVERSIDES WON FROM MILLIONAIRES

The Riverside Pros of the Suburban Twilight League set back the Winchester Millionaires last Friday evening on the new athletic field. 6-2. The game was billed for the championship of Winchester, but neither team was at full strength, and the contest proved nothing beyond the fact that Early of Mission Church High School, All Catholic League twirler, is a very promising young pitcher.

Aside from the batteries, the Millionaires looked like a better ball club than the Riversides as they were last Friday, but the local boys, never very potent hitters could do nothing with the speedy slants of the husky Early, getting but three well scattered blows in eight innings.

"Artie" Johnson, pitching for the Millionaires, was very wild and his wildness just about proved the deciding factor since the Riversides could get but five hits off his south-paw shots. Foolish base-running also hurt the winners' chances.

LIGHTNING STRUCK HOUSE ON HARVARD STREET

At the height of last Friday afternoon's electrical storm at 5:35 o'clock, lightning struck the house of Mr. Henry Kardezeski at 98 Harvard street, hitting and knocking away most of the upper part of the chimney and blowing out the smoke holes in the cellar. A still alarm was sent in by E. B. Rotundi summoned the Fire Department, but there fortunately was no fire, and aside to that done the chimney the damage was slight.

There was considerable activity in Medford during the storm and at 5:45 the local department received a request for a ladder truck from that city. Ladder 1 went to Medford Headquarters to "cover in," but upon arrival found that the Medford apparatus had returned, making it unnecessary for the local piece to remain on duty.

MISS WINSHIP INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE DELEGATE

Miss Dorothy Winship, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Winship of Oxford street, after a stay at the Hotel New Weston in New York City, sailed last week-end on the Cameronia with a party of college girls who are to spend the summer in England as members of the International Friendship League. Last year a number of English girls visited this country as guests in American homes, and Miss Winship is one of a party which is to enjoy a similar experience in England.

Two of last year's English delegates, Miss Mary Collins of Birmingham and Miss Margaret Kennington of London, visited Winchester, being house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elwell R. Butterworth of Cambridge street. Their visit was during the latter part of August.

INJURED AS CAR RAMMED TREE

Sarah Doherty, 18, of 27 Shepard court sustained several cuts and a broken nose last Sunday afternoon at 2:30 when the Ford cabriolet in which she was riding struck a tree near the junction of Cross and Forest streets.

The operator of the car, Peter J. Doherty of 27 Shepard court, told the Police he was driving east on Forest street when a rear tire came off, causing the car to get momentarily out of control and run into a tree on the right side of the road.

Miss Doherty was taken to the Winchester Hospital and treated by Dr. Roger M. Burgoyne.

WINCHESTER GIRL SERVING IN PEACE CAMPAIGN

Miss Margaret E. Ekern, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil A. Ekern, 217 Highland avenue, is serving as a volunteer on the Emergency Peace Campaign. Miss Ekern is in Neffs, Ohio, where it is her privilege to be a member of a team of four volunteers living in a mining community and promoting the cause of peace while sharing the life of the miners. Peace education will be accomplished chiefly through the unions, the S.W.O.C. and U.M.W. of A.

Nearly 300 young college students are participating in the summer program of the Emergency Peace Campaign, which is sending approximately 50 units of young people into the rural areas of the country to carry on an intensive program of peace education. This year two units have been sent into industrial areas.

The volunteers serve for about 8 weeks during the summer, meeting expenses themselves and receiving no remuneration for their work. Their life is considered most frugal and simple, comparable to that of a soldier.

Duties of the peace workers consist of speaking and lecturing on peace and international affairs before churches, service clubs, young people's societies, and other groups, conducting exhibits and stage plays, interviewing prominent persons in the community, organizing local peace councils and leading discussion groups.

The work of the Youth Section of the Emergency Peace Campaign in the field this summer is a continuation of last year's program when the project was initiated. Unusual success last year prompted renewal of the program.

The campaign is directed toward rousing the citizens of the communities to the dangers of the war threat in Europe and Asia. It attempts by widespread education and a combined intellectual-emotional approach, to create a background in the communities that will prove strong enough to resist the threats to get America into the next war. It is ever on the alert to develop the peace sentiment of a community into an effective weapon against war.

Oftentimes the life of a volunteer in the field calls for hard, manual labor, as was the case many times last summer, when the youths frequently helped farmers pitch hay or work in the fields, in order to get an opportunity to speak with them.

Winchester friends may hear Mrs. Bowler sing on the latter occasion over Station WHDH.

WINCHESTER BOYS HELD FOR GRAND JURY

The two Winchester boys arrested in Arlington last Wednesday night and charged with breaking and entering the Niles estate in Arlington, were held for the grand jury in court at East Cambridge on Wednesday, at which time they were held in bonds of $1000 each for the Grand Jury.

Police Chief William H. Rogers is attempting to link the boys with breaks in this town at the Calumet Club and will appear before the Grand Jury, as will Chief Charles McCauley. The boys, who are alleged to have been implicated with the theft of copper wire from the Edison plant in that city. A third boy, living in Woburn, is also implicated by the police with the Winchester youths, but because of his age must be arraigned in juvenile court. The theft of two automobiles and a set of number plates are also being attributed to the boys by the authorities.

25 YEARS ON FORCE

Patrolman James P. Donaghey, veteran officer of the Police Department, now assigned to desk duty at Headquarters, completed 25 years service on the first of July. "Jim" was appointed by the Board of Selectmen, of which William J. Daley was chairman, when William R. McIntosh was chief of police. He has served as president of the Winchester Police Association and is popular alike with his associates and the townspeople generally, and with veteran officers in departments throughout Greater Boston, to whom he is well known.

RUNAWAY TRUCK SMASHED POLE

The Police were notified last Sunday morning shortly before 8:30 by Carl P. Queen of Doherty place, Woburn, that a Chevrolet truck, owned by James A. Binstead of Burlington and operated by Queen, had rolled down the hill from where it was parked in front of the residence of Mr. Bernard McGuinness at 29 Grayson road and struck an Edison Light pole on the left side of the road near the residence of Mr. James Murray. The truck was damaged and the pole broken off three feet from the ground. No one was injured.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Eight members were absent from the meeting of July 15, one of whom has already made up his absence.

We cheerfully grant honorable mention to Harold Johnson of the Rotary Club of Woburn for appearing at the current meeting before the opening gong sounded. A splendid try, Harold.

President Warren Hersey has appointed a committee on Junior Rotarians to serve for 1937-38, the following: James J. Quinn, chairman; Ralph H. Bonnell, Harry C. Winsor.

The Rotary Club of Melrose is considering the question of evening meetings for the club. Their statistics indicate that 20 per cent of all Rotary Club meetings are held in the evening, while in Massachusetts only 14 per cent of the clubs meet at that time. In our own club such special meetings have been held in the evening have shown a marked decrease over noon meetings in attendance percentage and there has been no demand for a change from the present schedule.

Club members interested will find the new numbers designating Districts in the USCNB area listed in the July "Rotarian" page 63. The boundaries of these districts are printed in the May "Rotarian," page 48.

At present, there being no stress of business for consideration, we would suggest that members give more thought to the matter of increasing the membership of the club. Our present membership is smaller than it should be; our list shows that many classifications are not at present represented; there are good men in town who should be on our roster. Let us make the coming year a year of growth in numbers as well as growth in service.

And while we are on the subject of increases let us remember that our attendance percentage will also stand an increase.

Attendance, July 8—74.42 per cent.

MILLIONAIRES AT MEDFORD

Play in State Amateur Baseball Tourney

After winning their preliminary round game from Webster Wednesday evening, the Winchester Millionaires played their next game in the State Amateur Baseball Tournament Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock on River bank in Medford, where the winner of the preliminary round game between Wolfe's Clothiers and Danvers.

Defeating either of these clubs will be quite an order for the local boys, as Wolfe's is one of the strong teams of the Boston Playground League and there are so many good players down Danvers way, that this club is not likely to prove a setup. The Millionaires, played fine ball against Webster Wednesday evening, and given good pitching, should not be sold too short tomorrow. The local boys will be in for a hot battle, outfielders, infielders, catchers, pitchers and what have you have been filled in for "Slicker" Coss, on duty at Palmer street. The team will be further handicapped and seriously, too, if Frank Provinzano is unable to catch, for MacKenzie, though a good enough receiver, lacks all around experience at this important post.

OLD WATER MAIN REPLACED

In the rebuilding of Mt. Vernon street the old 10 inch water main over the wicker bridge has been replaced with a 12 inch main. When the 12 inch main was laid in this street it was not carried over the bridge, and the replaced pipe is estimated to have been in use some 40-odd years. It was laid at the time of the great freshet which wrecked the old bridge. This cast iron pipe was joined with cement, and was installed by late William T. Doten, father of Supt. Harry T. Doten of the Water Department.

DR. HARMER ILL

Dr. Torr W. Harmer of Everett avenue, Boston specialist, is reported as quite ill in the Massachusetts General Hospital, following an emergency operation performed last week Wednesday. Dr. Harmer became ill while preparing to operate and it became necessary to operate upon him as soon as arrangements could be made. It is thought that another operation may be necessary.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Marriage intentions have been filed with the Town Clerk as follows: Edward Francis Joyce of 42 Irving street and Mathilda Agnes Coleman of 8 Church street, Woburn. Edw. Joyce is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucille Poulin of Winooski, Vt.

Paul Lincoln Eaton of 91 Highland avenue and Edith Dunbar Leland of 19 Chandler street, West Somerville.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

The Junior League standing at the present time is as follows: Elks, Rotary, Lions, Pirates and the American Legion in the cellar. The Elks, managed by Peter Provinzano, Jr., have won eight games and lost none. This club appears to be the best playground team in years which has represented the field. The heavy hitting and smart fielding aggregation they neyed over to Stoneham yesterday and defeated an All-Star playground group to the tune of 13-6. The features of the game were the Migliacchio and James Murray's terrific home run.

The Rotary played a nice game last Tuesday when they defeated the Franklin Field Juniors of the Boston Park Department League by the close score of 5-4. Doherty and Post contributed some timely hitting. "Fred" Donovan stole home with the winning run in the last inning.

The schedule for next week calls for a ball game and tennis match with Reading, a return game at Franklin Field and an open Tennis Tournament at Long avenue. All constants who plan to enter the inter-club playground horse shoe tournament must send in their entries to the field instructors at once.

Interest in tennis is running high this summer but we cannot meet the demand for racquets. If anyone has an old frame he would like to dispose of please call Win. 0797-M. We will be glad to restring it and present it to some worthy youngster.

GOLF NOTES

Mrs. Donald M. Belcher of Winchester paired with Mrs. Frederick H. Tarr of Rockport in the women's invitation four-ball tournament at the Teddies Country Club this week. The defeat in the first round was one of the big upsets of the tourney, since Mrs. Tarr had been a finalist in the tournament two years and Mrs. Belcher is a former State champion.

Only one Winchester caddie, Michael Sawchuk, was among the qualifiers in the annual caddies championship Tuesday at the Commonwealth Club. Apparently the local caddies aren't tournament minded since Sawchuk's name was the only one to appear at all in the tournament lists, either among the qualifiers or those who failed to make the grade. Mike's card, 80-81-161, was 14th best among the 55 or so who qualified.

Ted Adams of Weston and Charles Weisberg of Winthrop, tied at 188, will play off Sunday for the caddie championship.

TO INSTALL NEW SEWERAGE PUMPING STATION

A new sewerage pumping station, which arrived in Winchester last week was unloaded last Saturday by Contractor Thomas Quigley, Jr., and taken to the site where it will be installed by the Water & Sewer Department at the corner of Swan road and Arlington street.

Weighing four tons, the station contains pumping equipment to elevate the sewerage over the hill at Swan road so that it may flow by gravity through the regular mains.

Chairman Edmund C. Sanderson of the Water & Sewer Board told the Star that the new pump is of the latest improved design and will add greatly to the efficiency of the local sewer system. Pumps doing the same work, but of different design, are in operation on W. Woodside road and at Robinson park.

ORNITHOLOGY

Police Headquarters was notified Thursday morning that a small bird was flying about inside a house on Sheffield road reported closed last summer. Patrolman John H. Boyle was dispatched to investigate and located the bird without difficulty, but also found the house sufficiently secured to prevent his doing anything other than way of emancipation. He couldn't "get the bird" no matter how he tried.

He communicated his difficulty to Headquarters which in turn relayed his message to the owner of the house, who with fervent thanks promised to give the matter his immediate attention.

FIREMEN HAD THREE RUNS TUESDAY

The Fire Department answered three alarms Tuesday, the first coming in at 4:25 in the morning from Police Headquarters where Patrolman Joseph Quigley had reported discovering Hevey's Pharmacy to be full of smoke. The firemen found upon arrival that an ice cream motor located in the rear of the pharmacy, had burned out, but aside from the smoke, had done little actual damage. At 10:39 a smoky fireplace called apparatus to the residence of Mr. Norman J. Padelford at 8 Ravenscroft road, and at 2:10 in the afternoon Engine 3 with Deputy Chief John J. Gorman and Fireman John J. Flaherty went to Park road where a sagging Edison Light pole had caused wires to set fire to a tree.

CAMP NOTES

Each day new and happy faces are seen at the Day Scout Camp on the Brooks Estate.

In the morning, the girls exercise their bodies by participating in vigorous games; their minds in games which require thought; and in the afternoon their hands in the making of many and beautiful things in craft work. The aesthetic side of their lives is developed by music and dancing, and in the appreciation of their beautiful natural surroundings.

On Thursday, July 8, the big event of the morning was "Bobbing for Plums." A basin filled with water, into which plums were placed, was placed behind a girl who was blindfolded. Each girl was given chances to creep up so silently that she could not be heard by the girl who was blindfolded. If the girl was successful she was given an opportunity to bob for the plum. Many humorous situations developed during the game which added to the merriment of all. This was followed by "Scrambles." The names of 25 flowers, in which the letters were given in the wrong order, were given each child. Mary McCaul was successful in writing the most of these correctly.

On Tuesday, July 13, a Treasure Hunt was held. Clues were hidden in various places. The last clue told where the treasure was to be found. Marie Barron's bright eyes first happened to spy the treasure, which was a huge watermelon. This was divided and enjoyed by all as a dessert for our lunch.

The Treasure Hunt was followed by a Peanut Game. Alice Neiley was the captain of one team, and Jean Stillman the other. Each girl tried to see how many peanuts she could put into a milk bottle, which was placed on the top of her head, with a spoon in two minutes. Alice Neiley's team's score was 112. The person making the highest individual score was Ruth Welburn with a score of 22. The day was damp and cool and the cheery fire in the fire place in the cabin, added to the day's enjoyment.

Wednesday, July 14, the morning activity was a Nature Hunt. The object was to find how many "opposites" or "anonyms" could be found in Nature. Patricia Taylor and Margaret Brown were the winners finding all except one of the 25 anonyms given.

Another hot lunch was tastefully prepared by Mrs. Lowell Smith and Mrs. G. E. Croughwell. That the girls enjoyed the New England Chop Suey is saying it mildly. Seconds, thirds and even fourths were asked for and were provided by our charming hostesses.

Rehearsals on our Operetta are enjoyed by all each morning, and we expect to have a very finished production by August 19, when it is to be presented to the parents, and friends and anyone interested in Girl Scouts.

Priscilla Stockwell has brought her trumpet to camp and played for us several times at "Colors." She has also played in several fine solos for us during the day.

We have been very happy to welcome the following visitors at Camp: Mrs. James Doty, Mrs. Lowell Smith, Mrs. Maude Taylor, Miss Kate Gregg, Mrs. Greiner, Mrs. G. E. Croughwell and Mrs. G. H. Tapley.

MEDICAL DIRECTOR OFFERS HOT WEATHER HEALTH HINTS

The widespread heat wave has led Dr. Robert A. Fraser, Chief Medical Director of the New York Life Insurance Company, to issue a health warning, cautioning every one to take simple safeguards that their health may not be impaired by the extreme temperatures.

Dr. Fraser offers ten Health Hints for Hot Weather that are easily followed by young and old. They are:

1. Take it easy—don't rush around.
2. Wear a hat out in the sun.
3. Wear cool, loose fitting clothes.
4. Get plenty of rest and sleep.
5. Eat moderately of easily digested foods.
6. Drink plenty of cool (not ice cold) liquids.
7. Exercise moderately.
8. Take frequent tepid (not cold) baths.
9. Do not stay in direct sunlight for long periods.
10. Avoid large meetings in poorly ventilated auditoriums.

"If all of us would observe these rules," Dr. Fraser said, "our general physical condition would be vastly improved and we would be able to withstand hot weather with much less difficulty."

In commenting on his ten Health Hints for Hot Weather, Dr. Fraser feels that children are more apt to forget rules 5 and 6, which are extremely important for them, while adults are very likely to ignore rules 1, 2 and frequently 6.

"Children, because they really don't know any better, are very prone to overeat, and to gulp large quantities of ice cold 'pop' and water," Dr. Fraser remarked. "They should be carefully controlled along these lines. Children either observe the balance of the Health Hints without knowing that they are doing so, or because of their youthful exuberance are apt to ignore them. For instance, a child may rush around all day long without a hat, frequently out in the sun, and show no ill effects. On the other hand, they instinctively prefer a minimum of clothing and will sleep readily, if they are tired."

"Adults, however, should avoid going out without a hat. They should also drink sparingly of ice cold beverages. It is important, too, to that they get plenty of sleep and rest. In addition, grown people should refrain from expending great quantities of energy in needless haste. On hot days take it easy."

Two Common Hot Weather Ailments
Sunstroke and Heatstroke, Dr. Fraser points out, are two hot weather ailments that are quite common, though very different in their symptoms and in the way they affect the stricken individual. Both Sunstroke and Heatstroke can be avoided by following the Health Hints for Hot Weather.

Sunstroke

Sunstroke can be avoided by keeping out of the hot sun and by not overdoing in physical exercise. An attack frequently begins with nausea, giddiness and mental excitement, following a long exposure to the sun. The face is flushed, the pulse full and rapid.

The first thing to do is remove the patient to a cool spot and then send for a doctor immediately. Reduce the body temperature by placing the patient in a cold bath, sponging the surface of the body with cold water or rubbing the body with ice.

Keep up the treatment for ten or fifteen minutes and then place the patient between blankets without drying the body. If there is no improvement within fifteen minutes, repeat the cold applications as before and keep repeating them every fifteen minutes until consciousness is well established.

Sometimes after apparent recovery, the patient becomes drowsy again and the head becomes hot. The treatments must be repeated as before. "Those who are forced to work in the open sunlight," Dr. Fraser explained "should see to it that they wear a hat that protects the back of the neck as well as the top of the head and their clothing should not be close fitting or bind the body. Furthermore, they should take great care to drink large amounts of cool water or cool, weak tea to make up for the excessive amounts of moisture lost by the body through perspiration."

Heatstroke

Heatstroke differs from Sunstroke in that it does not depend on exposure to the sun, but may attack a person during extremely hot, humid weather. It is characterized by sudden fainting attacks, the body is cool and clammy, the face pale, the pulse weak and flighty and a gasping or sighing respiration.

First send for the doctor. Then apply heat to the patient's feet and around the body. If the patient is conscious and can swallow, give quantities of hot, weak tea.

OBSERVATIONS

By The Observer

Winchester miss who has done a lot of "home work" says that with vacation here she now will do a lot more of it—sweeping and dusting, you know.

This is the time of the year for the reminder that grass grows as well in the yard of the Winchesterite making $200 a week as it does in the yard of the one making many times that.

Star reader wants to know what is the difference between a Scotchman and a banana? If any Winchesterite don't know, then all we can say is that he would be a daisy to send for bananas.

We thank "Native Son" for the following stanza:

News that interests all good folk I find on this page.
From politics to what our churches are doing.
Papers I have read from coast to coast.
But none compete with the Winchester Star.

THIS WEEK'S GARDENING

By Alfred A. Fraser

Weed killing chemicals should be used with great caution—being sure to keep away from where roots of trees and shrubs are.

Window boxes should be watered frequently. Hardy chrysanthemum tips should be pinched back to form bushier plants.

Don't forget your rock garden needs water also. Spray roses weekly. Practically all roses are grafted on wild rose stock. Frequently this wild stock throws up branches. They always have 7 leaflets (garden roses have five) and should be cut out.

Lawn clippings are good to mulch strawberries or currants. Cut straggly violas back, fertilize and water heavily to encourage new growth.

Pinch back any Jerusalem Cherry plants you may be growing to induce bushy growth. Feed also.

Don't use the lawn mower much unless we have a lot of rain. Trim hedges or evergreens now. Iris can be transplanted now as they are practically dormant.

Gladioli should be planted this week at the latest.

New, good looking personal stationery. Your name and address printed on quality papers, also monogram style, all with envelopes to match. New wanted styles to choose from. Attractively priced. T. F. Wilson, the Winchester Star.

Quickly frozen vegetables take a shorter time to cook than do fresh vegetables. This explains why cooked frozen-vegetables, such as peas, stay a brighter green than do the cooked fresh ones.

ROGERS DEFEATED IN QUARTER FINALS

Whiteside, Veteran New Bedford Golfer, New Champ

Arthur Rogers, Winchester's standard bearer in the State Amateur Golf Championship at the Winchester Country Club last week, was finally eliminated in the quarter-final round of play after he had built up what looked like a commanding lead.

Playing against Wright of Trappelo, former State titlist, Rogers was leading three up at the end of four holes, but thereafter the Winchester boy and Oxford student, lost control of his game and was finally defeated by the 1931 champion, 4 and 3.

Following are their cards:

Wright's win over Rogers was his last of the tournament for he was put out in the semi-final round of play by Dave Whiteside of New Bedford, 1 up.

The other semi-final match resulted in a win for the youthful Art Peterson of Oak Hill, also by the score of 1 up. The semi-final cards:

Whiteside Won Final, 6 and 5

Golf is one game where youth is not necessarily served, and the final round of the State Amateur Championship was won by the 47 year old Dave Whiteside of New Bedford from Arthur Peterson of Oak Hill last Saturday at the Winchester Country Club, 6 and 5.

Old timers everywhere took a new lease on their game as the result was broadcast, for Whiteside won his first golf match 35 years ago in 1902, the year the Winchester Country Club commenced its activities and has had plenty of reverses in his winding road to the State title, for which he admitted he very nearly did not compete this year.

Leading one up at the end of the morning round with Peterson, 20 years his junior and a flawless stylist, Whiteside set a devastating pace in the afternoon, building a 5 up advantage at the 27th green.

At the turn in 31, he took the 28th with a 4 against Peterson's 5, halved the 29th with a 4, lost the 30th by a stroke with a 4 and took the 31st and match with a 5 on the 32nd as his opponent had a 6. The cards:

MILLIONAIRES BEAT WEBSTER

Artie Johnson Great in National Tournament Title

"Artie" Johnson, tall fork-handed finger, turned in a three hit pitching performance Wednesday evening as the Winchester Millionaires defeated Webster in the elimination round of the State Baseball Tournament at Riverside Park in Medford, 12-0.

Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock the Millionaires will play a semi-final round game at Riverside Park with the winner of the Wolf (Clothiers-Danvers) game.

Wednesday night's contest was all Johnson, the local southpaw having loads of stuff and a fast ball that just breezed by the Webster batters, nine of whom went down on strikes in the six frames played. "Artie" was as cool as if throwing "ringers" at Palmer street, showing good control and walking but two men, neither of whom caused any trouble.

Meanwhile his mates were landing on Forand, the Webster hurler, for 12 bingles, three of which were garnered by "Skitchie" Farrar, with "Red" Noble, Rod MacDonnell and "Sandy" MacKenzie each picking up two.

Frank Provinzano, local catcher, jammed his finger, and had to give way to MacKenzie, but it is hoped that he will be ready for duty on Saturday. Following is the summary:

GLENMORRES AND MILLIONAIRES TONIGHT

The Winchester Millionaires, after a long layoff following their withdrawal from the Inter-City League, will return to the baseball wars tonight, playing the Glenmores of the Woburn Municipal League at 6:15 at the new athletic field on the Shore road.

Last season the Glenmores took a pair of games from the Millionaires, and will be favored to win from the local club this evening. The Woburn boys, however, have not been cutting the winning swaths they did a year ago, and the locals feel they have a good chance to win their first game from the tanning city club.

The Glenmores, in Fran Maher, the Desmond boys, Bob Burns, Hal Donovan, et al, have considerably more punch than the Millionaires possess, even when the locals are hitting at a normal clip which has not been the case in their past few games. On paper the moneyman would seem to have what pitching edge there is, but this superiority will have to be quite marked to offset the Glenmores' stronger offense. Defensively the clubs are not so far apart, though Art and Eddie Desmond, Bob Burns and Max Carey would seem to swing the balance toward the tanners in the field. If the Millionaires can get markedly superior pitching tonight, they can win, but not otherwise. Win or lose, however, the fans will be glad to see the locals playing clubs like the Glenmores instead of some of the league clubs they have faced this season and last.

Manager Quigley lost the ace of his pitching staff when "Buster" Kendrick joined Bourne in the Cape League, but he still has three pretty fair fingers in "Red" Noble, "Artie" Johnson and "Al" Barnard. Noble stood the Glenmores on their heads in a relief role in last season's second game, but probably will patrol an outfield berth tonight to favor his hitting, and it is likely that big "Al" Barnard will get the starting nod.

How much good the Millionaires long layoff has done them will be known tonight, but the team had been playing five and six games a week which is too much ball for boys who have to work during the day.

LETTER FROM STATE DEPART- MENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH

July 8, 1937
To the Board of Selectmen:
Winchester, Mass.
Gentlemen:

The Department takes this opportunity to inform your board relative to the activities of the Department since June 1937 in the matter of the pollution of the Aberjona River and Upper Mystic Lake.

In reference to the diversion of sewage from the sewers of the North Metropolitan Sewerage District into that part of the new relief sewer in the thickly populated section of Winchester, it has been recently estimated that as much as 4 million gallons of sewage daily are being diverted in this manner which might otherwise have overflowed into the Aberjona River. Provision also can be made for the further diversion of sewage in this manner by connecting the 2 ft. by 3 ft. Woburn relief sewer into the new relief sewer below Cross street and the matter of this additional diversion has been taken up by representatives of this Department with representatives of the Metropolitan District Commission.

Since the Department's communication of June 30, 1937, it has been placed around the manholes on the Metropolitan trunk sewers in the vicinity of the Atlantic Gelatin Company and these temporary works have been effective in preventing the overflow of sewage except during periods of considerable runoff.

Relative to treating the water of the Aberjona River with hypochlorite of lime at the dam recently constructed by the authorities of the Town of Winchester below the Beggs & Cobb's tannery, these treatments have been continued and the results of the bacteriological examination show a decided reduction in the number of bacteria in the water of the river as a result of this treatment. In addition, the chemical analyses show that this dam is effective in reducing the amount of organic matter in the river below the dam and in Upper Mystic Lake. As the construction of the dam was recommended by this Department for this purpose, it is gratifying to learn that the Department's recommendation in this regard was justified.

Relative to the treatment of the water in the Upper Mystic Lake near the mouth of the Aberjona River to prevent the breeding of midges in that vicinity, the results of the laboratory experiments show that the control of growth of the midges in this area by chemical treatment is not practicable because the larvae from which the midges develop penetrate the mud for several inches and are thus protected from the chemicals applied to the water. Midges eggs hatch in the water of the lake and go through a larvae stage in the water and then emerge from the water in the form of midges. We have experimented with the use of hypochlorite of lime to kill the larvae by spraying this solution over the surface of the water, but other than to assist in reducing the odor about the lake, this treatment was not very successful. Inasmuch as experiments in connection with Musquashat Pond in Scituate would indicate that the introduction of fish in that pond has reduced the number of midges by the fish eating the larvae, this Department set up a small aquarium on Upper Mystic Lake on July 2. This aquarium consists of a screened-in area in the lake approximately 10 feet square and we introduced into it at 1 p. m. on July 2 some 250 small fish three to five inches long consisting of 30 hornpout and 220 perch. By 7 p. m. on July 2, 19 perch and one hornpout were found dead in the enclosure, and on July 3, 16 additional perch were found dead in the enclosure, and at 1 p. m. on July 4 26 additional. On July 5 88 additional perch and two additional hornpout, and on the 6th, 1 additional perch and three horn-pout were found dead, making a total of 193 perch and six hornpout which died since they were introduced into the aquarium on July 2.

Tests made for the presence of dissolved oxygen in the water in this part of the lake have shown that while the water in the river on July 3 at the entrance of Upper Mystic Lake was 70 per cent saturated with oxygen the dissolved oxygen in that part of the lake in which the fish were placed had been reduced in some parts to as low as 19 per cent saturation.

In view of the results obtained from stocking the lake with fish as herein indicated and in view of the large amount of decomposed floating matter on the surface of the water of the lake in the last few days, it is obvious to this Department that the large amount of putrescible organic matter which has entered the Upper Mystic Lake from the Aberjona River is decomposing rapidly because of the increased temperature of the water of the lake. This condition results in depletion of the oxygen content of the water and the setting up of an environment which is particularly unfavorable to fish but favorable to the hatching of midges. An examination of some of this floating matter shows that it contains a large number of midge larvae and the odor arising from this material is very objectionable. This will explain my reason for suggesting that everybody be made as rapidly as practicable by the Metropolitan District Commission to remove this floating matter and to haul it away to some suitable place of disposal. Some of this sludge formation also contains decomposed microscopical organisms and other organic matter characteristic to the lake. This Department is experimenting further by treating the water with cresote to destroy mosquito larvae and discourage the formation of midges.

This condition in Upper Mystic Lake was contemplated by this Department when it wrote to your board under date of June 10, 1937 as follows:

"... Deposits of decomposed organic matter already in the Aberjona River in Upper Mystic Lake resulting from the overflow of sewage into this stream in the past few months are already causing offensive conditions in the vicinity of Winchester and should the temperature of the water at this stream increase and the flow be materially reduced from that maintained at the present time, there probably will be a depletion of oxygen in the water and even more offensive odors may result."

Respectfully,
Henry D. Chadwick, M. D.
Commissioner of Public Health

CONGRATULATIONS

The Star offers its congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs.
James D. Haggerty, Jr. who were married last Saturday morning in Beachmont. Mrs. Haggerty is the former Ariene Quinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Quinn of Beachmont, and her husband is sports editor of the Worcester Daily Times, owned and edited by his father. Both father and son are well known in Winchester.

Our service could only have been built through our ability to serve our clients honestly and well.

It is reported that the State Dept.
of Health thinks that the water in Mystic lakes is clear enough for fish to live in and so they have put about 100 in to see if they do live.
They obtained these unfortunate fish from the State Game and Fish Dept., and nothing has been heard as yet whether they survived. Since all the fish in the lakes have been killed by the deluge of sewage, a plague of mosquitoes has appeared and the State is now at work spraying the lake with oil to prevent these mosquitoes from hatching out. It seems that fish like mosquito's eggs better than almost any other food, and while they are able to live in water they keep down these troublesome insects.

They also think that the horrible black scum which forms along the shores and smells these hot summer days like something very dead, is grease from the numerous tanneries north of here which got into the river when the sewers overflowed. The lake being oiled, chlorinated, skimmed of scum, raked, and treated with lime after the protest which the Winchester Boat Club made to the Governor. A test of the water is made every day and they report that the number of microbes is actually growing less. Anyway a fine mess has been made out of what used to be the drinking water for the city of Charlestown.

The latest developments are that the fish placed in the lake as a test have all died and the State is thinking of treating the water with cresote to treat the odor.

JUNE WEDDING

Frank D. Roosevelt and Miss Ethel DuPont were married yesterday at a church wedding in Wilmington, Del.

Mr. Roosevelt is the son of Mrs.
Eleanor Roosevelt, the writer, whose picture is printed so often in our metropolitan newspapers, and who is widely known as a traveller and the mother of several children whose names have often appeared in the news. His father is Frank Roosevelt who was employed in an important government position in Washington, though he recently stated that he does not expect it will be a permanent position. He is well known as a fisherman.

The bridegroom has been going to school in Cambridge.
The bride is a member of a well-known family and her people are said to be quite well-to-do. (The Milford

"JERRY'S" CAR STOLEN

A Ford sedan, owned by Alderman Gerald Seminatore of 2 Arcadia street, Woburn, was stolen Wednesday evening sometime previous to 8:30 from where it was parked in front of the Locatelli Building on Main street. Alderman Seminatore is better known to Winchester residents as "Jerry," proprietor of the Elite Barber and Beauty Shoppe in the Locatelli Building, and his car was stolen from in front of his place of business. The theft was broadcast, but better known to Winchester residents as "Jerry," proprietor of the Elite Barber and Beauty Shoppe in the Locatelli Building, and his car was stolen from in front of his place of business. The theft was broadcast, but last night no trace of it had been reported.

A custom which has not yet been subjected to an organized attack on the ground of causing someone to have a misery is the serving of sausage in hot weather. That menace is poisonous to the Observer as we almost croaked once from eating sausage in hot weather, which any brother's keeper will instantly recognize as reason enough to prevent hot weather sausage in order to save us.

HEART TO HEART TALKS

The Call For Fellowship

Men need sympathy, and this great need for sympathy makes us crave for friendship. Human life is or should be a life of joy as well as of service and the only way we can enjoy our relationships with each other is by getting out among our fellows and making our lives count.

It is not necessary to go outside of Winchester to see how stunted affections dwarf the whole man. Men everywhere hold out on their fellows and are slow in rounding their lives and putting through to completion their powers. Men live by admiration, hope, and love and these can save their highest development only in intercourse with our fellows.

Hugh Black has truly written:
"The sweetest and most stable pleasures are never selfish. They are derived from fellowship, from common tastes, and mutual sympathy.
Sympathy is not a quality merely needed in adversity. It is needed as much as when the sun shines. Indeed, it is more easily obtained in adversity than in prosperity. It is comparatively easy to sympathize with a friend's failure, when he is not so true hearted about his own. When a man is down in his luck, he can be sure of at least a certain amount of good fellowship to which he can appeal. It is difficult to keep a little touch of malice, or envy, out of congratulations. It is sometimes easier to weep with those who weep, than to rejoice with those who rejoice."
"The envious, jealous, man never can be a friend. His mean spirit of detraction and insinuating ill-will kills friendship at its birth."

When words of Black remind us that Plutarch records a witty remark about Plutarchus, who was told that a notorious railler had spoken well of him. "I'll lay my life," said he,
"somebody has told him I am dead, for he can speak well of no man living."

Let us have more fellowship of the right sort. Sorrow asks for sympathy, aches to let its griefs be known and shared by a kindred spirit. To have a heart which we can put confidence in, takes a lot of the curse from life. But joy also demands that its joy should be shared.
So let us remember that a simple generous fellowship will add greatly to human joy and will mitigate human sorrow.

The Gossip Legion

On the radio the other night many of us listened in on a tragic drama titled "The Gossip Legion." As the drama proceeded many eyes of the listeners in and out of Winchester were full of tears—one individual of this writer's acquaintance broke down and wept bitterly as she saw in one of the phases of the radio drama a bitter experience of her own.

In every community are to be found those of both sexes—women, unfortunately, seem to be the chief offenders in spreading scandal—who find real pleasure in besmirching the characters of others. Had some of these folk lived in the good old times, it would have gone rather hard with them as the "ducking stool" and other tools of punishment were employed to teach folk the sin of spreading gossip. All of us know folk who seem to live for no other reason than to spread scandal.

With a direr plague than gossip this world was never smitten. If anything can be heard, or surmised, or conjectured, it is likely to be injurious or discrediting to others, it is instantly seized upon by unscrupulous folk, and disseminated all over a neighborhood. And some of our church people, alas for the right minded pagan who should regret his notion of the Christian religion of Jesus from the unhalloved lips of some of our church folk!

If anybody were to ask me where one could find the grossest instances of envy, hatred, malice, and all uncharitableness, I am afraid I should be obliged to say, right in the pews of our churches. Alas for the right minded pagan who should regret his notion of the Christian religion of Jesus from the unhalloved lips of some of our church folk!

God spare us from the gossip!

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page

Vegetables are becoming increasingly plentiful and cheap while meat prices continue to rise sharply. Vegetable plates which are garnished with or include such foods as bacon, potted or savory meats, eggs, cheese or fish are more than acceptable to the average family.

Mid-summer fruits are fast becoming plentiful, including new cooking apples, melons, peaches, pears, plums and grapes as the early summer fruits gradually disappear.

Fish, small fowl, broilers and the forequarter cuts of lamb and veal are the best meat values. Eggs are reasonable. Be sure to keep them cold at this season to maintain their good quality.

Seasonable foods make up the following menus.

Low Cost Dinner
Baked Stuffed Potatoes with Cheese
Grilled Tomatoes Green Beans
Creamed Carrots Bread and Butter
Plum Tapioca

Tea or Coffee
Roast Shoulder of Lamb
Pan-Browned Potatoes Green Peas
Bread and Butter
Bread Pudding with Crushed Peaches
Tea or Coffee

Very Special Dinner
Fruit Cocktail
Jellied Chicken Quartered Tomatoes
Mixed Vegetable Salad
Egg and Butter
Omelette Souffle Berry Hard Sauce

"Life" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, July 18.

The Golden Text is: "Now that the dead are raised, even Moses shewed at the bush, when he called the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living: for all live unto him." (Luke 20:37, 38).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? . . . Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us. For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor heights, nor depths, nor creatures, nor any creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord." (Romans 8:35, 37-39).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "When the evidence before the material senses yielded to spiritual sense, the apostle declared that nothing could separate him from God, from the love and presence of Life and Truth" (p. 303).

READING THEATRE

The Great Divide of the Rockies was recently crossed again by a miniature army of pioneers for the retelling on the screen the epic story of the construction of a transcontinental railroad, the theme of Gaumont's "Silent Barriers," next feature attraction at the Reading Theatre, beginning on Sunday for three days.

Literally, it was a pioneering expedition in numerous respects. Chiefly because stars and players, directors and producers, artists and technicians traveled 6000 miles away from the home studio for the making of this picture—and worked almost within a stone's throw of Hollywood.

The main part of this movement arrived after a reconnoitering expedition early last summer and after due deliberation and surveying they chose Revelstoke, British Columbia, as the base of operation for the extensive work which was to be done for the filming of an epic in the great outdoors.

"Silent Barriers" was directed by Milton Rosmer with Richard Arlen and Lilli Palmer heading a featured cast which includes J. Farrell MacDonald, Antoinette Cellier, Roy Emerson and Ben Weldon. It is an adaptation of the novel by Alan Sullivan. On the same bill will be Joel McCrea and Miriam Hopkins in "Woman Chases Man." The double feature bill for today and tomorrow includes Charlie Ruggles and Eleanor Whitney in "Turn Off The Moon" and "Midnight Taxi" with Brian Donlevy.

THIS WEEK'S GARDENING

By Alfred A. Fraser

Aphids will probably be busy this week and should be sprayed with a nicotine solution. Repeat in 10 days.

Keep faded flowers picked of garden plants, that is, if you want lots of flowers and care nothing for the seed.

Forget-me-nots, English daisies and pansies should be sown next month. Keep your roses well watered.

Cut your winteria back to 3 or 4 eyes.

Die out any crab grass on the lawn. A fertilizer should be worked into the soil at the side of vegetable plants—but not touching the roots.

Stake tall growing plants if you haven't before, to prevent wind or rain damage.

Look over grafted lilac, flowering almond, and ornamental cherries to make sure there are no suckers coming from below.

Spray phlox with Bordeaux mixture to avoid mildew.

Iris should be given a top dressing of bone meal.

When watering, soak well, don't sprinkle.

STRAND THEATRE, MALDEN

"Slim," with a four star cast that includes Pat O'Brien, Henry Fonda, Margaret Lindsay and Stephen E. Avery heads the double bill opening a four day run at the Strand Theatre in Malden today. "Slim" is a story of the colorful, perilous, tough-and-gutsy life of high-tension linemen, those sturdy lads who put up steel towers across the land and string wire that carry electric power over the mountains and deserts. Henry Fonda is cast as a farm lad who becomes fascinated by the work of a linesman gang crossing his acres. Through the aid of Pat O'Brien he gets a job and the two become pals. O'Brien introduces Fonda to his girl, a match played by Margaret Lindsay. O'Brien loves her, but does not ask her to marry him because he can never settle down on a linesman job but must keep on moving all the time. Meanwhile, Miss Lindsay learns to like the quiet Fonda. The gang moves on and word comes to the nurse that Fonda has been badly hurt. She leaves the Chicago hospital and goes to the small town where he lies in bed. She learns to love him and gives up hope that O'Brien will ever propose. O'Brien and Fonda remain friends. However, and the film moves on to an unexpected and unusually thrilling climax.

Jane Withers in "Angel's Holiday," is the second attraction on the bill starting today. Filmland's most mischievous miss indulges in her usual madcap mishaps in a new role as sleuth and newspaper reporter. A long nose for news and clues precipitates Jane into a faked disappearance, for publicity purposes, of a movie queen, played by Sally Blane, and proceeds to gum up the works. Both Jane and the movie star are considerably surprised, however, when a gang of real bandits step in and conducts a real kidnapping, holding Sally Blane for ransom and Miss Withers and Robert Kent as hostages. The climax showing how little Jane outwits the crooks and turns them over to the police is a howl.

GRANADA ATTRACTIONS

"Kid Galahad," with three of the screen's strongest personalities, Bette Davis, Edward G. Robinson and Humphrey Bogart, heads the double bill opening at the Granada Theatre in Malden today. Made from a best-selling novel by Frances Wallace, which also ran in serial form in a national magazine, "Kid Galahad" has a very potent story woven into the background of the sporting world. Edward G. Robinson is cast as a fight promoter who was a contender for the championship. Bette Davis is his girl friend and assistant. Humphrey Bogart is a rival promoter and a killer. The title role is filled by Wayne Morris, a new screen find who packs a terrific wallop in his fight scenes as well as in his love scenes with Jane Bryan, another new-comer who is destined to go places on the screen. The story of the two rival fight managers and their schemes to double cross each other makes a swift-moving and action filled play. The fight between "Kid Galahad" and Bogart's scrappy one of the most terrific ever screened.

"There Goes My Girl," with Gene Raymond and Ann Sothern cast as rival newspaper reporters, is the second attraction on the bill starting today. When these ace reporters decide to top their romance with a wedding ceremony, Miss Sothern's city editor interrupts the wedding with a hoax murder as means of preventing the loss of his star news-gatherer. Learning about the hoax, Miss Sothern sets about regaining the affections of Raymond, who broke their engagement. The bride appeared more interested in reporting the shooting than going through with the wedding ceremony. Working on a big assignment, a big murder mystery, the two reporters scoop the police on the solution of the crime, and after the hard-shelled city editor has again interposed, they finally become reunited. Others in the cast are Frank Jenks, Maxine Jennings, Gordon Jones and Alec Craig.

"I MET HIM IN PARIS" AT THE UNIVERSITY

Gay, sparkling Paris and thrill-packed St. Moritz, capital of Switzerland's winter sports region, form the background for Claudette Colbert's latest comedy-romance, "I Met Him In Paris," in which she is teamed with Melvyn Douglas and Robert Young. "I Met Him In Paris," which opens next Sunday at the University Theatre, is a fast-moving story of the adventures of a vacation-seeking American girl who discovers that she's in love with two handsome, charming men at the same time, without being able to choose between them, until she is finally forced to a showdown.

Lionel Barrymore becomes an Idaho judge, a politician, and the father of two grown daughters and a son all at the same time. It is in this composite of three characterizations that the veteran actor makes his latest screen appearance in the drama of family life, "A Family Affair," the companion feature.

What the halcyon breath of Spring's first day does to slumbering hearts is the theme of a delightful comedy-drama entitled "Call It A Day," which starts Thursday. It is based upon the sentimental experiences of all the members of an English suburban family when the first day of Spring sets them wandering along love-paths. Olivia de Havilland is to be seen as the daughter of the family, Ian Hunter and Frieda Inescort are her parents. Then there are Anita Louise, Alice Brady, Roland Young, Peggy Wood, Bonita Granville and half a dozen others who become involved in the atmosphere of romance. There is brilliant dialogue, plenty of laughs, and some moments of the deepest and tenderest sentiment, it is promised.

A class of American workers whose trade has never before been touched by the movies—those adventurous and hardy lads who string electrical power wires across the remote waste places—are depicted for your entertainment in "Slim," the companion feature. The popular Henry Fonda carries the title role of "Slim," a young farm lad who, fascinated by the work of a wire-gang crossing his father's land, becomes one of them with the aid of "Red," a jovial and gallant wire-stringer who is portrayed by that perpetual favorite, Pat O'Brien. Margaret Lindsay, "The least bit feminine role," "Slim" was made from the best selling novel by William Wister Haines.

You'll welcome the way it cradles you over the bumps, the neat, compact, handily mobile feel of it. You'll be proudly aware of its beauty, of the picture you make riding in its this-minute style.

But don't forget this major thing—it's the buy of the season, price-wise as well as on performance! It's still selling at the lowest price in all Buick history—you can still get a big Buick eight for less than some sixes would cost you.

So don't hold back. Good things, you know, can't last forever. Don't pass up a buy such as Buick is at its low prices now.

OBSERVATIONS

By the Observer

When The Observer sees a photograph of a citizen of Winchester with his hat on he is able to guess what happened to his hair.

It appears that face paint was used by the Egyptian flappers 5000 years ago. Likely then, as today in fair Winchester, some girls were sadly misinformed as to where healthy color stops and scarlet fever begins.

According to one Winchester fellow, one of the things that lightens labor in a certain establishment is to know that the boss will be absent from the plant until late in the afternoon.

Winchester pastor has a mighty good theory. It is that those who become criminals never were loved enough or spanked enough.

"Look First and Last Longer," is a recent price slogan. Not so bad.

Whitewashing a Winchesterite's character does not wash it white.

The average Winchesterite likes to have it said that his baby looks like him, but he gets mad as a hornet if told he resembles the baby.

No matter how little we love our neighbors we can see no reason why they should not have a kindly feeling for us.

HEART TO HEART TALKS

Enforce The Ten Commandments

In all the periods of this world's history there has been a vast army of those who have suffered from "the ills that flesh is heir to"—poverty, bereavement, disease, decrepitude, the canker worm of care, injustice, which is the world's master sin, and a thousand and one varieties of mental anguish. Truly the load of misery has been great upon man! Man's life has been pursued by sickness, broken with infirmities, dejected by griefs, and his labors often without adequate recompense. We have great writers pictured the little of man and his greatness, his far reaching aims and his short duration in this vale of tears, the sadness hanging over the present, and the curtain shrouding the future, the defeat so frequently of good, and the success of cussedness.

Notwithstanding the enjoyments and pleasant things of life, there are probably no uninspired words that are more frequently in the thoughts of men than

The weary and the heavy weight Of all that dwells upon us. Elsewhere the Bard forbids the search for suffering in its special haunts: Let him not come there To seek out sorrow that dwells everywhere.

Where there is not the anguish of recognized trials, there is the experience of the lonely heart, of manifold disappointments, and uncongenial lot, the sinking of the spirit, the nameless fear, the causeless depression, the worn nerves, the weariness of human life.

We have been hearing a lot about the New Deal or at least did until lately. Are not most of human ills due to our leaving God out of our program? Is it not true that the only New Deal that can stand the test is a new order of decent Christian living? We need the Golden Rule—a rigid enforcement of the Ten Commandments!

FORMER WINCHESTER BOY TRAPPED DYER AT CALI-FORNIA BEACH

Winchester residents will be interested in the recent California press dispatch which tells how Albert Dyer, alleged murderer of three little Inglewood California girls, was trapped in the act of annoying women 11 years ago at Hermosa Beach, popular California resort, by two lifeguards, one of whom was L. C. "Slim" Barnard, a former resident of this town.

Many here, especially in the vicinity of Symmes corner, will remember Barnard, grandson of the late George Carter, for many years Winchester's town clerk. He made his home with his grandfather at the corner of Madison avenue and Main street, and was a close friend of former Selectman William N. Beggs, now practicing law in this town.

Barnard, who now conducts an automobile column for the Hearst publication, as an automobile expert, went to California in 1920 and it was during the latter part of June, 1922, while serving as a lifeguard at Hermosa Beach that Dyer first came to his attention.

At that time he received complaints from women of Dyer's attentions, and with another lifeguard set out to catch him in the act. The two guards dug holes in the sand, covered themselves with towels and waited for their man, whom they apprehended in a particularly flagrant act of annoying women.

They turned Dyer over to the Police, whose records show that he was fingerprinted July 3, 1926, and held for investigation. He finally had to be released when his beach victims, fearing notoriety, refused to prosecute, and it was not until the recent revolting crime, of which he is accused that Dyer found his way into the toils.

Barnard's story has been deemed highly important by California Police who are now investigating crimes in the southern part of the state, with which they hope to link Dyer.

TOOK VALUABLE MASK

The Police were notified Monday forenoon that on Saturday a woman entered the home of Mr. Robert Burr on Glen road, despite the remonstrances of the maid, and took two theatrical masks, made by Mrs. Burr and recently on display in Boston, stating that she wished to show them to her husband.

The woman gave her name to the maid, but Mrs. Burr, who was away over the week-end, stated upon return that she did not know anyone by that name. The woman first came to the house on Friday, but when told Mrs. Burr was not at home, went away, returning Saturday morning. The police have a description of the woman who drove away from the house in a brown automobile. One of the masks taken is valuable and cannot be replaced.

LAUNDRY OPERATORS STRIKE

Local C.I.O. Affiliate Asks More Pay, 40 Hour Week

Operators at the Winchester Laundry Division of the New England Laundries, Inc., went out on strike Tuesday morning, asking principally a 15 percent increase in wages, seniority rights, recognition of the Union and a forty hour working week.

The strike was called, according to officials of the Laundry Workers' Union, a C. I. O. affiliate, after company officials had issued a flat refusal to the workers' demands. A 100 percent strike vote was passed at a meeting of the union in Moose Hall, Woburn, Monday evening.

The local plant employs more than 100 operators and strikers claimed all but a few supervisors went out on Tuesday morning. The strikers congregated in the plant from the front of the laundry plant and especially at the truck entrance to the plant, where occurred the only trouble in connection with the strike.

One operator was injured and another, arrested during a sharp scuffle which occurred when strikers attempted to stop a truck, in which it was thought machinery was being removed from one of the corporation's other plants.

Mrs. Margaret McDonough, 24, of 35 Campbell street, Woburn, was so badly bruised about the face when she was punched by the alleged assailant that she was treated by a physician and a warrant for her alleged assailant was secured Wednesday in the Woburn Court. The striker arrested for punching the alleged assailant of the woman operator was released on bail and appeared in court Wednesday morning, when he was arraigned on charges of assault and battery. His case was continued until July 27.

A second complaint charging a plant foreman with assault on an officer of the operators' union was denied pending a hearing. Aside from this one incident, there was no actual disorder at the plant, the strikers contenting themselves with verbal barrages as the company's delivery trucks left the plant. Chief William H. Bovey of the Police Department was for a time at the plant, leaving Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy in charge, assisted by Patrolmen John J. Nolan and John H. Boyle. The officers had no trouble with the strikers, who obeyed their orders to keep moving, and aside from telling the people that the plant was on strike, made no effort to prevent any one entering or leaving the building.

President Arthur Hubbard of the Laundry Workers' Union called two meetings during Tuesday, one being held in the hall of the Police Department was for a time at the plant, leaving Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy in charge, assisted by Patrolmen John J. Nolan and John H. Boyle. The officers had no trouble with the strikers, who obeyed their orders to keep moving, and aside from telling the people that the plant was on strike, made no effort to prevent any one entering or leaving the building.

Representatives of the strikers said after the meeting that the operators and officials are not so far apart, the chief differences being the matter of wages and hours. Officials of the corporation are reported to have offered the strikers a week's vacation with pay and recognition of the union.

Reported to have refused the demand for a forty hour week, stating that the local plant cannot operate on such a schedule. Any increase in wages, the officials are said to have insisted must be dependent upon the plant's earning ability.

The strikers, on their part, were unwilling to accept the company's provisions, and Wednesday afternoon the State Board of Arbitration for the decision.

The strike did not affect the salesman-truck drivers, who have an organization of their own and have reached an agreement with the company. Nor are members of the company force affected. It was unofficially stated by strikers that workers in Winchester are receiving less per week than operators in other plants owned by the corporation.

The New England Laundries Corporation underwent a complete reorganization several years ago and the plants are now being operated under the direction of banking interests.

After early efforts to reach an agreement between the striking operators and the company had failed, the company temporarily suspended operations at the local plant and commenced doing the work normally done here at its other laundries. A report, which could not be confirmed, is current that the Winchester plant is to be closed.

Mr. J. J. O'Brien, president of the corporation, who has conducted the negotiations with the strikers, could not be reached yesterday as he was out of town. In his absence the Star was given the following statement from the Laundry management:

"The management of the New England Laundries has met with representatives of the employees whenever they have requested. New England Laundries has taken its employees into its confidence, frankly disclosed to them its business position and furnished them with an impartial audit of its books. At the request of the union, affiliated with the C. I. O., Mr. McKeechie, president of the company, on Wednesday attended a meeting with the employees and carefully discussed the current situation with them in the greatest detail. The company is confident that the current labor dispute will be speedily adjusted."

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence G. McDavitt, Jr., of Westland avenue will spend the remainder of the summer at North Falmouth.

An entertainment program was enjoyed and a collection served for the presentation of the gifts, which included silver, glassware, linen and electrical appliances.

On Wednesday evening a pre-nuptial dinner and entertainment was held in Miss Boyle's honor at the Thatched Roof in North Andover, where the decorations were pink and blue, and a large bridal cake forming the centerpiece being served.

MT. VERNON STREET TO BE FINISHED NEXT SATURDAY

Town Engineer Parker Holbrook told the Star Wednesday that he expected that the job of resurfacing Mt. Vernon street would be practically completed by next Saturday.

The laying of the wires for the new signal system and enlarging of the Edison manhole in the square has resulted in considerable more excavating than would have resulted from the resurfacing of Mt. Vernon street also in the process of being resurfaced, it has been impossible to re-route through traffic, and conditions in the center have been congested to the last degree. The work has been on duty most of the time handling traffic, and have had an exceptionally busy and dusty time of it.

DEXTER BLEKNHORN LION TREASURER

The many friends of Dexter Bleknhorn, Winchester Sales representative of the Artistic Gas Light Co., will be pleased to learn that he was installed as Treasurer of the Winchester Lion's Club last Monday evening.

Mr. Bleknhorn is one of the most popular and successful of the pleasing personality and being an enthusiastic go-getter, the club feels that it has made a wise selection.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

The response to our request for tennis racquets has been extremely gratifying inasmuch as we have received four new racquets and five frames not to mention many promises to buy more.

The standing in the Junior Baseball League has not changed as the Elks are still out front by two full games. The Rotary is pressing closely in second place and the revamped lineup promises to make things hot for the leaders.

The Leopards of the Boston Park Department were defeated in a return match at Franklin Field by the Rotary on Monday afternoon. "Timmy" Comors turned in a great 2-1 victory before 300 spectators. Guy DeFlippio starred at bat with three nice singles.

The Lions have cautiously commented from time to time on the writers' failure to mention them in this column. The Lions have a good team, which is being coached by youth. The team's average age is only 12 and they lost little time in telling the Reading "House of David," who defeated them 13-2. Brotherton and Molea are the stars on this team.

Leo Tucci is far from a finished ball player and no one is more acquainted with this fact than Leo. Following a long vacation, he has been brought back to the high school club. Leo thought he would catch but after a trial his team mates persuaded him to move over to the first of Hennebury street. Leo stepped up and hit a terrific home run in true Merriwell style. Leo merely smiled as he crossed the plate.

LISCOMB-FLAHERTY

The marriage of Miss Helen Flaherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Flaherty of Hennebury street, and Herbert Liscomb, son of Mrs. Jean Liscomb of Park street, Mendon, took place at 5 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, July 18, in the Immaculate Conception rectory, with the Rev. Fr. Charles Foley officiating. A small reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Flaherty wore a gown of ivory brocaded satin, made with a train, and a veil of tulle arranged with a halo cap of tulle and orange blossoms. Her flowers were white roses, lilies of the valley and gardenias.

Miss Anne Moore, a cousin, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a gown of citron yellow chiffon with a small leghorn hat, trimmed with emerald green velvet, matching the shade of her sandals. Her bouquet was of tallies roses and blue delphinium. Martin Flaherty of this town, brother of the bride, was best man.

Upon their return from a wedding trip through Canada, Mr. Liscomb and his bride will make their home in Mendon.

Camps Fellsland and Ellis are filled to capacity this week, with the largest group of boys ever to be recorded for one single week at the Scout Camp, Camp Fellsland, and the Cub Camp, Camp Ellis. There was not room for one more boy on Sunday afternoon when the newcomers checked in at Camp. The enrollment this week is 76 boys, 65 of them Scouts, and 11 Cubs. The Camp is noted for its excellent meals, where only the best of meat, fresh vegetables and pasturized milk are served daily.

Activities

On Tuesday, July 20, the Camp Fellsland baseball team defeated the Camp Powow baseball team with a score of 6 to 3. The game was very exciting from the start to finish, as it has been an age-old tradition that Camp Powow were the baseball champions among the two camps, but the Fellsland boys had a show-down, and came out on top.

On Wednesday, July 21, the Swimming and Baseball teams of Fellsland visited Camp Resolute in Bolton, to participate in the inter-camp meets. Fellsland again came out victorious in both events.

Club Adventure

On Tuesday, July 20, all of the Cubs in Camp visited the Benson's Animal Farm in Hudson, N. H. The boys had a grand time, with thrills galore, and are looking forward to another trip to the farm before the end of the camping season.

Physical Fitness Testing One of the new regulations at Camp this summer is that each boy in camp be tested for his physical fitness. The Camp has engaged Douglas Raymond, the Boston University running star, for the entire camping season. Mr. Douglas tests the boys at intervals during their stay at Camp to diagnose their physical fitness, and the Camp as a whole has had excellent results. The average for the camp is very high, and Mr. Douglas claims it to be about 10 points higher than the average for private camps in the area.

Next Week

Scouts and Cubs in camp are waiting patiently for the program scheduled for next week. One of the highlights of the season will be the trip to Mt. Washington. This will be an overnight trip, at which time the boys will camp overnight in tents, and cook their own food. The trip will be a detail of adult leaders and the Camp Staff to supervise the trip.

On Friday evening of next week the moving pictures of the Jamboeree at Washington, D. C., will be shown for the first time. Everyone of the films came out great, and it is expected that the showing of these movies will be a thrill to the campers, especially those boys who attended the National Jamboeree in Washington from June 29 to July 10. Movies of the pre-Jamboeree training.

BASEBALL NOTICE

Tonight's game on Leonard Field between the Winchester Millionaires and the Woburn Redsox will be the last played by senior teams on that field or on the Loring avenue playground.

Repeated and insistent complaints from residents living adjacent to both fields have resulted in this ruling, and hereafter senior teams who wish to play ball will have to do so either on the new athletic field or Manchester Field.

Junior teams will be permitted the use of Loring avenue and Leonard Field as usual but the older players continually knock balls onto private property and have caused damage which have resulted in complaints from householders.

ROTARY CLUB

Eleven members were absent from the meeting of July 22.

President Warren Hersey makes the point that, whereas the Rotary Club of Winchester was brought into being largely through the good offices of the Rotary Club of Woburn, the Winchester club has, in some respects failed to follow the good example of the Woburn club. For instance, the Woburn club, for the year 1937-38 had the highest percentage of attendance of any club in the 31st district, with 95.9 per cent. For the same period the Winchester club registered 87.69 per cent or just 10 per cent less than Woburn. We can and should do better.

In these United States there are today approximately as many persons over 26 years of age as there are over that age. What does this mean to you business and professional men? Get the opinion of George T. Duperrey, the new President of Rotary International? Again in the August "Rotarian" a fellow Frenchman, Andre Gardiner, gives an illuminating pen picture of our new chief.

The first of his monthly letters from John MacGregor, incoming Governor of this district, is at hand. It is apparent that the matter of Rotary extension is to be pursued with renewed vigor this year. The goal in our district is at least five new clubs and a total membership of 4000 at the end of the year. We in Winchester can help.

During the past week club members have received from the Rotary Club of Providence an announcement concerning the American Cup races in September. This will be one of the greatest sport spectacles of the year. The Providence club has chartered a special steamer to follow one of these races. Send your reservation to Providence at an early date.

President Warren Hersey has called a meeting of the Board of Directors and Committee Chairmen to convene at his home 32 Pierrepont road on Tuesday, July 27 at 8 p. m. Every man involved should make it a point to be present, as club policies for the coming year will be discussed.

The regular club meeting of the 29th will be the fifth for July. Also it will be the final opportunity to boost our sagging attendance record for the month. Please help. Percentage of attendance, July 15 - 83.87 per cent.

MOTHERS' DAY AT LORING AVENUE

Arrangements have been completed to hold a "Mothers' Day" on Sunday, July 24, at the Loring avenue playground where Miss Barbara Ekern is instructor, assisted by Miss Blakely. All mothers and other interested are invited to go on that day to the playground and observe the supervised play program being carried out this year on the town playgrounds. Products of the children's hand-work such as raffa work, sewing, modeling and rug-making will be shown, and there will be a special program, including singing and an exhibition of the creative work taught by the instructors at the playgrounds.

The following week a similar "Mothers' Day" will be held at Leonard Field, where Miss Anna McPartland is supervisor.

A program of supervised play and handwork was inaugurated last year at Leonard Field by the Fortnightly Women's Club. It met with such success that this year the Park Department is sponsoring it at all of the town's playgrounds where instructors report much larger attendances among the younger children.

This morning a wood-working class is being started at Leonard Field by Mr. Moody of Stoneham, who will report his instruction Tuesday morning at Loring avenue and Tuesday afternoon at Palmer Beach.

TRADERS' DAY NOTICE

Advertising That Lives Longer

For the merchant in a comparatively large town who wishes to increase his sales among the people residing in the surrounding rural districts, the WEEKLY NEWSPAPER is the ideal advertising medium.

Many farmer's homes are visited by but one newspaper, and almost invariably this newspaper is a WEEKLY.

The universal use of the automobile has widened the area from which the modern merchant may confidently expect to attract customers. The farmer can and does visit town more frequently than in the days when a horse and buggy were his only means of transportation.

If the farmer's wife sees attractive merchandise offerings in the advertisements contained in the popular WEEKLY NEWSPAPER, it is a matter of only a few minutes before she can be shopping in town or city.

The merchant who advertises regularly in the WEEKLY NEWSPAPER circulating through the area from which he wishes to attract patronage is building up a larger, more prosperous business. He is making new friends constantly, and he has the satisfaction of knowing that his advertising is especially profitable because it is THE CHEAPEST FORM OF NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING he can buy.

Advertising in the weekly newspaper LIVES LONGER—therefore it is the most profitable form of newspaper advertising.

THE WINCHESTER STAR is a WEEKLY NEWSPAPER.

MILLIONAIRES ELIMINATED IN STATE TOURNEY

The Winchester Millionaires cracked wide open in the semi-final round of the State Amateur Baseball Tournament at Riverside Park in Medford last Saturday afternoon, taking an 11-0 lambasting from the Danvers Two Club.

Manager Quigley sent "Art" Johnson after the game, but the tall southpaw who pitched one of the tournament's best games against Webster the previous Wednesday was ineffective and was removed in the 5th, being replaced by Barnard who pitched to but two batters, allowing a home run and a double.

Fred the "Red" Noble succeeded Barnard and held Danvers scoreless for the remainder of the game, but the damage was done, and with Frank Provinzano getting their only hit, the Millionaires could never threaten.

Farley, who formerly played for the O'Haras of Salem and who was one of the heroes of the Legion's 15th inning win over the Presentation Club on Manchester Field a few years back, was in left field for Danvers, getting two out of four and fielding flawlessly. The summary:

CAMP NOTES

On Thursday, July 15, after colors, and a rehearsal of "Robin Hood," we had an elimination dance contest in Folk Dancing. In the first folk dance, "Selling's Round," the winners were Joyce Pitman and Phyllis Russell. In the second, "The Children's Polka," Priscilla Stockwell and Betty Rutherford were the winners.

Next the girls participated in their favorite game, volleyball. We had three very interesting and exciting games. They had been looking forward to volleyball since the opening of Camp, but during the winter the posts were destroyed. On Wednesday, Mr. Lowell Smith very kindly erected new ones. This was appreciated very much by both campers and directors.

After "Craft Hour" in the afternoon, the girls enjoyed practice in archery. The leading characters in Robin Hood are to receive special coaching, as it is necessary for them to be good marksmen.

Tuesday, July 20, was a perfectly delightful day at camp. The weather was just what was needed. The girls began to arrive at the cabin at 9 o'clock, instead of 10, so that they could get some extra work done on craft, before Camp began.

In the morning, a music contest for the day, Mary McCaul and Nancy Greiner were the winners in the first Folk dance. In the second dance, it was so well done that it was impossible to pick the winners. In volleyball, Alice Davis' team defeated Mary McCaul's team. The competition was very keen, and the excitement ran high.

The rest of the afternoon was spent in craft work and archery. That the day was a happy one could easily be seen, by the number of happy smiling faces, as we said "Good Night."

Wednesday, July 21, was another perfect day at Camp. A day "Fit for the gods."

Several of the girls went to Wedge for instruction in swimming and diving. Each Wednesday, any Girl Scout who wishes may join this class from 9 to 10 a.m. Mrs. Maude Taylor, used her car to take the girls swimming, and up to the Cabin. We appreciate her kindness very much.

The girls learned a new Folk dance called "The Mountain March." They learned this dance very easily. These dances are enjoyed very much, and are performed with expression and grace.

Priscilla Stockwell was the captain of the winning team in volleyball. Ruth Welburn was the captain of the other team.

Mrs. Lowell Smith and Mrs. Harold V. Farnsworth were our hostesses for the hot lunch for the day. Grilled hot dogs and rolls were served. Mrs. Farnsworth, who had never eaten a hot dog before, ate one "with a relish." These hot lunches are becoming more and more popular each Wednesday.

The craft hour was an exceptionally busy hour. The girls are making many gifts for Christmas and birthdays during this period. Miss Gregg is offering a special prize to the girl having the best exhibit of Craft work at the closing of Camp.

Thursday we are having an Amateur Radio Hour. Each patrol is competing for highest honors.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Warren Healey for permitting the girls to leave their bicycles in her yard; and for the use of her telephone in making our daily calls.

DRESS FOR COMFORT SAYS MEDICAL DIRECTOR

Dr. Fraser Advises Preparation For Hot Weather and Summer Accidents

"The clothes that women can purchase today for hot weather wear are both cool to look at and actually cool to wear," Dr. Fraser, Chief Medical Director of the New York Life Insurance Company declared in pointing out the importance of suitable clothing for maintaining hot weather comfort and health.

"The light pastel shades that one sees so much in the summer time," Dr. Fraser continued, "not only look cooler but are cooler. Light colors and white reflect light and absorb less heat, as well as appearing cool to the eye."

If you are going on a vacation or staying at home through the hot months, Dr. Fraser advises everyone, men and women, boys and girls to wear clothes that do not fit too snugly around the waist or neck, especially when exercising. Loose fitting clothing permits complete freedom of circulation, is by far the best as well as being much more comfortable.

To the men, Dr. Fraser points out that, in general, suspenders are preferable to a belt, since the weight of clothing is best carried by the shoulders.

Women would do well to dispense with foundation garments of heavy materials, especially the type of garment that is excessively boned, unless a physician advises to the contrary. Lightweight, two-way stretch materials permit much greater freedom and are not so apt to impede circulation while exercising.

If you are going away on a vacation, Dr. Fraser suggests that a sweater be included for use after vigorous exercise and as a safeguard against the sudden chill of evening air common in many places. Comfortable shoes and hose are extremely important, Dr. Fraser reminds vacationists. "If you would escape being one of those unhappy individuals one sees nursing a blistered foot. Sneakers, while usually recommended for tennis, should not be worn continuously, particularly by adults. The arches get little support and the whole foot has a tendency to spread."

If you swim several times a day, having two bathing suits will eliminate that cold, clammy, uncomfortable feeling that everyone experiences when they put on a damp suit, and, with a dry suit ready, the possibility of catching cold or becoming chilled is eliminated.

Dr. Fraser recommends a First Aid kit as a good investment to take on a vacation. This may be purchased complete, or made at home, using a white enameled tin box with a tight fitting cover and equipping it with:

- 2 triangular bandages
- 2 roller bandages
- 1/2 oz. bottle of Iodine (rubber stopper in bottle)
- 1 small roll absorbent cotton
- 1 oz. aromatic spirits of ammonia (rubber stopper)
- 1 set safety pins
- Small scissors
- First Aid Text Book

Paste a list of contents on the inside of the lid of the box and be sure that the kit is always fully stocked.

Consult Your Physician
Inoculation against typhoid fever and diphtheria and vaccination against smallpox are advisable for members of the family, particularly if an extended tour or a visit to foreign countries is planned, and Dr. Fraser advises consulting a physician about them. It is best to do this well in advance of the date your vacation begins, so that there will be ample time for whatever treatments are decided upon.

Knowledge of First Aid may well prove helpful to a vacationist," Dr. Fraser says. "Numerous text books on the subject are available in public libraries and book stores. The American Red Cross offers courses for those who would become expert, and information about such instruction can be secured at your local Red Cross headquarters."

"Everyone, however, should know and remember the four cardinal First Aid rules, in order to be prepared for emergencies."

"They are: first, send for a doctor; second, keep the patient cool; third, keep the patient quiet; fourth, keep the patient warm."

"The presence of mind to follow these rules," Dr. Fraser points out, "is frequently all that is necessary when an accident occurs."

THIS WEEK'S GARDENING

By Alfred A. Fraser

Keep spraying roses.
Crab grass is a weed with broad light green leaf blades and is an annual. Before mowing pull it up with a rake so as to get the seed pods. Every plant produces 200,000 seed.
Water Dahlias thoroughly so their stems won't get woody and hard, thus lessening flowering.
Keep your window boxes watered.
Zinnias, marigolds and some other annuals will flower more freely if the center bud is picked off.
You take a chance in planting Gladioli bulbs—but possibly you'll have flowers before frost.

Cut away water sprouts or suckers on fruit trees.
The following perennials can be sown now—hollyhocks, digitalis, delphinium, sweet william, lupin, forget-me-nots and pyrethrum.

Spray nasturtium with any contact insecticide to control aphids. Get it up under the leaves.

Keep gladioli well watered so that the stalks won't wilt in warm weather and not straighten out—thus giving crooked stems.

Cut delphiniums back after flowering. Superphosphate, bone meal or a balanced fertilizer can be worked in around the plants and they may bloom again.

Geraniums flower better if kept on the dry side.

Eversharp pencils, long or short lead. Star Office.

LION'S CLUB

The meeting last Monday was held at Glendale Farm Inn. Twelve members did justice to a splendid steak dinner and enjoyed the festivities of the evening.

President "Bob" Emery called the meeting to order and shortly turned the gavel over to Frank Hurley, 1st Vice-President. A. Fraser, Chief Officers for the coming year.

President Dr. Robert L. Emery, 2nd Vice-President—Clayton C. Luckenbach.
Secretary—Frederic D. Clement
Treasurer—Dexter H. Blenkhorn.
Lion Tamer—Robert E. Shaw.
Tail Twister—Paul G. Eberle.

Dr. Emery was re-elected president and deserves much credit for his past work and acceptance of office for another year. He named the various committees and anticipates even greater support than that furnished in the past.

BOAT CLUB QUERY

Many Winchester residents are wondering just what the numerous tests of the water in the river and the Mystic Lakes show. What kind of germs and what kind of filth pass by some of our most valuable real estate. A test showing the water had traces of hyperchloride of bleach or a supersaturated condition of hydrofluoric acid would mean nothing to us common people. Let's have a report of the test of the water which ordinary people can understand and then we can call 'em as they float past. If the test is reported good, no one will believe it anyway after reading about how those poor fish died last week.

OUR MODERN AGE

A NATION'S THANKS

Sentiment and gratitude are not dead. They are every-day qualities in the average man. This fact was demonstrated by our representatives at Washington, D. C., who paid tribute to an old Negro who had served in a humble capacity as a Capitol employee for 63 years. A full minute of applause and the appointment of an assistant was the nation's tribute to his service and loyalty.

Constant, reliable service to a cause has always been the aim of Felt Plumbing & Heating Co., 616 Main St. Because of their high ideals they have been able to meet all the heating and plumbing demands of an exacting community. The public does not applaud their actions but recognizes them by continued patronage. They can and will help you, too, with any heating or plumbing problem. Phone 6582.

HOOKED A SKUNK!

The Police received a hurry-up call Tuesday morning from a resident of Sargent road who found a skunk attached to a fish-hook which was a part of some tackle he had left in his back-yard over night to air.

The Police were solicitous and expressed regret for the sportsman's predicament but refused to accept the risk involved in removing the irritated skunk from the hook.

They did, however, recommend "Joe" Sibby, a local resident who is an expert in the handling of skunks, and in the absence of further authentic reports, we believe that "Joe" must have handled the problem satisfactorily.

MILLIONAIRES WON AT SUNCOOK

The Winchester Millionaires, with "Red" Noble up, defeated the Suncook nine Sunday at Suncook, N. H., 7-4, showing a reversal of the poor form displayed in the State tournament game at Medford the day previous.

Noble pitched effectively and also contributed some timely batting, driving in three runs. "Artie" Johnson led both clubs at bat with three out of four. The summary:

Match Play

Wednesday's match play was featured by the flashy play of Cooney Welland, Bruins' star center ice player, whose 40 foot chip shot holed out on the 19th hole to win the only extra hole match of the day for himself and Charley Crane of Commonwealth over the Winchester team of Don Connors and "Bob" Goodale.

Winchester's Arthur Rogers and "Bobby" Hood of Salem survived the day's play in the championship flight along with "Ed" Martin of Sandy Burr and A. M. Teller of Commonwealth and Jesse Guilford of Woodland and F. F. Hale of Belmont.

The latter team eliminated Winchester's Horace Ford and D. A. Wilcox in the second round of match play, but the local golfers made an excellent showing, and it took the superlative golf of which the "Siege Gun" is fully capable to win the match 3 and 1.

Following are the Winchester matches played:

"I'm good for another helping, Mother"

Dinner always hits the spot when it's cooked electrically. Scores of women here in town know that an electric range ends the costly waste of burned food and cooking failures, for automatic oven heat regulation gives you exactly the temperature you want. That's why Dad always passes his plate for more... the sealed-tight oven keeps in all the delicious juices. Dad, if you want food that's good—bring Mother in to see the new electric ranges!

BIG SAVINGS ON ELECTRIC RANGES

This is your big opportunity to end hot summer cooking once and for all. Think of buying a genuine 1937 Hotpoint electric range at the rate of less than 9 cents a day! And a few cents a day for electricity is all it costs to use.

Many thousands of women in greater Boston can tell you electric cooking is the modern way. Its cleanliness is marvelous... pots and pans cannot smudge. And what a relief for summer cooking! Thick insulation keeps the heat in the oven where it belongs.

And they tunneled the center for the sewer!

Winchester Center! Long may it flourish. Last year the great sewer, this year the great traffic signal system and great new streets. Next the railroad crossing. Then the rest of the wires. Then what? Get busy—you can think of something. Don't weaken.

The announcement that the weather-observing airplane, which has shadowed the sleep of local residents during the past year, is to be superseded by balloons will be hailed with pleasure. Even the most ardently air-minded were hardly thrilled by the every morning drone of the circling plane, while those not so sympathetically inclined toward air travel were frankly aggravated by its racket. All of us hope of course that the cause of science will not be too readily handicapped by the change of observers.

Our great President, fought to a frazzle over his insistent attempt to subordinate the highest court in the land, not only by the people at large, but by many of his Washington rubber stamps, now is reported as backing down and abandoning the scheme for the present. We, as a little one-horse business man, hate to think of what's coming. From past experience with our great President we feel certain that a swift, sure stroke is in the offing. His fertile brain will not remain long inactive and we are certainly in for it. And without doubt, owing to his great magnanimity in abandoning this scheme for the benefit of the masses, he will easily carry through his next great scheme.

The Police have been kept busy during the recent warm nights "shushing" radios and barking dogs in market parts of the town. With the windows and doors open heavily amplified radio programs are particularly annoying and heard at considerable distance from the house in which they are being played. It would be well to remember that a set tuned up so as to be heard above the conversation on the front porch can also be heard in the bedroom across the way where some sweltering individual may be attempting to get a bit of sleep against the morrow's round of business. Keep the radio down and fido quiet! By so doing you will not only add to your popularity with the neighbors, but also with the Police who have plenty of extra work this time of year as it is, looking after the closed houses of vacationists.

After watching the antics of the CIO strikers at the Winchester Laundry, we were forced to wonder how it would be if we, as a good CIO member in Al standing, went to one of our respected citizens—say Mr. Edgar J. Rich, and called him names, threatened to knock him down and abused him generally to the utmost extent of our vocabulary. Would one of our finest stand along-side and watch the proceedings without interference? There is no doubt about who constitutes the privileged class today. Strikers seem to be held immune from any sort of law and order.
Henry Ford, always held up as the one great champion of labor; the employer who paid the highest wages and did the most for his employees, is now held up as the one employer in the U.S.A. who is throttling the working man.

Why is it with all this money spent on our center, building sewers, installing new traffic signals, tearing up the streets and filling all stores with dirt and fumes, that the vast sum could not be used towards a consummation of the Kellaway Plan for the elimination of the jam? The Star has advocated this Kellaway Plan since its presentation. It would eliminate the bottle neck in our center and would do away with the railroad crossing and this new traffic system of traffic signals. It is simple and easily constructed. The ultimate saving in money and time would pay for it in a few years. The Railroad, by the way, has yet to rebuild the crossing—and it seems as though we have heard that the center must be dug up to bury those overhead wires.
Winchester has paid and will continue to pay for this dangerous grade crossing.

A CONSTITUTION FOR THE NEW DEAL

Condensed From The American Mercury in The Reader's Digest

H. L. MENCKEN

The principal cause of the uproar in Washington is a conflict between the swift-moving idealism of the New Deal and the unyielding hunkerism of the Constitution of 1788. What is needed, obviously, is a wholly new Constitution, drawn up with enough boldness and imagination to cover the whole program of the More Abundant Life, now and hereafter.

That is what I presume to offer here. The Constitution that follows is not my invention, and in more than one detail I have unhappy doubts of its wisdom. But I believe that it sets forth with reasonable accuracy the plan of government that the More Abundant Life wizards have sought to substitute for the plan of the Fathers. They have themselves argued at one time or another, by word or deed, for everything contained herein:

Preamble

We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish social justice, draw the fangs of privilege, effect the redistribution of property, remove the burden of liberty from ourselves and our posterity, and insure the continuance of the New Deal, do ordain and establish this Constitution.

ARTICLE I

The Executive

All governmental power of whatever sort shall be vested in a President of the United States. He shall hold office during a series of terms of four years each, and shall take the following oath: "I do solemnly swear that I will (in so far as I deem it feasible and convenient) faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will (to the best of my recollection and in the light of experiment and second thought) carry out the pledges made by me during my campaign for election, (or such of them as I may select)."

The President shall be commander-in-chief of the Army and Navy, and of the militia, Boy Scouts, C.I.O., People's Front, and other armed forces of the nation.

The President shall have the power:

To lay and collect taxes, and to expend the income of the United States in such manner as he may deem to be to their or his advantage;
To borrow money on the credit of the United States, and to provide for its repayment or non-repayment on such terms as he may fix;

To regulate all commerce with foreign nations and among the several states, and within them; to license all persons engaged or proposing to engage in business; to regulate their affairs; to limit their proprietorship by proclamation from time to time; and to fix wages, prices and hours of work;

To coin money, regulate the content and value thereof, and of foreign coin, and to amend or repudiate any contract requiring the payment by the United States, or by any private person, of coin of a given weight or fineness;

To repeal or amend, in his discretion, any so-called natural law, including Gresham's law, the law of diminishing returns, and the law of gravitation.

The President shall be assisted by a Cabinet of eight or more persons, whose duties shall be to make speeches whenever so instructed and to expend the public funds in such manner as to guarantee the President's continuance in office.

The President may establish such executive agencies as he deems necessary, and clothe them with such powers as he sees fit. No person shall be appointed to any such bureau who has had any practical experience of the matters he is appointed to deal with.

One of the members of the Cabinet shall be an Attorney General. It shall be his duty to provide legal opinions certifying to the constitutionality of all measures undertaken by the President, and to gather evidence of the unconstitutionality of any of them.

ARTICLE II

The Legislature

The Legislature of the United States shall consist of a Senate and a House of Representatives. Every bill shall be prepared under the direction of the President, and transmitted to the two Houses at his order by their presiding officers. No member shall propose any amendment to a bill without permission in writing from the President or one of his authorized agents. In case any member shall doubt the wisdom of a bill he may apply to the President for light upon it, and the President shall be contented to vote "aye." In all cases a majority of members shall be counted as voting "aye."

Both Houses may appoint special committees to investigate the business practices, political views, and private lives of any persons known to be inimical to the President; and such committees shall publish at public cost any evidence discovered that appears to be damaging to the persons investigated.

Members of both Houses shall be agents of the President in the distribution of public offices, federal appropriations, and other gratuities to their several states, and shall be rewarded in ratio to their fidelity to his ideals and commands.

ARTICLE III

The Judiciary

The Judges of the Supreme Court and of all inferior courts shall be appointed by the President, and shall hold their offices until he determines by proclamation that they have become senile. The number of judges appointed to the Supreme Court shall be prescribed by the President, and may be changed at his discretion. All decisions of the Supreme Court shall be unanimous.

The jurisdiction and powers of all courts shall be determined by the President. No act that he has approved shall be declared unconstitutional by any court.

ARTICLE IV

Bill of Rights

There shall be complete freedom of speech and of the press—subject to such limitations as the President or his agents may from time to time promulgate.

The freedom of communication by radio shall not be abridged; but the President and such persons as he may designate shall have the first call on the time of all stations.

In disputes between capital and labor, all the arbitrators shall be representatives of labor.

Every person whose annual income falls below a minimum to be fixed by the President shall receive from the public funds an amount sufficient to bring it up to that minimum.

No labor union shall be incorporated and no officer or member thereof shall be accountable for loss of life or damage to person or property during a strike or lockout.

All powers not delegated herein to the President are reserved to him, to be used at his discretion.

SAUSAGES ARE GOOD

July 22, 1937

To the Editor of the Star:
A resident of Winchester and a subscriber to your paper, Mr. J. H.
McManus, called my attention to the following paragraph:

"A custom which has not yet been subjected to an organized attack on the ground of causing someone to have a misery is the service of sausage in hot weather.
That menace is poisonous to the Observer as we almost croaked once from eating sausage in hot weather, which any brother's keeper will instantly recognize as reason enough to prevent hot weather sausage in order to save us."

The writer has charge of the Sausage business for the John P. Squire Company and has been connected with this part of the business for 24 years.

Pork sausage is good healthy normal food at any time of the year. One must only be sure that the pork sausage is fresh and sweet. This of course is true of other meats as well.

Naturally during the hot weather of the summer stocks of pork sausage or any meat must be watched carefully to see that the product is strictly sweet and sound when delivered to the consumer. In other words, it is not a matter of seasons, it is merely a matter of freshness of product.

The John P. Squire Company, as you may know, brings on hogs alive from the corn-fed sections of the Middle West and dresses them daily.

Our pork sausage is made from daily cuttings of fresh pork and is delivered daily to dealers. We constantly impress upon them the importance of watching stocks so as to have rapid turnover and deliver the sausage to consumers while it has that delicious fresh flavor.

Have arranged to send you via our driver one pound of Arlington Sausage which I should appreciate if you will serve it in your home. Will you be kind enough to write me after you have eaten this pork sausage.

It goes without saying that the sausage should be put immediately into a cold meat of your refrigerator and eaten promptly.

Yours truly,

John P. Squire Co.

SHOULD PROVIDE HEAT DEFLECTORS

To the Editor of the Star:

Have you read the Wednesday,
July 21, Winchester column in a contemporary paper, on the subject, "hot cop's feet?"

How cruel it is when our town fathers don't supply heat deflectors for this delicate hard-worked department! I wonder how the fellow's feet and balance of body feel that are doing the real work? I would include them if I were a reporter dealing out sympathy! I haven't heard them, the real workers, doing the real work, they were warm and they don't get $42.00 a week!

TRIPLE CRASH

Early yesterday afternoon a Nash
sedan, owned by John Galano of 208 Manthorne road, West Roxbury and parked on Main street between Black Horse terrace, was demolished when it was struck by a Ford truck, owned by Graham Bros. of Burlington and driven south on Main street by Herman D. Graham of South Bedford street, Burlington. The impact of the collision drove the Nash into a Ford pickup truck, also parked and owned by William Skinner of Forest street, Reading, both machines being driven about 20 feet. The rear of the parked Ford was damaged. Graham claimed that two cars coming down Black Horse terrace drove him to the side of the road and into the Nash. No injuries were reported.

LAUNDRY STRIKERS AWAIT ARBITRATION BOARD

President Arthur Hubbard of the Laundry Workers' Union told the Star this morning that the striking operators of the Winchester Laundry Plant are awaiting word from the State Board of Arbitration which is to set a date for a hearing in connection with the local strike situation.

It was unofficially stated that a number of girls at a laundry which has been doing some of the work usually done at the Winchester plant, walked out yesterday.

THE FABLE OF THE DOG WHO BURIED BONES

(With Apologies To—No One)

Once there was a Mutt with the fag-ends of seven breeds in his blood, and a family-tree that was a little too shady. He started life with a small grimy hand clamped to his tail and pulling the wrong way. His first long journey had something to do with a titan and a stout cord.

About the same time he chanced upon a bevy of young and altogether appetizing chicken bones. He plucked one from the ground with his teeth and tossed it about in a playful manner. As the taste penetrated his palate he ceased his play and got down to business. There were more than enough bones for one meal, so he buried what were left. Thus was begun a lifelong habit.

As the Mutt grew up, he developed a great weakness for burying succulent bones that should have been gnawed longer. Burying bones was a mania with this Mutt. Burying a bone was a ceremony to be approached with pious humility and discreet reverence. The Mutt's idea of Paradise was acres of young lettuce beds and mountains of bones to be buried there.

More often than not, the Mutt would sacrifice his craving to gnaw for his craving to bury. Thus he passed up many a soul-satisfying bone feast. The big idea seemed to be a desire to provide for some time in the future when there would be no bones to find in the dark alleys.

Albeit year after year passed, there seemed to be no lessening of the supply of bones. In truth, it seemed there was no need to supply so elaborately for the future; but it meant nothing to the Mutt that his bone-burying was of little avail. So he

It came to pass that after many years of sacrificial bone-burying, the Mutt became too old and feeble to scout through the alley for the elusive, succulent bone. And he bethought himself of the many bones buried hither and yon, and of the pleasure stored therein for him.
Thereupon he began searching and digging for the ten thousand or so bones he had buried in the dim past.
But, lo and behold, not one of them could he find; not even the last three could he locate!

And so he went sadly to his kennel to die, cogitating dejectedly on his fool-hardy days of digging.

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday,
July 25.
The Golden Text is: "The truth of the Lord endureth for ever. Praise ye the Lord" (Psalms 137:2).

"Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth. . . . For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ" (John 1:14, 17).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The word made flesh. Divine Truth was made known by its effects on the body as well as on the mind, before the Science of being can be demonstrated. Hence its embodiment in the incarnate Jesus, that life-link forming the connection through which the truth reaches the unregenerate, soul-rebels, and truth destroyers" (p. 366).

DOUGLAS: CITY WITH A "GOLD" FOUNDATION

The fire which practically wiped out the tiny town of Douglas, Alaska, recently, brings to prominence again a region where man and Nature struggle on a mighty scale.

Douglas, just across the Gastineau Channel from Juneau, on the Alaskan "panhandle" that stretches 600 miles down the Pacific Coast, literally "sits on a gold mine" and once was one of the richest towns of Alaska, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Gold Mine One of World's Richest Penetrating deep into the rock of Douglas Island, where the town of Douglas stood, is the famous Treadwell gold mine, one of the largest and richest of the world's quartz gold mines, in which gold is found sprinkled through veins of hard rock. Since gold first was discovered in this region in 1880, the town has been moved equalled many times over the price of $7,200,000 paid for Alaska by the United States to Russia.

Tunnels of the Treadwell mine extend far into the earth and out under the ocean in Gaiqueau Channel. But in 1917 the ocean broke through, flooded the mine and made operations impossible. Now, however, there is talk of trying to reclaim the workings, sealing the leaks, pumping out the sea water and resuming operations.

Across the channel, spanned by a steel bridge completed in 1935, lies Juneau, Alaska. The seat of government, perched on terraces leading up from the water's edge and backed by a mountain rising almost perpendicu-

Here too, Nature and man are not yet at peace. Only a few months ago a sudden avalanche of mud and rocks descended from the mountain, killed several citizens, injured scores and heavy damage to other recent years' landslides have damaged the city, though less seriously.

SUBWAYS SPEED TRAFFIC IN MANY WORLD METROPOLISES

Discussions of a subway for the District of Columbia are reminders that this is the only major national capital of the world today without this type of rapid transit, says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society.

England, France, Germany, Japan, Argentina and Soviet Russia—all these world powers have underground railways built into their capital cities.
Italy, joining the countries with underground transportation this year, broke ground in February to plant four miles of subway at the roots of ancient Rome itself.

Almost a Score of Cities with Subways

Even countries which do not have marked traffic congestion have provided their capitals with subways—Hungary, Spain, Scotland and Greece.
Chile has approved subway plans for Santiago, and Czechoslovakia has started on fifteen underground miles for Praha.

London's "tubes," Paris's "Metro," Berlin's white "U" on a blue ground,
or a congested area, as in Pittsburgh,
subway entrances, crowds funneling into the sidewalk hoods of New York's subways—all are the talk of the tourists and the speedy escape from the tangles of surface traffic.

About seventeen cities in the world have subway systems, with underground tracks, stations, and appropriate cars or trains. Four others have underground sections in their street railways, then emerge farther on.

A great many more street railway systems employ underground passages where the tracks dip below the surface to avoid a hill
or a congested area, as in Pittsburgh and in Los Angeles, and at the Kobe end of the line between Japan's metropolis of Osaka and its port of Kobe.
Chicago has a subway for freight, but none for passengers.

So far, the closest approximation to a subway in Washington is a midge-underground railway which has no schedule, no tickets, and only the most distinguished patrons. It shuttles back and forth between the Capitol and the Senate Office Building, carrying Senators from the office to oratory without exposure to traffic or weather hazards.
Newark and Rochester Use Old Canals

In Liverpool, Newark, Rochester, and Athens the street railways lead a Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde existence, going underground for only part of their career. Athens has a couple of bright orange and blue stations on less than a half-mile of sub-surface railway.
Liverpool's subway section operates under the Mersey River, in tunnels of brickwork set in cement with three of its seven stations underground. Newark has a mile and a half of subway connected with three miles of open cut, built in the old Morris Canal bed, with a car a minute whizzing along the channel of vanished barges. Started in 1929, this project was completed in 1935.

The Rochester system makes the best of the old Erie Canal, converting a section of its abandoned bed into a subway, which surface cars can reach by ramps. The whole nine miles of its extent can be traveled in less than a half-hour with stops at sixteen stations. Freight service also makes use of these subway tracks.

London blazed the subway trail, with an underground steam railway in the 1860's. Glasgow, Scotland followed suit in 1896, with cable cars running in a pair of iron tubes, between 15 and 45 feet below the surface. This system now runs by electric power, but the line still goes around in a cir-

"THIS IS MY AFFAIR" AT THE UNIVERSITY

Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck have been teamed in the picture "This Is My Affair," which opens Sunday at the University Theatre. The story of a love supremely courageous and unashamed, endangering the nation's highest places and gambling life itself for a greater stake, "This Is My Affair" provides both Taylor and Miss Stanwyck with the most important story either of these great stars has ever had, and affords Victor McLaglen, who heads the strong supporting cast, the finest opportunity he has had since his powerful characterization in "The Informer." Setting its scene at the turn of the century, "This Is My Affair" shows the nation's stability threatened by a series of sensational bank robberies in the Middle West. President McKinley turns in desperation to a young Lieutenant, Robert Taylor, whose record under Admiral Dewey bespeaks his valor. The young officer, sworn to secrecy, is instructed to disgrace himself in the Navy, be discharged, and eventually locate the bank-robbing gang and their government informant.

"Turn Off The Moon," the companion feature, is a chuckle-filled song-studded tale of a boy and a girl, and a middle-aged cupid who did what the stars told him to. It features Charlie Ruggles, Eleanor Whitney and Johnny Downs and two of radio's ace funsters, Kenny Baker and Phil Harris and his Orchestra.

On Wednesday, Review Day, the program includes "No More Ladies" featuring Joan Crawford, Robert Montgomery and Franchot Tone and "The Ex-Mrs. Bradford" co-starring William Powell and Jean Arthur.

Hailed as one of the most powerful motion picture attractions in years, "Parnell," the tremendously moving fictional drama of Charles Stevart Parnell, "Uncrowned King of Ireland," opens Thursday with Clark Gable and Myrna Loy co-starred at the head of a cast of big names. Marking their first co-starring success since "Men In White," the new picture presents Gable as the dynamic Irish Patriot who sacrificed a glorious career because of another man's wife, and Miss Loy as that woman, the lovely Katie O'Shea, wedded to a man she despised. In the impressive supporting cast are Edna May Oliver, Billie Burke, Alan Mowbray and Donald Crisp.

"That Man's Here Again," the companion feature, is a delightful comedy-romance of boy-and-girl love, with Tom Brown and Mary Maguire, as the juvenile leads and with Hugh Herbert in the goofiest, giddiest role of his career as a middle-aged and eccentric art collector who manipulates things so that the youngsters achieve happiness.

GRANADA ATTRACTIONS

Hailed as one of the most powerful motion pictures of the year, "Parnell," starring Clark Gable and Myrna Loy opens at the Granada Theatre in Malden today. The supporting cast includes Edna May Oliver, Billie Burke, Alan Marshall, Edmund Gwenn, Donald Crisp, Halliwell Habbis, J. Farrell MacDonald, Burton Churchill, Donald Meek and Montagu Love. Clark Gable plays the Irish patriot, "Parnell," who sacrificed a glorious career for the love of Katie O'Shea, played by Myrna Loy. The film shows Gable at the height of his power the first man to unite the Irish party. He is shown in the House of Commons. One of the highlights is Parnell's trial. Accused of inciting the Phoenix Park murders, he proved his innocence after one of the most sensational trials in English History. At the height of his power, Parnell, who never looked at a woman, met Katie O'Shea, who was estranged from her husband. It was love at first sight for Parnell and Katie. Katie fought Parnell's love until he became ill. Then she invited him to her home at Eltham where their romance blossomed. O'Shea following the withdrawal of Parnell's political support, and Katie's refusal to give him more money, sued for divorce, naming Parnell. For Katie's sake Parnell refuses to defend himself. The resulting scandal ruined him politically at the moment when he had Home Rule for Ireland in the palm of his hand. There are very few stories taken from actual history with such a beautiful love story. It has captured the warm hearts of the Irish people, showing their joys and sorrows in a manner that will touch the hearts of all who see it.

"Behind The Headlines," with Lee Tracy and Diana Gibson as the featured players is the second attraction on the bill starting today. The theme of the story revolves around the rivalry between newspaper reporters and those on the radio, who continually scoop the journalistic group through getting their broadcasts on the air at once, before the papers are on the street. A determined girl reporter furnishes the romantic angle. She tries to get Tracy fired and winds up as the objective of a desperate man-hunt in the Kentucky mountains, after she has been kidnapped by a group of gangsters. All this makes for plenty of action and excitement with a stirring climax that is excellently handled.

By Ann Page

Hot weather has at last temporarily halted the rise in meat prices by reducing consumer demand. Egg prices are comparatively steady and fish is plentiful and reasonable. The list of vegetables which are plentiful and cost little includes beans, beets, cabbage, carrots, celery, cucumbers, lettuce, peas, potatoes, spinach and tomatoes.

Plums are the outstanding fruit value but new apples, apricots, various small fruits, melons and peaches are reasonable in price.

At least one hot dish is included in each of the following menus.

Cold Meat Loaf Creamed Potatoes
Buttered String Beans
Bread and Butter

Watermelon Cookies

STRAND THEATRE MALDEN

"You Can't Beat Love," with Preston Foster and Joan Fontaine as the stars, is the headline attraction opening at the Strand Theatre in Malden today. Preston Foster is cast as a somewhat irresponsible young man of wealth who is always ready to accept the dare. Joan Fontaine is cast as the daughter of the mayor who is running for re-election. Irritated by Foster's derisive heckling at a campaign speech she is making, Miss Fontaine dares Foster to enter the race. He does so, thereby upsetting the apple cart of the town's bosses. From this point Mr. Foster's career becomes very hectic, and his maneuvers to keep Miss Fontaine's regard and still avoid defeat, supply plenty of excitement. For all the stories hilarity there is a serious note which concerns official connivance at gambling and other evils. The support includes Herbert Mundin, Barbara Pepper, Paul Hurst, Berton Churchill and Bradley Page.

"The Great Hospital Mystery," with Jane Drawell, Sally Blane Thomas Beck, Joan Davis and Sig Ruman as the stars, is the second attraction on the bill starting today. This is taken from the novel by Mignon Eberhart and concerns a series of mysterious killings in a large hospital. Nurse Sally Blane starts all the trouble when she smuggles her brother into the hospital in the belief that it will be a healthy refuge from some gangsters who are after him. The enmity between the hysterical and malicious morgue-keeper and the evil-eyed head physician, the entry of gunmen, the shooting of a man already dead, and the friction between the night superintendent and her loony assistant provides plenty of excitement.

"The Song of the City," with Margaret Lindsay, Jeffrey Dean, J. Carroll Nash and Nat Pendleton will head the program for next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The climax of this thrilling film is a spectacular ship fire, suggestive of the tragic Morro Castle disaster. "Girl Overboard" with Gloria Stuart and Walter Pidgeon as the stars will be the second attraction on the bill starting Tuesday.

Tennis balls at the Star Office.

PAST REAPPEARS IN FILM DOUBLE

Tyrone Power had a rather surprising visitor out of his past recently on the "Cafe Metropole" set at Twentieth Century-Fox when Lyman J. Gage, secretary of the treasury under President McKinley, called on him.

It was the screen Lyman Gage, however, instead of the one-time treasury secretary whom Power knew when he was a small boy at San Diego. Walter McDunnough, who plays the film role of Gage in the forthcoming Barbara Stanwyck-Robert Taylor picture, bears a remarkable resemblance to the late Gage, and was asked to step out of private life that he might add realism to the stirring picturization of the nation's history at the turn of the century.

Power, who is starred with Loretta Young and Adolphe Menjou in "Cafe Metropole," at the Reading Theatre, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, has a picture of himself as a child, taken with the real-life Gage. McDunnough posed with the young film star so he could add this modern counterpart to the family album.

TOGOLAND: GERMANY'S SMALLEST FORMER COLONY IN AFRICA

The return to Germany of Togoland, her former West African colony, has been discussed in Europe, according to recent news reports. The region is now ministered under mandate, the greater part under the control of France.

Just why Germany should want Togoland back is not apparent at first to visitors arriving in the country, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Shoals harass navigators. The 22 miles of coast on the Bight of Benin is a hot and damp region, so low that, on foggy days, its roaring surf can be heard long before the breakers can be seen.

Approaching vessels must stop engines occasionally to catch this sound, warning them of dangerous shallows and sandbars. Except at Lome, the chief port, landing is made in surf-boats or canoes, which may frequently capsize. Articles to be landed must be packed in watertight containers. During the dry season, thick haze known as "smokes," overhangs the beaches, adding difficulty to navigation.

The tropical climate of the country, especially at the coast, is so unhealthy for Europeans that the whole area of 34,935 square miles contains approximately only 500 non-African residents, compared to nearly a million negroes. Tsetse flies in river and shore underbrush spread sleeping sickness, limit the use of pack animals, and prohibit cattle raising in the coastal and central regions.

Inland and northward, however, the country changes. Along much of the coast, back of the narrow line of sandy beach, lie jungles, and shallow, reed-rimmed lagoons whose shore are dotted with groves of coconut trees and huts of copra-making negroes.

Togoland is Cocoa Land. Beyond this zone is cultivable land on which thrive oil palms, maize and cotton. The land becomes more healthful as it rises into hills and mountains which cross the country diagonally from the coast to southwest. Streams from these highlands water areas in which grow timber, dyewoods, and cacao.

Cocoa is Togoland's most valuable export at Lome. Rapid strides have been made in production of the commodity in recent years. In 1912 the whole colony exported only 282 tons. In 1933, French Togoland, exclusive of British Togoland, reported 6166 tons.

Oil palm products, cotton, and copra (dried coconut meats) are other notable exports. The number of missionaries active in Togoland probably accounts for the quantities of its chief import: cotton cloth from Great Britain.

On plains north of the hills, a region free from tsetse flies graze thousands of cattle. Here the country only 32 miles wide at the coast, expands to a width of over a hundred miles.

Basing her claims on eight trading stations established in Togoland, Germany hoisted her flag over the country in 1884. The colony prospered, and in 1913 was her only self-supporting, albeit smallest, colony in Africa. Germany looked to it chiefly as a source of palm oil and cotton.

At the beginning of the World War, the French and British took Togoland after a brief campaign. The Treaty of Versailles parcelled it out between the two powers as mandated regions under the authority of the League of Nations. This provision makes possible the return of Togoland to Germany if the League and the powers holding the mandate should decide that such action is desirable.

When Togoland was divided, France was given the larger share, an area of 21,893 square miles, which is adjoined on the east by the French colony of Dahomey. Great Britain's portion, a strip of only 13,040 square miles, touches the British Gold Coast colony west of it. The British part of Togoland has no sea coast; the French section contains Lome, the chief port, with a population of 10,900.

Togoland, under French and British influence, has made rapid progress. Free medical treatment in some districts has mitigated many diseases of the natives. Nuns and other missionaries peddling from hut to hut have educated Togolandians in child welfare, while other teachers have taught young and old in schools and missions.

LAUNDRY OPERATORS STILL OUT

State Arbitration Board Submitted Recommendations Wednesday

The strike which has virtually closed the Winchester plant of the New England Laundries, Inc., entered its second week Tuesday and yesterday afternoon found the striking operators still awaiting company action upon the recommendations of the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration.

The Laundry Workers Industrial Union, a C. I. O. affiliate, submitted its grievances to the Board last week and a meeting was held by the Board on Wednesday at the State House, representatives of the Union, the C. I. O. and the Laundry Company being present.

President Arthur Hubbard of the Union told the Star yesterday that the strikers are willing to accept the provisions of the Arbitration Board which he stated included the recommendation that the operators return to work and that company officials and union representatives then iron out existing differences, submitting such matters to the Board for final decision.

Representatives of the strikers stated that they were ready to return to work yesterday morning, but had heard nothing from the company, the plant remaining closed. Strikers were hopeful that their differences with the company would be settled so that work might resume within a week.

From one close to the Laundry Company the Star learned that the company did not seek the aid of the Board of Conciliation and Arbitration, which however, is empowered to call such meetings between industrial disputants as that of Wednesday, at which the company was represented and received the Board's recommendations.

It is further reported from the same source that the company cannot possibly meet the strikers' demands, which include, the company says, 15 per cent increase in pay, 40c minimum for a 40 hour week with time and one-half for over-time and Saturday work, one week's vacation with pay, a closed shop, check-off and seniority rights.

Meeting these demands, the company is reported to maintain, will mean a loss of 16 per cent in operation, necessitating a price raise of 20 per cent which is out of the question. Though the strikers contend they are being paid less than workers in the company's other plants, the company is reported to contend that wages in its Winchester plant compare very favorably with the Laundry industry as a whole.

As a result of the strike the company is reported to have canceled its summer and shore work which a reliable source estimates as real time in a work volume loss of 40 per cent.

MICHAEL CANNIFF

Michael Canniff, who died Monday night at his home on St. Mary's street in Malden, was a former resident of Winchester and the brother of James Canniff of this town.

The deceased was a native of Charlestown, but lived during his youth in Winchester at the corner of Lake and Main streets in a house since torn down to make room for the park. He was for 37 years a starter at the Malden car barns and was widely known.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning with requiem high mass in the Immaculate Conception Church, Malden. Interment was in Calvary cemetery.

MRS. MATILDA B. YOUNG

Mrs. Matilda B. Young, whose husband, Dr. J. Edson Young, was a former well known Winchester doctor, died Sunday, July 25, in St. Peter's, Bangor, Me., at the age of 69 years. She was a member of the Pythian Sisters and of the Unitarian Church. The remains are being brought to Winchester for interment in Wildwood cemetery.

DANIEL THOMAS WEST

Daniel Thomas West, 24 year old artist of much promise and son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert T. West (Gretchen Huegin) of 34 Mason street, died Monday, July 26, in the Medical Art Center Hospital in New York City, following an illness with which he was stricken the previous Thursday evening, shortly after his return from Europe.

It was at once seen that the young man was seriously ill and his parents were hastily summoned to his bedside, remaining there until the end, which came despite the most skilled medical attention and the use of oxygen tents and the iron lung.

Mr. West had spent a year studying in the art centers of Italy and France, and was returning home when he was stricken. He was born March 19, 1913, in Winchester, received his early education in the Winchester schools and attended Winchester High School where he was a member of the basketball team and president of his class in his junior year.

It was while in high school that he showed unmistakable artistic tendencies, and instead of returning for his senior year, he entered Pomfret School in Pomfret, Conn., where for two years he majored in Art, graduating in 1933.

Following his graduation, in 1933-34, he accompanied his cousin, William Albert Robinson of Cambridge and Mrs. Robinson on their Galapagos expedition acting as official artist for the expedition and taking command of the famous 32 foot ketch, Svaap, when Mr. Robinson was stricken with a ruptured appendix, necessitating a 1000 mile emergency flight to the islands by Navy planes.

The large and interesting collection of paintings and sketches he made on the expedition were exhibited during October of 1934 in the Robert C. Vose galleries in Boston, the exhibition being largely attended and the pictures favorably commented upon by critics for their bold execution, vivid color, imagination and untrammeled approach. A subsequent exhibit was held in the Winchester Library art gallery, and later many of the subjects appeared as illustrations in the book, "The Voyage to the Galapagos," written by Mr. Robinson and published in 1935 by Harcourt Grace.

Mr. West had studied in Woodstock, N. Y., with such widely known artists as Eric Linden, Henry Lee MacFee and Eugene Speicher. His style was modern, his talent unquestioned and most judges of art believed him destined for success in his chosen field. His work reflected courage, youth, regard for the artistic and a sincere appreciation of beauty, the latter characteristic of the young man being also indicated in his great love music.

Mr. West's pictures had been shown in Woodstock, and arrangements were being completed at the time of his death to show his work in New York. He was well reflected on by a large group of friends in Winchester, to whom news of his tragic passing brought universal regret.

Besides his parents, the young artist leaves a brother, Ensign Kenneth West, U. S. N., stationed aboard the U. S. S. Pennsylvania, who flew to Boston to attend the funeral services, and a sister, Miss Mary Lee West, who was in the chapel at Mt. Auburn cemetery in Cambridge, Rev. Henry Lee Mitchell, pastor of the First Congregational Church in Attleboro, and an old family friend, officiated.

An October wedding is planned.

GIRL SCOUT CAMP NOTES

Thursday, July 22

The big event of the morning was a Major Bowes Amateur Radio Hour. Miss Cobleigh in her gracious witty manner made a perfect Major Bowes. Some of the amateurs were extremely nervous, before the microphone for the first time, and it was necessary to give them a second chance. Major Bowes gave Miss Gregg the gong, but the audience, rallied in her defense, and insisted that she give another chance. Her second number was so well received that she has had to sing it twice a day ever since.

Priscilla Stockwell took first prize playing a rumpus song. The second prize was awarded to Nancy Greiner, who did a tap dance. Jean Hendrickson, who sang Red Sails on the Sunset won third prize. This form of entertainment proved a popular one with the girls requested to have another Amateur Radio Hour on Tuesday.

The winning couples in the elimination dance contest for the day were as follows: Margaret Brown and Jean Stillman in Sellingers Round; Peggy Fitzgerald and Alice Nolley in the Children's Polka; and Shirley Snider, Nancy Greiner and Marjorie Ruby in the Mountain Dance.

In the afternoon after Craft Hour, the girls enjoyed a relay race. This consisted of one legged, two legged, four legged and a hopping race. Peggy Fitzgerald was the winner of the winning team and Mary Lou Allen was captain of the losing team. The score was 30-10. Mrs. Miriam Stockwell was the camp visitor for the day. She was given a warm reception by all the Scouts.

Tuesday, July 27

After colors and play rehearsal another Amateur Radio Hour was held. By popular vote of the audience the little Gregg sisters, little nieces of Miss Gregg took first place. Miss Gregg not to be outdone by her nieces came in second. Betty Griffiths in her tap dancing won third place.

The plumb bobbing contest which followed was enjoyed by all. The girls showed great persistence and courage, for after several failures to get the plumb, they kept on trying until they had succeeded.

In the elimination dance contest for the day, Jean Stillman and Patricia Taylor were the winners in three rounds. The girls who were eliminated were Mary McCaul and Phyllis Russell. During the morning the campers were very much pleased to have a visit from Mrs. William Davis, Commissioner of the Winchester Girl Scouts.

In the afternoon after Craft Hour another volley ball match took place as the girls of the Winchester without one volley ball game at last.

Wednesday, July 28

Several girls went to Wedge for swimming instruction. The diving was what they particularly enjoyed. Mrs. Scudder kindly provided their transportation from swimming.

After "colors" the girls gathered in a group beneath the trees and enjoyed singing several rounds and motion picture songs.

Alice Davis' team won in volley ball. Priscilla Stockwell was the captain of the losing team.

Mrs. Lowell Smith and Mrs. G. E. Coughlin, again served lunch, tempting "hot lunch" to the campers. These lunches are becoming more and more popular each week. The campers and directors alike appreciate the fine work they are doing.

The Craft Hour is still the most popular and fascinating hour of the day. The girls are doing exceptionally fine work. Many girls are working out some very original ideas.

The winners in the dance contest were as follows: Mary McCaul and Nancy Greiner in the first dance; the Russell sisters in the second; Mary Lou Allen, the Russell sisters and Marjorie Ruby, Nancy Greiner, and Shirley Snider tied in the third; and Jean Stillman and Patricia Taylor in the fourth.

Mrs. Craig Greiner, Miss Danby, Mrs. Leonard Griffiths and Mrs. Mary Stockwell visited camp in the afternoon. We enjoy having visitors at any time to come and join us in our fun.

Any Girl Scouts who have not already been at camp this year will be heartily welcomed. Don't miss these happy times at camp!

COACH MANSFIELD RESIGNS

To Accept Position at Springfield College

Wendell D. Mansfield, since 1925 faculty director of athletics, varsity sports coach and head of the Department of Physical Education at Winchester High School, resigned this week Wednesday to accept a position as assistant football coach at Springfield College, of which he is a graduate. In addition to acting as assistant to the recently appointed head football coach, Paul Stagg, son of famous Chicago coach, "Lion" Stagg, Coach Mansfield will teach in the academic department of the college and do additional coaching either in basketball or swimming.

Coach Mansfield has directed Winchester High School's athletic policies and coached its teams for 11 years, coming here in the fall of 1925, directly from college. With the exception of the year 1931-32, when he was studying at New York University, he has been continuously in service, coaching for the most part football, basketball and baseball, though he has at times been called upon to handle track.

His record, particularly for a school like Winchester High, is exceptionally good, his winning average for football, baseball and basketball being 62 per cent. In football his eleven have won 78 per cent of their games and tied six per cent, meeting such teams as Arlington, Belmont, Melrose, Marblehead, Medford, Wakefield, Maynard and Weymouth, among others. He is without doubt one of the best grounded coaches in this district, having taken courses, among others, from such authorities on the game as "Joe" Sutherland, "Tad" Weiman, "Bernie" Bierman, "Potsy" Clark, Knute Rockne, "Bill" Roper, "Gus" Dorais and "Pop" Warner. His teams have always been soundly coached and exceptionally well conditioned, his winning record having been amassed because of these factors rather than from any overabundance of exceptional material at hand.

In league football competition his teams have won four championships, tied twice, finished in second place four times and in fourth place once.

In baseball, with a winning per cent of 57, his teams have won three championships and have been three times runners-up. In baseball his teams have won 52 per cent of their games, but have lost the finishing in second place three times.

Aside from actual athletic teaching, Coach Mansfield has done an outstanding job of conditioning and equipping his teams, his ingenuity and student successes as the fall sports banquet and vaudeville show. He has taken an active interest in the community and was elected a town meeting member for Precinct 1 last March with the high vote.

Coach Mansfield was graduated from Springfield with the degree of Bachelor of Physical Education in 1924, and was a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society of Arts degree from New York University in 1932.

SYLVIA HATCH LOST IN NEW YORK

Sylvia Hatch, Winchester's representative in the Hearst Tennis Tournament, lost her chance to make the trip to California for the championship round when she was defeated Wednesday in the final round of the elimination tournament at Forest Hills, N. Y. She had previously won the Metropolitan Boston tournament by defeating Mary Cutler of this town in the final round of women's play at Harvard.

In New York Sylvia gave a fine account of herself, bringing new honors to Winchester as she fought her way into the final round, coming from behind to defeat Elinor Cole of Rochester, N. Y., in the semi-finals, 2-5, 6-3, 7-5, being 2-5 in games in the deciding set.

Wednesday the Winchester girl again a great favorite with the gallery, met an older and much more experienced player in Helen Germaine of New York, who has won from some of the best woman players over the past two years. Sylvia was outplayed, but put up a great fight and proved herself a real New England representative as she yielded to her better equipped rival.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Nine members were absent from the meeting of July 29.

There was a combined meeting of the Board of Directors and Committee Chairman at the home of President Warren A. Hersey on Tuesday evening, July 27. Eleven officials were in attendance and again the club begins its year in the care of efficient leaders.

Dwight Cabot is at the Winchester Hospital recovering from an appendicitis operation. Late advice informs us that he is improving rapidly and will return home during the coming week. It can't be too soon.

District Governor John MacGregor returns home the first of August to assume direct charge of activities in this area. Watch for announcements relative to the District Assembly at Leominster on August 19.

President "Bob" Emery of the Lions Club of Winchester announces that his club has formed a base ball team which yearns to swing bats with a similar team from the local Rotary Club. What are we going to do about this? Bring your answers to our next meeting for the season is passing.

Many of our vacationists are due to return next week as other members join the ranks of the wanderers. Attendance at Rotary Club meetings, while away from home will bring additional pleasure for your vacation. Get a line on the methods of other clubs; it is a splendid way to make yourself a better Rotarian.

FIRE THREATENED BEGGS & COBB PLANT

The leather tanning plant of Beggs & Cobb on Swanton street was threatened by a fire which destroyed part of a long shed at the lower end of the plant near the railroad last Sunday afternoon.

The fire was discovered by Daniel Capone of Tremont street who was passing the plant and notified the Central Fire Station by phone. The plant watchman and a man employed at the plant had passed the shed in which the fire started not long before Capone discovered the blaze.

Box 42, the Beggs & Cobb private box, was put on at headquarters, and the apparatus was soon at the site of the fire. Chief David H. DeCoursey told the Star that his men arrived in the very plant of fire, and five minutes more would have seen the main plant in flames.

As it was the side of the pump house was slightly burned, and the firemen checked flames that threatened to set fire to the chrome shop. One end of the long shed, used by the men as a dressing room, was destroyed, and the damage done was estimated between $1000 and $1200.

How the fire started is not known. A large crowd gathered to watch the firemen, who did a really commendable job in checking the flames without serious damage to the base plant. Among those present was co-chairman W. Allan Wilde of the Board of Selectmen, who praised the efforts of the Fire Department highly.

STORES CLOSED NEXT WEDNESDAY

Winchester housewives are again reminded that next Wed., August 4, is Traders' Day and that local stores will generally be closed all day on that occasion.

No general outing is being planned by the merchants, but the Star is informed that the Lions Club is planning a sail to Provincetown.

OUR MODERN AGE

By J. J. Doherty

DAY BY DAY

It's high time that we found a way to live our short lives day by day instead of spending it in fear of something that might pop next year. For us today does not exist. The pleasure it might bring are missed. This world could ditch a lot of sorrow if it would just forget tomorrow and face things as they are today. It seems we just can't live that way.

It's high time to give a little thought to that new bath-room as prices are advancing constantly. Why not consult the Fells Plumbing & Heating Co. of 616 Main Street and have them give you an estimate. No charge for this service.

Advertising That Lives Longer

Sales of mail order houses continue to grow. Year after year more money is sent to distant cities, never to return.

Catalogs are delivered every day by local mail carriers. Money orders are purchased every day at the local postoffice. The money lived away by the mail order houses never comes back. It goes to enrich people who have never seen this community, who possess no interest in its welfare, and who contribute nothing toward its maintenance or progress. The merchant who suffers least at the hands of the mail order houses is the merchant who advertises his merchandise regularly in a weekly newspaper.

The weekly newspaper is the best weapon ever invented to repel the invasion of the catalog. An advertisement in the weekly newspaper will prevent people from yielding to the attractive catalogs sent them from time to time.

When the family assembles about a catalog and begins reading the glowing descriptions of various items of merchandise, the merchant who doesn't use the weekly newspaper as an advertising medium HASN'T A CHANCE. He is defenseless, helpless.

Money that should come to his store goes past it in a sealed, stamped envelope, addressed to Chicago or some other distant city.

There is only one way to squelch the catalog. That is to use the weekly newspaper, the catalog's sworn enemy. In the home where the weekly newspaper is read, there is no temptation to read catalogs. The weekly newspaper can safeguard your interests, can prevent money that should be yours from going elsewhere.

THE WEEKLY NEWSPAPER is your insurance against the catalog evil. The weekly newspaper will give you the protection you need. Mail order houses will cause you no more worry if your advertisement appears regularly in the weekly newspaper.

Advertising in the weekly newspaper LIVES LONGER—therefore it is the most profitable form of newspaper advertising.

THE WINCHESTER STAR is a WEEKLY NEWSPAPER.

A salad should appear on the menu at least once a day, according to nutritionists at Massachusetts State College. Not only does it give interest, color, and variety in texture, but it is rich in vitamins, minerals, and bulk, all necessary to growth and health.

MRS. KIMBALL ESSEX MEDALIST

Mrs. A. A. Kimball of this town paired with Miss Evelyn Winslow of Salem to win medal honors in the qualifying round of the annual Essex County women's invitation four-ball golf tournament at Manchester on Monday, turning in a 34-39-73, one stroke under Mrs. E. L. Pearson and Mrs. Arthur Huguley. Other Winchester combinations to qualify for the championship division were Mrs. C. F. Sprague and Mrs. Phil Hendrick, whose card was 39-59-78, and Mrs. Donald M. Belcher, former State champion, who teamed with Mrs. R. C. Cushman to shoot 36-43-79.

All three Winchester combinations were eliminated in Tuesday's match play. Mrs. Kimball and Miss Winslow bowed to Mrs. J. G. Hill and Mrs. R. P. Robinson of Vesper 2 up, while Mrs. Chatfield Whitman and Mrs. T. J. Davis accounted for Mrs. Sprague and Mrs. Hendrick at the 21st hole of the feature match of the day. Mrs. Belcher and Mrs. Cushman lost, 3 to 2, to the runners-up of the qualifying round, Mrs. Pearson and Mrs. Huguley.

Of the 250,000 or more plants known to man, only a few hundred are grown agriculturally and only a few score are food plants basic to civilization.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

Camp Fellsland News

Nothing but sunshine, good eats and a swell time seems to be the story at Camp Fellsland as the daily letters are mailed to the various homes of the Scouts and Cubs from Stoneham, Woburn, Winchester and Medford. Through all the intense heat there has been little or no let up in the daily routine except in changing some of the athletic schedules to water front schedules during the hottest periods.

The victories in inter-camp meets got off to a good start again this week when the Camp Fellsland boys defeated Camp Elliott at their camp by a score of 55½ to 28½ in a water meet. The other competitive teams will have their hands full the latter part of the week when they engage Camp Baucrest in a water meet and a baseball game on Friday and Camp Powow on Saturday in a track meet. Camp Baucrest has something over 100 boys enrolled in their camp and will, therefore have a larger group to select their teams in both swimming and baseball.

Johnny Kelley who is well-known in all parts of this country through his marvelous record as a marathon and long distance runner was a guest visitor at Camp Fellsland last Saturday and Sunday. He is a personal friend of Doug Raymond, the B. U. track star, who is doing the Physical Fitness testing at camp this year.

Johnny was virtually mobbed by the boys upon his arrival for autographs, but were told to wait until Sunday as he was to be conducted on a personal tour of the entire camp under the guidance of Dick Tilden, the athletic director, and Doug Raymond. After partaking in a real home dinner, prepared by our Miss Little, he highly praised the fine food and physical arrangements that were made available to our boys. During the late evening program, with Camp Powow as our guest, Mr. Kelley gave an enthusiastic account of his Olympic trip to Germany and some of the more intimate details of training habits and routines. He also had his Olympic uniforms and a few of the hundreds of cups and medals that he has won during his days as a marathoner and long-distance runner. After his talk to the boys, he held a brief question and answer period where he rated one hundred per cent in answering questions that varied from how to become a marathoner to driving a steam shovel. On Sunday, Johnny accompanied the boys to church and then held to his promise of giving his autograph and having his picture taken in all forms and styles. Shortly after dinner he had to leave for a late afternoon engagement and had to bid a fond adieu after praising the camp to its limit.

On Tuesday night the camp was privileged to see the first showing of the pictures taken at the National Jamboree that was held in Washington, D. C. Included in these pictures were many scenes of our local boys participating in some of the Scouting events. The film of colored pictures were exceptionally fine as pictures were taken of almost every Foreign delegation with their colorful uniforms.

There are now 70 boys enrolled at camp and it looks like a banner week again next week with many new applications arriving daily. We have been asked to publish the fact that any boys wishing to sign up for camp at this late date that they may send the applications direct to Camp Fellsland, Coombs Corner, Amesbury, Mass., and thereby eliminate the time taken to have it pass through the channels at the Scout office in Winchester.

The schedule for next week, which will be the next to the last week of the camp season, is again well filled with baseball, aquatic and rifle matches and the staff are doing all in their power to find time to include all of the programs they have made arrangements for.

DALRYMPLE STARRER IN HARVARD-YALE TENNIS WIN

Winchester's Norman Dalrymple, rated as one of the best tennis players in town, played a prominent part in the 11-10 defeat handed the Oxford-Cambridge tennis team from England by the Harvard-Yale forces in an international tournament at Newport, R. I., that was concluded Sunday after three days of competition.

Representing Yale, Dalrymple won his singles match, defeating J. N. Wharton of Cambridge, 6-1, 5-2. It was, however, in the doubles matches that the Winchester boy parked real drama into the tournament.

The teams were tied in points at 10 all when Dalrymple and Howard Stevens of Yale took the court against the Oxford team of R. C. Ruseley and W. H. Earle. On the outcome of that match depended the final issue.

The Winchester boy and his college team-mate proved equal to the emergency, winning in straight sets, 6-3, 6-1, their victory permitting the American collegians to retain the annually donated Prentice Cup for the sixth time.

ROSEBUDS BLANKED MILLIONAIRES, 3-0

Woburn Leaguers Won from Locals in Pitchers' Duel

The fast stopping Rosebuds, leaders in the Woburn Municipal League, invaded Winchester last Friday evening, defeating the Millionaires, 3-0, in a well played game on Leonard Field. The contest was a pitchers' battle, with the veteran "Lefty" Flaherty of the Rosebuds having a shade on the youthful "Artie" Johnson of the home team, the latter yielding five hits to Flaherty's two, and walking one more than the four batters passed by the easy working Woburn hurler. Both boys fanned eight, but to Johnson's credit it must be said that he was throwing so much stronger hitters on the average than was Flaherty. Every one of the Rosebuds takes an effective cut at the ball and is dangerous with men on bases.

For four frames the game was scoreless, each pitcher proving airtight with men in scoring position. In the fifth, Brennan hit one that Johnson deflected so that Dineen could not field the ball in time to get "Bucko" at first, the blow going for a hit. Canney fanned, but Badreau belted a cripple over the left field fence for a home run, scoring Brennan ahead of him.

In the seventh, Curran got a life when Dineen over ran his grounder. The Woburn first sacker stole and scored when Brennan hit past second. The Millionaires had runs on several times during the game, but couldn't hit with men on bases. Flaherty got a break early in the game, when with two on and one away, "Red" MacDonnell's hot shot through the box caught in between the pitcher's knees as he jumped and resulted in a force play at third. The belt was a single in any man's league, had it gotten by the box.

There were several good fielding plays, notably a great running catch by Canney of a foul near the swings, and a running back to the plate catch of a foul by "Junie" Donaghey. The big feature was Johnson's fanning the hard hitting Paul Sheeran with the bases loaded in the sixth. The summary:

The Star takes this opportunity to express to the retiring high school secretary, Mrs. Harris Parker (Gundhild Nelson), its appreciation of her never-failing courtesy and efficiency in satisfying the many demands it has made upon her good nature during the years she has been in Principal Grindle's office. We regret her going but wish her every happiness in the future.

The Star received this week an ornate certificate indicating that it has been certified membership in the Half Century Club of the American Press, limited to papers which have been published continuously for more than 50 years. The Star was established in 1880, so its golden anniversary actually fell seven years ago. Theodore P. Wilson, father of the present editor and publisher, was its first editor. In rounding out 57 years service the Star is not unmindful of its obligations to the community it serves and is most appreciative of the public confidence which has made its long life possible.

The Star, along with some other Winchester citizens, has begun to wonder what the School Committee has against Winchester. The contract for school coal, the largest in town, is reported to have been given to a Boston firm, while it is said that it was deemed wise to secure an out-of-town carpenter to shingle the Highland School. While it is true that these firms pay no Winchester taxes, Winchester firms are paying the bill just the same. In contrast, it is reported that the Selectmen have awarded their coal contract for the town hall and fire station to a Winchester firm at a lower figure. It is probably OK, so long as we are educating Winchester children, but if some of these Winchester firms stop paying taxes, it will mean more than the cost of out-town postage.

We received our first social security fine this week. Postmaster-General Farley doing a good delivery job and putting the papers through promptly. Interest at 6 and 12 percent is properly added, as should be the case in dealing with an economic royalist like us. We haven't any idea what it is all about, but it must constitute a serious offense, since we are favored with impressive serial and reference numbers and it is made out on dark blue paper. Of course we are paying it—thankful that it is not a jail sentence and thoroughly realizing that us "economics" are getting off easy without having our business closed up on us. However—the old business is not so good, not so good, and we may yet be taking a correspondence school course in securing one of those 250,000 jobs they say are now open for additional help in carrying out this great act for the uplift of the masses. There was a time when we cheerfully paid our taxes with satisfaction that we were doing our part in supporting the country and helping along with the privileges we enjoyed (horse and buggy days). But no longer friends—no longer. We're in favor of this social security tax and no fireside chat by our great President has thus far changed our opinion—and we don't think it will—not even with a hot buttered rum.

The resignation of Coach Mansfield from the position of Director of Athletics at Winchester High School will be generally regretted by all who have a real interest in the welfare of the town's youth. His job has been the direction of the school's athletic policies, teaching Physical Education and finally the coaching, conditioning and equipping of the institution's athletic teams. Ably has he fulfilled these duties, with credit to himself and the town; yet it is above and beyond the actual scope of his job that his influence has been most valuable to the youngsters. Coach Mansfield has been a real builder of character, both in and out of his job. Aside from the skilled instruction they have received at his hands on the athletic field and in the gymnasium, many of his boys have profited immeasurably by his friendliness, fine example, carefully considered advice, generosity and concrete interest in their welfare. His long and successful service in Winchester has seen him true to the highest ethics of his profession, steadfastly uncompromising in his refusal to sacrifice the welfare of his boys to his own aggrandizement as exemplified in the mere winning of games. His record as a coach, however, is not so well known. He speaks for himself, eloquently, but there is no yardstick by which to measure the intangible service he has rendered to the town for which he was not and could not be paid. The high school boys lose in his departure a true friend; two friends, in fact, for Mrs. Mansfield, has shared her husband's interest in his charges and has also contributed materially on many occasions to their pleasure and well-being. The community may well regret the Mansfields' departure, wishing them at the same time every success and happiness in their new location at Springfield.

WELL—THAT'S OVER

The Editor took his annual vacation Monday, not that it is out of the regular run of the continual vacation his friends credit him with, but interesting in that it consisted of the customary family party to Nantucket. This year's trip was very successful and went off without incident or accident. A disappointing feature was the absence of Laddie Milliken and Bud Fuller. Laddie and Bud, along with Bob Bidwell, found the family a hard-hearted corporation when it came to overstaying the Sunday leave. They will receive post cards "wishing they were here." The Editor waved greetings to Ted Godwin and the Downers at West Chop and found the Island in its usual place, although from the velocity of the wind it was marvelous that it had not moved over. The sprats, together with the grammar school and the kindergarten, elected to vary the customary program by riding new English, graduated gear bikes this year. One group peddled as far as the airport and spent the remainder of the day debating whether to spend their last dollar for ten minutes over Seonset, at the imminent possibility of parental censure, and the others devoted much of their time in side trips back to the bike rental agency to see if they had overstayed their time allowance. The Editor and his group enjoyed (if that's the word) dinner and were properly entertained by "Honest John" Terry in his new 12-cylinder Pierce Arrow. One spot new to the visitors was visited. This was Madaket, at the head of the Island. A prolonged stop at Oak Bluffs raised visions of another sit-down strike, but evidently the difficulty, if any, was ironed out without aid of the arbitration board, and the steamer finally succeeded in parting with the dock. The irritating information upon the return home that the high wind had blown the Chinkapin (that's the motor boat) from its anchorage was tempered by the fact that Barbara Rhode had caught it at the head of the bay and brought it back and tied it up to the swimming float. Clarence Noyes, who is the only genuine Cape Codder left, was busy (?) splicing on a new harbor when the Editor left, and the Falmouth Enterprise reporter was on her way to Seonset. It appears, from the general summary, that the vacation was a general success, and the Editor may now return to his desk refreshed and invigorated.

Our policy of definitely determining the cost of the complete funeral in advance prevents misunderstandings.

SAUSAGES ARE GOOD

And We'll Tell You Why

Possibly you saw that letter in last week's Star which accompanied a gift of Arlington Sausage from the John P. Squire Company. If so, you need no further explanation of the Editor's appreciation of this delicacy. As the recipient of the gift he enjoyed Arlington Sausage for Sunday-morning breakfast at the Cape—together a table of 11 kids and adults and as the little woman knows her sausages as well as her onions, it seems impossible to spend the proper space necessary for deeper details. However, in our opinion, given a breakfast of fresh Arlington Sausage and hashed brown, properly prepared, and received with friendship without rancor, a mellow aspect for the day ahead is assured, be it summer or winter. Our advice is to try it.

MRS. ROGERS THANKED

Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers has received a telegram from the Sugar Refinery Workers' Union of Boston, thanking her for her recent statement concerning the Sugar Quota Bill. In her statement, the Congresswoman warned the Administration that passage of the measure would wipe out the sugar refining industry in Massachusetts and throw 14,000 employees out of work. At present there are two large sugar refineries in the state, doing an annual gross business of $10,000,000 and having an annual payroll of $3,000,000. To increase the refined sugar quotas for Hawaii, Porto Rico and Cuba, as provided in the bill, Mrs. Rogers states, would mean that these refineries would have to close.

NOT SO DUMB

The two white ducks "Mike" and "Kik" at the Boat Club now take darts, sails about the lake. During the great stretch, they could not be driven into the lake, and spent all their time in the brook where the water was clean. These two ducks which are supposed to be dumb can tell whether the water is improving. Another thing is that they do know their owner when he comes in sight.

TOWN HALL TO CLOSE TRADERS' DAY

The Town Hall offices will be closed on Traders' Day, August 4, at the suggestion of the Selectmen who have advised the various departments to use their discretion as to complete closing or maintaining a skeleton force.

The largest baby carriage factory in the world is located in Leominster. That at Loudville, near Williamsburg, there is an old lead mine worked during the Revolutionary and Civil Wars. The oldest grist mill in the country is located in Brewster. An analysis of automobile accidents, including fatalities and serious injuries, shows that the largest percentage occur on city streets. The railroad viaduct at Canton, constructed over 100 years ago, is the oldest in the United States. The largest wireless receiving station in the world is located in Chatham. The first copper rolling mill in this country was established in 1801 by Paul Revere at Canton. Sharon is the highest town within 25 miles from the coast between Maine and North Carolina. Gloucester is the oldest fishing port in America. Fort Washington, one of the original Continental army fortifications at the siege of Boston, is still in existence in Cambridgeport. The first paper mill in the United States was erected at Lee in 1806. The first broadcloth mill in this country was built in Pittsfield. Hopkins Academy in Hadley is credited with being the earliest private school in New England. The largest press room in Woburn for an fire in the mill factory on Prospect street in that city. The local piece was sent from the fire to Headquarters in Woburn, to "cover in" and while on duty made a run to Green and Vernon streets where a leather shop was on fire. The Tremont street subway was the first street car tunnel in the United States. In Tyringham there are sugar maple trees which in height and diameter surpass any trees in the State. William Cullen Bryant, famous New England poet, was town clerk in Great Barrington from 1815 to 1825. The Fairbanks House, located in Dedham, built in 1636 is credited with being the oldest frame homestead in America. The first commercial house in the country was established in Northboro. Greenfield is the world's greatest tan and die manufacturing center. The marble quarries of Lee provided materials for such buildings as the Philadelphia City Hall, St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York, and the wings of the National Capitol. Abbot Academy in Andover was the first "girls" school incorporated in New England. Wakefield owes its name to Cyrus Wakefield who gave the Town Hall in return for the change of name from that of South Reading. In 1765 the first chocolate mill in the country was started at Milton Lower Falls. The Old Ship Church in Hingham is recorded as the oldest house for public worship in the United States. It stands on its original site and is still used for its original purpose. Minors Light, built of Quincy granite, was the first of its kind in America to be built on a ledge, awash at high tide with no adjacent dry land. Plymouth ranks next to Boston as a port of entry for imports into Massachusetts. Sandwich is the oldest town on the Cape, established by a grant from Plymouth Colony in 1637. Clean white paper can be made from cornstalks, but at present the cost is much greater than in manufacturing it from wood pulp.

The Winchester Millionaires play the Malden Baseball Club tonight at 6:15 at the new athletic field on Shore road. Monday evening at 6:15 the Millionaires play the Metropolitan Police nine on Manchester Field. This latter club is quite a baseball attraction and reported to be a good ball team.

Believe it or not, we know a woman right here in Winchester who is a good listener. When she hears herself talking.

"Love" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, August 1.

The Golden Text is: "Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you" (II Corinthians 13:11).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not unto thing, and I will receive you, and will be a father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty" (II Corinthians 6: 12, 18).

The lesson sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Love for God and man is the true incentive in both healing and teaching. Love inspires, illumines, regenerates, and leads the way. Right motives give pinions to thought, and strength and freedom to speech and action. Love is priestess at the altar of Truth. Wait patiently for divine Love to move upon the waters of mortal mind and form the perfect concept. Patient must have her perfect work" (p. 454).

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
by Ann Page

Meat prices are again rising. Best values in meat are to be found in forequarter cuts of lamb, veal and beef, in that order. Eggs and cheese are excellent choices.

It is the exceptional vegetable now which does not fall in the cheap or reasonable class. Outstanding values are to be found in salad greens and vegetables, particularly lettuce, tomatoes, celery, cucumbers and green peppers.

New apples are more plentiful, plums are cheap and abundant. Plentiful supplies of peaches and Bartlett pears are promised for the near future.

The following meals may be eaten either outdoors or in.

Low Cost Dinner
Cold Ham Macaroni and Cheese
Cole Slaw Bread and Butter
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Boiled Tongue Creamed Potatoes
Green Beans Bread and Butter
Huckleberry Pie
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner

Whispering Campaign Old Shakespeare's "Richard the Second" was a great success when first acted, but there were tongues to whisper to the then British ruler, Queen Elizabeth, that the play was part of a plot to teach the people how to murder kings.

THE BACK YARD GARDENER

A lady gardener and a reader of this humble column from down Brockton way asks what is the matter with poet's narcissus which comes up each year so promisingly with big fat buds but do not open. Instead they turn brown.

Well, this is the time of the year when back yard gardeners are certainly tested as to whether they are true gardeners. Almost anyone can start things rolling in the spring when you get spring fever, but to keep up with the bugs and the diseases and everything else during the hot summer months is a real test.

In answering the lady, I'd say that the best bet, not knowing the exact conditions of her garden, is to plant the narcissus in a location where they get partial shade. This condition of the buds is called blasting and is usually caused by high temperature and dry air. And the best way to avoid this is to plant in a location where the narcissus will be shaded at least part of the day. Some people recommend that you can help the buds open by nipping off the ends.

One also spoke about the fact that one of her Madonnas lilies waited until the third year before giving just one bloom and then it wasn't a Madonna lily after all. This brings up the point that I've always tried to stress to my back yard gardeners: friends, and that is that it pays to buy only the best and to buy only from reliable people.

Now, I'm not saying that this particular lady bought from an unreliable individual, because mistakes do occur even in the best of families, but when you buy from reliable individuals you can be pretty sure that you are getting what you ask for and what you pay for.

If you want to plant some Madonna lilies, the thing to do is to buy them right now and get them into the ground early in September, planting them 4 or 5 inches deep. Give them plenty of plant food on which to grow and I'm sure that you won't have much difficulty.

While we're on the subject of troubles, a gentleman friend of mine complained of the fact that he had some white pine which had been attacked by a weevil, and he was somewhat discouraged.

I checked on this and found that while there is no real cure for the white pine weevil, you can control it to a large extent by planting in the shade. It seems that the weevil likes full sunlight. About the first of May spray the leaders with a strong solution of either lead arsenate or lime sulfur. This will help in repelling these weevils. Then the next thing, if your pines are affected, cut off the leaders and burn them. Another suggestion is to plant other types of pine, because this weevil seems to trouble only the white pine.

OBSERVATIONS

A short sermonette: The man who feels that life is not worth while will usually be found to have neglected the things of life that are worth while.

By the way, Winchester preaches to get ahead, the first thing necessary is to get a head. Not the "ingering after" kind, however.

STRAND THEATRE, MALDEN

"Slave Ship," with Warner Baxter and Wallace Beery as the stars, a spectacular drama that storms in epic sweep over half the world, opens a seven day run at the Strand Theatre in Malden today. With a supporting company that includes Elizabeth Allen, Mickey Rooney, George Sanders, Jane Darwell, Joseph Schildkraut, Minna Gombell, Arthur Hohl, J. Farrell MacDonald, Billy Bevan, Holmes E. Herbert and Paul Hurst it tells a tale of the last slave ship, with mutiny reddening its decks, as it sails on its last desperate voyage. Warner Baxter has the most colorful role of his career as Captain Jim Lovett, romantic scurge of two seas, who has for years defied the navies of the world in his slave trading activities. "Slave Ship" traces the tempestuous career of a swift bark engaged in the slave trade, and its courageous captain, Warner Baxter, who planned to retire from "blackbirding" and settle down to a new life with his young bride Elizabeth Allen. As they sail on Baxter's ship on a honeymoon cruise which is to mark the end of his days as a slaver, they find that they have been betrayed by the mate, Wallace Beery, and the crew, avid for more slaving profits. The honeymoon cruise is turned into a voyage in which they are continually brought face to face with danger and death. Sought by the navies of every nation, and torn by mutiny aboard, the slave ship sails on through adventures on the high seas and off the African coast, and it is a dramatic and thrilling climax which clears the future for the newly married couple and sends the slaver to his ominous destiny.

"Meet The Missus," starring Victor Moore and Helen Broderick, is the second attraction on the bill opening today. Moore is cast as a small town barber who, in addition to his tonsorial duties, does all the house work because his wife, Helen Broderick, is too busy entering all kinds of contests. She wins the regional title in a contest for America's perfect housewife, sponsored by the Happy Noodle corporation. She must go to Atlantic City and take part in the finals. From the time the husband and wife reach Atlantic City until she wins the $10,000 prize there is never a let-up in the fun.

READING THEATRE

"I Met Him In Paris," which brings Claudette Colbert, Melvyn Douglas and Robert Young to the screen of the Reading Theatre Sun, Mon, and Tues, is a comedy as crisp and sparkling as the snows of the Swiss Alps, against which most of the action takes place.

Miss Colbert, in the role of a young American girl on a long-planned vacation in Europe, is given plenty of opportunity to display those comedy talents which she used so well in "It Happened One Night" and "The Bride Comes Home." In this new film, she has two leading men with whom to spar in conversational give-and-take. Not only is the dialogue keen and snappy, but the rough-and-tumble action and incidental byplay are equally mad and delicious. "I Met Him In Paris" is played with delicious freedom and wisecracking action.

As the story runs, Miss Colbert goes to Paris, where she runs into a couple of writers, also Yanks; Melvyn Douglas, a suave, man-of-the-world playwright, and Robert Young, a playboy novelist. Their impetuous courtship for the brunette beauty takes the trio from Paris to St. Moritz, smartest of the Swiss winter sports centers, and then back to Paris again. In the strange romance, Miss Colbert's heart swings first to one, then to the other of her mad suitors, until she is forced to a showdown.

An American of Irish descent, born in Russia, reared in China, starred in France and Germany, and who gets most of his fan mail from Kobe, Japan—that is the international background of the screen's ace "sourmouss" comic, George McKay, who supplies many of the laughs in Columbia's "The Frame-Up," also showing at the Reading Theatre Sunday, with Paul Kelly and Jacqueline Wells in the romantic leads.

The double feature bill for today and tomorrow includes Victor Moore with Beulah Bondi in "Make Way For Tomorrow," and "Motor" with Rosalind Keith and Allan Brook.

GRANADA ATTRACTIONS

The uproarious antics of the absurd Marx Brothers, together with the supporting work of Maureen O'Sullivan, Allan Jones, Margaret Dumont and Esther Muir combine to make "A Day at the Races," which opens at the Granada Theatre in Malden today one of the most hilariously amusing pictures of this or any other year. It would be difficult to imagine any picture being funnier than the last Marx Brothers epic, "A Night At The Opera," but their current vehicle with its hilarious plot shifting between a sanitarium and a race track, with Groucho in the role of a horse doctor, Chico as a jockey, and Harpo as a race track tout, undoubtedly tops even the former picture for side-splitting situations, rib-tickling dialogue and howling characterizations. When you add to this the excellent singing of Allan Jones in such captivating numbers as "On Blue Venetian Waters," "Tomorrow Is Another Day" and "A Message From The Man In The Moon," and a spectacularly beautiful water carnival sequence the result is a picture which blends hearty humor with romance and music to make entertainment plus. Comedy predominates, however, with the Marxes in the stellar roles, and such scenes as the trio literally pasting Esther Muir to the wall behind wall-paper, and the most preposterous medical examination ever seen as given to Margaret Dumont, are the two funniest sequences the screen has ever known.

"Another Dawn" with a cast of favorites including Kay Francis, Errol Flynn, Freda Inescort, Ian Hunter, Herbert Mundin and Clyde Cook, is the second attraction on the bill starting today. The background of the film is a British garrison stationed in Arabia. Errol Flynn and Ian Hunter are both in love with Kay Francis. One or the other has to sacrifice his life, and leave Kay to the survivor, in order that the garrison might not fall prey to the blood-thirsty Arabs who surround it. One of them does. How they decide which one it will be, how the hero goes forth to glory, and how the remaining one fares with the girl, make up a tense and gripping picture.

"ANOTHER DAWN" AT THE UNIVERSITY

Three top-ranking stars appear in the romantic adventure film which opens Sunday at the University Theatre—Kay Francis, Errol Flynn and Ian Hunter. "Another Dawn" is the picture—and the story is about a small British garrison in wild and picturesque Iraq (Arabia). Flynn and Hunter both love Miss Francis. One or the other has to sacrifice his life and leave Kay to the survivor—in order that the garrison might not fall prey to the Arabs who surround it. One of them does. How they decide which one it will be, how the hero goes forth to glory, and how the remaining one fares with the girl; all of these things make up what is said to be one of 1937's tensest and most gripping movies.

Jeeves, so sad-eyed, so gentle, so utterly proper, thought gangland to be a bit of all right. They could swindle him and buffet him about, but he insists on proper manners, and so the underworld is in a dudge of a dither when P. G. Wodehouse's famed "gentleman's gentleman" goes berserk for a delightful period of gleeful buffoonery in the second sage of the silly blighter's misadventures. "Step Lively, Jeeves," the companion feature with Arthur Treacher, Patricia Ellis and Robert Kent head the supporting cast.

On Wednesday, Review Day, the program includes "Mutiny On The Bounty" featuring Charles Laughton, Clark Gable and Franckton, Tone and "Educating Father," with Jed Prouty.

Co-starring one of the screen's most popular teams, Gene Raymond and Ann Sothern, "There Goes My Girl," a high-voltage newspaper drama charged with romance, reportorial rivalry and mystery, is coming next Thursday. Two ace reporters on rival newspapers are deeply in love. Their marriage is frustrated by the hard-shelled city editor of the sheet the girl works for, and can't see why his star news-hawk should succumb to mushy sentimentality. Dangling the bait of a sensational story under the pretty nose of his girl reporter, he twice side-tracks the pending nuptials. But his villainy does not end there. A highlight of the entertainment is a difficult Spanish dance by pretty Joan Woodbury to a rumba number, "Español Gani" in an attractive night club setting.

OBSERVATIONS

By The Observer

A lawn mower is a good thing but we know a lot of fellows right here in Winchester who hate like the dickens to push it along.

The Winchesterite who sings his own praises never gets praised for his singing.

THIS WEEK'S GARDENING

by Alfred A. Fraser

Water your garden and lawn well. A light sprinkling isn't much use because the water doesn't get down to the really important roots.

Snip off fading and dead flowers so that the plant doesn't start going to seed, thereby slowing flower production.

Be sure your dahlias, gladioli and other tall growing plants are supported against high wind.

Don't be discouraged about your climbing roses not flowering—usually they don't start until the second year.

Keep after the weeds so that they won't go to seed.

Crab grass is an annual plant that propagates itself by seed—every plant having over 200,000. You must keep after it.

Gather some of your garden blossoms and mix together—you'll like the resulting bouquet.

Water your roses thoroughly—spray weekly with some nicotine extract.

Strawberry plants can be set out now.

Hollyhock, pansy and such seed should be sown now.

Give every peony clump a handful of bonemeal or superphosphate.

Don't cut the grass too short this warm weather.

Window boxes need water too, more than any other flowers you have growing.

Gather diseased leaves from around hollyhocks so the rust won't spread.

Many spring flowering plants are dormant and can be transplanted now.

Green bananas will ripen quickly if they are placed in a paper bag and stored in a dark place.

MYSTERY OF LOW WATER IN MYSTIC SOLVED

The Star is informed by its Boat Club correspondent that the mystery of where the water in the Mystic Lakes has been going, has been solved. Recently the water in the lake has been getting lower and lower each day until the mud flats were all exposed to the baking sun in upper Mystic and the sail boats ran aground in front of the Boat Club, where it has almost impossible to get to the wharf. The Metropolitan District Commission stated that they were not drawing off any water and had not done so, but despite this assurance the lake got about three inches lower each day.

At the Medford Boat Club it was learned that no water was being let out of the dam by the Metropolitan Commission and that the water was at least a foot below the boards of the dam. Investigation by the officers of the Winchester Boat Club found this to be true and that the dam leaked very little water. The Commission then said that the loss must be due to evaporation on these hot days, but those investigating were unwilling to believe that a lake could lose inches of water daily by evaporation. The Metropolitan Commission, upon further protest, said the Park Department of the town of Winchester was holding back the water above the town, but an investigation by the Board of Selectmen, to which the Boat Club went, proved this statement incorrect as those "hold back ponds" above the town were full before the loss of water began.

An officer of the Boat Club who had a relative who was Superintendent of the old Charlestown Water Works in the days when Mystic Lake was used as a water supply, then had an idea. He went to the Medford Boat Club beside which the old gate house for these water works still stands, and there heard a rushing noise such as water makes, but as the house was locked he was unable to get in for further investigation. Going to the rear of the gate house where the old intake pipe is located, he discovered water rushing into the pipe in a flood. These pipes were laid about 80 years ago and few remember where they are today. The Boat Club officer remembered however, and also knew where the Charlestown Water Works pipe discharges in Medford at the junction of Alewife Brook and the Mystic river. Upon going there he found water from the lake pouring out into the river.

The Board of Selectmen were informed of the discovery and they said they would take action. Meanwhile the Boat Club sent an officer to the Metropolitan District Commission office in Boston where it was learned that the Commissioner himself was spending the summer in Europe, far from the troubles of Winchester and the power. After the Commissioner said gate house was, and if it was on their property, the authorities said they would see what could be done about it. On the way out from Boston a stop was made at the gate house and the tracks of a car were seen in the dust leading to the gate house. The water had been shut off and the door locked again!

The lake did not rise again the next day at all, but it is reported that a crew of men with tools and saws had arrived during the day to repair the leak which permitted the issue of about as much water as that which runs out of a faucet!

FORMER WINCHESTER MAN'S TRIP DESCRIBED IN GEOGRAPHIC

The August edition of the National Geographic Magazine has an excellent article on the world-circling trip taken by Mr. Donald Starr formerly a resident of Everett, who sailed on the 85 foot sailing vessel. He purchased the schooner Pilgrim and with a crew of college fellows, sailed from Boston in June, 1932, visiting the South Sea Islands, the Far East, India, and returning by way of the Suez Canal and Gibraltar. He returned to Boston in July 1934 and lives at 5 Otis place, Boston. The article written by one of his college members is exceptionally clear. Mr. Starr was for some years a prominent member of the Winchester Boat Club.

MISS HATCH ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Hatch of Cabot street have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Sylvia Collamore Hatch, to Courtlandt Ryder Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonso S. Campbell of Ridgely road.

Miss Hatch graduated from Winchester High, and from the Chelmsford School in Boston, later studying at the Pay School on Beacon street in that city.

Mr. Campbell also attended school in Winchester, as well as the Hutton and Chaucey Hall Schools. He studied at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and is now associated with the firm of Browne, Vintners Company of Boston and New York.

LOCKED IN CEMETERY

Police Headquarters was notified Wednesday evening that an automobile had been seen in Woodlawn Cemetery after the hour of closing.

Patrolman James F. Noonan went to investigate and found two women, who had visited the cemetery and remained after the closing hour, 8:30, being locked in after the closing of the gates. Officer Noonan unlocked the gates and let them out, feeling that a warning to the cemetery too long was unnecessary.

POWELL'S NOT IMPRISONED IN CHINA

Mrs. Powell and Children Safe in Japan

News reports stating that Lieut. and Mrs. Bonny Powell and family have been imprisoned by the Japanese in Peiping, China, are without foundation, the Star was informed yesterday by relatives of Mrs. Powell, who is the former Elizabeth Gould, daughter of Mrs. Charles Gould of Norwood street.

Mrs. Gould and other members of Mrs. Powell's family have been naturally greatly concerned with reports of the mishaps said to have befallen the Powells in the war area of China. One story went so far as to report the shooting of Lieutenant Powell while defending his family with hand grenades.

Through the efforts of Mrs. Powell's cousin, Brig-Gen. William Bryden, attached to the War Department in Washington, it was authoritative learning that the family is safe in Japan with her daughter, Elizabeth, and son, Charles, and has not been in the war area at all.

Lieutenant Powell, who is representative in the Far East for Fox Movie-Tone, is in Peiping, but has not been arrested, according to information received by the War Department, though it is possible that the Japanese have sought to hinder his efforts to take pictures in the war area. Reports in yesterday's press had him being jostled by Japanese soldiers as he sought to get snapshots of events at the Chinese front.

SURPRISE PARTY

Winchester High School's retiring athletic director, Maxwell D. Mansfield, and Mrs. Mansfield were pleasantly surprised Monday evening when a group of their associates and friends called at their home on Stone avenue to express their regret at their departure from Winchester and extend best wishes for the future.

An informal social hour was enjoyed and enlivened with an impromptu song and dance act contributed by George W. Franklin, who proved his versatility in several ways throughout the evening. Coach Mansfield distinguished himself in the games, and his bull pup, "Jack," did his best to make every one feel at home.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Mansfield, assisted by the ladies of the party, and shortly before the departure of their guests the table and her husband presented a handsome mahogany coffee table.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Wade L. Grindle, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Keeney, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Bonnell, Dr. Paul Hugenberger of Boston and James H. Pennington. The sudden illness of Mr. Raymond V. Hayward prevented him and Mrs. Hayward from attending.

RUTH ASELINE WON NORTH SHORE TITLE

Ruth Aseline, former Winchester High tennis star, played a prominent part in the North Shore tennis tournament, concluded Saturday on the courts of the Tedesco Country Club at Swampscott, winning the women's singles title. The heretofore undefeated, being runner-up in women's singles and reaching the semi-finals in mixed doubles, paired with Winchester's men's singles champ, Herb Ross.

In the doubles play, she and her partner, defeated the Miami pair, Mrs. Catherine Sample and Mrs. Adele Vose, 2-6, 6-1, 6-3. The victory was a sweet one for the Winchester girl, for Mrs. Sample who defeated her in the final round of singles, 6-2, 6-1. Ruth won her way into the final singles round at the expense of her doubles partner whom she eliminated in the semi-finals.

In mixed doubles Ruth and Herb Ross fell before Mrs. Sample and Vaughn Pipes of Watertown, an experienced player, but extended their opponents to the limit, losing 7-5, 6-3.

B., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edward Garland. She came to Winchester from Somerville and for the past 25 years had been a resident of this town, enjoying a wide circle of friends.

Besides her husband, she leaves a daughter, Miss Gertrude Richardson of Winchester; two sons, Robert W. Richardson and William E. STRIKING LAUNDRY OPERATORS
BACK AT WORK

The striking operators at the Winchester plant of the New England Laundries, Inc., resumed work this week, ending a strike which was of about two weeks' duration. Conditions at the plant made it impossible for all operators to return at once, but some went in on Monday morning, others on Tuesday and the remainder on Wednesday.

Last week Wednesday representatives of the Laundry Union, which is a C. I. O. affiliate, met plant officials at the office of the Board of Conciliation and Arbitration of the State House. At that time the workers expected to return to the plant the next day, but failure of the Laundry officials to meet the demands of the Union resulted in the opening of the plant being postponed.

Last Saturday at a meeting of the strikers it was voted to return to work, leaving certain of the differences still existing between the operators and officials to be straightened out after the plant resumed operations.

At Laundry Headquarters the Star was informed that the strikers had settled and the operators were back at work, company officials having no further statement to make. It was unofficially learned from strikers that they received a small wage increase, recognition of the union and a week's vacation with pay. The closed shop, checkoff, seniority and 40 hour week demands of the strikers remain for further negotiations.

DR. BENSON REGISTERED

Dr. Harry Benson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Benson of this town, was registered this week to practice medicine in Massachusetts, following his successful completion of the examinations given by the National Board of Medical Examiners. During the next three months, he will work as an assistant to Dr. Samuel Brown of Fall River, after which he will begin a two year appointment in surgery at the Boston City Hospital on Nov. 1.

Dr. Benson is well known in Winchester, having been born here and graduated from the local schools. He was an active member of the choir at the Church of the Epiphany for many years.

He received his Bachelor of Science degree from the College of Liberal Arts of Boston University and his Doctor of Medicine degree from the Boston University School of Medicine. During his undergraduate days he was a member of the University Men's Glee Club, and later, while at medical school, was active in organizing the Medical School Chorus. He was also a member of the Chanting Medicos Quartet.

During the past year, Dr. Benson served a one year rotating internship at the Union Hospital in Fall River.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB

The National Canoe Paddling Championships are to be held this Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 7 and 8, over the Olympic course at Lake Quinsigamund in Worcester.

This is the first time to our knowledge that Winchester Boat Club has participated in the event. The intermediate, double blade four, composed of Arthur Bowler, stroke; James Gustin, No. 2; Downing Bowler, No. 3 and Capt. Ned Bean, stern, are drawn in that class race which comes off Sunday.

Jim Fitch and Ken Pratt were chosen as one of the three crews to represent the Eastern Division of the American Canoe Association in the intermediate, double blade tandem event. Their race falls on Saturday.

The above pair are also to try their hand at tilting, which takes place the last thing on Sunday. The Winchester Boat Club has progressed rapidly this year, and only in the last canoe meet, after being together but once in a boat, the double blade four took second place.

In the Nationals, they have qualified for the finals. They will meet the two best crews to Winchester's two. They have a man in the Junior single single. A pair in the Tandem single, and two four men crews—one a single blade four and the other a double blade four. No wonder Medford is anxious to challenge Winchester to race for any and all of the big cups which are at this end of the lake. They already have the Tenny Trophy for the War canoe, so all they need to do is defend that.

EDWARD CALLAHAN

Edward Callahan, a former widely known resident of Woburn, died Monday night, Aug. 2, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George B. Welsh, 98 Pond street.

Mr. Callahan had made his home with his daughter in Winchester for the past six years, coming East from California where he had been a successful business man. He had made his home and where his wife, the former Margaret Sullivan, died. He was in his 79th year and was a native of Woburn, following the trade of a cutter in that city for many years.

Besides Mrs. Welsh, he leaves three daughters, Mrs. Gertrude Buel of Avondale, Ga., Miss Edith Callahan of Taft, Calif., and Miss Helen Callahan of San Francisco, Calif.; two sons, Charles Callahan of Waltham and Edward Callahan of California; also three sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Broder of Hyde Park, the Mrs. Francis and Margaret Callahan of Boston; and a brother, Peter Callahan of Woburn.

The funeral was held from his late residence on Pond street Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. A high mass celebrated in St. Mary's Church. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

WINCHESTER GIRL WITH GILBERT & SULLIVAN TROUPE

Miss Phyllis Lybeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Lybeck of Everett road, is a member of the University Gilbert & Sullivan Opera Company which opened a five day stand at the Harbor Theatre in Scituate on Tuesday. After five nights and a Saturday matinee the company will move on to Magnolia where they will sing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Oceanide Hotel. Then will follow a tour of North Shore resorts continuing for two weeks.

Miss Lybeck, a student at Jackson, the women's college at Tufts, is one of 45 college students, alumni and teachers who comprise the troupe. There is little chance for temperamental to develop among the members for when not singing each has his definite chores to do, the jobs ranging from cooking and washing dishes to shifting scenery and other backstage duties. Each member has contributed to his or her share of the financial backing of the enterprise, which was conceived by Prof. Joseph S. Daltrey, head of the music department at Wesleyan University and Frank Kierman of Mattapan, a teacher in the Harvard School at Hawthorne, N. Y. The members of the troupe assembled for training at Wesleyan in Middletown, Conn., and put in a rigorous period of rehearsing before their appearance on the boards.

Boston University, the New England Conservatory of Music, Tufts, Mt. Holyoke and Smith are some of the New England colleges represented.

Miss Lybeck is singing the soprano role of Isabel in the "Pirates of Penzance," but principals are also required to sing in the choruses of other operas so there is little spare time. Last year she was discovered to be the possessor of a most promising voice of great range by Prof. Leo R. Lewis, veteran professor of music at Tufts, who encouraged her to sing for several vocal authorities, who confirmed his opinion of her voice.

INVESTIGATING POSSIBLE
DROWNING IN MYSTIC

At an early hour this morning the local and Metropolitan Police were investigating a possible drowning which occurred at the Mystic Lake last night shortly after 10:30. At that time Headquarters received reports of cries in the rear of the Robinson estate on Cambridge street and Patrolman John Murray was sent to investigate. The Winchester Boat Club he was informed by Mrs. Richard LaCroix, wife of the club steward that Ned Bean, a club member, had discovered a canoe, upside down, in the water floating on the lake about 150 feet off the shore at Robinson's. Mr. LaCroix and Mr. Bennett were assisting Bean in getting the canoe ashore.

It was a green boat and not the property of the Winchester Club. In an effort to check its ownership the steward identified the canoe as one he had loaned to a young man at 9:15 that evening.

The Medford steward did not get the young man's name, but said that he came from Somerville, and had gotten out of an automobile which was left parked not far from the Medford Boat Club.

Sergeant Joseph Derro was sent with the Winchester Police grappling irons to assist Officers Joseph A. Delaney and Michael J. Delaney. D. C. in grappling for the body of the young man who it was feared had overturned his canoe and drowned.

Grappling continued for several hours after which the Metropolitan officers commenced an effort to locate Russell W. Bemis of 46 Chester street, West Somerville, whose automobile was found parked near the Medford Boat Club.

TWO INJURED IN COLLISION AT SYMMES CORNER

Frederick W. Richardson of Cambridge road, Burlington, at his niece, Evelyn MacAleer of 825 Jefferson avenue, Washington, were taken to the Winchester Hospital, Wednesday morning after the Ford touring sedan in which they were riding was in collision at the junction of Bacon, Grove and Main streets with a Buick coupe, driven by Philip Belinsky of 16 Spring street, Boston. The accident occurred shortly before 8:30.

According to the Police the Ford, which was driven by Richardson, was headed east on Bacon street, while the Buick was going south on Main street and crossing the intersection of Bacon street to enter Grove street. The front of the Ford was demolished and the Buick was also damaged, though not so extensively.

Richardson and his niece were taken to the Hospital. Patrolman William E. Cassidy, the former sustained a fractured rib and cuts about the forehead. Miss MacAleer sustained abrasions about the head and legs, a fractured rib and cuts about the chest and possible fractured ribs. Both were held at the hospital for X-Ray examination.

SWIMMING PARTY IN-TERRUPTED

Last Sunday morning 15 minutes after midnight, Police Headquarters received complaints from residents of the Glangery district of loud voices and a disturbance somewhere in that vicinity.

Officer Joseph L. Quigley was sent to investigate, and found everything serene surrounding the houses of the complainants, but there was no doubt that voices were raised, more or less raucously somewhere not too far distant.

Locating the voices, took Officer Quigley to Palmer beach, and there he first came upon a Plymouth sedan, parked in the rear of the bath house and filled with male wearing apparel. From the sounds issuing from the water on the other side of the house it was easy to deduce that the owners of the clothing were disporting themselves in the none too warm waters of Wedge Pond. As a matter of fact it was the temperature of the water that had much to do with the shouts which had disturbed Glangery's slumbers.

Swimming at Palmer street when the beach is closed is forbidden, and the beach has never been open officially at or even near midnight. Officer Quigley acted accordingly.

First he sent the beatified Police Headquarters to await its owners. Then he sauntered onto the beach and awaited developments.

He had to exercise a bit of patience but the end his reward came in the persons of four youths who appeared from the water at the rear of the diving raft and made their way ashore. They did not care much where they went so long as it was warm at their destination.

At Headquarters Lieut. Edward W. O'Connell gave the shivering quartet some good advice and returned their clothing which was fervently received. The names of the swimmers were taken for future reference. Two of the four came from Everett, one from Malden and the other from Belmont. Their ages ranged from 17 to 21.

Advertising That Lives Longer

Merchants who advertise REGULARLY in a weekly newspaper get best results.

This is easily explained, easily understood.

If your advertisement appears this week, people will look for it next week. If it isn't there next week, it is only natural that people will wonder why. If your advertisement fails to appear for several weeks, people will NOT wonder why. They will forget you.

If you are introduced to a man, you may forget him in a short time if you do not see him again. No matter how favorably he impressed you, he will gradually fade from your memory if you do not encounter him again.

The people you know BEST are the people you meet MOST FREQUENTLY.

The merchant who advertises regularly becomes an old friend of the people who read the weekly newspaper. Appearing regularly, his advertisement is regarded as an institution, as a part of the paper, as an old friend in the home.

To obtain best results, one should advertise regularly. Every issue of the weekly newspaper containing your advertisement will make new friends for you. New friends mean increased sales, increased profits.

Don't permit yourself to be forgotten by the people upon whom you depend for your patronage. Advertise REGULARLY in the weekly newspaper.

Advertising in the weekly newspaper LIVES LONGER—therefore it is the most profitable form of newspaper advertising.

The WINCHESTER STAR is a WEEKLY NEWSPAPER.

ARLINGTON GAS LIGHT CO. ANNOUNCES NEW LOW GAS RATE

Domestic customers of the Arlington Gas Light Company who use gas refrigeration or automatic water heating will have a new low gas rate after Aug. 1, according to an announcement made recently by Manager Horace G. Taylor. The new rate has been approved by the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities and became effective Aug. 1, 1937.

Called domestic gas rate 1-4, the new rate will apply to all gas used by customers with gas refrigerators or automatic gas water heaters installed and in use in their homes. It does not apply solely to the quantities of gas used in the operation of these appliances, but includes the total consumption by customers coming under this classification.

The rate, on a net basis, is as follows: 50 cents for the first 100 cubic feet, 12 cents per hundred for the next 1400, 11 cents per hundred for the next 1500, 8 cents per hundred for the next 22,000 and 7 cents per hundred for all in excess of 25,000 cubic feet each month.

Manager Horace G. Taylor stated that in addition to savings to users of gas refrigerators and automatic gas water heaters, the new rate offers possibilities for the customers interested in the installation of gas house heating. He also suggested that customers of the company not using either of the appliances mentioned above, may purchase either or both at exceptionally low prices and at attractive terms and thus share in the savings and benefits under the new rate.

GIRL SCOUT CAMP NEWS

Thursday the camp day started at 10 o'clock with the color ceremony. After patrol meetings, during which the girls made plans for future programs, these with speaking roles in the operetta rehearsed their parts. Archery was a popular feature until lunch time. During the afternoon the girls were busy at handcraft. A music memory contest proved harder than some thought it would be. The winners were Mary McCaul, with 19 out of 20 correct, Mary Lou Allen and Janet Ellis tying with 17 correct and Nancy Greiner, six correct.

Tuesday was a gala day. When the girls arrived in the morning, they were laden with mysterious packages which they hid in the kitchen until noon. After the color ceremony, everyone joined in the folk dancing. The feature of the morning was a game of capture the flag. The teams were captained by Mary Lou Allen and Miriam Welsh. The game finally ended as a draw and then the reward for all the mysterious packages and whisperings became known. The girls had prepared a surprise birthday party for Miss Eva Gregg, director of the camp. In the cabin a long table was piled with gifts surrounding a birthday cake. A draped throne, in back of the table, awaited Miss Gregg. Some of the girls even climbed up on benches so all could see the gifts as they were opened. There were cookies and candy for everyone, as well as a generous slice of birthday cake.

The always popular handcraft kept everyone busy throughout the afternoon.

Mrs. G. E. Croughwell and Mrs. Maude Taylor were welcome visitors at camp.

Wednesday morning, after the color ceremony and folk dancing, the girls separated into groups of three for a nature hunt. In spite of keen competition and rather startling originality, it was finally possible to determine the winning group: Annette Croughwell, Jane Russell and Phyllis Russell.

Mrs. Lovell Smith and Mrs. James Doty prepared huge pans of New England chop suey for lunch. The girls eagerly accepted second helpings.

The afternoon handcraft period was soon over—time goes so quickly at the scout camp—and the 4 o'clock color ceremony marked the end of another camp day.

Nearly every day new girls register at camp and there is always room for more. The camp season will last two more weeks so it is not too late for any Girl Scouts or Brownies to join in the fun.

OBSERVATIONS

(By The Observer)

While agreeing with a native son of fair Winchester that our girls are pretty attractive as they are, The Observer sometimes has moments when he'd like to hear something swish.

Least The Observer be misconstrued from the foregoing, let us hasten to add that nothing in a girl's figure can stop her from being accomplished and refined and eating noodle soup with considerable grace and charm.

Yes, 'tis true as gospel that one fares better if one has all the childhood diseases in childhood, this being especially true of fathead.

MASSACHUSETTS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Fresh Food Facts

Which weighs the most, a pound of feathers or a pound of lead? Another — which is correct, "The yolk of the egg is white" or "The yolk of the egg is white"? Conundrums—simple but confusing. Like conundrums, some problems facing the homemaker in her everyday marketing appear far more intricate than they really are.

A pound is a pound. But a quart is not always a quart. One clerk may loosely fill the measure while another packs it tightly. That illustrates why it is considered more businesslike to purchase by weight or count rather than by measure.

Some States have legal weights per measure and issue official tables of weights per measure for different products. These give the weight of a quart of apples or a peck of potatoes. But in Massachusetts there are no legal weights per measure. An Act passed in 1922 states that with a few specified exceptions, or when sold in the original standard container—"all fruits, nuts, vegetables and grain shall be sold at retail by avoirdupois weight or numerical count." Bunched produce, and berries, except cranberries, are not subject to this rule, for the second conundrum that is quickly settled if we agree the yolk is not white but is yellow. In the sale of foods, as well as non-foodstuffs, the seller assumes responsibility for the condition and contents of what he offers for sale. If he would not expose himself to a charge of willful misrepresentation, he must know or have confidence in his goods.

The sweet corn season is in full swing and some cautious storekeepers offer corn for so much per dozen ears "as is," or so much per ear "opened and inspected." These retailers do this because while research has developed excellent varieties of sweet corn, Nature has bucked human efforts to control insect damage. But an imperfect ear should not be discarded. Simply cut out the damaged part, just as you cut out the bruised part of an apple.

Up-to-the-minute information of market prices and supplies along with other pertinent marketing facts help solve the conundrums confronting the consumer in her everyday marketing.

Noble hit for the circuit his first time up, the ball going to the right of the bandstand. Manager Quigley showed a new pitcher in Horie, big Wilbraham hurler, who, while wild, held the coppers to four pretty well scattered hits. The summary:

HEART TO HEART TALKS

Preparing For Life's Emergencies

It is the emergencies of life that put us to the acid test. The sudden thrust of fate of the little interruption of circumstance sometimes shows us up to ourselves with equal poignancy as being unprepared.

A lot of people in and out of Winchester get their values badly mixed. For instance, I know a fellow who cannot stand having the start of his day's program broken by one of the family suddenly depending on him for advice, comfort, or material aid. Such a chap has put the mere details of schedule before the pleasures and the pains of friendship. He has got his values badly mixed and the strain of a surprise finds him unable to change gears to front the emergency of the unexpected.

Sometimes one's religion goes dead on one because one is up against a great loss, or if a stress of responsibility wipes all serenity off one's face and plumb out of one's heart, if under a great excitement one cannot keep a decent tongue in one's head, and under anger one shrills out insults to those nearest and dearest, then nothing in all this universe is so certain as the fact that is mighty poor material that is all going to crack under the test of a sudden strain.

Yet when men construct engines they make them to endure not only the ordinary but the extraordinary demand on their strength and the wonder of the human body is not its every day life, but the mighty efforts that it is called upon to make. It is the fatigue of pain, the strain of muscles in play, the disarrangement of functions under fever, the dislocation of muscles in accidents, the shock of fright, or of prolonged anxiety. People speak of the phenomenal resistance of the body, meaning that in spite of starvation, notwithstanding injuries and disease, the heart labors on and the patient rallies and the life comes back again to an even keel.

There is no better way to defend ourselves from the weakness that even a little surprise may ferret out in our nature to possess ourselves of the energy and power requisite for a quick demand for selfish efficiency under great stress than to lay hold of a power that is infinite and on a whim that is supremely self-possessed. And I know of no better way to make that instant connection than the miraculous, yet perfectly natural habit of prayer to God.

Prayer can become as instinctive as fear, and as instantaneous as the blaze of temper in some of us under a great provocation. Prayer can be so well worn a path that our minds take it before our thoughts have formed words. And it can steady us careening under the impact of a sudden blow, as a hand steadies one shaken from his balance. People who seldom pray often break into prayer under a sudden stress, but it is an agonizing proceeding, a sort of last hope, a chance hanging on a thread over an abyss. It is a desire frenziedly clutched at, not hope intrepidly held. There is no trust about it, it is a demand. It is hardly a prayer at all, at least not the kind of prayer Jesus taught us.

THIS WEEK'S GARDENING

By Alfred A. Fraser

Transplant dwarf and bearded iris that didn't do so well this year, using plenty of bonemeal to enrich the soil. Early September is the best time to plant a new lawn. Remove all the weed plants you can so that weed seed won't be present to grow next year.

Water your tomatoes well. If you are going away, be sure to mulch them so they'll have plenty of moisture to grow on.

Lace bugs attack the bottom side of rhododendron, laurel, and azalea leaves. Use a nicotine extract as a spray.

Evergreens can be planted now but must have plenty of water. Clip grocery bags over your grapes if birds and insects bother them.

Melons will be ripening. Place boards under the young fruit to insure more even ripening.

Cut hardy Gypsophylla for next winter's use as a dried flower. Cut on a hot day, and dry in shade. Spray roses to stop black spot or any fungus disease.

Biennials and perennials like Foxglove, Campanula, Lupin, Hollyhock, Gaillardia, Sweet William, Pansy and Shasta Daisy should have seed sown now.

Disbud Dahlias for larger flowers. Stone chips make a rock garden dressing. They slow evaporation, stop spattering and resist erosion.

NEW HOUSE ON WEDGEMERE AVENUE SOLD

Gustave A. Josephson, local builder has sold the new residence recently completed at 45 Wedgemere avenue to Earl McK. Wood of this town. The house is of English Colonial design with California stucco and shingle exterior, with slate roof. It contains ten rooms, four tiled bath rooms, two fireplaces, chestnut paneled library and a tiled kitchen equipped with every modern convenience including an electric range. In the basement are two large recreation rooms with hardwood floors, laundry and lavatory. The heating system is hot water with oil burner. It has a large screened porch, two car attached garage and over 12,000 square feet of beautifully landscaped grounds at the corner of Wedgemere avenue and Drexel avenue. The Wood family is to occupy their new residence about Sept. 1. Mr. Josephson plans to build three more high grade houses in the same development in the near future.

It is easy to reconcile one's self to modernism when one reflects that even in such a conservative community as Winchester nobody any longer recites "Curfew."

MALDEN B. B. C. DEFEATED MILLIONAIRES

Errors and some questionable judgment nullified "Artie" Johnson's effective pitching last Friday evening and the Millionaires lost their ball game to the Malden B. B. C., 4-2 on the new athletic field before a slim crowd.

Johnson, fork-handed the visitors to death, allowing but three hits, but his mates could do little better with Vets and the Malden errors proved not so costly as those kicked in by the local boys. The summary:

OBSERVATIONS

(By The Observer)

It doesn't help a Winchesterite to live inside his income, if he lives previous to it.

If a Winchester youngster shows considerable talent for gathering dollars, we know which political party he will belong to.

Winchester man who recently had to consult a specialist says the only thing one knows in advance when one visits a specialist is that one has a couple of hundred dollars worth of trouble.

MILLIONAIRES BEAT STAR OF SEA

The Winchester Millionaires came from behind Wednesday evening to defeat the Star of the Sea team of East Boston, 4-3, on Manchester Field with Al Barnard pitching four hit ball.

Red Noble's triple in the fifth, followed by successive hits by M. MacDonnell, Provinzano and R. MacDonnell, scored the tying and winning runs. Leaping catches in the outfield by Noble and Frank Provinzano helped the local cause. The summary:

"Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, August 8.
The Golden Text is: "No man hath seen God at any time, the only-begotten Son, who dwells in him, and he is in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit" (1 John 4:12, 13).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Now there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit. . . . And there are diversities of operations, but it is the same God which worketh all in all. But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal" (1 Corinthians 12:4, 6, 7).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The human capacities are enlarged and perfected in proportion as humbly gains the true conception of man and God. Mortals have a very imperfect sense of the spiritual man and of the infinite range of his thought. To him becomes eternal life" (p. 238).

EASTER EGG-ROLLING ON THE WHITE HOUSE LAWN

Thousands of children and babies, pretty ones, homely ones, mostly white, but some colored, enough to string out into the biggest of Baby Parades, but all mixed up together scrambling about on the grass. More eggshells and more torn newspapers littered the grass than at the biggest of Sunday School picnics. The excitement and band playing of a 4th of July celebration. Such is the Easter egg-rolling party on the White House lawn Easter Monday, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Outside the gate long-eared plush bunnies and gay Easter baskets bob along in the arms of youngsters and adults as the tightly packed queue presses forward.

"You aren't bringing a child? Then you can't enter." The blue-uniformed silver-badged policeman at the gate turns the childless adults back. Some of these "hire out" as admission tickets for the children.

Inside the gate and all over the grounds—mobs of children and adults, all in gay costumes, gayly striped skirts and aprons, powdered shawls and flowered caps on pale blonde hair. Two little Polish girls run by with a swish of flowered skirts, the fringed silks carved about their heads streaming in the wind, their many bead necklaces swinging.

The crowd presses thickest near the White House Portico where news photographers are at camera, waiting for the President to appear. Nearby stands a newsreel truck and a Red Cross ambulance. The crowd gathers in another knot around the bandstand, laughing at the clown's antics; and in still another knot about the fountain, and then raves off in the distance, by the fences.

TSINGTAO: ONCE GERMAN PRIDE OF THE EAST

Japanese occupation is not new to the port of Tsingtao, China, where Nippon troops were recently reported to have been denied permission to land by Chinese officials, according to a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

While Germany was busy in Europe during the World War, the city, then under a 99-year lease to the German Government, was occupied by the Japanese until hostilities in Europe ceased, says the bulletin.

Once Provincial Capital

Facing the Yellow Sea, the southern coast of the Shantung Peninsula, Tsingtao has been a city of ups and downs since it was founded long before the Christian era. It has been from time to time a provincial capital as well as a delapidated fishing port.

During the early part of the last century the city suddenly awakened to its commercial importance, and its Chinese inhabitants made some improvements to accommodate new industries, and increased population.

The old walls of the city, built for protection before modern war implements were developed, seemed to groan as buildings and people pressed against their foundations for more room.

Even with this new development, however, Tsingtao was still somewhat ancient, Germany, in 1898, saw the city as a great port, a "German Hong Kong,"—hence the 99-year lease. Its streets were typically oriental, narrow and winding, with alley-like byways running from them in all directions.

Germany Made It Modern Port

The German lease was eight years old when the harbor was opened to foreign trade. In the meantime several thousand Germans moved in. Low, flimsy buildings were torn down or cleared and strengthened. Many new buildings were constructed.

Straight streets and wide boulevards, some of them flanked by shade trees, were laid out. New water and sewage systems were constructed, granite piers built out in the harbor, which had been dredged and marked so that ocean-going vessels could dock and discharge or load cargoes with modern equipment.

When the World War broke, Tsingtao had not only become a modern commercial port along the Chinese coast, but its splendid beaches and new hotel accommodations made it a vacation rendezvous for many residents of foreign colonies in the Orient.

Today Tsingtao is not the German Tsingtao. The Germans blew up its fortifications and demolished many of the mementos of their occupation. Japanese airmen did considerable damage with airplane bombs before Kaiser Wilhelm's soldiers were captured and sent to Japan as war prisoners. In nearly two decades, now, under oriental ownership, much of the German aspect has been overshadowed by the result of Japanese and Chinese influence, yet Tsingtao still is one of China's leading ports.

A branch railroad links it with the interior and the important Peiping-Nanking line at Shantung's provincial capital, Tsinan. It is one of the nearest Chinese ports to Japan.

Since Tsingtao's return to China, only three Chinese ports remain under European rule: Kwangchow, which is French; Macau, Portuguese; and Hong Kong, British. All of them are on China's southern coast.

BERMUDA ENTERS THE AIR PICTURE

Opening of regular passenger air service between the United States and Bermuda continues. At present, spotlight on the tiny, semi-tropical British colony out in the open Atlantic, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Vesatile Bermuda thus adds to its role of health, pleasure and yachting center, an important function as a "stepping stone" on the projected southern transatlantic air route, the bulletin continues.

The 770-mile section between Port Washington, N. Y., and Hamilton, Bermuda, is in operation, and the traffic is being shared by Pan American Airways and the British Imperial Airways.

Although Bermuda is such a tiny pinprick on the map of the Atlantic Ocean that radio directional beams are needed to guide modern flying boats to its shores, in earlier days it was a thorn in the side of the mariners. Since its discovery, Juan de Bermudez, piled his ship up on its treacherous coral reefs in 1515, Bermuda has been the scene of countless shipwrecks, extending down to last year when the Spanish liner Cristofal Colon was lost off North Rock.

Channels dredged through reefs, powerful lighthouses and other navigational aids, however, have virtually eliminated hazards to navigation, and today thousands of tourists from the United States, Canada and England visit the little mid-ocean island group annually.

Visitors returning to Bermuda after an absence of several years will notice a number of changes in the colony. Although automobiles are still forbidden on its public roads, Bermuda now has a 22-mile railroad which links the capital, Hamilton, with both Somerset and St. George's.

Industries are generally barred from the islands, yet Bermuda has some of the largest and finest resort hotels in the world, numerous shops and stores, and a perfume factory. Of increasing importance is its export trade of Easter lilies and early vegetables.

Perhaps the most conspicuous recent change is the new air base on Darrell Island, in the Sound near Hamilton, the capital. One end of this rocky, cedar-covered bed of land has been cleared. Two concrete slipways run up from the blue waters of the Sound to an open space where a huge steel and glass hangar. One of the slipways is from the north and the other is from the south, so that sheltered water is always available for beaching the aircraft and towing them into hangars for repairs of storage. Houses, of the traditional Bermuda "cake frosting" white coral, have been built for the airbase staff.

At the other end of the Colony, in St. George's, the returning traveler may notice large liners anchored within the almost landlocked harbor of the ancient capital of Bermuda. They have entered through the Town Cut, a newly dredged channel, like a miniature Panama Canal, between the main island of St. George's and Paget Island.

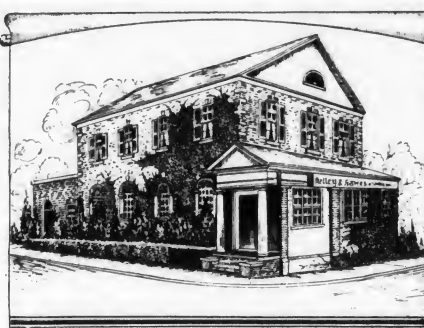

Across St. George's harbor an imposing new steel and concrete bridge now links St. David's, the isle of arrowroot, with St. George's. Just around the corner from this span is the new Biological Station, and also the Bermuda home of the noted scientist, Dr. William Beebe, who conducted many of his deep-sea researches in the bathysphere off the southern coast of Bermuda.

Bermuda will become an even more important air base when the southern transatlantic line is put into operation. The next lap eastward on this route is a 2,240-mile jump to Ponta Delgada, in the Azores, followed by a 900-mile hop to Lisbon, and a 980-mile final link to London.

No plans for the operation of the route beyond Bermuda have been announced, perhaps because no suitable wireless base has yet been established in the Azores. Last year German planes captured from a mother ship, made test flights over this route.

Air bases for clipper ships in the Bermuda service are also being constructed at Baltimore, Maryland, and Charleston, South Carolina.

Meanwhile plans are going forward for a north Atlantic line, following a projected route via the Irish Free State, Newfoundland, New Brunswick, and Montreal or New York. This latter route is shorter than the Bermuda-Azores-Portugal line, but has fewer days of favorable flying weather.

Town of Winchester APPLICATION FOR GARAGE LICENSE
Notice is hereby given that the Board of Selectmen will hold a public hearing on Monday, the 16th day of August 1937, at 7:30 p. m. in their rooms in the Town Hall Building on the application of Volney Reedy Trust for a license to use the land situate and numbered 38 on Pierpont Rd. in the Town of Winchester for the purpose of using thereon a "third class" private garage for the keeping of gasoline in not more than one motor vehicle therein, the proposed location of said garage being as shown on a plan filed with the application.

BACK YARD GARDENER

I don't know just where to begin to tell what happened at the home flower garden meeting up at Anherst last week. My notes are all in a jumble. I've been so blamed busy trying to get the crabgrass out of my lawn that I haven't had a chance to translate them. But I'll have them straightened out by next week and can give you some interesting back yard ideas that I picked up.

First thing I want to speak about is that group of one-act plays. If I'm any judge, the little theatre idea in Massachusetts got a big boost with the presentation of these plays. There was one group from Brockton, one from Belchertown, and one from Granby. As I understand it, they were the high plays in an amateur play writing contest. The purpose of this contest is to stimulate interest in dramatics in rural communities, and I'd say it must have.

These plays were written by amateurs, the casts were amateurs, but only in the sense that they did not get any pay. As far as ability was concerned I'd say they were professional.

Then on Thursday night they had the big amateur contest at the college all decked out to represent a ship and they went on a make believe world cruise with the audience as passengers. And then as the boat landed at various countries, the groups came on to the platform and performed. They had Scottish bag pipers, American square dancers, English folk dances, English Morris dances, Ukrainian, German, Polish and they even had a few dances by Ted Shaw's men dancers.

All of this is provided free for the visitors and the purpose back of it, as I understand it, is to demonstrate what communities can do in the way of providing their own entertainment and at the same time in providing their own recreation, because it certainly would be recreation to be in one of these festivals.

All through the week they had several classes devoted to community organization and recreation, and this included music for clubs and communities, play ground activities, folk games and dances, and community parties.

As I said, I haven't got my notes on Farm and Home Week straightened out, but I do want to take time to answer one question which came in recently. The elm leaves sent in by this person showed what is commonly known as elm leaf spot, and the leaves drop off. The unusually rainy weather of May and June was what made the leaf spot disease develop more than usual. Of course that was true of most plant diseases.

There is nothing that can be done to correct elm leaf spot now. This fall and summer, the thing to do is to destroy the old diseased leaves by burning. In the spring when the young leaves begin to come out and are most susceptible to infection, you can prevent infection by spraying with Bordeaux mixture. Use what is known as the 4-4-5 mixture and put it on at 10-day intervals.

GULF APPOINTS WINTERGUST TO ITS AUTO RACING STAFF

"Big Ed" Wintergust, one of the most beloved and colorful figures in the automobile racing game for the last 17 years, has been named official auto racing representative of the Gulf Oil Corporation.

Announcement of Wintergust's appointment, to take effect at once, has been made by Mr. H. P. Hobart, general manager, lubricating oil sales. His duties will be to keep in close contact with racing events and the racing fraternity throughout the year, and to promote the use of Gulf fuels and lubricants at all major races and record-making runs which operate under sanction from the American Automobile Association.

Probably no other person connected with the speedways enjoys the friendship and confidence of as many famous racing drivers as Edward F. Wintergust. As a veteran follower of the racing game, "Big Ed" has had a "shanty" at practically all major speedway garages for nearly two decades, and when tough luck overtakes drivers and mechanics they always can count on him for a sympathetic hearing.

Earlier in the year Harry A. Miller, famous builder of racing engines, was appointed to head Gulf's Experimental Engine Division and the appointment of Wintergust rounds out Gulf's representation on the speedways of the nation. Wintergust will be attached to the staff of the Experimental Engine Division.

Among the outstanding American race drivers who have looked to "Uncle" Ed for advice and assistance on fuels and lubricants in preparing for races are Bill Cummings, Louis Meyer, Ted Horn, Kelly Pettillo, Billy DeVore, Billy Winn, Chet Gardner, Chet Miller and many others. Unlike many of the old timers who now follow the races as engineers, manufacturers' representatives, AAA stewards, etc., Big Ed was never a race driver, but his long connection with the game and his wide popularity have won him an uncontented position in racing's hall of fame.

GRANADA ATTRACTIONS

Martha Raye and Bob Burns in "Mountain Music" will headline the bill opening at the Granada Theatre in Malden today. "Mountain Music" is a perfect vehicle for the talents of Miss Raye and Bob Burns. Bob plays a moon boy who has an unfortunate habit of losing his memory whenever he's hit on the head. He only snaps back to normal when he is liberally splashed with large quantities of water, and does Martha Raye give him water. Burns meets Martha Raye after he has run away from home to avoid being married off to Terry Walker, with whom his brother, played by John Howard, is in love. Bob has lost his memory and finds himself in possession of an expensive car, lots of cash, and a driver's license issued to Hamilton Lovelace. He thinks he is Lovelace, and from this point on, everything goes completely wild. Every so often Bob gets slapped in the face with a pail of water, recovers his memory and can't stand the sight of Martha Raye. Then she cooks him on the head and presto he is in love with her again. The police are on the trail of Lovelace for swindling and finally catch up with Bob. Then Bob hears he is needed in his home town to prove that John Howard did not kill him. The climax shows Martha Raye doing a comedy routine that is one of the funniest scenes ever filmed.

"The 13th Chair," with Dime May Whitty, Madge Evans, Lewis Stone, Elissa Landi, Thomas Beck, Henry Daniell, Janet Beecher, Ralph Forbes and Holmes Herbert, is the second attraction on the bill starting today. "The 13th Chair" is grim mystery among a group of people gathered round a table for a seance, and the solution of a baffling murder by the use of a second seance, with the murder weapon's location known only by the audience. The film is a screen version of the famous Bayard Veiller stage drama. Thirteen people are seated in a room where the seance is in progress. In the darkness one of them is killed. No one enters or leaves the room and the knife is missing. The clearing up of the mystery is a surprise. A tender romance threads its way into action, enhancing the interest of the narrative.

READING THEATRE

Bette Davis, the film star, sings for the first time in her movie career—in "Kid Galahad," in which she appears next Sunday at the Reading Theatre for three days with Edward G. Robinson, Humphrey Bogart, Jane Bryan and Wayne Morris.

"Kid Galahad" is a drama of the prize ring and its atmospheric background. It co-stars Edward G. Robinson as a manager of fighters, and Miss Davis as his girl friend. The title role is played by a sensational newcomer, Wayne Morris, who has a delightful romance with a new Warner Bros. leading lady, Jane Bryan.

Michael Curtiz directed the picture from a screen play by Seton I. Miller, based on a magazine serial by Francis Wallace.

After scoring such a resounding hit with her ambulance-siren scenes in "The Great Hospital Mystery," Joan Davis changed it to a police car alarm for "Angel's Holiday," 20th Century-Fox hit opening also Sunday at the Reading Theatre, with Jane Withers starred. Robert Kent and Sally Blane supply the romantic interest despite the mischievous shenanigans of La Withers, Hollywood's ace trouble-fun maker.

WAKEFIELD THEATRE TIME SCHEDULES

Friday and Saturday, Aug. 6, 7, "Woman Chases Man," 3:50, 9:20; "The Man Who Found Himself," 2:20, 7:50.

Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Aug. 8, 9, 10, "Kid Galahad," 3:25, 8:50; "Ready to Serve," 2:35, 8:10. Sunday matinee at 3.

Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 11, 12, "Slim," 3:40, 9:10; "Mama Steps Out," 2:24, 7:54.

"MOUNTAIN MUSIC" AT THE UNIVERSITY

America's fastest growing comedy team—Bob Burns and Martha Raye—are co-starring for the first time in "Mountain Music," a gay story of love among the hillbillies which opens Sunday at the University Theatre. Teamed for the first time, accidentally in the Bing Crosby musical hit, "Rhythm on the Range," Burns and Miss Raye have climbed to the top as funmakers despite the fact that they have appeared together in only three pictures to date and were "teamed" in only two of these. "Mountain Music" is ideally suited for Burns' unique talents. Written by MacKinley Kantor, author of "The Voice of Bugle Anne," and other noted film stories and novels, its locale is in the ozark mountain region, the country from which Burns hails and which he made famous over the air and in his writings as the home of the great American hillbilly. Its cast includes John Howard, Terry Walker, George Hayes, Rufe Davis, Spencer, and many others.

"Let's Get Married," a rollicking romantic comedy based on the Saturday Evening Post story by A. H. Z. Carr, with an extremely talented cast headed by Ida Lupino, Walter Connolly and Ralph Bellamy, is the companion feature.

On Wednesday, Review Day, the program includes "San Francisco" co-starring Jeanette MacDonald and Clark Gable and "The Smartest Girl in Town" featuring Ann Sothern and Gene Raymond.

"Elephant Boy," Alexander Korda's film version of Rudyard Kipling's "Tomal of the Elephants," comes Thursday. Filmed in the course of a two year expedition into the heart of the Indian jungles, headed by Robert Flaherty, famous explorer-director who gave us the memorable "Nanook of the North," "Tabu" and "Man of Aran" and his co-director, Zoltan Korda, "Elephant Boy" is described as one of the most thrilling natural background pictures ever to reach the screen. The picture introduces a new type of screen team in Sabu, the 12 year old native Indian boy who plays the title role, and Iravatha, who is said to be the world's largest elephant. Ambitious to become a great elephant hunter like his grandfather, the child is permitted to accompany his father into the jungle on an elephant hunt and the story depicts in thrilling terms how he, with the aid of his elephant, discovers and helps capture a herd of 50 wild elephants.

Nine good sized eggs are equal to a pound.

STRAND THEATRE, MALDEN

"The Great Gambini," with Akim Tamiroff, Marian Marsh, John Trent, Reginald Denny and Genevieve Tobin as the stars will head the double bill opening at the Strand Theatre in Malden today. "The Great Gambini" is a thrill packed mystery with Akim Tamiroff in the title role. Tamiroff is the star attraction at a swanky night club. When Tamiroff proposes that Marian Marsh, planning to be married the next day, will not be married as planned, it is first considered a bad joke, but when the fiancé is found murdered the next morning, the case takes on a more serious aspect. Everybody in the film is under suspicion. Tamiroff, Miss Marsh, her disappointed suitor, John Trent; her father, Reginald Denny; her step-mother, Genevieve Tobin. Tamiroff calmly takes delight in pointing out clues to a pair of goody detectives, Edward Brophy and William Demarest, and then, just as they are about to arrest the whole party, he shows just as calmly and conclusively, that nobody there could have possibly committed the crime. The picture reaches its climax with one of the most novel twists ever brought to the screen, in which the murderer is revealed and the romance between Miss Marsh and John Trent is brought to a happy end.

"Sing and Be Happy," with Tony Martin, radio favorite, Joan Davis, Leah Ray, Helen Westley, Dixie Dunbar, Allan Lane and Luis Alberni as the stars, is the second attraction on the bill starting today. This is a lively musical comedy which exposes the rivalry between two advertising agencies each seeking a large radio account. The song hits include "What A Beautiful Beginning," "Travelin' Light," "When I Hear You Tell Me You Love Me," "Pickles," and "Sing and Be Happy." Tony Martin is rapidly becoming the biggest favorite on the air.

"Racketeers in Exile," with George Bancroft, Evelyn Venable and Wynne Gibson as the stars heads the bill for next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. George Bancroft is cast as a racketeer who becomes a fake evangelist. Eventually, Washington gets on his trail but not until there has been considerable excitement and suspense. "Nobody's Baby," with Patsy Kelly and Lyda Roberti as the stars, will be the second attraction on the current program.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

The annual baseball trip to Boston took place on Thursday last when over 175 youngsters attended the Red Sox-St. Louis baseball game as guests of the intown club. We are particularly anxious to express our appreciation of the transportation aid given to us by the following motor dealers: the Bonnell Company, the Luckenbach Company and the Lake Motor Sales Co.

The senior baseball league has completed its first half schedule with the standing of the clubs as follows: Elks, Rotary, Lions, Pirates and the American Legion. A playoff system, similar to the type used in professional hockey has been devised in order that each team could improve its standing. This playoff has been in operation for the past week with surprising results. The Rotary topped the Elks in the opening game and as a result are leading the league. Tim Connors pitched a great game as he let down the heavy hitting Elks with two hits. At this point it appears that the Rotary are safely in first place.

The winner and runner-up of the first half schedule have been invited by the Bees management to attend a baseball game on Aug. 24.

The tennis tournament which has been in progress during the past week at Loring avenue and Leonard Field has set a new record for the number of participants. Seventy-seven have enrolled at Loring avenue and 36 at Leonard Field. The winners of the various classes will meet at Loring avenue on field day for the final round.

Bob Callahan, Brother Post and Guy De Fippio have provided the upsets. Bob defeated Tim Connors, three time winner of the 11 year old class by an 8-6, 4-6, 8-6 score. Guy throwing form to the winds slid to a shoeless 6-4, 6-4 victory over Eddie Haggerty. Brother Post similarly conceded his opponent Bill Spaine a victory on paper and then fooled himself by winning a startling 10-8, 6-3 game.

Goatherd's Discovery

The site of the oracle at Delphi, Greece, was discovered, legend says, by a goatherd who found his herd crying and prancing wildly about a chasm from which issued a stream of intoxicating air. The priestesses who made the prophecies of the oracle used to sit over this, but either the chasm itself was legendary or it has disappeared.

SMITH-NASH

In a setting of palms, white gladioli and delphinium, at the Unitarian Church on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 7, Miss Margaret Louise Nash, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Curtis W. Nash of Lawson road, became the bride of Robert Moors Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Smith of Wolcott terrace. Rev. John Nicol Mark, minister of the Unitarian Church in Arlington, performed the marriage ceremony at 4.30 o'clock, and the wedding music was played by the church organist, Kenneth Moffat.

Miss Nash was given in marriage by her father and had for her honor attendant her sister, Miss Miriam Nash of this town. Miss Janet W. Smith, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Anita M. Wilson of Winchester, Miss Susanne Sanders of Melrose, Miss Mary Brewster of Cambridge, Miss Margaret Peabody of East Orange, N. J., and Miss Helen Hansen of Evanston, Ill., were bridesmaids.

The bride wore a white tulle gown with a white mouseline de la mer and a white veil of tulle. She carried a shower bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Her honor attendant wore a gown of delphinium blue Swiss dotted with white, and a white veil of tulle. The bridesmaids were gowned alike in white Swiss, dotted with blue, and they too wore lagoon hats and carried bouquets similar to those of the honor maid.

Francis E. Smith, Jr., of Winchester was his brother's best man, and the corps of ushers included another brother, Lyman Smith of Winchester, Stanley Neill, Joseph Dobson and James B. Willing, all of this town; Frank O. Adams of Arlington and John Page of Boston.

A reception was held in the church parlors after the ceremony. The bride and groom were assisted in receiving by the bride's father and the bridegroom's father.

Upon their return from a wedding journey Mr. Smith and his bride are to make their home in Boston. The bride is a graduate of Smith College in the class of 1936. Mr. Smith prepared for college at Brown and Nichols School, was graduated from Dartmouth in 1934 and is now studying at the Harvard Medical School, where he will commence his senior year in the fall. He is a member of the Sphinx Society, the Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity and the Winchester County Club.

WIRES IN CENTER TO BE REMOVED

In connection with the rebuilding of the center and the installation of new traffic signals and the removal of Selectmen have felt that the idea of clearing the square could be still further carried out by the removal of the large number of wires carried through over the square. To this end negotiations have been underway for some time.

It is now announced that this project has reached a satisfactory conclusion, and that the wires will be placed underground by September 1st. This will make a decided improvement in the appearance of the square.

In connection with the removal of the wires, the Railroad Highway Department will afford adequate space in front of the buildings on what was formerly Railroad avenue, and will allow additional parking space along shore road at the playground. This has been taken up by the Selectmen with the Railroad in a request for the removal of the present gate-tenders shanty, the idea being to place a shelter of more pleasing architecture at the north end of the crossing. If this is done the gates will be motor operated under the charge of one man.

ENGAGEMENT OF WINCHESTER INTEREST

Mr. and Mrs. Albion L. Danforth of Boston and Oyster Harbors, formerly of Winchester, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marjorie Danforth, to Frederick B. Rice of Needham. The announcement is being made at a dinner to be given tonight by Mr. and Mrs. Danforth at the Oyster Harbors Club in Oyster Harbor. Miss Danforth was graduated from the May School in Boston and attended the Knox School in Cooperstown, N. Y. Mr. Rice was graduated from Harvard College in 1931 and is now of the firm of Cheney-Rice, Inc.

FORMER HIGH SCHOOL ASSISTANT GOES TO MICHIGAN

Mr. Robert Friery of Arlington, who three years ago was assistant to Coach Wendell Mansfield at Winchester High School and who is well known in this town because he has been appointed basketball coach and assistant football coach at Cranbrook School in Bloomfield, Michigan, one of, if not the most heavily endowed school in the country. In addition to teaching duties he will teach Physical Education. During the last year he has been at Tilton School in New Hampshire.

ST. AMBROSE HERE TONIGHT

The fast stepping St. Ambrose nine of Dorchester comes to Winchester tonight for a game with the Millionaires on Manchester Field commencing at 6.15.

The visitors hold a 6-5 victory over the Star of the Sea team of East Boston, a club the locals defeated recently 4-3. A good game should be the result of tonight's meeting.

HEAVY STORM SUNDAY EVENING

The hot and sultry weather of the week-end culminated last Sunday afternoon in a thunder shower which brought heavy rainfall, exceeded however by a second storm which broke shortly before eight o'clock and continued for about an hour.

There was a drenching downpour during the second storm which was also marked by sharp flashes of lightning and heavy thunder. In several places in the center, notably in front of the Fire Station and at the junction of Waterfield road and the Parkway, the water reached from curb to curb, and heavy stones from the foundation of the new parking space constructed this spring at the First Congregational Church were washed with much of the gravel down Vine street.

A bad cave-in was reported on Walnut street, and a small tree was uprooted near Sheffield West. Another depression caused by a washout was found on Main street near Symmes Grain Mill and there were small tree breakers in several places about town.

Lightning struck the residence of Mr. R. W. A. Hopper on Wildwood street, a bolt ripping its way through the piazza roof and following a conductor to the ground, where it leaped six feet to a sillcock and smashed through into the cellar.

Members of Mr. Hopper's family were seated within six feet of where the bolt struck and were badly startled. Fortunately no one was injured and there was no fire started. As a matter of fact, the lights in the house were not even dimmed by the crash.

There were two alarms of fire during the height of the storm. The first from Box 542 was for a fire in an automobile on Pond street, and the second from Box 542 was for a fire in an automobile, this time on Harvard street near Florence street. Both fires were caused by short circuits in the wiring systems caused by the heavy rain, and did little damage. The firemen, however, answering the alarms on their unprotected trucks were drenched by the downpour.

MRS. RUTH R. ESTES

Mrs. Ruth E. Estes, wife of Alton W. Estes of 74 Marble street, Stoneham, chairman of the Stoneham Board of Public Welfare, died at the New England Sanitarium on Sunday, Aug. 8, after an illness of more than five months.

Mrs. Estes, the former Ruth Sleeper was born in Winchester, Nov. 20, 1885. She was the daughter of Charles H. and the late Gertrude (Whitney) Sleeper. She attended the local schools and was widely known among the town's young people. She had a pleasing soprano voice and will be remembered as having taken leading roles in several of the musicals shows staged some years ago by the Calumet Club. She was prominent in musical circles in and around Boston, having sang with the Cecilia Society for several years and later with the Winchester Choral Society.

She married Alton W. Estes May 9, 1916, and had made her home in Stoneham for the past 23 years. Besides her husband she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Roland J. Carter, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Stoneham, officiating. The burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

An early spring wedding is planned.

Combes, of 157 Highland avenue and C. With half the students listed as teachers there is still a total of 79 different occupations listed by those enrolled.

TWO BREAKS REPORTED

Two breaks, thought to have taken place during Monday night were reported to the Police Tuesday morning. Superintendent Thomas McGowan of the Park Department reported that the door to the bath-house at Leonard Field Beach had been forced, and the place ransacked. A checkup disclosed only a baseball missing.

The second break occurred at the old spindle factory on Main street now operated by the Kelley Oil Sales Company. There lockers were forced open and some valuable tools stolen.

SEARCHED FOR BODY THROUGH THE WEEK

The search for the body of the young man believed drowned in Mystic Lake a week ago Thurs., has been continued steadily by the Metropolitan Police. At first there was some doubt that he actually died down but no trace has been found. To him around Boston and his coat with a valuable watch and some letters came ashore at Sandy Beach on Saturday morning. He had this coat over his arm when he left the Modford Boat Club pier. Police think that he drowned in a section of the lake which is just over the line in Medford. All day long in the morning the police have continued to drag and have brought up some interesting things. They brought to the surface the miniature sailboat which cost a number of hundred dollars and was lost about four years ago. C. McCormick was about to sail for England at the time it was lost to enter it in an international race. He engaged a diver after dragging failed to locate it but the diver knew where it was. The bottom in the deep mud also failed to locate it. They also brought the rigging of a sail boat and must be believed to be that of the sloop owned by a Mr. Sargent. This sloop, which was the largest boat known to be on Mystic Lake, overturned and sank one Sunday about thirty years ago. It contained his coat with a gold watch and cost over $100 and continued to drift in the lake until it was where it sank in about 90 feet of water. A large reward was offered for placing a buoy on it but it never was located. During all these years the ship has decayed so as to be valueless.

RETIRED CLERK OF SELECTMEN TENDERED DINNER

Proceeding Monday evening's meeting of the Board of Selectmen, the members of the Board, town Counsel Addison R. Pike, and the newly appointed clerk of Selectmen, George W. Franklin, gave a dinner at the County Club in honor of the retiring clerk, Donald R. Waugh, who is shortly to leave Winchester to accept a responsible position in New York City.

The entire Board, Co-Chairmen W. Allan Wilde and James J. Fitzgerald, Mr. Sargent, Mr. H. C. McCormick and Richard W. MacAdams, was present and each member praised the service rendered by Mr. Waugh during his incumbency.

After dinner an informal hour was spent around the table and as the party prepared to leave for the town hall Mr. Wilde, on behalf of the gathering, presented Mr. Waugh with a handsome briefcase, marked with his initials in gold.

Following the Selectmen's meeting the Board adjourned to the home of Mr. McCormick on Wedgemere avenue, where light refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

"ARTIE" JOHNSON TO JOIN BEES

"Artie" Johnson, tall left-handed pitcher of the Millionaires and former Winchester High School pitcher, will join the team of the Boston Bees. He has an interest upon his graduation from high school next year.

The Bees now plan to send "Artie" to Zanesville, Ohio, when he finishes his high school course, but advised the local youth by all means to get his diploma before considering organized ball.

"Artie," who was ineligible for high school ball this spring, has been working out with the Bees regularly and has shown cagey "Jack" Onslow enough to warrant the Bees keeping a string upon his pitching services.

If Johnson will take the game of baseball seriously and work as he will have to work if he wishes to stay with the Bees, there are few who doubt his ability to make at least the minor league grade. When he is right and bearing down he has about everything a pitcher needs to start up the ladder.

MISS DOHERTY SHOWERED

Miss Mary A. Doherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick W. Doherty of "Canal street," who was married to James F. Finnerty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick F. Finnerty of Main street, Woburn, will take place on Sunday afternoon, was given a miscellaneous shower by a large group of friends at her home on Monday evening.

After the gifts had been opened and Miss Doherty had expressed her appreciation, talented guests contributed an entertainment program, and refreshments were served.

Miss Doherty is a graduate of St. Mary's High School and of Higgins Commercial School. She is a member of St. Mary's Alumnae. Mr. Finnerty is a graduate of Woburn High School and is in business in Woburn.

CHANGED HIS MIND

It was shortly after 4 o'clock Monday morning when Patrolman John H. Boyle of the Police Department met a youngster trudging along north Main street in the direction of the center. In response to the officer's inquiry he gave his name and an address in Everett, adding that he had run away from home, but had changed his mind and had decided to return.

Further questioning elicited the information that the young wanderer had progressed as far as Swanton and Main streets before experiencing his change of heart. He had slightly more than $12 in his possession.

Officer Boyle took the boy to Headquarters where he was glad to sit down and rest until the arrival of his mother to take him back home.

TURTLE OBSTRUCTS HIGHWAY

Motorists reported a large snapping turtle sunning himself on Main street at Lake street Wednesday afternoon shortly before 2.30. The reptile was of sufficient proportions to constitute a menace to vehicular traffic and none dared to dispute his right to occupy the highway.

Patrolman William E. Cassidy was sent to investigate and after verifying the turtle's size and willingness to fight for his rights, the patrolman by thrusting a large stick in front of the reptile's nose. Instantly the powerful jaws clamped upon it, and laying out not a little strength, Officer Cassidy dragged the turtle to nearby Wedge Pond where he was shoved into the water.

ARRESTED AFTER ATTEMPTED ESCAPE

Last Friday afternoon at 4.30, while on duty on Cambridge street near Everett avenue, Motorcycle Officer Winthrop Palmer stopped a truck when the driver violated a traffic regulation, and upon talking with the man, decided that he was not in fit condition to operate his vehicle.

Taking the key of the truck with him, Officer Palmer went to a nearby Police Box to telephone for a cruiser, as it would be difficult to take in a tipsy prisoner on a regulation Police motorcycle.

Returning to the truck to await the cruiser, he found that the driver had departed, leaving no address. However, when the cruiser arrived Officer Palmer and Patrolman John J. Dolan cruised about a bit, and finally, with the assistance of Patrolman D. Irving Reardon, picked up the man on Everett avenue near Bacon street. At Headquarters he was booked as James O'Brien of 30 Hampshire street, Somerville. He appeared in the Woburn Court Saturday morning and was found guilty of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, being sentenced to serve two months in the House of Correction with sentence suspended. An official of the company owning the truck, The New England Dressed Beef & Wool Company of Somerville came to Winchester with a driver and took the machine away.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

Arthur W. Loftus, 5 Meadowcroft road was drawn to serve as juror in the Superior Civil Court at Cambridge, to appear September 7.

The Board has requested the Edison company to install an 80 c. p. light at the corner of Highland View road and Cross street.

In response to complaints made by numerous citizens of Winchester living in the vicinity of Baldwin, East and Holton streets, to the effect that their properties were showered with rocks by an excessive blast at the stone quarry of the General Crushed Stone Company, and further that their properties have allegedly been damaged by excessive vibration, the Board invited Mr. Otto M. Graves, president of the General Crushed Stone Company and his associates to meet them at their meeting last Monday night, at which time the Board attempted to represent the residents in that vicinity and try to bring about some more co-operative idea between this business enterprise which employs many Winchester people, and the owners of residences in that neighborhood.

Mr. Graves evidenced an entirely cooperative attitude and it seems as if the Board's interest in this matter would be rewarded by a greater tendency toward cooperation and ultimate satisfaction of the Winchester residents who live in this vicinity.

With regard to the dangerous corner at Washington street and Mystic Valley Parkway, the Board has received from Mr. E. F. Copwell, Traffic Engineer of the Department of Public Works, recommendations for the installation of traffic control signals, provided the Metropolitan District Commission is agreeable. The matter is to be given further careful study and may be referred to next year's budget appropriation for street beacons.

Advertising That Lives Longer

When you lock the doors of your store tonight, will your business remain at a standstill until you reopen tomorrow morning?

Your salesmen go home for a night's rest. You try to forget your business cares for a few hours. But there is no reason why you should not be storing up sales for tomorrow.

An advertisement in the weekly newspaper will cause hundreds of people to think of your store tonight, will prevent your business from being forgotten while the doors are locked. People who are reading advertisements tonight will make purchases tomorrow. Night doesn't bring stagnancy in the store whose owner advertises in the weekly newspaper.

You can't send salesmen to local homes at night. They wouldn't be welcomed. But you can have an efficient personal representative in local homes every night in the year. An advertisement in the weekly newspaper goes into homes you and your salesmen have never visited. It works for you while you and your salesmen are asleep.

Locked doors need not mean suspended activity on your part. The weekly newspaper will find customers for you while your store is dark. People read the weekly newspaper at night as well as in daylight. Let the weekly newspaper prevent people from forgetting you at night.

Advertising in the weekly newspaper LIVES LONGER—therefore it is the most profitable form of newspaper advertising.

The WINCHESTER STAR is a WEEKLY NEWSPAPER.

By Alfred A. Fraser

Iris should be given a top dressing of bone meal.

Cut delphinium that has flowered half down—feed with bonemeal for a second blossoming.

When watering soak well, don't sprinkle.

Keep spraying roses.

Crab grass is a weed with broad light green leaf blades and is an annual. Before mowing pull it up with a rake so as to get the seed pods. Every plant produces two hundred thousand seeds.

Water dahlias thoroughly so their stems won't get woody and hard, thus lessening flowering.

Keep your window boxes watered. Zinnias, marigolds and some other annuals will flower more freely if the center bud is picked off.

You take a chance in planting gladioli bulbs—but possibly you'll have flowers before frost.

Cut away water sprouts or suckers on fruit trees.

The following perennials can be sown now—hollyhocks, digitalis, delphinium, sweet william, lupin, forget-me-nots, and pyrethrum.

Spray naturiums with any contact insecticide to control aphids. Get it up under the leaves.

Keep gladioli well watered so that the stalks won't wilt in warm weather and not straighten out—thus giving crooked stems.

Cut delphiniums back after flowering.

Superphosphate, bonemeal or a balanced fertilizer can be worked in around the plants and they may bloom again.

Geraniums flower better if kept on the dry side.

OBSERVATIONS

By The Observer

Learning is not the hard part. The hard part is unlearning untruths.

The real business of teeth is to chew; not, as one might suppose, to serve as a diagnosis.

There is a woman here in Winchester who is said not to enjoy the radio because it is all listening.

OBSERVATIONS

(By The Observer)

A Winchester girl may be as fair to see as apple trees in May. Her winning smile as free from guile as some sweet child at play. Sweet and demure, Age may abjure Flirting—but not, old top There ain't many in fair Winchester.

Many will agree with that Winchester fellow who says that better a brown gravy stain on one's lap than an ash burn.

So long as conscience outstrips convenience, civilization is fairly safe.

Winchester fellow says that if women keep on smoking as they do before long we may expect to see them chewing tobacco.

Believe it or not, there are automobile drivers right here in Winchester who think that tooting the horn relieves them of all responsibility for what happens.

A conservative Winchesterite is the fellow who can't see the rotten limb on a tree so long as he can pick plums.

Full time—the idle toper's.

Far and near—distant stingy relatives.

Some people here in Winchester cannot even indulge in small talk without using a lot of big words.

No Winchester girl is willing to be the sunlight of a man's life unless he thinks she casts all the others in the shade.

Winchesterites who are old sigh not for glads of youth. They fain would veil the time-worn effluvia. Weren't they dwell, in colors indistinct, As lothens shield the starkness of old trees, Winchester's old ask no place in the revealing sun.

Just a secluded corner dim and cool; There life's loud tumults fade in quiet gloom. Like mists of evening soothe a storm swept pool. Place in their hands an oldish book, well worn (One they oft read ere grew dull), of worth. Wherein are thoughts their hearts alone intoned. Another, less mute gave them happy birth.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

Vegetables and fruits are both plentiful and comparatively low in price. Other good values are to be found in butter, cheese and eggs. Fish prices, too, are reasonable.

All meats are high with pork at the top, beef and veal intermediate and lamb the best value available. Ducklings are now the most attractive buy in the poultry market.

Peaches, pears and plums are in full season. Apples are again plentiful together with melons, huckleberries, nectarines and lemons. Corn and lima beans, potatoes and tomatoes are the outstanding vegetables now in market.

The following menus call for seasonable and reasonable foods.

Braised Lamb Shanks Potatoes
Creamed Carrots and Peas
Bread and Butter

Medium Cost Dinner
Roast Duckling Sweet Potatoes
Baked Stuffed Tomatoes

OUR MODERN AGE

STILL UNCONTROLLED

The present Federal Administration is not the first to think about and act upon crop control. The question can never affect one crop alone, but involves the relation of one crop to every other. When the production of one decreases, another increases and vice versa. The solution seems to lie in the increasing of home-purchasing power and the leveling of trade barriers.

The experts of Falls Plumbing & Heating Co., 656 Main St., hold the solution to your plumbing problems. Whether your needs are big or small, if they involve modernization of your present system or the installation of a complete new plumbing plant, it will be to your advantage to consult them today. GIRL SCOUT CAMP NOTES

After colors the girls were divided into two groups. One group had a play rehearsal under the trees, while the other group was having archery. After this the girls busied themselves getting the fires ready for the ever popular "corn boil." The old adage "A watched pot never boils" certainly proved true but finally after ignoring the kettles for a while the corn was pronounced ready to be eaten. The corn was delicious and disappeared rapidly. Rest hour was welcomed after the warm and exciting morning.

During "rest hour" we were pleasantly surprised by a visit from Mrs. Gilbert Tapley, Miss Ruth Tapley, Miss Claire Tapley, of this town, and Miss Anne Kavanagh of Delaware. The girls entertained our guests by presenting several folk dances and a variety of other fine hand craft articles they had made.

All afternoon the girls were busy with their craft only stopping long enough to enjoy the ice cold lemonade, before capers, and the "Good-night Caners."

Tuesday, August 10. The last Treasure Hunt was so popular that the girls requested another one. This was the big event of the morning.

The first one to spy the treasure was Phyllis Russell, Elinor Murphy was second, and Alice Davis third. The treasure was two huge baskets of peaches and was enjoyed by all.

The first heavy shower since camp began kept the campers in the cabin for the most of the afternoon.

After the Craft Hour an exciting Clothes Pin Game took place. Each girl was given 10 clothes pins, and she tried to see how many she could drop into a milk bottle which was placed on the floor. Miriam Welsh's team won. The largest individual score was made by Alice Davis, who succeeded in getting 5 into the bottle.

We were pleased to have Mrs. Harold Farnsworth and Mrs. Miriam Stockwell as our visitors for the day.

Wednesday, August 11. Colors was followed by a rehearsal of the songs in Robin Hood. Then the girls participated in the folk dances. Several new girls have enrolled since August 1, and it is necessary to have several rehearsals of folk dances before our demonstration on closing day.

A very interesting and exciting game of volley ball was played. Alice Davis was the captain of the Reds and Mary McCall of the Blues. The score was 3-1 in favor of the Reds.

Mrs. Lowell Smith and Mrs. Howell Stillman were our hostesses, preparing some delicious grilled hot dogs. These hot lunches are most appreciated. The Girl Scouts are most appreciative of this splendid work which these ladies have been doing.

After Rest Hour the rest of the afternoon was spent in craft work.

We were pleased to have a visit from Mrs. E. Russell Murphy, just before camp closed for the day.

On Tuesday, August 17, another Amateur Radio Hour will be held.

GREAT ST. BERNARD PASS GUARDED BY MONKS AND DOGS

Heroic rescues performed by canine ancestors have saved the lives of the famous dogs belonging to the St. Bernard Hospice in the Swiss Alps. Faced with extermination because one of their number recently ran amuck and killed a little girl, the pack of huge St. Bernards was allowed to live because of the breed's previous service to man.

For centuries these orange- and white dogs have sought out and guided to the hospice travelers who had become lost or exhausted in snow-storms while trying to cross the Alps.

The Great St. Bernard Pass, where the dogs live, provides a short cut through the Alps from Martigny, Switzerland to Aosta, Italy, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Monks Use Skis
In former times, many travelers crossing this pass on foot died en route, exhausted by snow and cold, buried under avalanches or swallowed up by crevasses. It was to prevent such disasters that Bernard de Menthon, a priest of Aosta, founded a hospice near the summit of the pass in about 962.

Destroyed by fire and storms several times, the hospice has been rebuilt and enlarged until now it is composed of several buildings, one of which is an Augustinian monastery, and another of which functions as a hotel for summer tourists. Situated more than 8,000 feet above sea level, the monastery is one of the highest permanent all-year habitations in Europe.

The air is so rare and raw that few of the monks can live here for more than a dozen years without developing rheumatism and heart disease. Then they have to be sent down to the Order's headquarters at Martigny.

Even the dogs become rheumatic in winter, snow piles up nearly to the eaves of the monastery, gales beat against its massive walls and small windows, and pine logs brought up the previous summer, blaze on granite hearths. The monks, expert skiers in mountaineering costumes, patrol their rounds searching for travelers lost in drifts. Sometimes the St. Bernards are sent out alone to search.

They have to be sent down to the Order's headquarters at Martigny.

Monks Build New Hospice in Tibet
About fifteen dogs are kept at the hospice, and more at Martigny. The best dog of each generation is named Barry after the hospice's most famous St. Bernard. The original Barry

MILLIONAIRES BLANKED WILTON

A big fifth inning, when 7 hits and a base on balls accounted for 6 runs, gave the Winchester Millionaires a 6-0 win over the Wilton, N. H., team, at Wilton last Sunday afternoon.

"Artie" Johnson held Wilton safely until he retired because of the heat, being relieved by "Red" MacDonnell.

Wilton threatened in the 9th when R. McGrath, promising Bees school player left off with a hit, but no damage was done, MacDonnell hearing down to retire the next three batters on infield grounders. The summary:

Just so we wouldn't have a chance to get lonesome, workmen have been busy this week constructing a protective curbing around the coming traffic beacon which is to be erected to the north of the gate-tender's shanty. And they say, "it won't be long now," before construction crews will be at work again upon the crossing in the center.

A correspondent suggests to the Star that if the authorities are looking for worth-while projects to be undertaken in Winchester, they might well give consideration to the possibility of eliminating rag-weed from within our borders. There is no doubt that rag-weed causes acute annoyance to sufferers from hay fever and those persecuted with this disease would unquestionably go strongly on record as favoring its destruction. It is, however, always difficult to crystallize public opinion against a campaign to destroy rag-weed, we suppose because of the fact that there are not enough of us who have hay fever!

Dear Sir:
I wish to express my appreciation of the courtesy and cooperation shown me by Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy and Sergeant Charles J. Harold of your department on Tuesday evening, when I was faced with the necessity of securing a donor for a blood transfusion at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

I asked the assistance of Sergeant Cassidy whom I found at the station, and he quickly located Sergeant Harold by radio, the latter arriving at the station in the shortest possible time.

Making use of the cruising car, Sergeant Harold secured first list of suitable donors at the Winchester Hospital and then the individual donor whom he located as he was leaving a social gathering.

The interest shown my problem and the efficiency displayed in solving it indicate that the town is getting a high type of community service from its Police force.

Very truly yours,
Fred H. Scholl

LETTER TO THE SELECTMEN FROM THE STATE DEPART-MENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH

Under Date of August 5, 1937

Since the Department's communication to you dated July 8, 1937, relative to the Aberjona River and Upper Mystic Lake, the character of the water has shown a marked improvement and the Department has received not more than one or two complaints.

"The observations as to the pollution of the stream have shown that the Metropolitan sewers in this vicinity have been successful in removing all but a very limited quantity of sewage which may have overflowed at rare intervals from certain manholes in Woburn and Winchester.
The overflows were reported to the proper authorities and have been remedied as far as is possible under present conditions. Manholes have been raised on the Aberjona River sewer of the city of Woburn but recent observations have indicated that on one occasion during the last month sewage overflowed from one of these manholes. The matter of correcting this situation is to be given immediate attention by the Department. The Department has continued to observe the condition of the stream throughout its course above the Upper Mystic Lake and has continued to supervise the treatment of river water by the Metropolitan District Commission. It has also maintained a gage to record the quantity of water flowing in this stream and this record shows that the quantity has been reduced to less than 500,000 gallons per day.

"The observations of the lake have shown that its height has decreased considerably due, in the opinion of the Department, very largely to evaporation. The quantity of the discharge of water from Upper Mystic into the old Metropolitan District Commission conduit has been discussed with representatives of the Metropolitan District Commission and while there may have been a very slight leak through the gate leading into the conduit, this gate has since been sealed.

"As the fish in Upper Mystic Lake and the Aberjona River have been very largely destroyed by the conditions existing earlier this year, the Department, with the assistance of the Metropolitan District Commission, has spread oil upon the waters of Upper Mystic Lake adjacent to the shores and the Aberjona River upstream to a point near the circular dam in order to prevent the growth of mosquitoes and midge larvae so far as this means of control is practicable. This procedure, while not wholly effective, has nevertheless tended to reduce the mosquito breeding in the lake and river and has doubtless had considerable effect in the control of midges.

"The results of the analyses of the Aberjona River and its tributaries taken on August 2, 1937, show somewhat abnormal conditions due to the very low flow in the stream. No water was discharged from Mishawum Pond in North Woburn on August 2, and there was no flow from the Horn Pond. Hence, the water in the samples where collected in most instances from practically standing water and the results of the analyses are not comparable with those taken earlier in the season when the flow at the new dam below Swanton was at 30,000,000 gallons per day. Nevertheless, the water in the Aberjona River at the mouth did not contain an excessive quantity of organic matter and, as a matter of fact, in certain portions of its course it was super-saturated with oxygen. The amount of oxygen at the mouth was 70 per cent of saturation. There was no discharge from Upper Mystic Lake but the water at its outlet was saturated with oxygen.

"The Department is of the opinion that the objectionable conditions which have caused complaint earlier this year, with the exception of the possible overflow from the Aberjona River sewer of the city of Woburn, have been remedied so far as is now practicable and that any objectionable conditions arising during the next three months will be due to the low flow in the stream which can be expected at this season of the year and to sludge deposits in the bottom of the river and lake. While these offensive deposits will naturally become less offensive due to natural processes, the question of their final removal is a matter which should be considered at the next session of the Legislature.

"In view of all these conditions consideration is being given to reducing the amount of chemicals now being added to the river below Swanton street.

Deputy Commissioner of Public Health.

ideas about the river.

FROM OFFICE OF THE LIEUTEN-ANT GOVERNOR

August 11, 1937

To the Editor of the Star:
Lieut. Francis E. Kelly offered the following motion today and it was put over until the next meeting by a roll call vote of 8-1, Kelly being the only one in favor of passing it today. Motion was as follows:
"All future meetings of the Governor and Council be open to the press and public and that a printed memorandum of all business to be conducted by the Council be made available to the public at least two days before each meeting, this memorandum to state all the official State business that is to be conducted at said meeting."

Remarks made by Kelly: "The Governor, Lieutenant Governor are elected by the people of the entire State and the eight members of the Governor's Council are elected by the voters of their respective districts.
These ten men, as elected officials, are called upon in the course of each year to approve or disapprove of every dollar of the people's money spent by every State department.
This amounts to over Sixty Million Dollars ($60,000,000) every year.

It is my firm opinion that we as elected officials of the public should not vote on the spending of the people's money behind closed doors to private meetings. The other two State branches of elected officials, namely: the House of Representatives and the Senate conduct their meetings publicly and open to the press and the public. The Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Council should do likewise. The people of Massachusetts pay our salaries and the least we owe them is the duty of conducting State affairs in the open and allowing the public to be present if they see fit. The present plan in use by the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Governor's Council to hold their meetings every Wednesday in private session and behind closed doors.

I feel that open meetings by the Governor and Council will have a great tendency towards better State government. From my close personal association with the voters of all political parties in all sections of the State I feel they are all in favor of open meetings by all elected public officials."

Statement by Lieut. Gov. Kelly after motion to postpone for two weeks had been carried by a roll call vote of 8-1:

"It is an insult to the intelligence and respect of the public of Massachusetts to lay this worthy motion over until next meeting by a roll call vote of 8-1. I believe that the public of Massachusetts of all political beliefs are entitled to know what goes on behind closed doors in the meetings of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and members of the Governor's Council."

FISHING PARTY

Former Selectman Franklin J. Lane gave his annual fishing party for master painters of Winchester on Wednesday at his summer home on Conomo Point at Essex.
Assembling at the Yacht Club, well laden with sustenance for the inner man, the enthusiastic party boarded "Frank's" motor boat and set out for the mackerel grounds off Eastern Point. There the fishermen found conditions too rough for fishing and comfort, so Skipper Lane about ship and returned to the inner bay where smoother water prevailed.

"Jim" Chisholm won first prize for the largest fish, a 10 1/2 inch cunner.
Harry Dodge taking second. These awards were vigorously contested by "Gus" Hakanson, who with three cups, maintained he had both the most and largest fish caught. Reading between the lines, one gathers that the fishing was not so good.

The party, however, was voted a grand success by the mariners who respected the Star's publicity men the mackerel looked by "Bernie" Ek-berg, which "got away."

Among those aboard were F. J.
Lane, Victor Froberg, Harry Dodge,
Carl J. Chisholm, Harry Parker, Ed.
Granlund, Bernard Eckberg and Jim Chisholm of Winton's Hardware.

Carpenters' Hall, Philadelphia Carpenters' Hall in Philadelphia was started in 1770, occupied in 1771, but not entirely finished until 1792. It was here that the first Continental Congress met in 1774, as the Provincial Assembly was in session in the state house.

MRS. PARKER MUCH IMPROVED

The condition of Mrs. Gordon Parker, who was injured in a peculiar accident about two weeks ago, is reported to be much improved. The unfortunate episode occurred near the Parker summer home in Charlemont, where Mrs. Parker and one of the children were passengers in her station wagon, driven by Kirby Thwing.
The little one fell asleep and as she leaned against the door handle, it gave way and she fell out the moving car. Mrs. Parker reached quickly to save the child, lost her balance and was thrown into the roadside. The youngster suffered no injuries, but the mother was badly bruised and lacerated.

Several days afterward on the advice of her physician, Mrs. Parker was brought to the Phillips House in Boston, where she has been under observation. X-rays disclosed no serious injuries and it is expected that she will return to her summer home shortly.

owned by Arthur J. Allen of 119 West

by Warren M. Downes of 23 Good south on Main street.

Denault told the police that headlights on an approaching car blinded him and caused the accident. Both machines were damaged and Miss Alice Halligan of 104 Capen street, Medford, riding with Downes, complained of injuries to her left arm and shoulder.

Sacking of Washington

The most publicized action of the British troops which invaded the Capital during the War of 1812 was the burning of the Executive Mansion, which since has been termed the White House. This, however, was only part of the destruction of the occupation. Other public buildings to be destroyed by fire included the Capitol, the State and Navy buildings and the Treasury.
A number of private homes were set afire and burned down as well.
The offices of the National Intelligencer, which had particularly aroused the ire of the British troops, also was leveled by flames.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERIES IN BOTH POLAR REGIONS MADE BY CHARCOT, LOST FRENCH EXPLORER

One of the most gallant of polar explorers and one of the staunchest of polar exploration ships met their ends together when Dr. Jean Barthelemy Charcot was lost with all but one of his crew in the sinking of his veteran vessel "Pourquoi Pas?" in a storm off Iceland recently.

Dr. Charcot, who gave up a promising career in medicine in France to explore the ends of the earth, added greatly to geographic and scientific knowledge of both the Arctic and Antarctic regions, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Was Honorary Member of Society
A Geographic Society

Soon after the completion of his second voyage to the Antarctic, Dr.
Charcot in 1913 was made an honorary Life Member of the National Geographic Society "in recognition of his splendid researches and explorations in the south polar regions."

On this voyage, which was made in the "Porquoi Pas?" ("Why Not") in 1908-1910, Dr. Charcot added materially to knowledge of the islands in the vicinity of the Antarctic Archipelago near the Weddell Sea. It was from this archipelago, on the side of the Antarctic Continent nearest to South America, that Lincoln Ellsworth in December 1935 began the first successful airplane flight across Antarctica.

Several times on this voyage Dr.
Charcot's vessel and crew were near disaster. The "Porquoi Pas?" ran aground on uncharted rocks but was finally freed after three days of exhausting effort. Later it was discovered that her bow and keel were severely damaged.

Scurvy and other sickness hounded
both members of the crew and Dr.
Charcot himself. Ice floes severely damaged the rudder of the "Porquoi Pas?" so that it had to be unshipped and a makeshift rudder rigged.

Made Two Exploration Trips to Antarctica

Dr. Charcot's first Antarctic voyage was made in 1903-1904 in the "Francais." The party spent the winter at Wandel Island at the south entrance of Gerlach Strait and explored in the direction of Alexander Island.
Coasts of some of the islands were charted and much scientific data collected.

The Golden Text is: "My soul thirsteth for the living God: when shall I come and appear before God?" (Psalm 42:2.)
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And when Jesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, Thou son of David, have mercy on us." Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it unto you. And their eyes were opened" (Matthew 9: 27, 29, 30 to 31).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a lasting understanding of Soul and salvation" (p. 210).

EXPEDITION PHOTOGRAPHS MT. MCKINLEY AND UNMAPPED AREA OF ALASKA

Cliffs more than three miles high and inaccessible unmapped mountain peaks were photographed by members of the "National Geographic Society's Mount McKinley Expedition" on its first flight, according to advices from Bradford Washburn, leader of the expedition which was dispatched to Alaska early this year to record in still and moving pictures North America's highest peak and a vast little known mountain area south and west of it.

Washburn also reported to the Society that he and his companions looked down upon Mount Hunter, whose existence has long been doubted. He reported Mount Hunter, 15,000 feet above sea level, lies but a few miles south of Mount McKinley. It is practically inaccessible by land because it is guarded by other jagged peaks and rough glaciers that would turn back even the most intrepid mountain climbers.

Thermometer at 15 Degrees Below Zero
While most of our country was sizzling in above-a-hundred temperatures, and at Fairbanks, Alaska, where the expedition plane took off, the thermometer was breaking seventy, Washburn and his companions, soaring up to 21,000 feet in the vicinity of Mount McKinley had to protect themselves from a temperature of 15 degrees below zero.
As the expedition's plane climbed to 21,000 feet photographs were taken of Mount McKinley at close range. One of the features of the expedition's ambitious program is to photograph Mount McKinley from directly above, but on this first flight Mr. Washburn said that conditions of light air made it inadvisable to attempt to fly over the summit.

HINDENBURG DID NOT STOP TRANSOCEAN TRAVEL

Although the Hindenburg has been erased from the timetables and the Graf Zeppelin has been grounded, air travel continues to be a popular method of ocean crossing.
Both the Atlantic and the Pacific are still spanned by scheduled air services, says a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic Society, and the Indian Ocean is skirted. Most of the world's important seas, especially the Mediterranean and the Caribbean, are crisscrossed and outlined by airlines.
Air commuters across the Atlantic may be without wings temporarily, but the mail still goes through on planes that hop the South Atlantic weekly for regular delivery.
The French mail line has cut the travel time between Paris and Brazil to three days, touching three continents and crossing parts of seven countries. The route clings at first to the coastlines of southern France, southern Spain, and the round shoulder of northwestern Africa. Then it dramatically springs southwest over the open Atlantic from Dakar, small Senegal port in French West Africa, to Natal in Brazil. This is approximately the shortest possible course across the Atlantic.

A German line shares responsibility with the French for weekly transatlantic air mail. Routes, of course, vary somewhat from trip to trip in order to avoid areas made stormy by weather or politics. Three mother ships, however, cruise the ocean beneath the route as mid-Atlantic filling stations and emergency first aid centers. Each mother ship has a catamaran ramp up which the seaplane is drawn after it alights near the wing, and a catapult to shoot the ship's airplane into the sky again after refueling. Aerial mailmen have been flying this route since 1934.

Youngest and most spectacular of the boating-by-air services is the Pan American Clipper line from California to China. The new "Orient Express" since April, 1937, has been dodging monotonous over the non-Pacific Pacific by cleaving clouds and reaching Hong Kong one week after departure from San Francisco. This jaunt from hemisphere to hemisphere requires a jagged southwesterly course to the Philippines on the eastern rim of Asia, then a jump north-west to China, with five stops between the American terminus and the Asiatic terminus. The bases are in three cases tropical islands in which the airplane contrasts with the usual transportation tempo—Hawaii, Guam, and Manila in the Philippines.
British Line to Hong Kong, Farthest South Airport in the East

Airlines are prominent among the east-west lifelines which keep Great Britain in touch with her far-flung dominion, Australia; the Netherlands with her Indies; and France with her Indo-China. Instead of progressing by broad ocean hops, these air routes usually follow coastlines, with port-to-port overland jumps through dangerous and inhospitable country and over-water flights to islands.
The British line to Australia touches four continents. From London the timetable is an abbreviated roll call of British realms of influence: from Europe to Egypt, to Palestine, to Baghdad in oil rich Iraq, south of the blistering hot Persian Gulf, then on to India. The line continues to Australia, a half-world away from London, and a connecting service (Australian) finally reaches Tasmania, Australia's island appendage.
The French line to the Orient hugs

the northern shores of the Mediterranean and the Indian Ocean, then darts overland above India and Siam to French Indo-China's metropolis, Saigon. The route from the Netherlands follows the same tactics, except that it turns south from Bangkok in Siam and hops over the dense forests and rich plantations of the Malay States, Sumatra, Java, and Borneo, with exciting-sounding stops scattered along both sides of the Equator—Singapore, Palembang, Batavia, Bandung, and Balikpapan.

Possibly the most flow-over sea is the Mediterranean, with a dozen or so airlines radiating from Marseilles, Rome, and Athens. Most of them find their way southward by way of Cyprus, Crete, Sicily, Corsica, or the Balearic Islands to European colonies in northern Africa, and Egypt.
The English Channel is likewise a much-flown stretch of water. At one time a dozen airlines crossed it, eleven of them darting fanlike from London toward other European capitals. Even the ice-locked Baltic has its aerial shortcuts, linking Finland, Denmark, and Norway with Sweden.

A complete air base has been erected on Bermuda for a projected transatlantic service between London and New York. This new route will also touch Portugal and the Azores. A more northern route by way of Newfoundland has also been surveyed.

GRANADA ATTRACTIONS

Presented by an impressive cast, headed by Freddie Bartholomew, Spencer Tracy, Lionel Barrymore and Melvyn Douglas, M-G-M's screen version of Kipling's "Captains Courageous" opens Friday August 13th at the Granada Theatre, Malden for a week's run. Coming from the studio that has given to the world such a powerful epic of the sea as "Mutiny on the Bounty," this Kipling masterpiece attains even greater heights in its visual and audible treatment. Freddie Bartholomew, crowns his brilliant career in the role of the rich American boy who is swept from the deck of a liner in a gale off the Grand Banks, rescued by a fishing crew, and trained to the life of the hardy men of the sea. Spencer Tracy, as the Portuguese fisherman, is magnificent and Lionel Barrymore gives an extraordinary performance as Captain Disko, skipper of the schooner, "We're Here." Melvyn Douglas offers a sympathetic study in the role of Freddie's father, while others in the excellent supporting cast include Charlie Grapewin, Mickey Rooney, Jack LaRue, John Carradine, Walter Kingsford and many others too numerous to mention. "Captains Courageous" on the screen reflects the power of Kipling in its effective beauty, presenting the story as he described it and giving life to the amazing characters he created. Joe E. Brown in "Riding On Air" will be the second feature starting Friday at the Granada Theatre, Malden. He has the apocryphal role of Elmer, a small-town newspaperman. He is the world's worst airplane pilot, and as a newspaper correspondent, he is a hero. Guy Kibbie, Florence Rice and Vinton Haworth head the list of supporting players in this latest of Brown's comedy hits.

READING THEATRE

A motion picture within a motion picture was made on a sound stage within a film lot at Selznick International studios recently.

Furthermore, it was a story within a story, with a cameraman being photographed by another cameraman, and a prop crew being assisted by a second prop crew, on a set within a set.

It was all part of David O. Selznick's technicolor film, "A Star Is Born," starring Janet Gaynor and Frederic March at the Reading Theatre on Sunday, for three days.

Hollywood's "Inside" picture, a revelation of Hollywood's "inside," shows Miss Gaynor fighting her way up the ladder of screen fame. In the "within a within, a etc." scenes, she is filmed as the girl making her debut before the cameras.

It was necessary to construct for the sequence a prop set, on a prop sound stage, with a prop crew, and in it Miss Gaynor goes through lines, exactly as if she were starring in another picture entirely.

Director William A. Wellman, therefore, had the unique task of directing two pictures at once—"A Star Is Born," and the film portrayed within it, titled "The Enchanted Hour."

"A Star Is Born" features Adolphe Menjou, May Robson, Andy Devine, Lionel Stander and others. The film is released through United Artists.

Many Ohioans Used Oxen
The Ohio pioneers used oxen more than horses or mules in the hauling of timber and clearing the forests for cultivation. When an ox became unfit for such work, it was then fattened for beef.

Watches Once Small Clocks
Watches originally were small clocks and were worn hung from the girdle because they were too large for the pocket.

HEART TO HEART TALKS

Old Age

I was talking not long ago with an elderly gentleman who deplored his increasing years solely on the ground that they directed his attention more and more to an increasing sense of solitude. "Those whom I loved or revered are no longer with me to instruct or cheer," he said. Very few people are left with whom I may gossip of the past."

It is quite possible that many other oldsters find also that the times speak a new language and old age must be silent or if it speaks is likely to find few who listen. Old courtesies, old habits, the principals of conduct which once seemed indisputable, have been swept away by the stream of new ideas, and old age finds itself stranded in solitude on the bank watching young life rush by.

Dr. Francis G. Peabody, in some reflections upon a Christmas greeting to personal friends, wrote under the title "The Privileges and Emancipation of Old Age."

Old age recalls the apostolic summons to "the simplicity which is toward Christ," and hears the demand of Jesus for discipleship as more than creed and for consecration as better than conformity. In a word, there is in old age a revival of that habit of mind which Jesus welcomed when he set among his disciples a little child, and said: "Except ye become as little children, ye cannot enter the Kingdom of Heaven." Not childishness, as a second childhood of senility, but childlikeness, of obedience and trust, marks the religion of old age, and inclines one, more than in earlier life, to remember still the words and from whence they came; Not he that nameth the name, Not he that doth the will.

"Such are some of the privileges which are difficult for active life to attain and which seem reserved for the reassurance and reinforcement of old age. Emancipation from the slavery of cares and fears; time to cheer solitude by memory and to silence regrets by love; escape from the despotism of events and the dread of death, from a dominating interest in external events through a fresh realization of spiritual realities; deliverance from reasonings about the life after death and a rational expectation of spiritual continuity—these precious gifts enrich old age with unanticipated and romantic interest, and encourage what Wordsworth called:

the faith that looks through death, In years that bring the philosophic mind. It was natural for the apostle Paul in the midst of his aggressive and impetuous career to write, "The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death;" but when "Paul the aged" was a prisoner at Rome, the thought of dying became one of a merciful relief, and he wrote in quite another vein to his "son in the faith" not of the destruction of an enemy, but of the welcome of a friend. "I have finished my course; I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness."

STRAND THEATRE, MALDEN

Pitted against the most appalling odds of his career, Charlie Chan now sets a new world's record for thrills before a stadium jammed with cheering sport fans. When Death fires the starting gun, the wily Chinese sleuth is off on his greatest case in "Charlie Chan At The Olympics," featuring Warner Orland again in the title role, which opens Friday August 13th at the Strand Theatre, Malden and runs four days. Earl Derr Bigness' famous Oriental detective deduces the nefarious threats of a death-dealing ring of international spies who strike terror into the Olympic sports arena, and who strike at Chan himself through his "bodyguard" son, Keye Luke, in their bold efforts to seize a radio-control device from the government. Katherine de Mille and C. Henry Gordon have the other main supporting roles.

A racy comedy about a man who wanted to be a reporter and who spent oodles of other people's money to realize his ambitions brings Edward Everett Horton and a fine line of comedians to the Strand, Malden in the uproarious "Wild Money" as the second feature with "Charlie Chan." Based on the Saturday Evening Post story, "Tightwad," "Wild Money" includes Lynne Overman, Lucian Littlefield, Benny Baker and Porter Hall among its list of fun-makers while feminine pulchritude and romance is supplied by Louise Campbell and Ruth Colman.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday the two features will be "Espionage" starring Edmund Lowe and Madge Evans, and "Hotel Haywire" with Leo Carrillo and Mary Carlisle supported by a big cast of comedians in this hilarious film.

UNIVERSITY THEATRE

"A Day At The Races" brings the Marx Brothers—Groucho, Harpo and Chico—to the University screen starting Sunday, in what is described as the maddest, merriest, most amusing piece of Marxmania that these inimitable comedians have ever delivered to the expectant public.

"The Great Gambini," the companion feature, is a thrill-packed film tale of a mind-reading mystic who solves crimes and "reads" suspects' minds, in which Akim Tamiroff, and John Trent are co-featured with Marion Marsh.

On Wednesday, Review Day, the program includes "Under Two Flags" featuring Claudette Colbert, Ronald Colman and Victor McLaglen and "If You Could Only Cook," co-starring Jean Arthur and Herbert Marshall.

Just what the title indicates is the story of "The Singing Marine," which, with Dick Powell as its star, comes Thursday. Dick is a Marine—a modest buck private at the San Diego base—and he can sing. So his comrades get up a purse to send him to New York to have a try at "Major Bowes" amateur hour. At the same time, on her own Dick's sweetheart essays to enter her voice into the competition.

"Fly-Away Baby" the companion picture featuring Glenda Farrell and Barton MacLane, is based upon the recent race around the world in which two men reporters and one girl were the contestants. Miss Dorothy Kilgallen of the King Feature Service was the girl, and it was she who wrote the story that now comes to us in movie form.

BAKER, HOWLAND, AND JARVIS ISLANDS MAY BECOME TRANS-PACIFIC AIRPORTS

In the very middle of the Pacific Ocean, the United States is busy with a bit of territorial expansion. To confirm sovereignty over disputed possessions, permanent buildings are to be erected on the three islets of Baker, Howland, and Jarvis.

Within the past year the three bits of land in mid-Pacific have been converted into rudimentary weather stations to determine their suitability as stepping stones on a discussed air route between the United States and New Zealand. Therefore these isolated, uninhabited, pauper isles suddenly found themselves treated like princes. Each was supplied with such fundamental equipment for nationality as a United States flag, four settlers (none removed), buried store of food and water, and a lead tablet to commemorate colonization.

Each only a mile or two square, the three small "freakles" on the Pacific's face—Baker, Howland, and Jarvis Islands—are the typical desert islands of a sailor's nightmare, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. Isolated by nearly 400 miles of shark-infested water from San Francisco, in the limitless blue waves their small humps of white sand appear unexpectedly, rising on their coral foundations from ocean depths which no ship's anchor can numb. The treeless surfaces, bleached and barren in the equatorial sunshine, are alive with crabs, birds, and rats.

The largest of the trio, Jarvis Island, marks almost the exact center of the Pacific, only 10 minutes from where the 180th meridian of longitude crosses the Equator. Over a thousand miles eastward lie Baker and Howland Islands, sister strands 40 miles apart, a short sail north of the Equator.

LIECHTENSTEIN—A STONE'S THROW STATE

A new secret police system installed in the tiny European principality of Liechtenstein has stirred up rumors of an impending change in governmental form. The country is governed by a reigning prince, Francis I. under a Swiss constitution, and with a parliament of fifteen members elected by popular vote.

You may need a magnifying glass to find Liechtenstein easily on the map, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society, for this principality on the border between eastern Switzerland and western Austria has an area of only sixty-five square miles, or less than the District of Columbia. It is one of the smallest sovereign states in Europe. From his castle above Vaduz, the capital, Francis I. can survey almost his whole domain.

Dikes Help Prevent Rhine Floods Tucked away in the central Alps Liechtenstein remains one of the few places in Europe seldom explored by the tourist. Many have visited it without their knowledge, however, for the Swiss-Vienna express passes through the country for fifteen minutes.

Linked with Austria in a customs union from 1852 to about 1919, Liechtenstein now is more closely allied with Switzerland with which it has had a customs agreement since 1924. It has used Swiss currency for 16 years, and its post and telegraph services are administered by Switzerland. The tiny principality's only communication with Austria is by rail road, but its tie with Switzerland also is by a highway and five bridges across the upper Rhine.

Usually the Rhine meanders peacefully over its gravel bed, but in flood times, such as that of September 1927, it becomes a dangerous torrent and does great damage to the adjacent fertile plains. To mitigate floods in Liechtenstein the river has been confined within dikes.

The Rhine valley comprises one third of Liechtenstein's territory. It is divided into pastures where black and dun cattle graze; into fields of maize, flax, and hay; vineyards; and orchards of apples, pears, and plums. Most of Liechtenstein's approximately 12,000 inhabitants are engaged in either agriculture or stock raising. At the close of the World War refugees poured into this peaceful haven, one of the few in Central Europe to escape the horrors of the War and the famines that followed it.

Flanking the Rhine valley are lofty mountains, some of them rising more than a mile high. Down them roar cascading streams that provide electricity not only for lighting but also for now cotton weaving mills and sawmills. The manufacture of lumber, cotton and leather goods, and pottery, are Liechtenstein's chief industries. Cattle roam on the unfenced mountain slopes. Thick forests of beeches, poplars, and evergreens provide hunting grounds for foxes, stags, and hares.

Liechtenstein has no national debt and imposes few taxes, so the majority of its citizens are prosperous, and contented. Although few are wealthy enough to employ servants, neither are they poor. By means of hard work and frugality, most of them are able to attain their chief aim—to own a modern white-washed house with a hot water furnace. Simple pleasures such as singing societies, and Alpine horn concerts, please them more than moving pictures. Most of them are Catholics and worship in numerous churches along the country's good roads.

MOBILE AUTO THIEVES

When Police Chief William H. Rogers and Patrolman James P. Donaghey picked up an abandoned automobile on Swan road last Saturday afternoon at 2:15 they lined up the local department with those of several other communities in an attempt to capture three youthful automobile thieves who moved rapidly through four states before they were finally arrested.

The machine which the local Police found on Swan road was the property of Rose Gaudette of Florence, Mass. It had been stolen in Troy, N. H., in exchange for a car previously stolen in Amherst while its owner had momentarily left to procure a newspaper. The Gaudette car was abandoned here by three youths who were seen pushing the machine down Swan road. Opposite the house of Mr. A. C. Wilbur they left it at the side of the road and made off in a Chevrolet, owned by Alvin W. Hubbard of 6 John street, Woburn and parked in front of the Wilbur home.

The Hubbard car was abandoned in Milford, N. H., where another car was stolen for a run to Brattleboro, Vt. On their way back toward Massachusetts the three youths were captured in Bellows Falls. The local Police are awaiting further information bearing upon the local angle of the case.

MISS ELIZABETH EMERY MARSTON

As She Appeared When a Teacher in the Winchester Schools

Miss Elizabeth Emery Marston, veteran retired school teacher and resident of Winchester for more than 70 years, died Monday shortly after noon at her home, 104 Winthrop street, after a short illness, in her 95th year.

Miss Marston was born in Linington, Me., January 5, 1843, of Quaker parentage, her father being Josiah Marston and her mother, Elvira (Blackett) Marston. Her early education was received at the local academy, and in 1860, while attending Concoctcook Academy in Concoctcook, N. H., of which her brother was principal, she had her first teaching experience, teaching a class in beginners' Latin.

Three years later she went to Watnam for advanced study at the New Church Boarding School, and there, too, acted as instructor for a class of young pupils.

In March of 1866, at the age of 23, Miss Marston was appointed a teacher in the Winchester Schools by the School Committee of which Dr. Frederick Winslow, Charles Pressy and Henry Hinkley were members. From that time with but a few unavoidable absences, her service continued until 1907; two and in some instances, three generations of Winchester children receiving instruction from her during the 40 years she taught in the community.

She was first assigned to the old "Mistic" School at Symmes Corner, later being transferred to the Grammar School, located on the site of the present Wadleigh School, where she taught for ten years.

After a leave of absence, in 1881, she went to the Highland School, where, in her own words, she spent "five very happy years teaching young children." Later she taught for several years in the then new Middle School, and after her retirement she frequently was called upon to substitute, serving on one occasion for some weeks at the old Gifford School.

Miss Marston could reminisce delightfully of her teaching experiences and on her 90th birthday recalled the dedication of the new Grammar School in September 1866, when she led the pupils of the "old Mistic" School through the streets of the town to attend the exercises. Vividly she could recall the dedication of the old High School, later known as the Prince School and since torn down, and the great storm in the sixties when drifted snow made it impossible for her and her pupils to leave the "Mistic" School until the arrival of a rescue ox-team, driven by the late Marshall Symmes, Jr.

Miss Marston first lived in Winchester in the "house with the brick ends" at Symmes Corner, and through her lifetime she retained a warm affection for that part of the town. Books, music and the drama engaged her attention in her leisure hours, but always her first love was people, and she maintained for years contacts with friends she had made both in her own community and during her travels through this country and abroad.

Of the arts, she especially loved music, and during her retirement years was a regular attendant at the concerts given by the Boston Symphony Orchestra. She always considered the major qualification for teaching to be "an understanding heart."

Miss Marston was the last of her immediate family. The funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon in the Kelley & Hawes Chapel on Pine street, with Rev. Charles P. Wellman, minister of the Woburn Unitarian Church, officiating. Interment was in the family lot at South Linington, Me.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Twelve members were absent from the meeting of Aug. 19, three of whom have already made up for their absence.

Attendance percentages indicate that the July 1937 average of this club is almost 10 per cent below that of July 1936. This amazing decrease is not even largely caused by the fact that at present we have three men on leave of absence. It may be that constant absence by the writer to the club's shortcomings in this respect have resulted in the loss of interest in the matter on the part of members.

This is the case, nobody expects the situation more than he. And yet he feels it to be his duty to keep the facts before our members for their attention. He knows of no more effective way of making it evident that we have arrived at the point where action rather than discussion is required if the club is to regain its former high attendance percentages. May we have action?

The club president and secretary were in attendance at the district assembly in Leominster on Aug. 19. In spite of the fact that the city of Leominster is remote from many of the large clubs in the district there was the usual large number of Rotarians present to pay tribute to the warm hospitality of the host club and to profit from the masterly addresses by past district Governors and other prominent Rotarians. Again this year it is apparent that Rotary extension will receive especial attention in this district as was the case last year. Careful surveys have disclosed that there are 135 communities in the district capable of supporting Rotary clubs where no such clubs now exist. And this in one of the smallest of all Rotary districts in the country. One of the most thoroughly urbanized areas on the globe. It is also significant that no club in this district has ever lost or abandoned its charter; in truth there have been few such clubs in the history of Rotary. In view of the fact that last year the clubs of this district gained 111 members to bring the total number of Rotarians in the district to 3812 as of July 1, 1937, it seems reasonable to believe that a continuation of efforts along this line will result in reaching the goal of 4000 members in the district on or before July 1, 1938.

There is but one more August meeting on the regular schedule of this club and then we swing into September with a resumption of the after-dinner entertainment periods and the probability that most of our vacationists will have returned. Next Thursday we shall expect to greet more of our members than we have been privileged to meet in many weeks.

Percentage of attendance, Aug. 12 —77.42 per cent.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

The Board received a letter from John J. Devaney, chairman of the Parade Committee for the 101st, Infantry Association, asking permission to use upper Main street and the side streets north of Hemingway street for the purpose of disembarking the armed forces representing the Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard and National Guard on the day of the parade, Sept. 12. The Board was glad to co-operate with the veterans, who have promised not to block the streets to regular traffic more than is necessary to give the parade started. Chief Rogers will furnish police protection.

The State Reclamation Board has taken an interest in the mosquito situation in Winchester, caused mainly by the lack of fish in the river and ponds which ordinarily would dispose of the mosquito larvae. Mr. Wales, of this Board, visited the town hall and conferred with the superintendent of streets and others, and made suggestions for the alleviation of the nuisance, which Mr. Holbrook will undertake to carry out, spraying the line of the Aberjona with crude oil and creosote, from the Swanton street bridge to the Woburn line.

The fact that the state and county have not allotted money for the reconstruction of part of Bacon street makes it necessary for the work to be done by the highway department, and the sum allotted by town meeting for that work has been transferred to the highway department to be used as needed.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gardner of Chesterford road are spending the week at their summer home in Marblehead.

PROSPERITY BRINGS STRIKES

Who said that prosperity has not returned? Does not the increasing number of strikes in almost every industry prove that better financial times are here? It has proven true in the past that when business advances beyond normal, the workers always demand a larger pay envelope. Compare the figures on strikes during prosperity and depression periods and you will agree with our claim.

Figures do not lie. Figures prove to the people of the community that the experts of Felix Plumber & Heating Co., 656 Main Street, KNOW how and have every facility at their command to DO a perfect modernization job on the plumbing system in your home. Regardless of the type or extent of the work your home needs, we will pay you to see them first. Phone 0983.

BOAT CLUB NOTES

There is a canoe meet this weekend at Worcester. Lake Quinsigamund at Drake Island is the location. This makes the third Regatta in Worcester so far this season. They appear every other week it seems. There is considerable question as to just how many of Winchester Boat Club's "no practice wonders" will make the trip. The new sailing fleet has the attention of two or three of the boys, and we fear, the girls are bothering some of the others, and the remainder are too old or crippled to count much.

We sincerely hope that if the gang goes, the results will be more favorable than at our last appearance at the above mentioned race course.

What we refer to is the National Paddling Championships of two weeks ago.

Only allowed to take part in three events we emerged as follows: On the first day, Jim Fitch and Ken Pratt paddling in the intermediate double blade tandem race, finished in 8th place. There were but seven entries in the race, but the Judges Boat even passed them.

The second day was even worse. "Hap" and "Downy" Bowler arrived early on Saturday at the race course to be on time for Sunday's race in the double blade fours. The new sailing fleet was also on hand to sub for "Jimmy" Gustin who had to be at Marblehead. The races started at 1:30 p.m. Sunday. Winchester's event came up at about 3:30 and their racing shell had not arrived. Capt. Ned Benn put in his appearance with the boat soon after the race was over. Oh, yes, he had two girls with him.

The tilting was the best on the program. Winchester's Jim Fitch, tilter, and K. Pratt, paddler, were drawn against a Washington, D. C., crew. As is the custom in championship tilting, the platforms are used for tilters to stand on. "Jimmie" Fitch does not relish these platforms as he cannot lock his big toe around the gunwale as is his wont in ordinary tilting. Anyway, the match did not last a minute, for as the Washington tilter feinted with his "Schwab," "Jimmie" ducked, threw his balance to the winds and 'twas all over.

Medford then taunted Winchester, so that a grudge race was staged in the 4's double blade. The only difference being that Medford knelt, while Winchester wallowed in the voluptuous pullman palace-car cushions they are wont to lounge on. Even with a sub in their boat, Medford took Winchester by five lengths. What a wallowing, and before the assembled clubs of the U. S. A. Oh, yes, I didn't mention "Weenie" Pratt was "anchor man," dragging at position No. 2 instead of in the stern.

FINNERTY—DOHERTY

Miss Mary Agnes Doherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick W. Doherty of Canal street, became the bride of James Francis Finnerty of Woburn at a marriage ceremony performed Sunday afternoon, Aug. 15, at 4:45 o'clock in the Immaculate Conception Rectory by Rev. Fr. Charles J. Foley.

Miss Doherty, wearing a princess style gown of blue Chantilly lace with a picture hat to match, and carrying a picture hat to match, and carrying a picture hat to match, was attended by her sister, Miss Helen E. Doherty of this town. She wore a gown of peach colored Chantilly lace, similar in design to that of the bride, with a matching picture hat, and carried delphinium with tallismen roses. John E. Murphy of Woburn, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man.

After the ceremony a reception for the immediate families was held at the Shaker Glen House in Woburn. Mr. Finnerty and his bride are to spend their honeymoon at Atlantic City after a motor tour through New York State. They are to make their home in Malden at 606 Eastern avenue. The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's High School, of Higgins Commercial School and is a member of St. Mary's Alumnae. Mr. Finnerty, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick F. Finnerty, is a graduate of Woburn High School. He is in the employ of the R. Gustavo Tile Company of Woburn.

MOTORIST ARRESTED ON TIPSY DRIVING CHARGE

At 3:50 Saturday morning the attention of Patrolman Henry P. Dempsey was attracted by a Chevrolet sedan which was headed east on Wedgemoore avenue in a manner which indicated that the operator was not in the best of condition. Officer Dempsey followed the machine through Wedgemoore avenue, Foxcroft road, Warren street and finally on Wedgemoore avenue again, stopped the car, placing the operator under arrest.

He gave his name as Walter E. Munroe of 122 Mt. Vernon street, Cambridge, and an investigation disclosed the fact that his right to operate had been suspended in June of 1934. He was locked up at Headquarters, charged with operating while under the influence of liquor and with driving after his license had been suspended. In court Saturday morning his case was continued until Aug. 20.

SOME FISH!

Mr. Edward "Mack" McKenzie, local newspaper man, and his son, Mr. Alfred McKenzie, custodian at the George Washington School, took a fishing trip down the harbor Tuesday on the fishing boat, Corkum, the occasion being "Mack's" annual vacation. On Wednesday he was somewhat non-committal concerning his luck, vouchsafing only the information that "Fred" Scholl would have to buy fish for his restaurant as usual this week.

Later the Star learned from a reliable source that "Mack's" only fish was a miniature haddock, weighing in the neighborhood of eight ounces. He did say, however that it was a beautiful day on the water!

GROUP THEATRE DIRECTORS BUSY

August may mean vacation to some but to the members of the Board of Directors of the Group Theatre it means final work in preparation for the coming dramatic season. Committees to form and organize—casting to be discussed—plans and models of the stage to be done—costuming to be studied—and numerous other unseen and unknown details to attend to before the rehearsals start in the fall.

Under the guidance of George Hayden the models and plans for the first performance—The Cat and the Canary—are already taking shape and plans for the elaborate production of the second play—Pride and Prejudice—are well started. Both productions from the stage technicians point of view are the most difficult that have ever been attempted in Winchester. They contain all the elements of stagecraft having the need for trick panels and doors in the mystery play and the absolute necessity for natural sets in the second rather than the usual unit sets of most plays.

The President of the Group—Dr. Eugene M. Peillard—has made it a special duty this summer to visit many summer theatres. Many of the theatres permitted him to examine at close inspection the staging and production of the plays both new and revivals. He reports that Winchester may well be proud of her dramatic efforts in the past for none of the summer theatres that he visited produced any finer, better staged plays than have been done right here in Winchester by our own amateurs. He further reports that the professional stage in summer have the same problems before them, that the amateur groups do in Winchester.

Memberships in the Group Theatre are coming in slowly and have been increasing in number throughout the summer. Anyone wishing to join may do so now. Just get in touch with Mrs. Dorothy Wadsworth, Group Theatre, Winchester, Mass. Memberships are $2 and each member is entitled to one seat at each of the productions of the coming 1937-38 season.

TREASURER'S NOTICE

The State Law now calls for the municipality to start foreclosure proceedings on all unredemmed Tax Titles on which the redemption period has expired. As the fee upon petitioning the land court is from $30 upwards, I am giving this notice in the desire to be helpful in case you have overlooked the expiration date. Prompt action on your part is necessary to protect such rights as you may have in your property. This office will gladly give you all the information at its disposal.

Harrie Y. Nutter,
Town Treasurer

Winchester, Aug. 19, 1937.

EFFICIENT

To the Editor of the Star:

I believe the inhabitants of the Town of Winchester owe a debt of gratitude to the Superintendent of Streets for the efficient work that has materialized under his supervision. I trust the taxpayers will scrutinize the work that was completed on the following streets during the last few months, namely: Mt. Vernon street, Fells road and Swanton street. I believe Mr. Editor the New Deal Plumber will concur with your humble servant that the Town of Winchester is fortunate in having an efficient Superintendent of Streets.

Very truly yours,
Patrick H. Craughwell

APPRECIATION

To the Editor of the Star:

The Highway and Park Departments have added much to the attractiveness of our town by constructing and planting two more useful and handsome circles; one on the East side of the railroad station and the other near the Town Hall and Baptist Church.

Such work is of real investment as well as most pleasing to all who pass that way.

NOTES FROM THE NATION'S CAPITOL

As ranking member of the House Committee on World War Veterans' Legislation, Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers last week led the fight for the passage of the bill liberalizing the provisions of existing laws governing service-connected benefits for World War veterans and their dependents. Under the bill, which passed the House, dependent parents of deceased veterans who died of service disabilities are entitled to a pension of $45.00 a month for one parent or $25.00 for each parent where both are surviving. This supplants the present law which pay $20.00 and $15.00 respectively. Widows of veterans who died of service disabilities who have reached the age of 50 are increased from the present rate of $35.00 to $37.50; when they reach the age of 65 they will receive $45.00 monthly. The measure passed the House without a dissenting vote.

Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers bill providing the sum of $35,000 for the furtherance of the work of the Accident Prevention Conference passed the House of Representatives, and has been reported favorably from the Senate Committee on Commerce. The prospects are bright for enactment before the adjournment of Congress. This is a similar bill to the one enacted in the last Congress which represented the first move ever taken by Congress to reduce the terrible loss of life occurring on our highways. In commenting on the bill, Mrs. Rogers said: "The Conference has done fine work during the past year in urging the states to enact legislation providing for drivers' license laws. Passage of such laws has been obtained in seven states which heretofore had no regulations of this kind. I feel it is vitally important to continue this work. We must recognize the fact that 37,000 of our citizens lost their lives last year as a result of automobile accidents. If only one life can be saved by this appropriation, it would be money well spent."

In speaking in support of the Railroad Retirement Bill, which recently became law, Representative Edith Nourse Rogers paid tribute to the safety record made by the railroad men of the country. She said: "The railroad men of this country deserve a great deal of credit for carrying safely day after day the great number of human beings who travel on their trains. Their responsibility is heavy and their record for safety and efficiency exceeds the performance of those in any other means of transportation. Almost unbelievable safety records have been made by our railroad men. In 1935 not a passenger was killed by collision or derailment; one passenger was killed as the result of an explosion of a heater, while 24 were killed while about to become passengers, on getting on or off of trains. For the year 1936 seven passengers were killed in train accidents and ten died in getting on or off of trains. What a blessing it would be if our citizens, and particularly automobilists, had the same regard for their lives and the lives of others as do the railroad men."

Advertising That Lives Longer

The business man who has the greatest number of friends has the best chance to succeed.

Some of the most profitable business enterprises in the country owe their prosperity to the fact that their owners enjoy the friendship of exceptionally large numbers of people.

One cannot make a friend until he has made an acquaintance. The longer the acquaintance, the more likely it is that it will ripen into genuine friendship.

To make friends, one must meet people. And the only way to meet people is to go where people are, or to induce people to come where YOU ARE.

The modern merchant cannot pack up his merchandise and carry it about the country in order to notify people he wants and merits their patronage. His method is to induce people to come to the place where he keeps his merchandise.

Printers' ink has made it possible for the merchant to attract the public to his store. Printers' ink will always be a tremendous factor in the business world.

The man who employs printers' ink to make the acquaintance of people who have been strangers, is employing the most powerful agency in existence. He is establishing valuable contacts, is making friends, is making prosperity inevitable.

Advertising in the weekly newspaper LIVES LONGER—therefore it is the most profitable form of newspaper advertising.

The WINCHESTER STAR is a WEEKLY NEWSPAPER.

PRICE SEVEN CENTS

ALL-WINCHESTER FLOWER SHOW

The second annual all-Winchester flower show sponsored by the Better Homes Garden Club of Winchester will be held in the Town Hall on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 14 and 15. The classes for exhibition will be open to all and the committee hopes that many will be interested to exhibit.

In addition to several unusual special exhibits, there will be classes calculated to challenge and encourage the most blushing novice, as well as classes designed to call upon all the skill of experienced exhibitors. It is hoped that the unrestricted class for men, which has been arousing much interest at other shows, will again win in greater number draw the retiring men-of-the-garden to proud display of their garden loves and hobbies. Even the cook, or kitchen-table gardener, has not been forgotten. There is to be a competition for tables arranged with the makings of a salad including accessories. There will, of course, be a class for exhibits by children.

The club hopes that this show, offering opportunity to all gardeners and non-gardeners to survey and appreciate the varied interests and ideas in gardening in the town, will be a pleasure and a stimulation to both kinds of flower lovers, and will increase each year in richness of interest. The Town Hall affords space for the effective display of exhibits, and plans include the serving of tea in a garden setting, as well as a shop for garden accessories.

The full schedule of classes in the show will be published in the Star. It is suggested that in the meantime all promising flowers should be babbled tenderly.

WINCHESTER LEGIONNAIRES AT CONVENTION

Winchester Post, 97, American Legion, was represented at the State Legion Convention, held last week from Wednesday through Saturday at New Bedford, and its crack brass band, under the direction of Charles E. Young, brought back a first prize as the result of fine showing in the Class B competition.

"Bill" LaRue's boys did themselves proud, both in playing and marching, heading a large number of bands with something to spare. Their repertoire included "The Merry-Go-Round Broke Down" the show and was one of the big hits of the Legion parade which was, of course, the big convention feature. Because of its fine showing, Winchester Post is assured of first place in the parade line at next year's State convention which is to be held in Worcester.

Official headquarters for local Legionnaires was at the Roosevelt (Theodore) Apartments, where the delegates, Commander Otis E. Alley, Post Commander John H. Calkins, and Senior Vice Commander Stafford Rogers, were quartered.

Kenneth F. Hall was the alternate delegate and among others who attended the convention were Harry B. Mellett, Harry Goodwin, Peter Cullen, William and James Rogers, Fred S. Mitchell, Conrad Larson, George LeDuc and John Cullen.

POPULAR WINCHESTER COUPLE OBSERVED GOLDEN WEDDING

Lieut. and Mrs. John A. Harold Flooded with Congratulations

One of Winchester's best known couples, Police Lieut. John A. Harold, retired, and Mrs. Harold observed their golden wedding anniversary on Monday, Aug. 23, at their home on Myrtle street.

Throughout the day a flood of letters and telegrams of congratulation were received, with more than 100 cards and many beautiful flowers. More than 160 relatives, friends and neighbors called during the afternoon and evening to personally felicitate Lieut. and Mrs. Harold upon the happy event in their lives. Many beautiful gifts, including a large bouquet of bills from the family, indicated the esteem in which the Harolds are held by all who know them. The bouquet of bills was presented during the afternoon by Mrs. John J. Sullivan of Nelson street, the former Mary Harold.

Lieutenant Harold's recent illness the entire observance of the anniversary was informal, but the finest feeling prevailed as friends mingled in the hospitable Harold home, gay with all the gifts received. A family dinner party was held between the afternoon and evening receptions. Guests were present from Salem and Peabody as well as from the surrounding cities and towns.

Lieut. and Mrs. Harold, the former Agnes H. Boston, were married at a nuptial mass in St. James Church, Salem, Aug. 28, 1887. For three years after their marriage they made their home on Buckman street in Woburn, coming to Winchester at the expiration of their residence in that city.

Mr. Harold was appointed to the Police Department in 1902. He was promoted to Sergeant Feb. 7, 1919, and promoted to Lieutenant, March 14, 1924, being the first to hold that rank in the local department. He retired Jan. 1, 1936, and on Feb. 12 of this year was given a testimonial in the town hall by citizens of the town. He is a member of Winchester Court, M. C. O. F., and of the Holy Name Society of St. James Church.

Lieutenant Harold is a native of Salem and like her husband, has been active in the affairs of St. Mary's Parish. She is also a member of the Auxiliary to the American Legion, of which two of her sons are members.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Harold have four daughters and three sons, Mrs. Mary Sullivan, Mrs. Pauline Farrar, Mrs. Margaret Eckert, all of this town; Mrs. Catherine Nostrom of Arlington; John, of Arizona; Norman, of Winchester, and Sgt. Charles J. Harold of the local police department. They also have 18 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

The Star adds its anniversary wishes to those of their host of friends.

BOYS SURPRISED TRYING TO START CAR

Three Winchester boys, who police say were trying to start an automobile from the rear of a Bonnell Motor Garage on upper Main street last Saturday night, were interrupted shortly before 11:30 by Patrolman James E. Farrell of the Police Dept.

Officer Farrell was patrolling his beat near the Gulf gasoline station when he heard a motor running in the rear of Bonnell's. He went to investigate and as he approached, saw three boys running from the yard where several cars were parked. After a chase along the railroad tracks and through Lake street Officer Farrell picked up one of the trio hiding in the rear of a garage.

Persistent questioning broke down his first denial and the boy finally admitted. Police say that he and his companions had started the machine off with a gas can and had attempted to take it out of the yard. The names of the remaining members of the trio were secured by the Police who have not as yet announced whether further action will be taken.

GEORGE W. KERRIGAN

George W. Kerrigan of Vine street, proprietor of the Kerrigan Bus Lines of this town, died Saturday morning, Aug. 21, in the Newton Hospital, following an operation for appendicitis, with which he was stricken while in New York.

Mr. Kerrigan was born in Ireland in 1888. He came to Winchester 20 years ago, and established a successful taxicab business, from which developed the Kerrigan Bus Lines, well known throughout this district.

During the World War Mr. Kerrigan served in the United States Navy. He was a member of Winchester Post, 97, American Legion; of Mystic Valley Lodge of Masons, of Waterfield Lodge, L. O. O. F., and of No. 24, O. E. S., of this town.

Surviving are three brothers, living in Ireland, a sister, Mrs. Anna Croley of Brooklyn, N. Y., and two nieces, Mrs. Kerrigan, the former Elizabeth Day, and Mrs. Mary Rogers. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon from the home of Mr. Kerrigan's brother-in-law, Arthur Kerrigan, Winn street, Burlington.

Services were held in the Methodist Episcopal Church with a former pastor, Rev. J. West Thompson of Salem, officiating. The church was taxed to its utmost capacity and it was necessary to use one of Mr. Kerrigan's large buses to transport the floral tributes. Full military honors were accorded by a detachment of Legionnaires from Winchester Post, A. L., commanded by Stafford Rogers, senior vice commander. Legionnaires Newcomb Bacon, John Moynihan, Kenneth Colgate, Andrew Morrow, P. T. Rogers, Thomas McKee and William Rogers were active bearers. Thomas and Robert Dobbins of Woburn, George Morrow and P. Everett Hamblin of Winchester and Thomas Clark of Woburn, during the services.

Raymond Rosborough, basso, sang two favorite hymns, "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Abide With Me." The funeral cortege was one of the longest seen in Winchester for some time. Interment was in Woodbrook Cemetery, Woburn, where a detachment of bluejackets from the Boston Navy Yard fired three volleys and a naval bugle blew taps.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

The Board has authorized the Edison Company to make certain changes in the lighting on Everett avenue which will very materially improve conditions on that street.

The Board has expressed to the Metropolitan District Commission the appreciation of the Selectmen on behalf of the townspeople for the excellent piece of work recently completed opposite the Unitarian Church on the Parkway in the rounding of the corner at Waterfield road. The cutting back of this corner eliminates what has been a bad traffic hazard and the commission is to be congratulated on its spirit of co-operation for the safety of the public.

The Board has received complaints from public spirited citizens, who take pride in the neatness of their property, against the way in which some of the residential streets are littered with rubbish by thoughtless persons who deliberately or otherwise have been causing such unsightly conditions by throwing out of their cars, possibly from passing automobiles. The highway department takes pride in keeping the highways clean but it is impossible to cover the entire town every day, and it would be of great satisfaction to be able to apprehend the persons guilty of such thoughtlessness.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Marriage intentions have been filed with the town clerk as follows: Robert Whitney Bradley of 133 Elmwood road, Swampscott and Margaret Louise Jones of 9 Lakeview terrace.

Peter Marchesi of 6 Holland street and Annie Shalsi of 36 Mountain street, North Woburn.

Mario James Raymond of 186 Bennington street, East Boston and Dolores Jeannette Tuci of 34 Lebanon street.

Anthony John Vespucci of 72 Florence street and Kathleen Mary Pacopolis of 47 Conn street, Woburn.

William Robert Dresser of 73 Kemper street, Wollaston and Ruth Hollins of 33 Maxwell road.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS

Distinguished visitors to Winchester recently were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kingsland of New York and Mary Paulopolis of 47 Conn street, Woburn. Over the week-end they were house guests of Dana Pond, internationally known painter, and his brother Clarence Pond at their Winchester home.

Mrs. Kingsland is the daughter of Princess d'Orleans, a great-great-granddaughter of Louis Philippe, King of the French, and a cousin of the Duc de Guise, legitimist heir to the throne of France. The King of the Belgians is her cousin, and the Duc de Nemours, long a friend of Mr. Dana Pond, her brother.

Mr. Kingsland is of a New York family long socially prominent there, as well as in Newport and Paris.

PLAY GROUP CLOSURES

The Winchester Day School Play Group, which has been conducted this summer at the home of Mrs. C. E. Washington street, closes today after a successful season. Under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth Mullin, who is director of both the Play Group and the children's activities, including handicraft, is being held and colored movies, shown.

The fall term of the Day School is to commence on Sept. 22.

FORMER WINCHESTER MAN LAUNCHES NEW TRAWLER

Special Train Took Guests of F. J. O'Hara to Bath, Me.

With ceremonies unique in the annals of Bath ship-building, the Boston fish trawler Jeanne d'Arc, owned by the F. J. O'Hara Trawling Company, a Boston firm of which a former Winchester man, Francis J. O'Hara, is president, was launched at the Maine city last Saturday afternoon. A feature of the launching ceremonies was a parade through Bath, in which two former Governors, James M. Curley of Massachusetts, and Louis J. Brann of Maine, participated. Little Mary Jane O'Hara, 7 year old daughter of the trawling company president, christened the boat with champagne. She was garbed in armor to portray Jeanne d'Arc, and was carried in the parade in an open palanquin on the shoulders of four stalwart trawling engineers.

Attending Mary were her brothers, Frankie, 5, and Bobby, 3. About 150 guests were brought by President O'Hara from a train on a special train to attend the launching. Mrs. O'Hara acted as hostess en route. Several personages high in civil and religious circles in Greater Boston were among the guests.

Mr. O'Hara is son of the late Francis J. O'Hara, veteran Boston fish dealer and vice president of the Winchester National Bank. As a young man he lived in the family homestead on Mystic avenue and has many friends in town. Three sisters, Mrs. Joseph M. Donahue and the Misses Hanora and Agnes O'Hara, make their home in town, and Miss Agnes O'Hara was one of the guests at the launching.

The Jeanne d'Arc is 136 feet long and has a 24 foot beam and a depth of 13 feet 6 inches to the main deck. She carries all modern equipment for freezing fish as soon as caught.

ON DECK AT CUTTYHUNK

Miss Shirley Reynolds of Mason street, who is spending the summer with her mother, Mrs. Thomas L. Reynolds, is making a cruise to the Elizabeth Islands, Mrs. Shepard (Constance Park) and her husband, residing at Ballardvale, have many friends at Cuttyhunk, where their visits are usually a community event. Mrs. Shepard entertained a large group on Tuesday evening previous to the rehearsal for the coming Saturday night minstrel show, in which Miss Reynolds will take part. The night of the evening, when a freshly caught striped bass, the gift of Mr. Robert Tilton and deliciously cooked by Robert Reed of Dighton, an officer on the Shepard cruiser, Mr. John R. Park, brother of Mrs. Shepard, make their home in Tilton, was one of the Chat Noir party.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

Next week will be the final week for organized work and all schedules, as Field Day is to be held Friday evening, Sept. 3, on Loring avenue at 6:30 p. m. All contestants must be ready for the preliminary trials, which are to be held on both playgrounds, in order to qualify for the Field Day finals.

The features of Field Day will be the H. L. Tournament open to all. At 6:20 p. m. all candidates will start batting. The winners of the boys and girls Hi-Li Tournament will receive valuable prizes. Another feature will be an exhibition of forward passing by George Moriarty, Notre Dame quarterback. Rated as one of the finest passers in football history, George is coming up to show the playground youngsters the proper technique of punting.

The Elks, Lions and Rotary have been invited by Mr. Robert Quinn to attend the Pees-Cardinals game next Wednesday night at the stadium. The game will be a league and league and deserve much credit for faithful attendance during the season.

MILLIONAIRES VS CUBS TONIGHT

After considerable argument over the relative merits of their respective teams, Manager Paul Quigley of the Millionaires and "Payzan" Marrone of the Cubs have finally gotten together and the two clubs will hook up tonight at 6:15 on Leonard Field in what may turn out to be the game of the series for the championship of the town. On paper the Millionaires look too strong for the Cubs, but if "Libby" Gaudioso has a good night on the hill, the Millionaires will have their troubles as they are far from potent stickers. On the other hand it's hard to see how the Cubs figure to do much with the pitching which should be passing by George Moriarty, Notre Dame quarterback. Rated as one of the finest passers in football history, George is coming up to show the playground youngsters the proper technique of punting.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Jack Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes of 221 Forest street, observed his sixth birthday on Wednesday with a party at his home, at which Stover Bonnell, Johnnie Woodson, Sev Ritchie, Ray Dowd, Donald Hatch, Jacqueline Barnes, Catherine Fallon and Martha Barnes of Arlington were guests.

The house was decorated with green and white, and games were enjoyed before the serving of refreshments. A large birthday cake was the feature of the good things to eat.

AROUND THE BOAT CLUB

Ho! Hum! That's us—waking from our mid-season siesta. What with the sticky weather and all, the only place for man or beast has been under the garden sprinkler—and that's where we've been, for these three weeks.

A very interesting but hardly informative analysis of the lake water has been received. We quote it "ad verbatim."

May 18—Ammonia, total 2.69, dissolved 2.24, suspended .36, oxygen consumed 1.5, iron .2.

Aug. 2—Ammonia total .460, dissolved .360, suspended .100, oxygen consumed 7.2, iron .74.

And then we have something labeled merely "ph" which on May 18 was 8.9 and Aug. 2.74. There you have it and I am sure you mind, even as mine, must surely be relieved to know that "ph" that sinister symbol of heaven knows what—has fallen off 1.5 in three months.

Seriously though, this report is probably drawn up in the best scientific manner, but we are not scientists—and all we want to know is whether the lake water is it to swim in or not. That fact must be hidden away some where among the "ph's"—but we can't dig it out. This report is posted on the club bulletin board—which not come down and see what you can do. Nevertheless the lake is much cleaner, the odor has disappeared and those hot days we noticed quite a few of heaven knows what, and then remaining for a swim.

We covered the waterfront at Marblehead Race Week, but some good Samaritan has already published the results. Suffice it to say that all hands had a good time and many things were learned adding a dash of salt to the lake temperature.

Launchings of interest during our vacation were: 1. H. L. Bennett's stream-lined motor-cruiser, "Miss Mystic" informally known as the judges boat. We not only start the sailing races in this but we follow them around to check up on who hits what buoys and who wins.

The pendulum seems to be swinging away from paddling, for which this club has been famous, these 35 years, and toward sailing. On route, we are to lose a couple of very silver silver cups. Cups that have been on the shelf over our fireplace the greater part of those 35 years and it seems too bad.

Many of you who helped win those mugs have dropped out but some of them are still here, going out for practice (alone) attending every meet, participating in each event, in carrying on the tradition in the manner of a paddler—but they need support! They need co-operation! Two men can't make a war-canoe or a four-board. Do you what they can. You isn't enough. You fellows who are supposed to be on the crew know that Ken Pratt and Jim Fitch have done a great deal for this club in paddling and if you let Medford take those two cups away from here next Sunday—yours are letting Jim and Ken down as well as the boat club. Medford is out for paddling this year and not so much sailing—they have an advantage in more mature fellows on the crew and plenty of practice but nothing can beat fighting spirit so let's see you get out there and fight. (I love to polish those mugs!)

Don't forget the sailing schedule every week—Tuesday nights, snipe race, 6:30; Wednesday nights, dark race, 8:30; Thursday nights, snipe race, 6:30; Saturday afternoons, snipe race, 3. Sundays—morning, handicap race, 10:30; morning, snipe race, 11; afternoon, free-fall, 3.

The "dark race" on Wednesdays is started just before dark and each boat carries a flashlight for spotting buoys.

Things We Wonder About

That golden haze on Eddie Logan's upper lip.

The entertainment committee, Mike and Ike, which is which?

"Pick a number" in the goldfish. Ickle and Mickle are alive and fat!

Jimmy Gustin's Jane.

How about it Teddy.

And many more—Adios.

BOY KNOCKED DOWN BY AUTOMOBILE

The Police were notified Monday forenoon that at 11:15 last morning Richard Feeney, 9, of 39 Shore road was struck by an automobile while lifting his cart from the street in front of the Economy Grocery Store at 556 Main street.

The accident was reported to the Police by Richard's brother, Francis, who told the authorities that the driver of the machine failed to stop. Francis reported that Richard had been taken home and attended by Dr. R. L. Emery who found he had sustained contusions about the stomach and possible internal injuries.

John Delaney, 12, of 101 Loney clerks at the Economy store, secured the number of the car said to be responsible and the authorities found it to be registered to Peter Leone of 120 Garden street, Laconia, N. H. in response to a call, came to Winchester and stated that he did not know he had struck the Feeney boy. He agreed to see both him and the physician.

The first of the visitation days at the Jewish Cemetery in Montvale is to take place on Sunday. The Police Department is planning for a busy day and has had no parking signs let-tered in Yiddish to facilitate handling of the big crowd of out-of-town motorists expected.

Miss Margaret Irwin of 39 Ridge street is spending her vacation at Wood Harbor, Nova Scotia.

ROBERT C. ORPIN

Robert C. Orpin, a well known resident of Winchester for the past 13 years, died late Wednesday afternoon at his home, 15 Sheffield street, after a short illness that followed several months of failing health.

Mr. Orpin was born in Boston, Sept. 21, 1876, son of the late Fletcher and Anastasia (Lawler) Orpin. He was graduated from Bryant and Stratton Commercial College and from the Hawley School of Steam Engineering, holding a second class stationary steam engineer's license.

Later, he studied finance under Roger Babson, was graduated from Northeastern Law School in 1914, and admitted to the bar the following year.

He acted as superintendent of the furniture factory of Orpin Brothers, one of the first companies to introduce the roll top desk to America, until 1908 when he and his father, who was the founder of the firm, retired from furniture manufacturing. He then conducted a wholesale lumber business in Medford until 1928 when he retired from business to devote his time to the practice of law. During the World War, he acted as legal advisor to the Draft Board in Medford, and in recent years, his practice has become extensive.

Mr. Orpin held the major part of his life in Medford, coming from that city to take up residence on Sheffield street in this town in 1924. He was a member of Mr. Hermon L. of Mansions in Medford, Boston Royal Arch Chapter, the Council, R. & S. M.; Boston Commandery, Knights Templar; and Aleppo Temple of the Mystic Shrine.

On July 13, 1912, he married Amy Derby Segitz of Medford, who survives, with a daughter, Miss Anne Derby Orpin; a son, Robert C. Orpin; and a sister, Mrs. Walter Henderson of New York City.

Funeral services will be held at the late residence this Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with delegations present from the Masonic bodies, of which Mr. Orpin was affiliated. Interment will be in Oak Grove Cemetery, Medford.

Advertising That Lives Longer

Merchandising experts agree that approximately 85 per cent of the shopping in America today is done by women.

In other words, women have become "purchasing agents for the home." By nature, by inclination, by training, women are fitted for the important duty of investing intelligently the money with which they are supplied for filling the needs of the home.

The modern merchant must consider the woman if he expects to succeed in attracting to his establishment a profitable volume of business. If women do not patronize him, he is confronted with a discouraging task.

Fortunately for the modern merchant in America, there is an easy, infallible method of reaching the very women upon whom he is dependent for his prosperity. Through the weekly newspaper he can address an attentive audience every week. Women are thrifty. They know that progressive merchants—the only kind they care to patronize—advertise in the weekly newspaper. Therefore, women read the weekly newspaper thoroughly. They are constantly seeking information about the merchandise for which they are in the market. An advertisement describing the merchandise they want will be accorded close attention.

The weekly newspaper provides the modern woman with information which helps her to fill her post of home purchasing agent more efficiently. The weekly newspaper is her staunchest ally, her most dependable aide.

Advertising in the weekly newspaper LIVES LONGER—therefore it is the most profitable form of newspaper advertising.

SCHOOL OPENS SEPT. 8

The public schools will open officially on Wednesday, September 8th. Parents are urged to enter their children promptly. Days lost make extra work for both students and teachers.

The preferred age for admission to kindergarten is five years on or before the first of October. The preferred age for admission to first grade is six on or before the first of October. Children are admitted, however, to the kindergarten who become five on or before the first of January and they are admitted to the first grade if they become six on or before the first of January.

The School Committee goes a step further, however, and is willing to give mental tests to children for the kindergarten and first grade who will not be five and six years of age respectively on or before the first of January. A request for a mental test should not be made for a child for kindergarten entrance who is not four and a half years of age on or before the first of October, and a request for a mental test should not be made for a child for entrance to first grade who is not five and a half years of age on or before October 1st.

Mental tests for those eligible will be held at the office of the Superintendent of Schools in the Administration Building, Church Street, on the following dates: Tuesday, September 7th; Wednesday, September 8th.

Please call Winchester 1780 to arrange for the appointment and for further information concerning admission to kindergarten or first grade.

FORTNIGHTLY CHARITY BALL

The most brilliant star on the fall social horizon is the Charity Ball, to be given by the Fortnightly, in the Town Hall, on Oct. 20. Headed by two of Winchester's most versatile dramatic enthusiasts, Mrs. Robert Reynolds, president of the Fortnightly, and Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini, chairman of the Charity Ball committee, it promises to be the outstanding dramatic event of the year.

There will be a colorful pageant of all the courts of the world, with over 100 of Winchester's most prominent socialites taking part. Mrs. Ghirardini and her committee have done a great deal of research in order to produce a historically accurate pageant, in costume background and music.

To the uninitiated—who consider a woman's club to be merely a place to gossip, and endure long and lugubrious reports of "Anthony Adverse" and "Gone With The Wind"—a few statistics as to the worthwhile philanthropies conducted by the Winchester Fortnightly might be enlightening. In the 56 years of its history, the Winchester Fortnightly has expended nearly $30,000 on local philanthropies—and one has but to make a tour of the three public playgrounds today, to see the work being done in handicraft among our Winchester children, in order to better appreciate the many varied, but so worth while, interests sponsored by the women of Fortnightly.

The Charity Ball is being given to augment the Fortnightly Philanthropy Fund.

NOTES FROM THE NATION'S CAPITOL

On Saturday, exactly ten minutes before the sound of the gavel which denoted the end of the first session of the 75th Congress, Representative Edith Nourse Rogers gained recognition and asked the National House of Representatives to give consideration to H. J. Res. 494, the measure ratifying the State Compacts for Flood Control in the Merrimack Valley. This was the final attempt of Mrs. Rogers in this session to obtain action before adjournment, and she called attention to the great danger of another flood next spring if nothing is done.

Due to the opposition of the Administration toward the compacts, no action was taken. The girls next participated in several folk dances. Following this the guests were called upon to speak to the girls. Their enthusiastic response to this invitation indicated what a great benefit their girls had received from the Day Scout Camp.

The afternoon was brought to a pleasant close with the serving of ice cold lemonade and cakes.

This was completed another most happy and successful season. The following day Miss Gregg rewarded the three girls who had perfect attendance by taking them to Beverly Beach, Marblehead Neck. The girls were Miss Mary McCaul, Miss Alice Nolley and Miss Shirley Snider.

GIRL SCOUT CAMP NOTES

Thursday, Aug. 19

Our closing day at camp was a delightful day, after the preceding warm days.

After colors the girls went back to the cabin and artistically arranged their craft work on three tables. They had an excellent display. Miss Jean Stillman won first prize for having the finest collection of craft work. Miss Mary McCaul won the second prize and Miss Annette Croughwell won the third prize.

During the camping season the following articles were made during the craft period: two cigarette cases, two twin dog embroidered sets, 47 korelin rings, 12 korelin bracelets, 13 suede purse sets, 32 hair bands, 58 braided bracelets, 35 cardboard wound bracelets, 16 book ends, 41 lanyards, five dog leashes, five coasters (hot dish), 94 napkin rings, 28 woven mats, 33 belts, one pillow, one holder, four door stops (metal), one wooden door stop, one plaque and three banners. This gives an idea of how busy the girls were during the afternoons at camp.

At 2:30 p. m. the operetta "Robin Hood" was presented. This was followed by the winners of our last Major Bowes amateur radio hour repeating their acts. This consisted of a love scene from Tom Sawyer by Miss Jacqueline and Miss Annette Croughwell; an Irish song by Miss Mary McCaul; and a popular number sung by Miss Gregg. She sang the ever popular number, "The Old Woman All Skin and Bones." Miss Cobleigh then favored us with a comic song.

The girls next participated in several folk dances. Following this the guests were called upon to speak to the girls. Their enthusiastic response to this invitation indicated what a great benefit their girls had received from the Day Scout Camp.

THIS WEEK'S GARDENING

By Alfred A. Fraser

Newly planted perennial seeds should be shaded.

Keep the rose bushes well watered for more bloom.

Rock garden plants that are through flowering should be thinned out, otherwise your trim effect will be lost.

When cutting gladioli, leave two leaves at least so that the corns will mature.

If you want indoor plants you can start taking cuttings now from bedding plants such as geraniums, begonias, and ageratum. Root in moist sand.

Parched lawns, if a year old, will probably come back with fall rains. Lawns planted last spring may not.

To be safe, fertilize about Sept. 1 and resow at the rate of a pound for 200 sq. ft. The most expensive seed is the cheapest, gives a permanent lawn.

Either Kentucky Blue Grass, Chewings Fescue or Routh Stalked Meadow Grass (Poa trivialis) should predominate in any mixture. Evergreens planted this month or next should be thoroughly watered after planting, and for at least a week afterward.

Privet hedges should not be pruned later than now, so that the young growth will have a chance to harden.

Iris clumps can be divided now. Separate and plant 12 inches apart so there'll be room for growth.

According to one Winchester man, the most enjoyable friend is one who doesn't insist that you read a high-brow book just because he waded through it.

Things that never happen in fair Winchester: Two cars bumped slightly but both drivers smiled and drove on.

According to one Winchester fellow at 35 life has reached the point where there is little to expect except more of the same.

HEART TO HEART TALKS The World Needs Good Men

Men there are who strive to serve their fellows because they realize that a human being is precious in the sight of the Almighty.

What we need above everything else are men who love people as INDIVIDUALS, not as types, because men who want to make their lives really count have learned it from the Ten Commandments and from a knowledge of what Christ demands of us. God's love does not depend on our service to Him—He loves the sinner as much as He loves the saint and we need to keep this fact in mind at all times. The only difference in men's relationships with God is due to the fact that some resist God's love, while others accept it and appreciate it. But unfortunately for the world, too few do.

This old world of ours does not need new philanthropies so much as a new sense of personal neighborliness—of brotherhood one with another, through cooperation with God's great plan for a better society. If we had more faith in the Almighty we certainly would serve humanity far better than we do at present. Let us bear in mind in our relations with others that GOD VALUES OUR MOTIVES MORE THAN OUR ACCOMPLISHMENTS.

LEE HELD MILLIONAIRES HITLESS

Big "Olio" Lee, former Winchester High hurler, pitched a five inning no-hitter for the Cubs of the Woburn Municipal League against the Winchester Millionaires Wednesday evening, winning 6-0 on Manchester field.

Only two of the locals reached first base, one on a pass and the other by being hit with a pitched ball. Only a single runner reached second.

Meanwhile, the Cubs found Horie, the Millionaires hurler, no special puzzle, though in justice to the big boy it should be said that it was his own inability to find the plate that led largely to his undoing. "Rod" MacDonald finished up for the locals.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page

Bartlett pears are news this year. A really bumper crop of this delicious fruit means low prices and plenty of them to go round. Apples, too, are going to be plentiful and cheap.

Meats continue high with lamb still the best value, and poultry, with the exception of ducklings, is higher. Fish is a reasonably priced food. Eggs and cheese are relatively inexpensive and may be used for luncheon and dinner main dishes. Butter prices continue below last year's level.

Homegrown vegetables are plentiful and cheap. A generous use of vegetables will help meat go a long way.

The following menus call for a seasonal, reasonably priced foods.

Low Cost Dinner
Cream of Corn Soup
Deviled Eggs Potato Salad
Sliced Tomatoes
Bread and Butter
Pears and Plums
Tea or Coffee
Medium Cost Dinner
Roast Shoulder of Lamb
Pan-roasted Potatoes Lima Beans
Bread and Butter
Pear, Grape and Cream Cheese Salad

WINCHESTER CUBS DEFEATED BURLINGTON

Winchester Cubs defeated the Burlington Tigers last Friday evening on Leonard Field in a tight ball game, 2-1. "Libby" Gaudioso of the locals proving a bit tighter in the pinches than the visiting hurler, Gibbs, though both boys pitched good ball.

The game was the first of a series, resulting from the flinging of challenges and counter challenges by the managers of the two clubs which are apparently very evenly matched. The summary:

EMPIRE FORFEITED ROSEBUDS GAME TO MILLIONAIRES

With the teams deadlocked, 5-5 as darkness descended on Manchester Field Wednesday evening, Empire Peleg awarded the Woburn Rosebuds-Winchester Millionaires baseball game to the Millionaires, 9-0, when the Woburn nine walked off the field with the seventh inning still unfinished.

It was entirely too dark for baseball. There is no question about that, and the game should have been called at the end of the sixth inning. How the boys could see the ball at that time is hard to understand.

The teams, however, agreed to play another frame and Woburn had batted. It seems no more than fair that Winchester should have had its full "clucks."

Going into the seventh the Rosebuds enjoyed a 5-2 lead. They were not all earned runs, by a long shot, costly errors by Manager Paul Quigley in right and "Joe" Dineen at short, hurrying "Al" Barnard plenty, while "Artie" Johnson who relieved him, was victimized by his own pass followed by a Sheeran single. When "Frankie" Provinzano muffed a beautiful line throw to the plate by "Red" Noble from the running track in center another run counted.

The Woburn boys apparently took the Millionaires a bit too cheaply in that last frame, and when "Lefty" Flaherty really tried to settle down and pitch he had trouble finding the plate. He certainly couldn't see it!

A home run by "Red" Noble walks to Maynard MacDonnell and Frank Provinzano and hits in the clutch by "Red" MacDonnell and "Junie" Donaghey brought the count 5-4 for Woburn.

With two and two on "Artie" Johnson, "Red" started to steal home and Flaherty, hurrying his pitch, threw one "Bucko" Brennan couldn't handle, both MacDonnell and Donaghey scoring for what looked like a win 6-5, for Winchester.

The Rosebuds squawked loudly and his umpires supported their contention that Donaghey was entitled to a home base on the pitched ball. His decision made no difference for the Rosebuds decided it was too dark to play further and walked off the field, the forfeit decision following.

FUNERAL RITES FOR FRED-ERICK B. REYNOLDS

Funeral services for Frederick B. Reynolds were held on last Sunday afternoon at his late residence, 75 Bacon street, with Rev. C. P. Wellman, minister of the Woburn Unitarian Church, officiating. Bearers were George Heintz, Arthur W. Dean, Dr. Allan Cunningham, Freeland E. Hovey, Walter Chamberlain and Henry J. Bruno. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

Mr. Reynolds died Friday morning, Aug. 20, after a long illness. He was 74 years old, a native of Halifax, N. S., and a resident of Winchester for 32 years. For more than 50 years he engaged in the wholesale lumber business, and was active in many social and fraternal organizations. He leaves his wife, the former Blanche C. Sargent, a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Reynolds Carlson of Quincy; a son, Robert A. Reynolds of this town; and three grandchildren.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB

The Mystic Challenge Trophy race and the Symmes Cup race will be held Sunday afternoon, Aug. 29, at 3 p. m. The start will be at Sandy Beach and the finish off the Medford Boat Club float. The Medford boys are very enthusiastic and Winchester is really becoming lukewarm about it. Anyway two good big "Mugs" are at stake and the better bunch of paddlers will take them.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Fourteen members were absent from the meeting of Aug. 26, two of whom had already attended other club meetings within the prescribed period. Billy Beggs, Bill Priest and Harry Winn were late season vacationists. Short descriptions of their various outings by our members would surely furnish material for an extremely interesting period at one of our meetings in the near future.

A slight cold prevented Dwight Cabot from appearing at our current meeting. We are greatly pleased to report that Dwight is back at his desk after his recent illness.

The club president and secretary have received their copies of the Official Directory of Rotary International for 1937-1938. The 272 pages of this volume are compactly filled with interesting statistics covering individual clubs and districts and it is now possible to visualize the results of the redistricting recently adopted in the North American area. Again we call the attention of our members who contemplate extended journeys to the fact that the secretary will gladly supply them with a list of those Rotary Clubs which lie along their routes. There is also available a list of hotels where Rotary clubs meet or whose proprietors or managers are Rotarians. The information should be highly valuable to Rotarians when they are in cities which they rarely visit.

During the year 1936-1937 Rotary International created 348 new clubs. This is the largest number of clubs ever organized in any one year since the beginning of Rotary service. It is evident that the extension movement is bearing fruit.

Members will be glad to be assured that entertainment periods at our meetings will be resumed next week. While it is not possible to give details at this writing, we can say that there is in the making a feature that will appeal strongly to every resident of this Commonwealth and in particular to citizens of Winchester. Sept. 2 is the date, at the Atlantic Club.

Percentage of attendance, Aug. 19—74.19 per cent.

SAFETY HORNET REMOVAL

As yet the process isn't patented, but there is no telling when Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mann of Euclid avenue will decide to cash in on what looks like a positively safe way to get rid of hornet nests without the necessity of burning ornamental shrubbery, trees or woodwork. It really looks like "They have something there!"

The Mann's hornet problem was a large nest in a spruce bush, about which they held strong views. They did not want to harm the shrub by burning the nest with kerosene or gasoline, and yet the best judgment of experts consulted could offer no alternative.

Finally Mr. Mann went into executive session with himself and after grappling with the problem, called for the vacuum cleaner, a type equipped with a long tube having an opening of about an inch.

Starting the machine, he placed the opening of the tube over the one-quarter inch opening at the bottom of the nest and simply sucked about the buzzing, raging hornets right into the sack of the cleaner. It might be added for those who care to take advantage of the system (before it is patented) that the Manns waited until dusk when all the hornets were stowed away in their nest for the night. Any strays that succeeded in getting out during operations were sucked into the vacuum on the wing. "Nothing to it!"

This however, constitutes but half the process. The hornets were rarin' to go in the sack! Taking the vacuum cleaner to the family automobile, Mr. Mann started the motor and held the tube of the cleaner against the exhaust. For half an hour he gave the hornets monoxide gas in great quantities. Three minutes generally does for a human, but at the end of 30 minutes the hornets were groggy, but still alive.

Unwilling to continue the gassing process, Mr. Mann at that point consigned the insects to the fire, along with their nest in which there were many larvae. That's the process. We pass it on for what it's worth, but we can't say how long it will be available without a royalty!

NUMEROUS IMPROVEMENTS
MADE AT MT. VERNON

Mount Vernon, home of George Washington near the National Capital, has a new superintendent, the fourth since the Mount Vernon Ladies Association took over the care and upkeep of the famous shrine in 1858. Following the recent death of Colonel Harrison H. Dodge, the Ladies Association elected Charles Cecil Wall, former assistant superintendent, to take charge.

Numerous changes and restorations have taken place at Mount Vernon in recent years, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Old Records Aided Restoration

Many of the alterations, the new superintendent points out, were made as a result of extensive research work among records, and letters, and other documents found both in this country and abroad. As a result the Mansion House and its adjacent buildings and gardens are today more nearly as they were in Washington's time than when the Ladies Association took over the neglected estate. This organization, founded 79 years ago, by Miss Ann Pamela Cunningham of South Carolina, is chartered by the State of Virginia. Its officers serve without pay.

ings of the Mansion, some of which have only recently come to light, revealed that the railing did not appear on any pictures prior to 1839, and therefore the railing must not have been a feature of the house during Washington's lifetime. Consequently it has been taken down.

Another restoration, of particular interest to landscape architects, is the kitchen garden along the south side of the bowling green. This sloping plot of land was laid out by Washington in terrace style, an interesting example of 18th century design. Most of the beds are small, as was the custom before the introduction of modern gardening tools which permit the growing of vegetables in long rows. Growing in the garden now are old herbs, vegetables and fruits mentioned in Washington's farm accounts.

The old brick barn has a new roof, a shingling job completed this spring. These shingles, the only major building item not available locally when the barn was built in 1782, were made of cypress along the Pamunkey River, very much as were the first set purchased by Washington.

Visitors may now peek into the tiny building at the west end of the flower garden believed to have been used by the Curtis children and their tutor as a school house. This red-roofed octagonal structure was, until recently, used as a tool house.

Some authentic relics recently returned to the estate for display in the Mansion or in the small museum near the spinning house are: Mrs. Washington's French writing desk, a knee-hole dressing table, a stool with Mrs. Washington's initials on it, the original "Christ Jesus" In the subject of the Lesson, Sermon which will be read in the Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, August 29.

The Golden Text is: "The Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgement unto the Son: that all men should honour the Son, even as they honour the Father" (John 5:22, 23).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And John calling unto him two of his disciples sent them to Jesus, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look we for another?" ... And in that same hour he cured many of their infirmities and plagues, and of evil spirits; and unto many that were blind he gave sight. Then Jesus answering said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard" (Luke 7:19, 21, 22).

The Lesson Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The mission of Jesus, confirmed prophecy, and explained the occulted miracles of hidden time as natural demonstrations of the divine power, demonstrations which were not understood by Jesus' works established his claim to the Messiahship. In reply to John's inquiry, 'Art thou he that should come?' Jesus returned an affirmative reply, recounting his works instead of retreating to his resting, confident that this exhibition of the divine power to heal would fully answer the question" (p. 131).

STRANGE CREATURES OF THE EAST—DINOZAU ZOO

With a cargo of animals, birds and snakes sufficient to make a large and complete zoo in itself, the National Geographic Society-Smithsonian Institution Expedition led by Dr. William M. Mann sailed for home Aug. 9 via the Red Sea and Mediterranean from Medan, Sumatra, Netherlands East Indies.

The large collection of wild creatures, many of which have rarely or never before been seen in zoos of the United States, will be placed on exhibition in the National Zoological Park in Washington, of which Dr. Mann is director. The new animals were collected in Sumatra and the islands of the East Indies, and from nearby regions of the Asiatic mainland.

Because many of the animals are unaccustomed to captivity, the entire collection was carried on a special train to the Sumatran coast at night, to minimize the discomfort of the ride and to frighten the animals as little as possible. The "zoo special" was furnished by the Deli Railway Company of Sumatra.

In a brief cable announcing the expedition's departure for home Dr. Mann did not say what strange and unusual creatures of the Orient he is bringing back to Washington, but indicated that he may have some surprises in store for zoo-goers. The wild cargo is being transported on the S. S. Silverash, which probably will arrive at Baltimore about the end of Sept.

MADRID, SPAIN'S STRICKEN HEART

Madrid Bombed! Madrid in Sight of Rebel Forces! Madrid Loyalists Repulse Invaders! Madrid on Verge of Capture! Thus read terse headlines of the current history of the Spanish capital as Rebels attack it and Loyalists defend it, keeping it in the public eye.

One of Europe's eight big capitals, Madrid is the largest city to suffer serious damage from Modern warfare, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. Rapid growth has given it a million inhabitants, approaching Barcelona, the only larger city in Spain.

Like Washington, D. C., Madrid was chosen as a capital while it was still a sparsely populated place. When first encountered by Castilian monarchs, it was the scattered fortification Majrit, built by Moors to frighten 10th century Christians away from the north approach to their stronghold Toledo. Toledo now is a provincial town of 20,000.

Higher, Drier, and Larger Than Capital of U. S.

As capital, Madrid is about as old as St. Augustine, Fla. It was made the seat of government by Philip II, presumably because he liked the weather.

Its climate is described by sardonic Spanish humorists as the world's worst for a capital. Variations are so extreme that merely to cross from the sunny to the shady side of a street is to court a chill; yet summers are reminders that it is Europe's most tropical capital. Winters bring piercing cold because it is Europe's highest capital. The altitude is about 2000 feet.

In its exalted location, Spain's capital is strikingly contrasted to that of the United States, enjoying the very opposite of Washington's oppressive humidity. The Spanish skyline is pierced by taller buildings, for Washington's skyscrapers are limited to about a dozen floors. Madrid has the advantage of a subway and of underground routes for hurrying pedestrians across crowded streets.

As in Washington, Madrid's main streets converge toward a focal spot, Puerta del Sol. They are flanked with splendid buildings, tall and studded with ornament in lavish Spanish style. The post office, or Palace of Communications, is so cathedral-like that it has been nicknamed "Our Lady of Letters."

Literary and Art as Well as Political Center of Nation

Like Washington's Mall, Madrid has a tree-bordered promenade, park, and driveway slicing the city, the Grand Avenue of Liberty. Here automobiles and carriages cross paths with creaking ox carts rumbling to market or back to outlying farms. Facing this drive are some of the city's famous structures. The extensive Royal Palace is said to have excited Napoleon's envy as he placed his brother on the throne there. The long brick Prado Gallery is perpetual proof that Madrid is the art center of the country. A statue of Cervantes, flanked by figures of Don Quixote and Sancho Panza, is a reminder that Madrid is also the literary center.

Madrid is also the geographical center of Spain. One reason for its selection as capital was, perhaps, its location in almost the exact middle of the country. The commercial center of Spain, however, is still Barcelona. To the latter's New York role, Madrid plays Washington.

NEW ISLAND RISING IN SAN FRANCISCO BAY

Geography is in the making out in San Francisco Bay. A man-made island a mile long and nearly a mile wide is rising from the shoals between Oakland and San Francisco, to become the site for the Golden Gate World's Fair of 1939.

Located in the shadow of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, and just a few whitcaps from the towering Golden Gate Bridge, the Exposition island represents another important engineering achievement in a region famous for doing things in a big way, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Sand Pumped Into Seawall Enclosure

The new island project is comparable, in some respects, to such outstanding "human miracles" as Davis Island, Taiwan, P. I., Governor's Island extension, New York Harbor; the Portland, Ore., airport; lower Potomac Park, Washington, D. C.; and the dikes built to close in the Zuiderzee in The Netherlands.

"Treasure Island" as the Exposition site has been named, was literally sucked from the shoals of San Francisco Bay. Reclamation work on the site began February 1, 1936, when United States Army Engineers, in co-operation with Exposition workers, started the big dredging job. Eleven giant dredges, 1,000 men, and a daily 24-hour schedule were employed for a year and five months to dig 25,000,000 cubic yards of sand from the floor of the Bay and pump it into a huge square, rimmed by a stone seawall more than three miles long.

The island rests on a shallow area formerly from six to 25 feet under water. The finished site will rise 13 feet above the surface. During the construction job, approximately 100,000 cubic yards of black bay sand were pumped into a seawall enclosure each day.

Today it stands ninety per cent completed, and engineers predict that final surfacing will be finished this month. After this, the 400-acre site will be given a bath. Bay sand must be "unsalted" before trees, shrubs and flowering plants can be successfully transplanted. This will be done by a process called "leaching," which consists of keeping the ground continually soaked and drained with fresh water until the last bit of salt has washed back into the Bay.

At the conclusion of the World's Fair in 1939, the island will be transformed into a municipal airport to serve the San Francisco-Oakland area. The site will be cleared of all structures except a permanent administration building and two hangars, 200 by 300 feet each, which will serve as exhibit buildings during the Fair.

Winchester vacationists who have been away during the past week have lost nothing to their earlier friends in the way of escaping hot weather. The temperature has remained consistent with the hottest August recorded, combined also with high humidity. In fact, the past week may be recorded as one of the worst of this hot summer.

Winchester Lodge of Elks will hold its first September meeting next Tuesday evening, Sept. 7 in Lyceum Hall at 8 o'clock. A session of sorrow will be held for the late Tiler of the lodge, William J. Whalen, and nominations will be made for candidates for that office.

Peter Sibley drove home from Northeast Harbor, Me., yesterday after spending his vacation with his family there.

Miss Marguerite Thwing of 41 Lloyd street, will spend the latter part of next week at North Plymouth with friends.

Patrolman James Farrell of the police department is confined to his home with an injured knee, received in the square the first of the week.

Among the Winchester people spending the remainder of the summer at Lands End, Rockport, is Miss Dorothy Nash, who is a guest at Cape Hedge Inn.

Dr. Philip J. McManus is getting around with the aid of crutches these days, he having had the misfortune to fracture a bone in his foot while romping with his young son. The mishap occurred at York Beach, where the doctor was enjoying a vacation. Although his accident forced his return home, he expects to make another trip to York later.

Two members of the local telephone exchange are enjoying an auto tour through Maine and New Hampshire, Miss Dorothy Smith and Miss Angela Flavin.

Among the approaching weddings is that of Miss Alice Marie Kenney of Fenwick road and Mr. Theodore Edward Fitzgerald of Dorchester. Mr. Fitzgerald is a member of the State Police.

Miss Harriet Lee Pilkington of 5 Wilson street, who has been spending the summer on the Cape and in Maine has returned and has recently undergone an operation at the Winchester Hospital from which she is satisfactorily recovering.

Mrs. William Ghirardini and family have returned to their home on Wedgemere avenue after a vacation spent at Marblehead.

James Coon, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Coon of Sanborn street was ball boy at the Longwood tennis tournament at the Cricket Club in Brookline this week.

THIS WEEK'S GARDENING

By Alfred A. Fraser

This is the best time to make or reseed your lawn. If the soil is acid, lime should be applied as most grasses like a sweet soil. Fertilizer should also be added. A good fall growth will make a better lawn next year and also choke out weeds. Use only the best seed, which contains basic or permanent grasses. Kentucky Blue Grass makes the best sunny located lawn, while chewings Fescue or Rough Stalked Meadow Grass (Poa Trivialis) should be used in any shady mixture.

Onions should be pulled and dried before the advent of fall. White onions should be used first because they don't keep so well.

Perennials can be divided and replanted now. Fertilize with bone meal when so doing.

Oriental poppies can be planted now. There are new choice varieties available.

Peonies can be transplanted now. Do not have the top eye or bud over three inches underground. Fertilize with bone meal.

Water and stake asters and chrysanthemums.

Daffodils, tulips, hyacinths, crocus and all such spring flowering bulbs should be set out within the next month. Get the top size bulbs, it's worthwhile.

Many times hedge roots wander into flower gardens and take nutrition. To stop this, dig a narrow trench and run a guard of sheet zinc or roofing paper along to a depth of 20 inches or so.

Some lilies have small bulbs on the stem. Remove and plant one inch deep in boxes of loam.

Runners should be taken off newly set out strawberry plants.

OBSERVATIONS

By the Observer

According to a Winchester philosopher, faith is more popular than knowledge because you do not have to do any hard work to get it.

If you want to find out what a Winchesterite thinks of himself, watch him in front of a looking glass when he thinks no one is looking.

We know a fellow here in Winchester so stingy that he puts the "Winchester" in a tobacco sack in order that it will not rub away so quickly.

Let every mother's son of us remember that in bestowing praise, we get bigger results with an atomizer than with a whitewash brush.

HEART TO HEART TALKS

The Indestructible Church

Winchester is proud of its churches. And it should be. Did not the Founder of the church say: "Upon this rock I will build my church, and the gates of Hades shall not prevail against it?" No mortal tongue ever uttered a more pretentious idea. The church is here and here to stay. While we may not like some of the behavior of certain church folk, we have to realize that nothing can ever wear out the church.

Times change. And we are living in an era when the church is passing. Manifestly it is out of date. Modern scientific scrutiny is too much for it. Enlightened society has advanced beyond its best ideals. No longer does it influence the centers of learning and thought. At last its power is crumbling and near to the vanishing point. If it ever had a hold on humanity's heart, that has been definitely lost. These are some of the things we hear said about the church today.

But is there anything new in all that? Did not Voltaire say such things? And was he not rehanging deposits as old as the hills, repeated by a brilliant succession of acid tongues since the days of Celsus, Porphyry and Julian.

Today the church in and out of Winchester is badly beset, it is true. Discouragements abound on every side, and times were never so hard. But the church has fared worse. The world may be passing into moral eclipse as many will have it. Civilization may be slipping over the brink. But has not the Church seen darker days? If the fight with innumerable and raging evils grows bitter and waxing worse, the church has met fiercer foes. The troubles of today are not to be mentioned in comparison with what has been.

But listen to John B. Williams as he tells us about this indestructible church:

"Up through endless struggle and ashen danger the church has come. In all its lengthy history, like its Founder, it has been acquainted with grief. Adversity has nourished it. Fed with the jagged diet of calamity, it has prospered. No reverent student of its history—not the Roman Church, mark you, but His church—can rise from the study without sensing a deep impression that the very breath of God is in the church. It is the marvel and miracle of the centuries."

"As long as it is only here—weak it may be, unworthy it often is, insufficient for its great functions and inadequate to its duties and destiny—as long as it is only here with all its faults, uncounted possibilities of hope and blessing are here with it. Never will the world be plunged in despair nor come to its spiritual midnight until the last member of the last church of God has passed from earth, and its gospel is heard no more."

"The church is here: a positive, indubitable fact. We may therefore be excused for believing the words of Jesus to be true. And furthermore, there is still a reasonable likelihood, to say the least, of the church's remaining yet, to bless, if not save the world. Apparently the church—that is to say, His church, meaning the church that is faithful to Him—is foreordained to everlasting life!"

What are you doing to make life more cheerful? Are you soothing the worries of Winchester's sad ones and fearful? Is it sunshine or stormclouds you here represent? Is it what you are doing that tells your intent.

Once upon a time a certain Winchester boy left home to get fed up on adventure, but he came back for a feed-up on something more substantial.

It is claimed that if a person is pleasant while eating, he will never be troubled with indigestion. But how can a Winchesterite be pleasant when he thinks of paying the bill?

COMING CONVENTION

Approximately 125,000 persons will be present at Woburn during the three day convention of the 101st Infantry Convention Association, A. E. F., Inc., Sept. 10, 11, and 12.

A monster athletic carnival will be staged Friday evening and Saturday at the Woburn High School Stadium.

William Carey, business manager of the boxing events will stage a boxing show Friday evening with some of the outstanding stars in this vicinity participating. Andy Callahan of Lawrence and Ralph Zanelli of Providence will swap punches in the main event and will have a strong supporting card. A band concert on the Woburn Common will be held with Edson Kimball conducting his Woburn National Band, on the same evening.

On Saturday afternoon a regulation track meet will be conducted under the auspices of the A. A. U., starting at 1 o'clock sharp. Such stars as Jim McCafferty, stellar Woburn miler and Billy Woods another Woburn miler of note will compete in the mile run.

James Pettie of Woburn, all-around athlete, will compete in the 100 yard dash, broad jump and high jump. Numerous other star athletes have entered the various events. Johnny Kelley of Arlington and Olympic fame has filed his entry in the 20 kilometer championship road race under the A. A. U., which will be staged with Olympic level marathon stars, starting at 1 o'clock sharp.

George Kenneally of South Boston, coach and manager of the Boston Shamrocks football team of the American Pro Football League, 1936 league champions will bring his squad to Woburn Saturday, Sept. 11 from Falmouth where the Shamrocks are training for their strenuous season on the gridiron this fall. The Shamrocks will engage in an intra-squad game at 3 o'clock at the Woburn High School stadium. Thousands of fans will be afforded the opportunity of witnessing Boston's only big league pro football team in action as the Redskins have left Boston for their new quarters, Washington, D. C. Out-standing stars in the Shamrocks' lineup include Don Blonchard of Arlington and Villanova College; Pat Swan, Lake Forest; Earl Bartlett, Central College; Bill Cronin, Fordham; Francis "Red" Fleming, Catholic U.; Max Padlow, Ohio State; Bill Pendergast, Manhattan College, all-American; Dick Van Iderstein, Boston University; Thomas McNeese, all-American, Gonzaga University; Edward Warwick, University of Pennsylvania; Frank Sear, Providence College, stellar back; Nick Morris, Malden and Holy Cross; and other grid stars. Considerable interest is manifested in the outcome of this direct grid tilt as the playing of the gridster will give Coach Kenneally a good idea as to which players will survive the cut and be entitled to play Bing Crosby's Los Angeles Bulldogs, eleven on Los Angeles, this being the new Western entrant in the American Pro Football League. It's a bargain, folks, only a 50c general admission to all the track events, road race and grid game. Penicillin and July show for children Saturday afternoon.

Saturday evening will usher in a block dancing party on Common street. Military ball at the Woburn Armory and a horrible parade at 10 p.m. with numerous prizes available to the winners. On Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. a monster parade will be a fitting climax to a grand three day convention. Woburn welcomes you and extends the key to the city through its Mayor, Honorable Edward W. Kenney.

Let us pay tribute to the members of the 101st Infantry Veterans Association by thronging the City of Woburn during their three day convention, Sept. 10, 11, 12.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page

Holiday week-ends which bring guests require special planning if expense in time, labor and money is not to overshadow your pleasure in the company of friends and relatives.

Somewhat lower wholesale prices for meats and poultry have brought attractive special retails in most food markets. Cheese, eggs and butter prices are still comparatively low for the season.

Vegetables and fruits in general are available in variety at low cost. Green and lima beans, corn, peas, sweet potatoes and tomatoes among the vegetables and peaches, pears, plums and grapes among the fruits are outstanding.

Here are week-end and holiday dinners which require a minimum of effort to serve.

Advertising That Lives Longer

The merchant who advertises his merchandise in a daily newspaper realizes that the life of his advertising is pitifully brief. If his advertising appears in a morning newspaper, it is dead—worthless—when the evening newspaper appears. At best, the life of his average advertisement cannot be longer than twenty-four hours. Merchants are constantly bemoaning this fact, but it has always been true. Conditions in this case never can be bettered.

The merchant who advertises his merchandise in a WEEKLY NEWS-PAPER has the satisfaction of knowing that every advertisement will live at least SEVEN TIMES AS LONG as the same advertisement inserted in a daily newspaper. In other words, the man who uses the weekly newspaper as an advertising medium has a vast advantage over the man who advertises in a daily newspaper.

The daily newspaper is scarcely glanced through when another arrives. The first issue is dead. It no longer attracts the subscriber. The family seizes the new arrival, and the advertisements in yesterday's daily paper are dead forever. They will NEVER be read.

The weekly newspaper comes once a week. Its welcome is always warm. The entire family has been waiting for its coming. Its stay in the home will last an entire week. Because it contains news about friends, neighbors and relatives, its stay in the home may endure many weeks.

And the advertisements it contains will be read by every member of the family before the next issue arrives. No news item, no advertisement, in a weekly newspaper will escape the notice of its readers. Every advertisement has an attentive audience.

Advertising in the weekly newspaper LIVES LONGER—therefore it is the most profitable form of newspaper advertising.

What are you doing to make life more cheerful? Are you soothing the worries of Winchester's sad ones and fearful? Is it sunshine or stormclouds you here represent? Is it what you are doing that tells your intent.

Once upon a time a certain Winchester boy left home to get fed up on adventure, but he came back for a feed-up on something more substantial.

It is claimed that if a person is pleasant while eating, he will never be troubled with indigestion. But how can a Winchesterite be pleasant when he thinks of paying the bill?

TUNGCHOW: PEIPING'S SCAR-RED EASTERN OUTPOST

Tungchow is a name now whispered in the Orient by both civilians and soldiers. According to news dispatches the city has recently been the scene of a massacre, a revolt, and reprisals in which non-combatants perished along with the military. An American mission furnished only partial sanctuary to more than three hundred refugees from the terrifying episodes.

Tungchow was the last outpost in Peiping's outer line of defense, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. The small city lies 24 miles east of China's ancient northern capital, on the route to Tientsin, important as Peiping's outlet to the sea.

Walls Battered in Boxer Uprising
This is the second time in this century that old Tungchow has felt the effects of major military activity. In 1900, as foreign troops marched from Tientsin to the relief of their besieged nationals in Peiping during the Boxer uprising, Tungchow was bombarded so effectively that its half-demolished wall was never restored. Originally the city was a neat unit within its bulwark of stone, its two principal streets crossing at the city's center, and a drum tower standing guard at the intersection to sound warning of approaching danger. Chief pride of the ancient town was a 13-story pagoda, faithfully renewed so that it lasted from the 10th century as a reminder of the magnificence of a vanished Chou dynasty.

Just outside Tungchow stands one of the long stone bridges by which early Chinese engineers won fame for durable bridge-building long before steel came to solve their problem.

Canal Still A Vital Link
Tungchow's one claim to more than local importance was its strategic location on the route from Peiping to Tientsin. A broad stone-paved road crossed the flat farming country, linking Peiping to its satellite Tungchow, and bringing the latter much "tourist" trade as a stop on the seaward journey. A railroad, however, completed in the last years of the 19th century, helped traffic and commerce speed by without pause, and Tungchow's importance began to wane. By rail the provincial city is barely an hour from the capital.

Even in winter, when the canal is frozen over, the traffic continues, but on boat-leighs.

The Most Serious Hazards on a Golf Course

are not the traps, the bunkers or the rough. Many a golfer has found to his sorrow that a perfectly straight drive may result in a serious financial loss if the ball happens to hit another player, a caddy, or a spectator. You may secure protection against this and other golfing hazards through a liberal golfers' policy which provides, for the small cost of $5.50, full Public Liability and Property Damage insurance, so necessary in these days of crowded courses when a single slice or hook may result in a costly lawsuit.

HOME OF COMPOSERS HONORS
WALTZ KING

Vienna (Wien), Austria's music-loving capital, is honoring Johann Strauss, the younger, whose "Blue Danube Waltz" is now 70 years old. Since this famous waltz was first played in Vienna in February 1867 millions of couples in all parts of the world have danced to its undulating measures.

Although the Viennese received the waltz poorly when they first heard it, now they cannot pay enough honor to its composer, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. In Vienna, one may stroll along Strauss Street, hear operettas at the Johann Strauss Theatre, or Strauss concerts in the city park, where a bronze and marble monument represents the composer playing his violin.

Schonbrunn—A Musical Magnet
Ever since the 13th century, the pages of Vienna's history have included sheets of music, for the city's destiny has been "conducted" by musical rulers. Under Empress Maria Theresa, Vienna became Austria's court and social center attracting numbers of composers and musicians who filled with lively strains the vast salons of magnificent Schonbrunn Palace.

There six-year-old Mozart played by invitation. When the boy prodigy slipped on the polished floor and was picked up by Marie Antoinette, daughter of the Empress, he declared he was going to marry her. The German composer, Gluck, appointed court chapel master at Schonbrunn, heard Marie Antoinette sing her scales. Later, when Marie Antoinette went from this Austrian Versailles to Versailles, she invited Gluck to play for her there and helped him to produce his operas in Paris. This was just one of the little things that whipped up French hatred for "the Austrian" and brought her to the guillotine.

During the Congress of Vienna in 1814-1815, while diplomats were dancing to waltzes, Vienna music, came the startling news that Napoleon had escaped from Elba. Seventeen years later, his sickly young son, "Laiglon," died a virtual prisoner in Schonbrunn.

"Blue Danube" Not Blue

Vienna is a city of first nights. Its residents heard the premieres, not only of Strauss's "Blue Danube Waltz" but also of his operetta "Die Fledermaus," Beethoven's opera "Fidelio," Mozart's "The Magic Flute" and "The Marriage of Figaro," and many other operas and symphonies.

The city was the birthplace of Schubert, and Fritz Kreisler; the adopted home for more than 30 years of Brahms and Beethoven, and, for shorter periods, the residence of Schumann and many other musicians. There Mozart and Haydn died. Beethoven, who went to Vienna to study with Haydn, died there in 1827. Among his mourners was Schubert, who followed him to the grave the following year.

Noted for its light operas and dance music, the city is also celebrated for its church music, which has been cultivated ever since the founding of the royal choir in the 15th century. Those who attend service at St. Stephen's Cathedral may hear music by Haydn, Mozart, or Schubert, and in various chapels, singing by talented choir boys. Haydn was once one of the cathedral's choristers.

Although Vienna has lost much of its pre-war gaiety, it still has coffee houses in which one may sip coffee to lively airs, and theatres in which operettas are performed. Its manufacturers, though not as busy as in Vienna's heyday, still make musical instruments, especially pianos. In the spring and autumn, visitors throng the Spanish Riding Academy in the Hofburg to watch trained white horses perform to music.

In the 19th and 20th centuries, Vienna has become as noted for its schools of medicine and psychology as it had been previously for music. Its hospitals and clinics draw doctors, medical students, and sufferers from all over the world. Sigmund Freud, father of modern psychoanalysis, lived and studied in Vienna.

The Danube River, "The Beautiful Blue Danube," on which Vienna is situated, is not blue, but brown, and light green at low water. It rises in the Black Forest in southwest Germany and flows 1725 miles into the Black Sea.

BARGAIN

A very little used vitras bidet can be installed very reasonably, especially if you employ a plumber that has no right to plumb—or WE, the old reliable would be pleased to install same at less than apparent cost. We need the exercise. Would cost $75.00 new. As we are closing out our Park street establishment in the "biz" zone to open up on Main street, to be near our new hotel and lodging houses where meals are served at all hours, J. A. Laraway landed in Massachusetts Sept. 5, 1890. A practical Winchester plumber since February, 1891. This title is not bought nor stolen. Tel. 1126.

MILLIONAIRES WON IN TIGHT GAME

Continuing the series of interesting ball games between the Millionaires and the Cubs, Winchester's crack team, the former aggregation defeated the Cubs in a tight game on Leonard Field Tuesday evening 3-2. "Artie" Johnson's double, a feature of the game, drove in two runs, while "Joe" Dineen's double eased "Artie" in with what proved to be the winning run. "Al" Barnard held the Cubs to three hits. Rod MacDonald's error with two out gave the Cubs a run in the first and "Babe" MacDonald's double scored DeTeso with the other in the third.

This Friday evening these two teams will again fight it out on Leonard Field. The summary:

HOSPITABLE RUTHAH WELLS IN AN INHOSPITABLE DESERT

Ruthah Wells, in the Syrian Desert, where Colonel and Mrs. Lindberg were grounded over night recently during their flight to India, is a mid-desert radio, police, and rest station that gets into the news by preventing news. Says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society, "Sheltering caravans from sunstroke or bandits and rescuing stranded fliers, it advertises such headlines as 'Travelers Attacked by Bedouins' or 'Plane Disappears in Desert.'"

Lone Landmark in Hundred Miles of Desert

The fortified station of Ruthah Wells, despite its international fame, is only a single building, possibly the only permanent abode for a hundred miles in all directions, continues the bulletin. It is a solitary landmark in the billowing treeless desert, marking the location of shade and water. Sight of it is good news to man and beast.

This outcropping of hospitality in an inhospitable area lies on the direct caravan and air mail route across Asia Minor between Jerusalem and Damascus and Baghdad. It is a few miles more than halfway on the eastward journey of about 600 miles from Bible scenes to the capital of the Arabian Nights' country. It lies about 100 miles within Iraq's boundaries, which here embrace a particularly desolate part of the Syrian Desert.

The lone structure is a gray stone fortress built in a hollow square, with ramparts on the walls and low towers at the corners. Barbed wire and sand bags are additional fortifications beyond the rectangle and a barbed wire avenue leads to the single gateway. This businesslike shelter, bare here because of the desert, is a number of things: that well-stocked camel caravans are not Allah's express answer to the hungry Bedouin's prayer, that airplanes are not operated simply as moving targets for nomadic sharpshooters, and that gasoline—useless to the camel driver—must not be stolen for the lovely cans.

Plow Track Trail a Minor Wonder of the World

Once Ruthah was headquarters for a camel corps of desert police. Now, provisioned by truck from Baghdad, it has its own power plant for lights, water, and gasoline, and is a center for that more modern ship of the desert, the airplane.

From time immemorial, the wells of Ruthah have attracted nomadic people and their flocks of camels, fleeces, and goats. Bedouins still pitch their smoke-blackened tents of woven black goat's hair near the water holes. Or there may be a donkey-riding tribe of Semite, baffling desert spies who know secret desert secrets that the Bedouins, yet hint of descent from stranded English Crusaders.

When civilization descended upon Ruthah (by air), Europeans found eight wells carved 40 to 50 feet deep in solid limestone, so old that hoisting cords have worn the rock. Bedouins explained the wells as work of the "old people" some unknown prehistoric folk.

Hundreds of graves of an unidentified race mark the nearby hillsides, and beyond are scattered remains of stone walls and primitive mounds. They arouse conjecture about a vanished city built in ages past mysteriously maintained in what is now barren desert, and just as mysteriously wiped out.

From those days until recently, except by fearless nomads seeking water, Ruthah has been avoided. The water route around the Arabian peninsula, several times longer, held less danger and hardship. A regular airline, however, revived the ancient short cut directly across the then unmapped wastes, and the wells of Ruthah resumed their strategic importance.

The route was marked less than 20 years ago by driving motor caravans across the desert and deepening the track with a plow. Flinty gravel, of the hundreds of arid miles were down many plow points, but the way to reasonably safe transport. The straight furrow, surely one of the world's longest, is accentuated by arrows and, at intervals of 15 to 30 miles, surrounds circles to mark emergency landing fields.

ROUEN HONORS JOAN OF ARC

Today in Rouen, heart of Normandy, will beat also the heart of France. The whole nation is honoring Joan of Arc. Although Domremy was the birthplace of the Maid of France, it was at Rouen that the country girl still in her teens, was transformed into Saint Joan.

Ancient capital of Normandy and leading city of the lower Seine, Rouen's attractions are triple: a core of gray Gothic town for charm, an inland seaport waterfront for prestige, and the cotton weaving industry for prosperity, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Cathedral Is Showplace

Springing from an obscure Celtic settlement in a marshy valley, called Rotomagus by the Romans, Rouen has now 122,000 inhabitants and is the twelfth provincial city of France. Show places include a magnificent cathedral and the even more impressive Church of St. Ouen, called the height of Gothic perfection. Houses centuries old, with bishops and beasts carved on their weathered timbers, have survived in dim twisting streets. Five centuries have not obliterated the Hotel de Bourgtheroulde's carvings of medieval paganism on the Field of the Cloth of Gold. Museums—enough to justify the title, "Museum City"—have been made from old convents and churches to house antiquities, ironwork, ceramics, and paintings, among the finest collections outside of Paris.

Rouen is a little self-conscious about Joan of Arc. Perhaps it is haunted by her farewell sob, "Ah, Rouen, Rouen, is it here that I must perish? I fear that you may suffer for my death." This was 505 years ago, but although she lost her life she founded a nationality. Twenty-five years afterwards a French jury cleared her memory, pronouncing her no witch at all but a First Patriot of France.

Since then Rouen has cherished many spots which saw the last and saddest days of the martyr whom no one tried to save. The grim road Tower of Jeanne d'Arc, skyrocket-shaped with its conical roof, shelters the stone walls and vaulting which echoed her firm defiance on May 9, 1431. A tablet at 102, Rue Jeanne d'Arc, marks the site of her prison cell. In the greatly enlarged Old Market Square, a simple slab marks the spot where stood the stake. Her ashes were thrown into the Seine.

Memorial Honors British War Dead

The memorial chapel of St. Joan in a tablet commemorates English soldiers who died in the World War. Thus Rouen shows that it has learned the lesson of history, and is tolerant. Now it shelters in equal peace and in the heart of Rouen, the Lion-Hearted, English King and Duke of Normandy, and 15,500 British war dead in the largest cemetery in France.

Rouen, the philosophic, celebrating devoutly one day, must return to work the next. Pacing armies have sacked the city a half dozen times since Viking invaders spread their red Norse banners over it. Violence and brutality matched the burning of Joan of Arc. In the great square, the Insurgents fought English armies of occupation, Huguenots and Catholics massacred each other, and French Revolutionaries followed their example. German forces terrorized the city in 1871.

The old city, sheltered in a horseshoe of hills on the Seine's north bank, has today replaced its massive city walls, drawbridges, and gates with broad boulevards. It has drained the waters of the river, and built shops, banks, docks, and street car lines. Markets, a mint, a stock exchange and hotels provide activity in streets through which Joan was trundled in a criminal's cart.

Changes—especially marked along the waterfront where reclaimed land makes the river narrower and deeper than when Rollo and his Norse pirates sailed up to give Rouen a name. About 80 miles from the sea, the Seine carves its initial in curves, the river receives ships of seagoing size. Fringing the river banks are quays and repair docks, oil tanks, creaking cranes, grain elevators and coal piles. Vessels' nose in with cargoes of pungent dried fish, timber and bales of cotton. Later, laden with plaster, sand and cloth, they leave again, in numbers approaching several thousand a year. Water, vestibule for Paris, 87 miles southeast, it is the third port of France.

Miles of industrial suburbs explain why Rouen has almost become the French word for cotton weaving. Looms, soap, brushes, chemicals and distilled beverages.

Pretense Helps Some

Jud Tankins says pretend to be good-natured even if you don't feel that way. It's a case where pretense is respectable 'cause it shows your heart is in the right place even if your disposition isn't so good.

THE MATTERHORN BOWS TO ENGINEERING DEVICES

A 37-passenger cage, on a steel cable, now hauls modern mountain climbers part way up the Italian side of the Matterhorn, thus aiding even amateur climbers to conquer the once difficult peak.

The Matterhorn remained beyond man's reach until 1865, when a party of seven attained the hitherto unscalable summit says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. During the descent, four of the seven pioneers fell to their death on a glacier, 4000 feet below. Two days later the "unconquerable" peak was reached again. Since then, the Matterhorn has become increasingly popular with skilled climbers. Now as many as two dozen may be toiling up the hair-raising trail in a single day. But at least 39 have lost their lives on the dangerous ascent, or in coming down, which is even more perilous.

Summit Split by International Boundary

At high as 27 Washington Monuments atop another, the Matterhorn soars above a ring of snow-capped summits like the front peak of a tiara. The mountain wears a glacier flung glittering over one shoulder, and, above, a tall sloping collar of snow. The actual peak rises to a height of 14,755 feet, but no snow to rest, but sweep it down from the stark rocky top. This pyramidal summit has precipitous walls, one of them overhanging, which fortified it against climbers almost a century ago. The Matterhorn was the last great Alpine peak to surrender. Although rocks have been blasted away and ropes fixed to the more hazardous reaches, the trail to the top is still no primrose path.

The mountain's international outlook is not due exclusively to the fact that the many countries from which climbers come. It actually contains two countries as its place of residence, Switzerland and Italy. Their boundary line crosses the summit, dividing the roof-tree ridge so that one end is Italian, the other Swiss. The latter is the higher, according to Swiss yardsticks, by just 43 inches—14,705 feet. Only five Alpine peaks are higher.

Pride in the Matterhorn, however, is greater than that figure would indicate. For it is one of the two highest peaks in which Italy has even a share. Switzerland particularly cherishes its mountain giants, since it contains only two twintwists of the Alps and the two highest peaks are not wholly within its boundaries. Mont Blanc is in France, and Monte Rosa laves over into Italy as does the Matterhorn.

Matterhorn By Any Other Name Is Just As High

Alpinists at the top of the Matterhorn, in clear weather, are as breathless from the view as from climbing. They can see miles of ice and snow and valley strips of green in three countries: the surrounding peaks of Switzerland, distant Mont Blanc in France, and southern mountains subsiding into the Lombardy plain of Italy.

International prominence has won the Matterhorn several names. Italians have been known to call it the Becca and Monte Silvio. French-speaking Swiss refer to it as Mont Cervin, or simply Le Cervin, "the stag" for the proud wild way it tosses its head. Matterhorn has been interpreted as "the peak above the meadow" but its more orthodox German meaning is pointed out as "the dim peak," since its ice-shrouded outline emerges only dimly from clouds.

For generations it was feared as a haunted mountain, the home of the Wandering Jew, the stronghold of the old man of Becca—a phrase to frighten children. Valley dwellers thought the unvisited summit bore ruins of a city, where evil spirits lurked to bounce rocks down on ambitious climbers. Avalanche after avalanche swept down the rocky sides with such frequency that the Matterhorn was dubbed the "London Bridge of Alpine Peaks."

Untraveled natives once believed it was the highest mountain in the world. Few of them had seen the other side of it, for their road would lie over the Theodoule Pass and its glacier into Italy. That some bold travelers ventured through the glacier paved pass is proved by ancient Roman coins found nearby.

Travel is far simpler around the Matterhorn today. Railroads run to Zermatt on the Swiss side, and to Breuil on the Italian side, and the cable railway is on its way to joining these two resort towns. For climbers who venture beyond the realm of mechanical transportation there are huts to provide shelter, straw mattresses, blankets, and a cup of tea.

TANGANYIKA: BRITAIN'S MID-DLE LINK IN AFRICAN COLONIAL CHAIN

To keep Tanganyika Territory British, is the purpose of a committee of residents of the area recently appointed to protest against any move on the part of Great Britain to terminate the mandate which has been in operation since 1918.

Tanganyika Territory was the bulk of the vast German East African empire before the World War, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. The remainder of pre-war Germany's domain, made up of two comparatively small areas, was turned over to the Belgian Congo and Portugal's colony, Mozambique, for administration.

Has 5,000,000 Inhabitants
Extending from the shore of the Indian Ocean nearly half way across Africa, Tanganyika covers an area about four and one-half times that of England and Scotland combined. Twenty thousand square miles is under water. Boundary lines bisect Lake Victoria on the North and Lake Tanganyika and Lake Nyasa on the west.

If the mandate were relinquished, Great Britain would not only break her continuous pink chain of possessions from Egypt to the tip of the Cape of Good Hope, but her census enumerators would have to deduct more than 5,000,000 people from the British records. Most Tanganyikans are tribes of mixed Bantu races in various degrees of civilization. Some tribes in remote areas show little, if any, effect of contact with Europeans, while others, through the establishment of schools, and missions, have improved their methods of farming, and cattle raising, and have developed new industries.

There are less than 10,000 Europeans in the Territory, most of whom are residents of coast towns. There also are about 32,000 Asians. They also live largely in the coastal areas and are employed in industry and trade.

Slavery Abolished

One of the first moves of Germany after laying claim to Tanganyika in 1884 was toward the abolition of slavery. The government declared that every native born after 1905 was to be free. The wildness of the region and lack of communications, however, made the enforcement of the decree almost impossible, particularly in isolated regions. In 1922, the British, recognizing the tendency of many tribes not to abide by the decree, made a new attempt to destroy slavery by legislation, and today there is little evidence of the old custom.

Forests covering thousands of square miles of the Territory are the basis of a profitable lumber industry. Then there are extensive open areas used as farm lands, where sisal, cotton, coffee, ground nuts, and grain are grown for domestic needs, and for export. Other open acreage supports 5,000,000 cattle, 2,300,000 sheep and 3,300,000 goats. These and wild game are the basis of a large trade in wool, skins, and hides. Gold, mica, tin, and diamonds are mined in the Territory.

Contact of the natives with Europeans has been promoted by the construction of roads, railroads, telegraph lines, and the establishment of air routes. There are more than 15,000 miles of roads, easily traveled during the dry season, and three railroads, which with their branches, aggregate about 1200 miles. The principal air route runs across the Territory from the port, Dar es Salaam, to Kigoma, on the shore of Lake Tanganyika, 772 miles. Another line runs from the port Tanganyika to Arusha near the northern border, 273 miles. A branch of the Dar es Salaam—Kigoma road links that road with the shore of Lake Victoria. Thus the northern part of the territory is not as difficult of access by rail as is southern Tanganyika where there is only a line from the port, Lindia, to Masasi, about 100 miles inland.

Dar es Salaam, the chief port and largest city in the Territory, is in telegraphic communication with many of the inland towns and villages and with the adjoining colonies, Nyasaland, Kenya, Uganda, and Northern Rhodesia. The city also is linked by cable with Zanzibar.

Dar es Salaam has 30,000 inhabitants. It might be called a bit of Europe transplanted in Tanganyika, for, while black natives are commonly seen on its streets, the city is the headquarters of the British Government in the Territory; its streets are wide, its residences are modern, and its best shops are stocked with European merchandise.

ECLIPSE TO BE DESCRIBED BY RADIO FROM PACIFIC ISLAND

From a tiny uninhabited island far out in the midst of the Pacific Ocean, the voice of a scientist next June 8, will travel around the world, describing by radio to millions of listeners the gorgeous spectacle of a total eclipse of the sun.

This dot of coral and sand, 5000 miles southwest of San Francisco, will be the center of world attention for a few minutes at 2.15 p. m. Eastern Standard Time on that date, for it will be practically the only vantage point from which can be satisfactorily observed this important eclipse—the longest total eclipse of the sun in 1200 years.

At the island, the National Broadcasting Company, cooperating with the National Geographic Society-U. S. Navy Eclipse Expedition which is being sent there, will set up a radio transmitting station. Thence by short wave radio a description of the eclipse will be carried to the United States, sent over a coast-to-coast network, and rebroadcast to other parts of the world—probably the first world-wide radio broadcast ever sent out from a "desert island."

Thus though only the expedition's scientists and a few U. S. Navy officers and sailors will see the eclipse from the island, millions of people will be enabled to travel in imagination to the mid-Pacific and "see" Nature's most spectacular show. Although the eclipse path will extend 8800 miles across the mid-Pacific, it will touch almost no other point of land at a time of day at which satisfactory observations can be made.

The island on which the "Robinson Crusoe" broadcasting station will be established will be either Canton or Enderbury, two small coral atolls 30 miles apart in the Phoenix Islands group, 1800 miles southwest of Hawaii.

From time to time during the three weeks before the eclipse, while the expedition's scientists are setting up instruments, making preliminary observations, and making ready for the event, radio broadcasts from the island will describe the preparations, the interesting people on the expedition, and what life is like on an isolated island in mid-ocean.

"THE EMPEROR'S CANDLE- STICKS" AT THE UNI- VERSITY

William Powell and Luise Rainer, the stars of "Escapade" and "The Great Ziegfeld" are reunited for the third time in "The Emperor's Candlesticks" which starts Sunday at the University Theatre. Heading the supporting cast are Robert Young, Maureen O'Sullivan, Frank Morgan and Henry Stephenson. Based on the novel by Barneses Orczy, "The Emperor's Candlesticks" is a story of European intrigue of a quarter-century ago with two clever spies pitted against each other. The story gives us a vivid insight into the diplomatic life of Vienna, Warsaw and provides an ideal vehicle for these stars. As a beautiful countess involved in the dangerous business of sabotage, Miss Rainer has her first opportunity to present her exotic beauty to the public as she enacts a novel role with the consummate artistry that won her the 1936 Academy Award for the finest feminine performance on the screen. An excellent cast of funmakers and character actors has been assembled for the new Paul Gallico comedy, "Wild Money," the companion feature. Headed by Edward Everett Horton, the cast includes Louise Campbell, Lynne Overmire, Lucien Littlefield, Benny Baker, Porter Hall and Ruth Coleman. The story is a screen treatment of the Saturday Evening Post story, "Tightwad."

On Wednesday, Review Day, the program includes "His Brother's Wife" co-starring Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Taylor and "Romance in Manhattan" featuring Ginger Rogers and Francis Lederer.

"The Coronation of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth," a featurette in Technicolor will show beginning Wednesday for four days.

A thrilling story of a newspaper war is used as the background for the new drama, "Exclusive" with Fred MacMurray, Francis Farmer, Lloyd Nolan and Charlie Ruggles, which starts Thursday. This film was adapted from the stage hit, "Roaring Girl" by John C. Moffett.

An airplane that virtually flies itself, a newspaper editor who unwittingly scoops himself, and a swindler who unconsciously cheats himself, are some of the amazing ingredients that contribute to the fun in Joe E. Brown's latest laugh-vehicle, "Riding On Air," the companion feature.

READING THEATRE

"Captains Courageous" Rudyard Kipling's famed tale of the heroic Gloucester fisherman and the boy whom they regenerated through ideals of courage and humanity comes to the Reading Theatre Sunday for three days in a spectacular, picturesque and compelling screen version by the company who gave the screen that earlier triumph of the sea, "Mutiny on the Bounty." And once again Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has captured, in terms of camera magic, the spirit and beauty of the sea and of the men who go down to it in ships.

Backgrounded against the stirring and glamorous, ever-changing moods of the ocean, against the striking, tall-masted fishing schooners, their sails unfurled to the breeze, showing step by step the fascinating and dangerous work of the Gloucester fishermen, and permeated with thrill after thrill from the moment its boy hero falls from the deck of an ocean liner to be picked up by a Portuguese fisherman, to the final race between two ships who want to be the first to return to port with the catch, the Kipling tale unfolds its narrative of a spoiled millionaire's son who is almost against his will taught a new way of life and a new respect for his fellowmen with a power and tenderness that easily ranks "Captains Courageous" as one of the most distinguished photoplays of this year or any other year.

On the same bill will be Joe E. Brown in, "Riding On Air."

Flashlights—Ray-O-Vac, with batteries complete $1.25 at the Star Office.

GRANADA ATTRACTIONS

"Saratoza," with Clair Gable and Jean Harlow, the last picture the famous blonde star made, opens at the Granada Theatre in Malden today. Never was Jean Harlow lovelier and never has Clark Gable had a better role than the square gambler and bookmaker in the new race-track drama, written by Anita Loos and Robert Hopkins, who also wrote "San Francisco." "Saratoza" tells the story of a spoiled daughter of a wealthy race horse owner and gambler, Clark Gable is a bookmaker whom she first hates, fights, then loves. The background of the swift action ranges from penthouses and a London Hotel, to a Kentucky horse farm, the Saratoza race track, and other famous tracks in the United States. The final racing climax, photographed by special equipment, provides a genuine thrill. Una Merkel and Frank Morgan are seen together for the first time as a comedy team. More laughs as well as a song are contributed by Cliff Edwards and his ukulele. Others in the cast are Lionel Barrymore, Jonathan Hale, Frankie Darro and Henry Stone. One of the most interesting sequences takes place at Lionel Barrymore's horse breeding farm where thoroughbred animals ranging from famous race horses to young colts appear.

"Married Before Breakfast" with Robert Young and Florence Rice as the stars, is the second attraction on the bill starting today. The narrative concerns a young inventor, played by Young, who is engaged to a society debutante. In a travel agency he meets a clerk, Florence Rice, and ceases to be positive about his marriage. In his efforts to impress the girl he attempts to sell her boy friend an insurance policy and the plot goes into its complications. The inventor has a robot which is the marvel of all who see it. Then the youth and the travel clerk become involved in a jewel robbery. They are kidnapped and finally arrested. Then the robot really does his stuff and effects their release. They are vindicated and discover that neither of them wants to marry any one but the other.

THE CORONATION, IN TECHNI- COLOR, AT THE UNI- VERSITY

Long and arduous preparation, patient planning for months in advance during which many difficulties had to be overcome, won its just reward when 20th Century Fox secured exclusive pictures in Technicolor of the Coronation of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, a feature attraction which is coming Wednesday for four days to the University Theatre.

The pageantry of British monarchy which was climaxed by the recent Coronation is colorfully and authentically reviewed in beautiful and impressive scenes. The palaces, the jewels, the traditional locales—and paintings of the previous royal principals—all comprise a magnificent preface to the brilliant spectacle. Recently fixed the eyes of the world on London. Needless to say, no newspaper account or newswire could convey the impression that this film creates. The Archbishop of Canterbury expressed his great pleasure in seeing the film and commented that it would go down to posterity as a lasting record of a memorable event!

"The Singing Marine," starring Dick Powell as the star, head the double bill opening at the Strand Theatre in Malden today. Dick Powell is cast as a bashful back private in the San Diego barracks. He is in love with a waitress, Doris Weston, a newcomer to films, but is afraid to tell her of his affections. She's been saving her money to go to New York and get a tryout on the celebrated Major's amateur hour. Dick is a good singer and his pals chip in a couple of dollars apiece to finance a trip to the tryout. Miss Weston flops and gets the gong. But Dick makes the grade. He gets a tremendous salary and keeps Miss Weston as his secretary. Then the big money and the love of the natives, he gets a chance to redeem himself by an act of heroism. This puts him back in the good graces of his pals and with Miss Weston. There are six grand song hits in the production, five of them by the famed team of Warren and Dabbin, and the other by Warren and Johnny Mercer. "The Girl Who Couldn't Be Kissed" is one of the most novel songs of the year. Powell and Miss Weston are supported by a splendid cast which includes Hugh Herbert, Allan Jenkins, Lee Dixon, the dancer, Jane Darwell, Doc Rockwell, the vaudeville star, Marcia Ralston, Jane Wymann, Veda Ann Bork and Larry Adler, the greatest harmonica player in the world.

"Born Reckless," with Brian Donlevy, Rochelle Hudson, Barton MacLane, Harry Carey, Robert Kent and Pauline Manners as the stars, is the second attraction on the bill starting today. Brian Donlevy is a racing driver who meets Rochelle Hudson in a mid-western town. He also gets mixed up in a blood battle between rival taxi companies, one of which is a criminal racketeering concern, unhesitant in employing desperate methods to gain its ends. The legitimate cabbies are waging a losing battle until Donlevy, fresh from his speed victories on the auto track, appears on their side. From this point the tide changes, but the fight is not won until much excitement has ensued.

INTERESTING EXHIBIT UNDER ART ASSOCIATION AUSPICES

An interesting diversified group of paintings and drawings is being exhibited this week under the auspices of the Winchester Art Association at the Public Library. The artist is a young Finnish-American, Mr. Ture Bengtz.

Several years ago Mr. Bengtz won the Paige Traveling Scholarship at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts School, which is the highest scholarship awarded by the school. Upon special request he has remained on the staff there, alternating winters of teaching with the pursuit of his scholarship privileges in summertime painting abroad.

Upon his return from Europe in a few days, some additional paintings which he has done this summer will be added to the collection now on exhibit at the Library.

Mr. Bengtz for several years has been an instructor at the Museum School and this year is taking charge of the entire drawing department of the school. Mr. Bengtz's skill in this particular line is evidenced by the many pencil drawings which he has in the exhibit.

Last winter he exhibited at the Boston City Club and this coming winter he will exhibit at the Guild of Boston Artists, to which organization he has recently been elected.

He was born in Aaland, Finland, and during the past summers has had several exhibitions abroad and has recently had some of his work hung in Museums in his homeland.

LAUER NEW COACH

Takes Mansfield's Place at High School

George Lauer, comparatively unknown in this section, arrived Tuesday at Winchester High, ready to take over the football coaching reins relinquished by Wendell Mansfield, who has accepted the post of assistant coach at Springfield College. He called the squad for the first practice session Wednesday.

Lauer comes to Winchester from Lincoln School, the experimental school connected with Columbia University, where he has been coaching football. He is a graduate of Columbia, and received his master's degree at Michigan State Teachers' College. He played three years of college football and he does inherit from Mansfield a pretty good eleven. At least, Mansfield thought he had a good one during spring practice last May.

Only a pair of experienced ends are missing at Winchester this fall. The Winchester line did very well last fall, and "Bob" Gardner and "Dan" Delorey, tackles; Jack Finger and "Ley" Miller, guards; and Paul Lentine, center, are all back in line. Co-captains, Gerald Ficciello and Peter Sibley head the backfield and Peter Sibley head the backfield and Peter Sibley head the backfield.

For the vacant end posts, three boys who played a good deal last year, John Welburn, Clement Baird and Hartlyn Horie are available. In the backfield, Charles Reeves, Clement Barsdale, "Doug" Graham, converted from guard last year, and John O'Neil all saw action. From the 1936 second team are "Mike" Bilberty and Don Wilson, tackles, and John Dellosdetura and "Dick" McCormack, guards, while "Joe" Ficciello, brother of the co-captain and member of last year's squad, a center, and John Thomann and "Dick" O'Donaghy, ends, are back again.

Coach Lauer not only inherits all this, but also the tradition that Winchester either wins or ties for the Middlesex League pennant.

EUGENE P. SULLIVAN DEAD

A host of friends and acquaintances were shocked to learn of the unexpected death of Eugene P. Sullivan of 12 Spruce street yesterday morning. He passed away in his sleep, and although not in the best of health for some time, his death came as a distinct shock to his family and friends.

Mr. Sullivan was well known throughout the town. For the past 25 years he had conducted an undertaking business here and was always prominent in town affairs. He was born in Winchester Aug. 26, 1885, his parents being Patrick and Catherine (Green) Sullivan. He attended and graduated from the Winchester schools, and in early life was associated with a shoe provision firm, later opening a similar business here in Winchester. He schooled himself in the undertaking business and upon passing his examinations opened an office here.

He married Miss Katherine Crowley of this town 14 years ago. She survives him, together with four daughters, Mrs. Julia E. Lane, Miss Catherine T. Sullivan, Miss Nellie M. Sullivan and Miss Teresa E. Sullivan, and one brother, Maurice J. Sullivan, all of this town.

He also leaves three nephews, John W. Lane, Eugene E. Lane and Robert E. Lane, all of Winchester, who were associated with him in business.

He was the oldest living member of Winchester Council, Knights of Columbus, of which he was treasurer for many years, and he was well known as a call member of the Winchester Fire Department, in fact being one of the most active members for a period of over 22 years.

The funeral services are to be held on Monday morning, with high mass of requiem at St. Mary's Church at 10 o'clock. He was a respected member of the Winchester Lodge of Elks, and this body will hold a ritual service on Sunday at 8 p. m. at the residence.

The burial will be in Calvary cemetery.

TWO KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Fred Fitzgerald and Daughter Returning Home From Vacation Here

Returning to their home in Bristol, Penn., after a fortnight's vacation with his brother-in-law, Manlio G. Moffett, Mr. Frederick Fitzgerald and his daughter Doris, former well known residents, were instantly killed on Tuesday morning on the southwest cutoff of the Worcester Turnpike. Mrs. Fitzgerald was thrown through the windshield and critically injured, and their son, Frederick, Jr., was also critically injured. Their other daughter, Shirley, escaped injury.

The accident was caused so far as is known by the Fitzgerald car running into the rear of a truck carrying long iron rods. It was owned by C. E. Hunt & Sons, Worcester. In the opinion of the State Police, Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald were in the front seat, were struck by the iron rods. Mrs. Fitzgerald was driving.

Mr. Fitzgerald, a leather worker, was 37 years old. He left Winchester two years ago when he secured a position in Bristol with the Beebe Leather Company, of which Mr. Leslie Cox, a well known Winchester boy, is a foreman. He had brought his family here two weeks ago, returning last week for his work in Bristol. Previous to the holiday he came back to Winchester, and after spending the three days here, left with them for Bristol. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fitzgerald of Winchester place.

Mrs. Fitzgerald was before her marriage Miss Doris Moffett. She is the daughter of Mrs. Archie DeMorris of Winchester.

According to report of the accident both Mr. Fitzgerald and his daughter, who was 16 years old, were killed instantly. Mrs. Fitzgerald and her son were seriously injured. Shirley Fitzgerald, 12 years old, and the driver of the truck, Leo Gravel of Worcester, were not seriously hurt.

The wrecked automobile burst into flames immediately after the accident, but the fire was quickly extinguished. Besides his parents, Mr. Fitzgerald is survived by two sisters, Elizabeth Fitzgerald of the Winchester News, and a brother, Arthur, of 101 Lowell, and three brothers, Edward of the Winchester Fire Department, Harold and James Fitzgerald of Winchester. His wife and entire family were with him at the time of the crash.

A double funeral for the two victims, Mr. Fitzgerald and his daughter Doris, will be held this morning at the home of Mr. Fitzgerald's parents, with the services of requiem celebrated at St. Mary's Church at 9:30. Mrs. Fitzgerald, whose injuries have proved to be less serious than at first thought, is expected to be brought to her home tomorrow, and the condition of her young son, while still critical, is reported as improved.

FOOTBALL SEASON TICKETS ON SALE NEXT WEEK

Five Big Games on Home Schedule for High School

Beginning Wednesday, Sept. 15, the Winchester High School Athletic Association is conducting a short intensive season ticket campaign. With five unusually attractive games at home, and all to be played on the new Shash Root Athletic Field, these tickets should go fast. While some 1500 letters offering the special season ticket rates to a limited number of Winchester people will be placed in mail boxes on the 15th, the committee in charge of the drive feel certain that there are scores of other people in town whose names are not on the mailing list but whose interest in the activities of the school are just as keen and who attend regularly most of the school athletic contests. For the convenience of this group arrangements have been made for telephone orders as follows:

A representative of the season ticket committee will be on duty at the high school office between 2:30 and 3:30 every afternoon during the drive, Sept. 15 to Sept. 25, the date of the first home game. Those who wish to order tickets by phone should call Win. 0649, state the number of tickets desired and the time at which it will be convenient to have them delivered by a member of the committee. Tickets will also be on sale at Hevey's Drug Store and at the Star Office.

Season Ticket Offers Attractive

For the first time in the history of the school, Winchester High School will play all its home games on an enclosed field. Judging by the attendance at football games during the past few years, and taking into consideration the fact that the present seating capacity of the stands is limited, a special inducement toward securing season tickets lies in the fact that season ticket holders will be guaranteed seats in the stands for the entire season before starting time at each game. A reserve section sufficient to accommodate all ticket holders will be arranged for at each game.

The general admission to the field for each home game will be 50c, with 10c, as usual, 50c. This general admission, however, will not guarantee a seat in the stands. With the exception of the reserved section, the seats will be on a first come, first served basis. The price for the season ticket, guaranteeing a seat for the five games will be $2—a saving of 50c on the five games.

The first home game schedule is the most attractive offered the Winchester public for many years. Each of the five home games promises to be a feature game. Beginning with Marblehead High on Sept. 25, three Middlesex League games follow: Concord on Oct. 2, Belmont on Oct. 16, and Maynard on Oct. 30. The final home game comes on Thanksgiving morning at 10:15 with Woburn High School. All other home games will start at 2 p. m.

During the past 12 years under the supervision of Coach Wendell Mansfield, Winchester High School football teams have won a definite reputation for good sportsmanship and smart football. According to Mr. Mansfield's prediction at the close of spring practice last year, this year's team should be the best team turned out by the school since the great team captained by Henry Knowlton back in 1927.

A new coach will be directing the fortunes of Winchester High this fall. Mr. Louis A. Mahoney, a graduate of Michigan Teachers' College and assistant Physical Director of the Lincoln School in New York, will inherit a splendidly drilled band of boys who should be prepared to carry on the traditions of the school through a hard schedule. "Ed" Bartlett will continue in his position as assistant football coach and will be of great assistance to the new head coach becoming acquainted with his squad and their possibilities.

In line with the trend of most of the schools in the state, Winchester will equip its team this fall with colorful show uniforms of the latest material. On Sept. 25, when Marblehead comes to Winchester, the new field will present a spectacular picture. Marblehead, always a flashy outfit, will splash their colors in their black satin pants and brilliant scarlet jerseys, and the Marbleheads boys are big boys. Winchester will throw a squad of sturdy, clever players on the field equipped with black uniforms, red helmets and red numerals and stockings.

And there will be a lot of football unleashed before the afternoon is over. Marblehead has the reputation of being the best team in the state in the season than any other school in the state. Those who traveled to Marblehead last fall will recall the hidden forward pass that enabled the "Hoaders" to hold the consistently stubborn Winchester team of "underdogs" to a tie score. According to all reports from the North Shore, the Hoaders will not be content until they have won a tie score with an overwhelming victory. Sept. 25 will tell the story.

The season ticket committee urges all those who plan to take advantage of the ticket offering to remember:

1. The sale begins Sept. 15 and ends Sept. 25.
2. Season ticket holders are guaranteed seats in the stands until 10 minutes before each game starts.
3. There are five attractive home games at home.
4. Season ticket purchasers will save 50 cents on the five games.
5. Phone orders may be given by calling Win. 0649 between 2:30 and 3:30 p. m. during the drive.

FLOWER SHOW AT TOWN HALL

With the opening of the second annual All Winchester Flower Show in the Town Hall only a few days away the dates are Sept. 14 and 15 a feverish scanning of drought-ravaged gardens, both one's own and one's neighbor's, is going on among those who take their flower-growing seriously. Though sponsored by the Better Homes Garden Club, assisted by the Winchester Garden Club and the Fortnightly Garden Group, this is a community-wide undertaking, the complete classes of the show will be open to all applicants without fee. Exhibits already entered by non-members are encouraging evidence of a general interest.

Drought and drought have made sad havoc in most gardens; there is still much lovely material to be salvaged, while only Class I, "The Best in Your Garden" in flowers, fruit or vegetable, will be the exhibit to his own production. Class II, for instance, a still life composition featuring gladioli, limited to six specimens and judged for composition, the colors and the arrangement achieved by a visit to one's favorite garden. Class XI, an arrangement of white flowers in a white container to be shown against a black background, suggests the possibilities of a general interest.

Fortunately a truck has been placed at the disposal of the flower show committee and exhibitors entering Sunday night supper table arrangements, for which they must supply their own tables, can be assured of transportation by telephone call to the chairman of any section, not later than Monday.

These chairmen, in order of their classes are: Mrs. Walter Rice, Mrs. Thomas L. Freeland, Mrs. H. H. Thomas, Mrs. Paul E. Goddard, Mrs. M. Ferguson, Mrs. E. Adele Emery, Mrs. Arthur W. Pitman, Mrs. George E. Moffette, Mrs. John B. Over, Mrs. Parker H. Foster, Mrs. George F. French, Mrs. Ralph E. Saxton, Mrs. S. M. Mercier, Mrs. James R. Livingstone, Mrs. William H. Gilpatrick and Mrs. E. H. Butterworth.

The Garden Shoppe is in the cupola lands of Mrs. William Goodhue will be well-stocked with plants, herbs, flowers, fruits bulbs and novelties of interest to gardeners. Contributions from gardeners will be greatly appreciated. Assisting Mrs. Goodhue will be Mrs. William Bowe, Mrs. Theodore Elliott, Mrs. Elisha Goodwin, Mrs. James McGovern, Mrs. Marshall Hill, Mrs. Campbell R. Mrs. Sylvester Taylor and Mrs. C. H. Williams.

Tea will be served in an attractive garden setting from 3:00 to 4:30 each afternoon. Mrs. Lucius Smith will be in charge, assisted by Mrs. W. H. Smith, Mrs. John E. Burchard, Mrs. J. J. Costello, Mrs. John H. Gilbody, Miss Helen G. O'Connor and Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker.

Sympathy With Others

Do you enjoy yourself in other people's enjoyments? "Rejoice with them that do rejoice." This is sound advice. A result of obedience to this commandment is indeed much genuine happiness. It would not be a good thing for us all to be outwardly happy. Nor would there be room in the world for us whom Nature clothes in all her graces, and houses in all her comforts, and brings out to walk on smooth roads, in love and honor from all their neighbors. And it is as though it was said to us: "Even out of this earth can you spirits be made thus happy when it is good for you." But better than happiness itself is the trust of the soul that waits for it.

When I look about me in the world and see all the misery and poverty, or in sorrow, strengthens our belief in the immortality of the soul. And when such an individual weeps we weep with him and feel ever so tenderly that the Almighty cannot forget the sufferer. Nowhere does one find another life feeling so sure as one does in a sick room after having prayed at the bedside of some one dangerously ill.

From others being dear to us, we know how dear others must be to God. We trust that God cares for others; but that he cares for others we feel strongly. It is through sympathy with others that we have the sweeter assurances of Divine goodness.

DOCTOR URGES QUIET EVENING FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

Period of Complete Quiet After Dinner Beneficial for Entire Family

"One hour of complete quiet in the home after supper will accomplish as much towards helping a child to master his schoolwork as almost anything the family can do," declared Dr. Robert A. Fraser, Chief Medical Director of the New York Life Insurance company, in commenting on ways in which parents can assist their children at the beginning of a new school year.

"It is unreasonable," said Dr. Fraser, "to expect that a child can concentrate on his lessons in the midst of the ordinary distractions common to most homes. Not only are school grades likely to suffer, but the child's nervous and physical condition can be affected. Whether we realize it or not, the radio, laughter, conversation, singing, and all of these constitute disturbances that are almost insurmountable for the average child when he has schoolwork to do."

Fathers and mothers should cooperate with the child, Dr. Fraser feels, and see to it that a quiet hour is strictly and regularly enforced. Let it begin about a half an hour after the evening meal, after the dishes and other household tasks are out of the way, and then for the space of one hour the radio should be quiet, there should be no conversation between members of the family, no singing or piano playing, no noise of any kind that the family can avoid. Under such conditions the child will be able to concentrate on his schoolwork and get the greatest benefit from time spent on his books.

"Strangely enough," Dr. Fraser noted, "in families where the quiet hour is put into effect, the adults are usually the ones who derive the most actual satisfaction from it. Mother and father discover that during that period they relax physically and mentally, and they enjoy the opportunity for undisturbed reading and rest."

A child may study in a room by himself, when possible, and Dr. Fraser recommended giving the child the desk of his own, where he can keep his belongings with the understanding that no one will molest them. The desk need not be an expensive affair. Even a couple of packing cases, with simple alterations and a little paint, can be made to serve. Equip the desk with good light and a suitable chair, and have the child use it for all his studying and homework.

Don't Try To Be A Teacher
"Most parents," says Dr. Fraser, "make the mistake in offering too much help with the child's homework. Don't try to be a teacher. The chances are you will be doing more harm than good. Methods of teaching have changed markedly in the past twenty years, in both elementary and high school, and in all likelihood the parent will not understand what system is being used with his child and will attempt to explain the subject as it was taught to himself in school. The result is inevitable. Either the child is bewildered and unable to understand, or there is a clash of wills between parent and child over which method is to be used. Either way, the outcome is detrimental."

The wise parent according to Dr. Fraser, gives a minimum of actual help, but backs up the classroom teacher and lends her all the moral support possible. A visit to the school will frequently result in parents having a much better understanding of what is being attempted, and they can find out how they can be of greatest help both to the teacher and the child.

Take Children To The Doctor
Parents should have their children examined by a physician either before school starts or as soon thereafter as possible. Diphtheria inoculation, which usually is not compulsory, is strongly advised for children starting school. Eyesight, hearing and teeth should be carefully checked by doctor and dentist.

Frequently parents will note tell-tale signs of defective hearing and eyesight, and in such cases a doctor should be consulted at once. If the child squints when reading, holds the book markedly close to his eyes or complains of headaches, there is a strong possibility of impaired vision. If the child seems inattentive and indifferent and must have remarks repeated before replying, his hearing should be tested.

Above all, see to it that school children get plenty of sleep. Not less than ten or eleven hours for the youngsters; not less than nine hours for the boys and girls in middle and later "teens." Remember the old saying, that "every hour of sleep before midnight is worth two after twelve."

Advertising That Lives Longer

The population of this community is constantly changing. Customers whose patronage you have valued for a long time may move away next week. New families will take their places in the community.

The new customers will be in the market for merchandise. They will want to make the acquaintance of local stores, and they will begin investigating as soon as they arrive. In order to find out as much as possible about the community into which they have just moved, the newcomers will read the local newspaper. They will scan the advertisements in order to learn who are the community's most progressive merchants.

If YOUR advertisement is there, it will attract the newcomers' notice. It will insure your having an opportunity to greet the newcomers at your store. The merchant who FIRST meets these newcomers has a tremendous advantage over other merchants. Once induced to patronize your store, they will not be easily lured away by a competitor.

You can meet all newcomers FIRST by advertising in the local newspaper, for it is the newspaper upon which the newcomers will depend for instructions to the business men of the community into which they have just moved.

Advertising in the weekly newspapers LIVES LONGER—therefore it is the most profitable form of newspaper advertising.

TELEPHONE NUMBER 0029

Although labeled as a relic of the horse and buggy days, a Lord McAuley and an economic royalist, we had a real return to by-gone times on Wednesday when an old friend not only stopped to present us with a fine lake trout, but rode us home at once to aid in placing it on ice that it might be in prime condition for OUR dinner. In days gone-by the fellow who raised a three pound peach or tomato; one who had exceptional luck with the rod and superlative skill with the rifle, always proved his prowess by treating the Editor with a concrete sample. Nowadays things have changed, and while we occasionally see a perfect bunch of grapes or a prize squash, it is "see" only, and following an enthusiastic description of the marvel, be it as it may, the exhibit is carefully wrapped up and carted off—possibly for framing purposes. The old "stick" of recognition is now enlarged to a half column—which is a disappointment if it does not have at least a double heading and mention his name at least six times. Hence the trout was not only worth seeing, but through its delicacy and size, well worth the eating—to say nothing of the half column. Anyway, Sherman W. Saltmarsh of Highland avenue was the donor, and the gift was evidently from the heart, judging from the difficulty we had in learning that he and his family had been spending a week at Pierce Pond, up at Caratunk, Me. where they caught some 15 trout and salmon weighing from two to four pounds. Our trout was packed in ice and was as near from the lake to the pen as was possible considering the distance covered in travel. At any rate, it was eaten, before the time it was caught on the previous day. Pierce Pond, by the way, was a favorite haunt of the late Charles A. Lane. In fact some people hereabouts claim he was the discoverer of this pond as a fishing paradise. Rev. Howard J. Chidley also, credited with hooking more than one speckled beauty from its depths, so Mr. Saltmarsh's gift brought back the New Deal days in more ways than one.

MAINE AND VERMONT

To the Editor of the Herald:
Did Maine and Vermont know what they were doing at the last presidential election? I say they did. They knew the difference between intractable idealism and statesmanship that grasps all that is practicable approaching idealism and advocates it for the good of all the people.

With foresight, penetrating vision, and sound judgment, they found and followed the trail blazed by wisdom. Nor would they be diverted by mistaken and confused guides, lured by voices of enticing sirens, or misled by specious arguments of plausible fools.

They followed the trail that calm and thoughtful judgment told them was right and they were not lost. Those who scoffed at the wisdom and realize the truth that "he who laughs last, laughs best."

The voices of those whose judgments are sound and thoughtful are raised in tribute to the twin states that voted according to the dictates of common sense and refused to be stampeded by the zeal of propagandists, cajolery, or threats of loss of patronage, emoluments, and government favor. They were not betrayed by the blandishments of a smile.

Maine, the first to greet the rising sun, Vermont, mother of calm and independent freemen, esteeming loyalty to all the people more than loyalty to a misguided individual even though he be President of the United States, like guiding stars have shown the true course.

Ancient Murderers Cruel

Murderers in medieval times drove wooden stakes through the bodies of their victims so that the dead men could not walk abroad and haunt them.

AROUND THE BOAT CLUB

Brr-r-r-r! If this weather keeps up we're going to have to dig the oil flannels out of the moth balls—however, it really is an improvement over the "turkish bath" atmosphere of the previous week. About a month of this and we'll be ready for winter. Quiet, Please!

Peace and quiet now reign over the dear old club house—school has begun! Ah, for those dear forgotten school days! It must be "well" to be young and returning to school for nine long months! How about it fellows? Hi! Red!

Well back to work—enough of this semi-reminding. Events of the week past included rain on Saturday and Sunday which took care of activities for those days. On Monday, we had four free-for-all races, for a cash prize donated by our public-spirited Don Simonds. The results: Dick La Croix "Skrap" 1st, with 32 points; Blanchard's "Dunlin" 2nd, with 27 points; Flewelling's "Gone With the Wind" 3rd, with 26 points. And the winner, by the Marblehead point system, Dick La Croix with Teddy Burleigh as crew. Dick, however, forfeited the prize to the Blanchard boys who came in second on Monday also there was a regatta held at Morse's Pond in Wellesley, sponsored by the Layne-Bowler Co. (Downing and Happy's "pop"). We understand from reporter Ken Pratt, that the boys put on a fine exhibition. Six of our fellows attended and competed for silver cups and ribbons. The list of events: 1st race, Jumping Gunwales. This was run off in costume. Ken Pratt appearing in a delightful little suit of orange and black, (the type commonly seen on organ grinders monkeys) complete with tiny round cap. Happy Bowler wore formal tie, top hat, and tails. Red Irving contrasted his titan beauty with Scotch kilts and believe it or not, "spats." Hya Red! Jim Gustin made a dashing French sailor in striped jacket and pom-pom on hat. Phil Cabot betrayed a side of his nature that we hadn't suspected—it must have been due to the race committee at Marblehead calling him "Phyllis" for he appeared in a "cauteous blonde lady (?)". My! My!

There has been no definite information about Downing Bowler's costume—some say he wore rompers, some say shorts and some say nothing—er, I mean, nothing about it!—however, whatever he wore, we're sure he looked too, too divine!

When, after that parade of style and beauty, its hard to get back to just the results: 1st Race, Jumping Gunwales—Hap and Ken finished in a dead heat, tossed a coin for the cup and Happy won. 2nd Race, Tail End—Hap Bowler won a very handy victory in spite of the wind. 3rd Race, Hand Paddle—No information on the winner in time, just ask around, the boys will tell you. Jim Gustin started off up lake and was bound for Worcester. What's that matter, Jim, don't you like crowds? 4th Race, Tip-over—won by Ken Pratt; 2nd, "Phyllis" Cabot, 5th Race, Rescue Race, "Phyllis" and "Phyllis", 6th Race, Bucket Race—won by Phil and Ken. Hap fell out of his boat (as usual) but climbed back in again. He was so worn out tho' by his experiences that, having had to bucket for him, that finished him and display and we think it was great.

A definite date Sept. 18, Saturday has been set for a club dance. The varnace race Sunday Sept. 12, plus a splash and a swim at Medford. Seems funny to us, but Medford's on the same lake and we don't allow swimming up here. The public beaches are on the same stretch of water and the swimming at Medford holds a splash regatta. Oh, well, maybe there's a Japanese current or a gulf stream or a beautiful little mountain stream that encircles them and keeps them warm and well, maybe we're just kinda tired. Adios.

SCHOOL FACULTY ENTER-TAINED AT TEAMothers' Association Hostess

Following the annual before-school faculty meeting, in the high school auditorium, held Tuesday by Mr. Quinn, the Mothers' Association members of our schools teaching staff were entertained at tea by the Mothers' Association in the gymnasium. Three large tables, attractively covered with white cloths and decorated with flowers and candles, also other tables and chairs invitingly grouped, gave the large room a homey atmosphere. Ices and cakes were served.

The new members of the faculty with Mr. Quinn, Mr. Grindle, Mr. Dickman, Mr. Graves and Mrs. Charles E. Greene, president of the Mothers' Association, formed a reception line and this gave an opportunity for all present to be introduced to them. The new teachers are: Miss Virginia Owen, high school librarian, Mr. George Lauer, director of physical education and coach, Miss Gertrude Lewis, high school supervisor, Miss Elizabeth Storer, remedial reading teacher, Miss Zella J. Gordon, junior high school, Miss Florence Sullivan, junior high, special classes; Miss Alice H. Gaffney, Wyman School building assistant; Miss Margaret Bockman, Washington School; Miss Hazel Anderson, Washington School; Miss Hazel Huff, Wyman School; Miss Gladys Follansbee, Wyman School; Miss Mary Sawyer, Mystic School building assistant.

Assisting the executive board social chairmen, Mrs. Lucius Smith and Mrs. Joseph McCauley were Mrs. Gordan Mann and Mrs. C. Philip O'Rourke. ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Seven members were absent from the meeting of Sept. 9. Although we shall better this record shortly it is very gratifying to note the improvement already accomplished. Vacationists are returning and leaves of absence are expiring. We should register percentages in the 90's very soon.

Past President Charlie Downer was a welcome guest today. He promises to visit us occasionally.

We take pleasure in welcoming a new member, A. Allen Kimball, who was present today for the first time as a member of this club. Allen represents the classification, "Embalming." He is an enthusiastic Winchesterite and will be just as enthusiastic a Rotarian. We hope to announce other new members shortly.

Thirty-nine new Rotary clubs were chartered by Rotary International in the months of July and August, 1937. It is believed that no similar period has seen so many club charters granted. The prospect is bright for attaining the goal of a Rotary Club in every community.

The fall convocation of this district will convene Oct. 3-6 at the usual place, Poland Spring, Me. Advance notices and registration cards have been distributed to club members. A four day outing at this splendid resort with opportunities for greeting Rotarian friends will make its usual appeal. Early registrants will receive the best room assignments. Notify the club secretary now.

Once more we call attention to the outing of the Rotary Club of Arlington at the Stow Country Club on Wednesday, Sept. 22. Winchester Rotarians who propose to attend are requested to notify the club secretary very soon.

Melville T. Nichols, a brother of our "Nat" who was a former Rotarian, was guest speaker at the current meeting. He has recently returned from an extended tour of Europe. Due to the fact that he made this tour in his own automobile he was enabled to travel faster and gain a more intimate insight of the many countries which he visited. As a consequence he could and did bring to us an unusually clear understanding of conditions existing in the areas included in his journey. We look forward to another address from Mel and trust that it will not be long delayed.

Next Thursday, Sept. 16, a representative of the Winchester Hospital will appear before the club and describe the activities and services made available by this splendid local institution. Every member of this club is vitally interested and every member at present in town, will, we believe, be present. Remember, Thursday, Sept. 16.

Percentage of attendance, Sept. 2—74.19 per cent.

"Substance" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, Sept. 12.

The Golden Text is: "Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty" (1 Chronicles 12:11).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor anything taken from it: and God does it that men should fear before him. That which hath been is now; and that which is to be hath already been; and God requirereth that which is past" (Ecclesiastes 3:14, 15).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: Question—What is Substance? Answer—Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of discord and decay. Truth, Life, and Love are substance. The substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen, is Spirit, the synonym of Mind, Soul, or God, is the only real substance" (p. 468).

NEW STUDIOS BROADCAST VOICES OF THE CAPITAL

Fourteenth birthday of Washington's oldest radio station, WRC, finds it housed in one of the country's most up-to-date studios. With its sister station WMAL, it has moved into new quarters in the heart of the capital's business district.

Washington's "Little Radio City," already a landmark in the realm of sound, is also becoming a landmark for sightseers, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. From the modernistic lobby, visitors are conducted on half-hourly tours through the glass-enclosed radio reservation, which crowns the Trans-Lux Building with glitter like a broad band of tinsel ribbon.

Shortest Regular Program on the Air. While small, compared to glamorous Radio City in New York, this new broadcasting headquarters plays an important part in national affairs. By not very remote control, it helps to pour into a nation's ears the Presidential "Fireside Chats," inaugural vows, accounts of parades, and of the Easter egg rolling on the White House lawn. Affinity with the White House, which is only three blocks away, is reflected in a staff member's title: Presidential Aide. The eloquence of many political leaders, Congressional or otherwise, here takes to the ether. A Christmas feature is the international broadcast by children from Washington's many foreign embassies and legations.

From these studios come all or part of ten regular network programs. Some of them, such as the National Farm and Home Hour and the Office of Education, are widely reviewed, are under the auspices of the Federal Government. Washington music crosses the continent on the weekly broadcasts of the Army, Navy, and Marine bands.

A unique contribution which these Washington radio stations make to the nation's network is the shortest regular program on the air; a half-minute announcement of the arrival of a train by means of the Arlington Train Signal. Since Washington's headquarters for no great manufacturing enterprises, the studios handle no national commercial program except when artists under contract are visiting in the city.

The capital's WRC-WMAL unit is packed neatly into a relatively narrow space. Rows of offices with plate-glass outer walls form a hollow square, in the center of which nests a block of seven sound-proof studios. The floors are raised seven inches to allow room for sound and heat insulation, and for the fat electrical conduits which carry miles of wiring.

Special Control Room Awaits. Television.

Largest studio is a glorified goldfish bowl, two stories high. Double plate-glass panels on one side reveal it to the watchful eyes of engineers; on the other side, a panel of windows that it stares from the observation booth, where tiers of seats allow spectators to see and hear without being heard.

Pride of the studio is the television hope chest, an empty monitoring booth above the one now in use, waiting with glass eye veiled to be called into service for television broadcasts.

Most star-dusted door in the studios is a slightly undersized wooden panel with bright, light handle, which is opened to nowhere. It is repeatedly opened and closed, but never entered, and it is used only to give a sound-effect.

Special provision has been made for what in printed and oral form is one of Washington's leading commodities: speeches. Two studios dedicated to speech-making are of normal size, and informally furnished. On the Chipendale desks stand microphones that look like large match holders.

All seven studios are so sound-proofed that they give the impression of being set on bedrock. Actually they are of "floating" construction; each one is an independent structural unit, hanging like a birdcage, from massive brackets, fastened with felt. Further measures to prevent sound trickling in or out are double panes of glass mounted in felt at the monitoring booth's window and small vestibules, as sound-traps, at the heavy doors.

In addition to sound-proofing, which exiles alien noises, new materials were recruited in a campaign to keep sounds from being disguised by their own echoes. Particles of mica were blown on like puffing wheat, being compressed into a porous corklike board for wall panels. Another aid is a smooth cement paneling perforated all over with round holes; this noise-eater bounces the sound waves back, "burying it alive" in a concealed layer of limestone rock wool. Glass in the monitoring room windows is tilted so that sound waves will not be reflected toward microphones.

Nerve center of the whole establishment is the Master Control Room, where all the various titbits which dovetail into a program are gathered from their several studios and fed into the air in a steady continuous stream. In its roomy quietude, where two engineers are constantly on the job, only two thin threads of sound—the programs being put on the air—hint of the personality color, rich harmony, or world-shaking words being nipped through here and into uncounted listening ears.

The black switchboard, with its tiny blue, green, and clear lights, its row of plugs and yards of festooning wire cords, reveals the broadcasting studio's secret: that all its local activities are carried on, not by radio waves, but entirely by telephone. Microphones are merely sensitive telephonic mechanisms, in which sound is crooned, jazzed, or orated. From the Master Control Room it is sent miles away on telephone wires into the radio transmitter, where for the first time it is heard.

Other wires, with all the de luxe broadcasting equipment of the new studios, the only use of radio frequency occurs in five ordinary receiving sets, used in checking programs.

THE BACKYARD GARDENER

Gardeners, have you ever tried to consider the "why" and "wherefore" of plant propagation? Well, I have at one time or another, and somehow I never have seemed to get very far. It all seems such a complicated affair that it's hard to find beginning or end. I never could quite get straight why some plants are propagated by seed, while others require cuttings, bulbs, roots, or some other part of the plant.

But up at Farm and Home Week I heard a talk on the subject given by a man named White, who is instructor of floriculture at the Essex County Agricultural School. He discussed plant propagation for the grower, or grower, and I took pretty complete notes on his talk.

Mr. White said that propagation, which is the reproduction and multiplication of house and garden plants, really ought to be the most fascinating part of gardening to the true lover of plants. Propagation is a perfectly natural process, and the gardener can do little more than insure, intensify, and speed up the process.

Plants which are reproduced from seeds are said to be propagated sexually, while if other parts of the plant are used the propagation is done asexually.

Most garden plants produce seed, but because of the hybrid nature of many kinds and because of cross-pollination, all seed won't faithfully reproduce the variety you are trying to multiply. And most house plants won't produce any seed because of the unnatural conditions under which they grow.

So, Mr. White pointed out, the gardener has to depend upon some other means of perpetuating many of his house and garden plants. And there are a number of ways in which this may be done. Division or separation, slips or cuttings, root cuttings, offsets, layers, runners, bulbs, roots, buds, leaves, and grafting are all used.

Probably the most common method of propagation is by the use of seed. The seeds of most herbaceous perennials and some woody plants are sown in June in outdoor frames with protection from wind, sun, and rain. The seeds of annuals should be sown in a heated frame from late February on, or outdoors depending upon the particular annual. The time of planting, however, is not the only important factor. Sterilization of the seedbed, proper management of moisture and ventilation, and control of insect and disease pests all have much to do with success.

There are many kinds of cuttings. Stem cuttings of soft-wooded plants ordinarily root well in sand, or sand and peat. Water, peat, loam, and sphagnum moss are also used. Rooting temperatures of 60-70 degrees F. are best for most cuttings.

Cuttings of deciduous shrubs, trees and vines, taken after leaf fall from well-exposed wood are packed in boxes of moist sand. These are kept in a cool cellar over the winter and are then planted out in the spring. In general, evergreens are rooted late in summer in a glass case with heat applied from the bottom.

Rootstocks, offsets, runners, and layers are elongated, prostrate stems which root naturally and easily at the joints or tips as soon as these are brought in contact with the soil. Plants that grow from bulbs offer a simple means of propagation. Scales of Lily bulbs grow into flowering bulbs in three years and Hyacinth bulbs may be multiplied by "notching" or "scoping."

Grafting and budding are ancient methods but they still hold a fascination for the amateur gardener. Fruit trees are usually grafted, but such plants as roses, cacti, baby's breath, potatoes, tomatoes, and some vines respond to this method.

Altogether, getting plants to grow from their parts, whether they be seed, bulb, stem, leaf, or root gives a glimpse into the mysteries of plant life in the garden. It is something for every gardener to study.

DO YOU KNOW MASSACHUSETTS

Compiled by Massachusetts State Planning Board

The Army Base in Boston, Army Quartermaster Depot for New England, is the second largest Army Base in the United States.

The First Church in Boston (Unitarian), originally Congregational, was formed by Governor Winthrop in 1630.

The State Planning Board's Index of Industrial Activity shows a 15 per cent gain in industrial employment for the first seven months of 1937 over the same period of last year.

The Stoughton Musical Society, established in 1786, and still in existence was founded by America's first native composer, William Billings.

Boston produces 18 per cent of the total value of goods manufactured in Massachusetts and employs 14 per cent of the workers of the State.

Boston English High School, founded in 1821, one year before Boston became a city, is the oldest high school in the United States.

Brookline, known as North Bridgewater until 1821, has a population of 62,407.

The Division of Fisheries and Game is self sustaining on account of the revenue derived from licenses and fees.

Mathew Goose is buried in the Old Granary Burying Ground on Tremont Street, Boston (a real person actually named Mary Goose).

Ralph Waldo Emerson was pastor of the Second Church in Boston from 1829 to 1832.

Massachusetts leads all other states in the value of shoes manufactured in this country.

Spy Pond in Arlington was so named by a company of men seeking Fresh Pond to procure drinking water "spied" this pond instead.

FRUIT GROWERS ATTENTION

Massachusetts fruit growers can decrease mouse damage in their orchards by setting up mouse concentration stations this month, according to W. H. Thies, extension fruit specialist at Massachusetts State College.

In October the stations can be supplied with poison bait and the mice destroyed in wholesale lots.

Mr. Thies says that field mice destroy thousands of fruit trees each year in Massachusetts. For years orchardists have been setting up poison stations, but experts now recommend placing the bait directly in the runways.

Meadow mice can be drawn in from a rather large area in the orchard by making suitable next sites for them.

Heavy mulching can be used for this purpose, and where this type of orchard culture is not practiced, growers are advised to make small haycocks with a few forkfuls of mown grass. One haycock to a tree is about right. Good locations for these haycocks are in grass where mice are running, at the side of rock outcrops, across a rut or furrow, on the lower side of a terrace, along the banks of drainage ditches, and in all marshy areas within the orchard.

If concentration stations are set up this month, the job of placing the bait in October will be simplified. After the fruit has been picked and the windfalls gathered, each of the mulch piles can be checked and poison bait can be placed in any mouse runway that is discovered. The mulch piles protect the bait from birds and other beneficial wildlife and save many hours of searching through the grass trying to locate mouse runways.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page

Fish fillets will be a good selection this week for those wishing to balance budgets after week-end extravagance. Even people who don't like fish because of bones enjoy boneless fillets. Eggs and cheese also make inexpensive and appetizing main lunch and dinner dishes. Lamb, pork, and fowl represent the best meat values.

Peaches, pears, apples and grapes are abundant. Honeydew melons and huckleberries are the chief members of the melon and berry families in market.

Abundant supplies of a great variety of vegetables continue to come to market including potatoes and sweet potatoes, broccoli, celery, eggplant, peppers and tomatoes.

Seasonable and reasonable foods make up the following menus:

THIS WEEK'S GARDENING

By Alfred A. Fraser of Wellesley

Cut off and burn the brown galls found on Spruce trees.

Lift and divide Daylilies as soon as they are through flowering.

Pulling weeds before they seed themselves is a sure way to get rid of most of them. Same thing applies for crab-grass—if you destroy the seeds you'll have no trouble from it next year.

Chrysanthemum buds will be forming soon. For best results give them a good feeding as they are heavy eaters. Give them lots of water also. After gathering peaches be sure to spray with Bordeaux mixture to prevent development and spread of fungus diseases.

Be sure all tall growing plants are staked.

If you have a frame you can sow lettuce for a late crop.

Get your list of spring flowering bulbs made up. You can plant anytime up to Nov. 1. Catalogues will be arriving all September. Best grade bulbs cost little more than the small sized, poor flowering ones.

Oxalis or Freesia bulbs should be planted within the next month for indoor forcing.

Cold frames can be built now. Cypress or concrete are the best to use because of their permanency.

Spray roses to control black spot or mildew.

Muskmelons and watermelons should have small boards placed under them to promote even ripening and keep worms away.

OBSERVATIONS

By The Observer

Odd, the average man's theory comes nearer working than he does.

By the time one Winchester woman who is away on vacation gets through writing on a post card, about all one can see is the writing and very little of the picture.

There is a young man in Winchester who drives with tick and Saxon skill—but he has the bad form of tooting his horn.

Oh, why doesn't he keep his Klaxon still?

We know men right here in Winchester who in an effort to appear good overdo the thing.

A critical man will clutch at a straw.

Be sure your kin will find you out.

STRAND THEATRE, MALDEN

Spencer Tracy, Gladys George and Franchot Tone in "They Gave Him a Gun," heads the program opening at the Strand Theatre in Malden today. The story deals with two men and a woman. Spencer Tracy is a circus Barker who enlists in the army. Tone is a small town clerk who finds himself in the army and up in the front lines. He is a coward but a gun gives him courage. Gladys George is a Red Cross nurse. When Tracy is reported missing she marries Franchot Tone out of pity. Tracy escapes from an enemy prison camp and the trio meet again in civil life after the war is over. Familiar now with the use of a gun the weakling has become a gangster. Tracy tries to save him but fails and a police bullet gets in ahead of him. It is a strong story, powerfully enacted with Spencer Tracy winning new laurels in a grand performance.

The official Louis and Farr fight pictures are an added attraction for Friday, Saturday and Monday. These fight pictures show the entire 15 rounds. They show that Louis deserved to be given the decision but the fight is not the main event. Farr takes a beating but is going strong at the finish and actually forces the fight in the last round.

The popular Jones Family in "Big Business" is the third attraction in the bill starting today. Jed Prouty, Shirley Deane, George Byington, Russell Gleason, George Ernest, June Carlson and Florence Roberts are all seen again in their familiar places about the Jones menage, a typical middle-class American family all ready to welcome into its midst the big city stock promoter, Allen Lane, who promises to make them all rich in a hurry. How the younger members of the family grow suspicious of Lane and in a funny climax save the day makes another fine entertainment by the Jones family.

Edward G. Robinson in "Thunder in the City" and "The Man in Blue" with Robert Wilcox and Nan Grey as the featured players will be the program for next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

GRANADA THEATRE

"You Can't Have Everything," with Alice Faye, Ben Ameche, the Ritz Brothers, Charles Winninger, Louise Hovick, Rubenoff and Tony Martin as the stars, opens at the Granada Theatre in Malden Friday. Five songs hit by Gordon and Rock, including "Danger, Love and Revolt," "Afraid to Dream," "The Loveliness of You," "Phase Parlor," "We're in Love," "You Can't Have Everything" take care of the musical background. Alice Faye who was selected by Irving Berlin and Cole Porter as Hollywood's playgirl-singer, plays a singing playgirl who takes stark, serious, tragic masterpiece is adapted by the Ritz Brothers into a howling farce. Because she thinks Don Ameche has had a fling in the film business she puts the kibosh on his romantic ideas, only to relent in subsequent scenes. Liberally interspersed with a variety of entertainment from beginning to end, the story is a hilarious one. Alice Faye and Don Ameche despite the attempts of Louise Hovick to get Ameche for herself. Other amusement experts in the cast are Arthur Treacher, Phyllis Brooks, Tip, Toot and Toe, and Louis Prima, the trumpet king and hot swing band.

"Love in a Bungalow" with Kent Taylor and Nan Grey as the stars is the second attraction on the bill starting Friday.

READING THEATRE

Hollywood's "Maytime" at "The Reading" Sunday, Monday and Tuesday is a lavish thing, beautiful to see and lovely to hear. Obviously, it was possible to attain a breadth of background that was impossible on any stage.

Hunt Stromberg and Robert Z. Leonard, who respectively produced and directed last year's screen hit, "The Great Ziegfeld," occupied the same positions in the production of "Maytime." They have gone to even greater lengths.

Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy add to the laurels they won in "Naughty Marietta" and "Rose Marie." Their song together, "Will You Remember?" from the stage play, is an unforgettable, Miss MacDonald also two complete operatic arias and parts of others. Eddy sings three excellent novelty songs, "Students' Drilling Song," "City of Opera and of Virginia Ham and Eggs." Together they give a beautiful rendition of the folksong, "Mary Be Back to Old Virginia."

The double feature program for today and tomorrow includes the Marx Brothers in "A Day at the Races" and Paul Kelly in "The Parole Racket."

SUCCESSFUL FLOWER SHOW

Mrs. J. Waldo Bond's wild flower arrangement, a woodland dish garden featuring mushrooms and fungi, won the popular vote at the second all-Winchester flower show, held in the Town Hall on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week under the auspices of the Better Homes Garden Club, with the Winchester Garden Club and the Fortnightly Garden Group co-operating. Second choice of the visitors to the show was Mrs. C. P. Whorf's arrangement for a porch, dahlias and buddleia in a copper tub, while third choice fell on Mrs. A. W. Bratt's miniature. The display by the Snowflake Gardens received the most votes among the special features.

The number and quality of the entries was surprisingly high, in view of the poor growing weather this summer, the heavy rain on the day before the show and the distractions incident to the first week of school and the start of a new season.

The Town Hall, decorated with evergreens, allowed space for the exhibits to be seen as a whole, as well as individually. The center of the hall was occupied by a garden garden planned with unusual effectiveness around a gazing globe, begonias and coleus surrounded by a low hedge of hemlock. On axis with this was a charming woodland bird bath, with a stream above it where were the large exhibits of the class for porch and terrace arrangements. The four long tables of other exhibits flanking the center court were a picture of delightful in color and contrast. Gay dahlias along a low white picket fence with an archway separated the tea room and garden shop from the main hall.

There were 138 exhibits received, exclusive of special features. The judges were Mrs. Ralph R. Stratton of Melrose, Mrs. Archibald M. Hume of Wakefield and Mrs. Helen Spaulding of Old Oak Lane, Mrs. Mrs. Phipps, a very recent comer to Winchester, is a landscape architect and has had considerable experience in judging in New York, where she took the course in judging given by the New York State Federation of Garden Clubs.

Of the special exhibits, the striking arrangement for a terrace entered by the Winchester Garden Club, of tall sea grass and giant marigolds in an orange pottery urn, took a first prize. The central garden with the gazing globe, by Mrs. A. W. Bratt, won a special award, as did Mrs. Norman Mitchell's woodland bird bath. The display of dahlias arranged by Mrs. Hattie Snow, of the Snowflake Gardens, won two special awards, was a privilege and an education to see.

WINCHESTER TO OPEN FOOTBALL SEASON WITH ARLINGTON SATURDAY

Winchester High School's 1937 football team will swing into action on Pierce Field, Arlington, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock when it will meet one of its long-time rivals, Arlington High, in the opening game of the season for both schools.

An Arlington-Winchester game can usually be depended upon to produce a plenty of thrills, and this year's game has special interest because it will mark the locals' first appearance under the guidance of their new coach, George Lauer.

Coach Lauer has taken over the coaching reins relinquished by the exceptionally capable Wendell Mansfield when the latter moved into the assistant coach position at Springfield, and local fans, as well as those throughout the Middlesex League, will be eager to get a peek at what the new mentor is going to show. Lauer should not be expected in this first game as the new instructor and his squad have been working together for but nine days and each has much to learn about the other. However, with Assistant Coach Edward Bartlett, a holdover from the Mansfield regime, and six letter men available, Winchester should not do badly in its first game.

Co-captains "Gerry" Ficiello and "Pete" Sibley, both backs, "Jack" Finger, guard, "Bob" Gardner and "Dan" Delorey, tackles and "Frank" Murray, back are the letter players ready for the opening whistle, and among those having varsity experience who are sure to see action are "Len" Millican, guard and Peter Galuffo, back, close to being regulars last year; Paul "Dead Pan" Lentine, reserve, "Art" Johnson, tall backfield kicker who was a regular until dropped from the squad; "Doug" Graham, reserve back until put out by injury; "Tony" DeToro, rugged little freshman center, who played well at Woburn; "Clem" Barksdale, back; and John Welburn and Clement Birstow who got into plenty of games at the end of last season. "Hebbie" Jeebie, a regular last year, is being pushed these boys to the limit for regular assignments.

Sibley has been working out at end of the year, and has a good knowledge of the game. A pretty safe tentative line-up has Lentine at center, Millican and either Finger or DeToro, guards; Gardner and Delorey, tackles; Sibley and Peter Galuffo, halfbacks; and Barksdale, Murray, Galuffo and Johnson, backs.

Arlington is reported as not so strong as usual this season, having lost its flashy Oliverio brothers, back and halfback, to the local team, and the loss of the Scarle eleven for the past three seasons. Coach Ostergren, however, will have his usual big team and the distinct edge he will have in the charges favored by most of the "wise ones" to win.

NEW YORK MARRIAGE HAS WINCHESTER INTEREST

A marriage having much Winchester interest took place in the Church of St. Ignace Loyola on Park avenue in New York City last Saturday, Sept. 11, when Miss Constance Greco of New York, daughter of Mr. Charles R. Only members of the two families and a few intimate friends attended the ceremony.

The bride wore a blue suit with a matching hat and a corsage of gardenias. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. John Carrere (Eleanor Greco) of New York City, and Mr. Carrere was best man for the bridegroom.

After the ceremony there was a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carrere. Mr. and Mrs. Gervais will be at home after the 15th of October at 111 West 11th street, New York. Mrs. Gervais is a graduate of the Brimmer School and the Amy Sacker School of Design. She also attended the Benne School in Millbrook, N.Y. Mr. Sullivan, a native of Winchester and graduate of the local schools, died in his sleep early Thursday morning, Sept. 9. He was born in 1882 and for the past 25 years had conducted an undertaking business in this town, being widely known among citizens of all races and conditions. He was held in high esteem by many of the less fortunate residents of the town, to whom his ready assistance had often meant much through the years.

On Nov. 14, 1923, he married Miss Katherine Crowley of Winchester, who survives. He was predeceased by Mrs. Julia E. Lane, Miss Catherine T. Sullivan, Miss Nellie M. Sullivan and Miss Teresa E. Sullivan, and one brother, Maurice J. Sullivan, all of this town.

SKI AND OUTING CLUB FORMING

All those who might be interested in forming a ski and outing club for Winchester are cordially invited to attend a meeting for this purpose on Friday, Sept. 24 at 7:30 p. m. at Winton Hardware store on Mt. Vernon street.

The primary object at present is to bring together all those in town who are interested in this sort of sport with the object of forming a club, acquainted and also for the purpose of acting as a traffic control point for parties going to the mountains, with the resultant elimination of the duplication so prevalent under the present system.

Another aspect is the financial end which will be explained at the meeting and which will result in considerable savings to members in their purchase of publications and equipment. It is felt that the social end will work itself out along lines dictated by the feeling of the members. This will be done by the club and those planning to come should be prepared with ideas along this line.

However, the primary object of this meeting is for the purpose of organizing the election of officers, either temporary or permanent, for the duration of their term and for the discussion of a meeting place.

EN KA NOTES

En Ka activities are getting an early start this week with many members planning to participate in the interesting list of early fall events on the calendar.

LOUIS HENRY GODDU

Louis Henry Goddu, a member of one of Winchester's prominent families, died at 3:30 this morning at his home, 6 Goddu avenue, after a lingering illness of more than a year.

Mr. Goddu was born 23 years ago in Montreal, Canada, son of Louis E. and Rosana (Roy) Goddu. He came to Winchester with his parents when a child and had since made his home here, living for the past 47 years in the house, built for him by his father, in which he died.

After graduating from the Winchester schools, Mr. Goddu attended Massachusetts Institute of Technology where he was a member of the Class of 1886. As a young man he was associated as a mechanical engineer with his father in the development of shoe machinery, first in the small shop adjacent to their homes and later in the plant on Swanton street now known as the Puffer plant, which was built by his father.

At the time the United Shoe Machinery Company took over his father's organization Mr. Goddu became associated with that company for a time. Later he became interested in mining, traveling extensively through the country. During recent years he had operated the Kezar Camps at Kezar Pond, Me., a favorite resort for many local sportsmen, by whom he was highly esteemed.

On Dec. 15, 1890, he married Miss Della Warren of East Fryeburg, Me., by whom he is survived, with three daughters, Mrs. Carl B. Elliott of Toledo, Ohio, Mrs. F. Manley Ives, Jr. of Winchester, Mrs. Louis Greene of Florida; also three sons, Louis E. Goddu, Warren F. Goddu and Houghton Goddu, all of this town; and five grandchildren.

There are also two sisters, Mrs. Fred Preston and Mrs. Charles Carter; and two brothers, Napoleon Goddu and William Goddu, all of Winchester.

Private funeral services will be held on Sunday afternoon at the late residence with Rev. George Hale Reed, minister of the Unitarian church, officiating. Friends are requested not to send flowers. Interment will be in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

ONE MORE WEEK FOR FOOTBALL SEASON TICKETS

First Home Game on Sept. 25

All Winchester citizens who plan to attend the home games this fall at the new Shore Road Athletic field should plan to take advantage now of the season ticket sale, which closes on Sept. 25, the date of the opening home game between Winchester and Marblehead.

Single game admissions to the field will be 10 cents, no guarantee of a seat in the stands. But season ticket holders will be guaranteed a seat in the reserved section up to 10 minutes before the beginning of each game. The season ticket costs two dollars, thereby saving the purchaser 20 per cent on his investment.

With Mr. Maynard's ticket, Concord, Maynard and Woburn all playing at Winchester this fall, the local Athletic Association believes that every season ticket purchaser will get much more than the two dollars worth of football. There will be no season tickets available after Sept. 25.

Those who have not received notification of the season ticket sale, drive can secure tickets and copies of the schedule at the Star Office or at Hevey's Pharmacy. Phone orders will be handled personally at Win. 0649. Merely indicating the number of tickets desired and the time at which they may be conveniently delivered at your home.

QUICK WORK ON WIRES

The work of laying the telephone and Western Union wires under the center by the railroad tracks has been accomplished in record time. The work has been done by the way, by the town highway department men. All the digging and filling on the south crossing was done on Wednesday, the street being opened to the traffic. The work on the crossing was completed by the middle of yesterday afternoon.

The work of tearing up the railroad crossing and laying new ties and making other necessary repairs will be the next obstruction to the crossing. This will, it is reported, be started in a short time.

No matter how much forethought and planning give the crossing, it always seems to be dug up. The Kellaway Plan for the abolition of this crossing would obviate all this delay and discomfort.

KNOCKED DOWN BY AUTO

John H. Fields, 79, of 12 Mason street was painfully injured shortly before 11 o'clock last night when he was struck while crossing Highland avenue near his home by a Chrysler sedan car driven by a man on Highland avenue, and driven by Walter R. Thayer of 284 Boston avenue, Medford.

Mr. Fields was taken to the Winchester Hospital where he is being treated by Patrolmen Henry P. Dempsey and James F. Noonan. He was treated by Dr. R. W. Sheehy for numerous cuts about the head and a broken left leg.

Joseph McKenney, former Boston College football captain and later coach of the Eagles, was named Wednesday by Governor Hurley to fill the place on the State Ballot Law Commission left vacant by the death of William H. Tucker, a veteran Democrat of this town. The late Mr. Tucker was appointed to the Commission by Governor Curley.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Six members were absent from the meeting of Sept. 16. President Warren is enjoying a late-season vacation in the north country. Past President Harry Winn was in charge of the current meeting. Newell Martin, representing the Winchester Hospital Finance Committee, presented at this meeting two reels of motion pictures depicting activities at our local hospital. This exhibit was preceded by a short talk by our member Dr. Richard C. Sheehy, chief of the medical staff at the hospital. Dr. Sheehy explained briefly the co-operative hospitalization plan which is being generally adopted by prominent hospitals throughout the nation and is being seriously considered at the Winchester Hospital. Local residents have long taken pride in this Winchester institution which is favorably known far beyond our borders. The above presentation amply confirmed their opinion that it makes available a complete and first class medical and surgical service which is constantly being augmented by such improved methods as are practical.

The editor has conferred long and earnestly with the club secretary as to the advisability of broadening the following effusion concerning secretaries in general. That individual having offered no objection so long as the composition is submitted strictly in this Winchester style, it is to be considered as a reflection on the loyal and generous support which he has invariably received from his fellow members individually and collectively. He has taken the liberty of going ahead, hoping that some, at least, of our readers are not already familiar with the writing.

THE SECRETARY

"If a secretary writes a letter, it is too long. If he sends a postcard, it's too short. If he issues a bulletin, it's a spendthrift. If he attends a committee meeting, he's cutting in. If he's away, he's a shirker. If he offers a suggestion, he's a know-all. If he says nothing, he's useless. If he's at the meeting, he's slack. He should have called the members up. If he calls them up, he's a pest. If he doesn't call them up, he's neglecting his duty. If he's in a hurry, he's lazy. If the meeting is a big success, the committee gets the praise. If it fails, the secretary is to blame. If he asks for advice, he is incompetent. If he asks for advice, he is incompetent. Askes to askes, dust to dust. If the others don't do it, the secretary must."

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

The following letter from Joseph P. Dever, Director and Chief Engineer of the Sewerage Division of the Metropolitan District Commission, under date of Sept. 9 will be of interest to those concerned with the sewer proposition:

"Construction of the relief sewer in the Abington Valley near is completed and most of the sewer is in operation. However, on one section and near what we designate as Station 24 plus 00 of Section 112, a siphon is being constructed which is a short piece of relief sewer being built. This work will be completed in about two weeks and the entire relief sewer will go into operation so that, in my opinion, the Abington Valley will be completely relieved.

"After this time it will be possible to clean some of the older Metropolitan lines. This cleaning will have no effect upon the inhabitants of the district because at that time it will be possible to shift the sewage flow from one line to another without causing any pollution of the water."

The State Planning Board is holding a conference in Concord on Oct. 2 and on the invitation of Governor Hurley, Mr. Fitzgerald will attend and represent the Commonwealth. The Board is held in the State House. The Board is composed of representatives of the various departments of the State and is charged with the duty of planning for the future of the Commonwealth. The Board is also charged with the duty of planning for the future of the Commonwealth. The Board is also charged with the duty of planning for the future of the Commonwealth.

RAYMONDI-TUCCI

The wedding of Miss Dolores Jeannette Tucci of 31 Lebanon street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Tucci, and Mr. Mario James Raymond of Boston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Raymond, was solemnized in St. Mary's Church by Rev. Joseph E. McGoldrick on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The ceremony was preceded by an organ recital by Miss Florence Fisher, and the altar of the church was banked with flowers for the service.

Miss Mary Tucci, sister of the bride, was honor attendant and Mr. Charles A. Hall, Jr., of East Milton was groomsmen. The ushers were Messrs. Charles Traynor of Somerville and Edward Crowley of Boston.

The bride wore a dress of white tulle, princess style, with tulle veil and wreath of orange blossoms. She carried gardenias and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a Weigela tulle gown with turban to match and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, attended by members of the families. The couple are on a honeymoon in Canada and will make their future home in Winchester. Mr. Raymond is connected with the McKenzie Engraving Company of Boston.

MRS. DANIEL MARCH DEAD

Word has been received here of the death on Sept. 4, in Pittsfield of Mrs. Jean Hulsh (Stevenson) March, widow of the late Dr. Daniel March, one of Winchester's best known physicians in past years. She died after a short illness.

Lane of Pittsfield, and three brothers, William C. Stevenson, Pittsfield, Edward P. Stevenson of Baldwinville and MacLaren Stevenson of Stratford, Conn., also several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merle D. Graves, Holmes road. Rev. Ralph H. Hayden, rector of St. Stephen's Church, officiated at the services. Burial was in the Pittsfield Cemetery.

VESPUCCI-PAICOPOLOS

In St. Mary's Church on Saturday morning, Sept. 11, Miss Kathleen Mary Paicopolos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Paicopolos of Woburn, became the bride of Anthony John Vespucci, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Vespucci of Florence street. Rev. Fr. Joseph E. McGoldrick performed the marriage ceremony at 10 o'clock and was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Peter Paicopolos of Woburn.

Miss Paicopolos had for her honor attendant Miss Julia Vespucci of Winchester, sister of the bridegroom. Miss Josephine Bellezero, Miss Agnes Karagiozis, Miss Rose Paicopolos, and Miss Viola Georgiannous, all of Woburn were bridesmaids.

Gabriel J. Vespucci of Winchester was his brother's best man, and the corps of ushers included Dominic Crescenzi of Woburn, Daniel Albano of Somerville and William Falzano and Gaspar Muraco, both of this town.

The bride wore a gown of broadened velvet with a conventional veil of tulle and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The honor maid wore a pink lace gown and carried an old fashioned bouquet. The bridesmaids were gowned alike in tulle, two wearing aquamarine and two, peach. All carried bouquets of talisman roses.

After the ceremony the bridal party and their guests went on to the Hotel Touraine in Boston where a reception was held and a wedding breakfast was served. Upon their return from a wedding trip to New York and Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Vespucci are to make their home in Winchester at 19 Irving street.

LOMBARD-RICH

Among out-of-town weddings of Winchester interest was that on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 11, in West Somerville where Miss Marion E. Rich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Rich, was married at the home of her parents to Samuel H. Lombard, son of Mrs. Arthur C. Lombard and the late Mr. Lombard of Wollaston, formerly widely known residents of this town.

Rev. Warren Lovejoy, pastor of the West Somerville Universalist Church, performed the ceremony at 4 o'clock, the bride being given in marriage by her father.

Miss Rich wore an ivory satin gown with a veil of lace and tulle, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Geraldine Gould of Abington, who wore a frock of pink tulle trimmed with blue, with hat to match, and carried an old fashioned bouquet of pink roses.

At the reception which followed the ceremony Mrs. Rich wore a gown of hyacinth blue lace with a corsage of roses. Mrs. Lombard, the bridegroom's mother, also wore a corsage of roses with her gown of blue chiffon.

INTERESTING PROGRAM

Through the courtesy of Mr. Arthur J. Mullen the Star had the pleasure of glancing through a program which we printed for a performance of "The Chimes of Normany," given by a local cast and chorus in the town hall some 35 years ago. Hawley, Bicknell, Hinds, Blaikie, Woods, Sanborn, Dearborn and Gray are some of the more familiar names appearing among the principals and chorus members. Among the local firms listed are Winsor & Kelley, Newton A. Knapp, Hawes Brothers, John Lynch, W. O. Blaisdell, Morrill & Bliss, J. C. Stanton, Jr., A. Macdonald, F. A. Newth, F. H. Nourse, Young & Brown, Winchester Co-operative Bank and T. B. Cotter. A. Miles Holbrook, well known insurance broker, was then representing Smith & Anthony, a Boston firm dealing in ranges and heaters.

The program was printed on deckled stock with a jacket in four colors. It is still in good condition.

"Bob" Godfrey, former Winchester High end president of the Athletic Association, is returning to Bowdoin College this week-end.

AROUND THE BOAT CLUB

The title of this column now should be "week-end notes." Since school started, our younger members have been noticeably by the absence. The sailing has been slick enough to entice some of them out afterwards, but that means "homework" (ugh!) must be done at night. Ah, me!

Saturday night there will be a dance—you remember what a dance is! (or do you?) anyhow—there will be a dance and the tariff will be $1.25 per couple and we'll be seeing you Sunday morning, the sailors from M. I. T. will visit us. You remember this spring a group of our boys went over to the Charles River Basin and raced with the Tech fellows—using their dinghies. Needless to say, we were soundly trounced. Let's see what we can do on our home ground. Ten Snipes will be used—two men to a boat. Half the men from Tech and the other half Winchester.

There will be four races in the morning, starting at nine a.m. using the Marblehead point system and racing by teams. Here's luck!

On Saturday the 25th at 8 o'clock, Fred Fish will show a series of movies black and white and colored of his travels in his 53 foot schooner, "Fearless." These include days of activity on the boat from dawn to dark and should be very interesting. Mr. Fish has also prepared about 100 feet of Snipe pictures taken last Sunday. Save this date, it will be worth it. Incidentally, if this effort of Mr. Fish is received with any enthusiasm at all, he has promised to show his skiing pictures later in the season. All of which we then proves Mr. Fish's Fish a fine addition to the Winchester Boat Club.

You know, we have always felt that it is really up to the members, whether the club is dull or interesting. You may have the most beautiful clubhouse with the wealthiest members and immaculate grounds—but without that community club spirit, you have nothing but a small gathering of congenial souls with the proper group spirit, and you have an interesting and lively club.

There is no doubt about it—we must have leadership and group, and people who want to rant and rave and be the whole show—but members who are interested in some one thing, a hobby if you like, and who, through friendly discussion are able to interest someone else and they in turn interest another. The whole thing grows and assumes a definite proportion. More people are interested and the "life" of your club is assured. After all, a club in its full meaning, is a group of people who are brought together by their interest in some one thing.

If you members have an idea or a hunch that you can keep out, try talking about it, bring it out in the open. You'll find someone who'll be interested and you will develop the true club spirit. As interest lags in some activities, it is revived in others. Activity is the essence of a successful club and it is up to the members to promote it! The field is endless.

Just a brief resume of the War Canoe Race and Regatta at Medford Club on Sunday, Sept. 12.

Tandem Hand Paddle—1st, R. Bishop and D. Evans—Med; 2nd, K. Pratt and J. Fitch—Win; 3rd, Bowler Bros.—Down and Happy—Win.

Sculling Gunwales—1st, J. Fitch—Win; 2nd, R. Croushell—Win; 3rd, Phil Cabot—Win.

Tandem Back Paddle—1st, R. Croushell and N. Bean—Win; 2nd, D. Evans and Hap Bowler—Win; 3rd, J. Fitch and K. Pratt—Win.

Rescue Boat—1st, D. Evans and Hap Bowler—Win; 2nd, R. Bishop and R. Evans—Med; 3rd, Meyer and Dumas—Med.

One Man Gunwale—1st, J. Fitch—Win; 2nd, N. Bean—Win; 3rd, K. Pratt—Win.

Three Man Single, (All paddle some side)—1st, R. Croushell, P. Cabot, N. Bean—Win; 2nd, Seret, Seret, Brower—Med; All others upset.

Bucket Race—1st, Bowler Bros—Win; 2nd, Seret Bros—Med; 3rd, R. Irving and P. Cabot—Win.

Hurry Scurry—1st, P. Cabot, Win; 2nd, Denard—Med; 3rd, "Down on knees" Bowler—Win.

Tail End—1st, Hap Bowler—Win; 2nd, K. Pratt—Win; 3rd, Cabot—Win.

The prizes were sweat shirts. Winchester took 12 and Medford two. The Bowler brothers, N. Bean, B. Croushell, P. Cabot and J. Fitch all received two shirts apiece.

As Ken Pratt so nobly put it, the paddling "pansies" of Winchester swept the Medford waterfront in the "sleeze" stuff! Anyhow! They took the shirts off them!

The Hi-lites, by Ken Pratt, Fitch and Pratt, Win., and Seret brothers, Medford, disqualified for holding. Ken Pratt got mad and started home in the midst of jumping gunwales—or was he just out for the ride?

In the three man single, all paddling on one side, two Medford Boats came together in the middle of the course and tipped over.

In the Bucket race, two Medford crews sunk themselves and three of the four galvanized buckets now repose on the lake bottom. The final had to be settled by a coin flip and the Bowler brothers won. (They must carry their own coin.)

Not forgetting the War Canoe race—oh, no—Medford retained the Tenney Trophy by over two lengths. Slong.

HIGH SCHOOL FIELD HOCKEY SQUAD OUT

More than 60 girls have answered Coach Rosamond Young's call for candidates for the current edition of the Winchester High school girl's field hockey team. After preliminary examinations the first practice session was held Tuesday afternoon on Manchester Field.

Coach Young believes she has an average good team in the making, there being six letter players available to start the season in Capt. Loretta Gaffney, Judy Hersom, Jean McKenzie, Myrtle Goodhue, Peggy Shinnick, and Shirley Smith. Frances Gliden, Jean Clement, Esther Colucci, Betty Dickson, Marjorie Manzie, Ruth Merrow, Peggy Shaughnessy and Marion Ambrose come up from last year's strong second team.

Thus far Coach Young has arranged games with Brookline, Belmont and Watertown. She hopes to schedule Lexington as usual for her opening engagement and also expects to meet Stoneham, Arlington and Melrose through the season.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

Preservation of Antiques Pilgrimage

Thursday, Sept. 23, the Preservation of Antiques Group are sponsoring a Pilgrimage to the Essex Institute, Salem. Cars will leave the Unitarian Church at 12:45 Sharp. Members making this trip must register by Tuesday noon with Mrs. Walter Gleason, Win. 1265-R or Mrs. Roger Burgoyne, Win. 0470. It is absolutely necessary that the committee know the number of cars and passengers making this trip.

The Essex Institute at Salem is a treasury of early days and has often been called "the most distinguished county historical society in America." The three period rooms in the museum are not only the first examples of displaying antiques and paintings in appropriate surroundings, but there are to be found the superb houses the institute maintains, the adjoining Pingree House restored now displays Salem at its height. Designed by Samuel McIntire it is completely furnished to represent the early 19th century period of wealthy ship-owner prosperity. The 1684 John Ward House, standing in the grounds of the Institute, is a picturesque example of our earliest dwellings. There is an admission fee to the Pingree and to the John Ward houses. The committee will very much appreciate notice from any of the members who have extra seats available.

"GIVE US A BREAK" CRY THE YOUNGSTERS

"O. K." Says the High School A. A.

In an effort to deal intelligently with the "fence-climbing" problem at the new enclosed athletic field, the High School A. A. has decided to give the youngsters of Winchester who like to see the school team play football a special "break" by offering them a special ticket to all home games for the nominal sum of 10 cents per game. It is the feeling of the committee in charge of the high school athletic program that the younger boys and girls of Winchester should be encouraged to attend these games played by their older brothers, but at the same time to form the habit of paying for what they receive. The small admission fee of ten cents will accomplish this latter purpose and should not prevent any youngster from attending the games to be played at the new field. In order to facilitate the handling of these young football fans, these ten cent tickets will be on sale at the Star Office each Saturday morning when there is a home game. They will also be on sale at the gates. To save waiting and crowding at the gates, as many as possible are urged to get their tickets at the Star Office Saturday mornings.

These tickets may be secured by any boy or girl ten years of age or younger. They will not entitle the bearer to a seat in the stands unless he is accompanied by an adult who is sitting in the stands. No boys or girls of this age will be admitted free to the field, and all who attempt to climb over the fence will be dealt with by the officers in charge of the field. This move is a definite experiment, and the committee hopes that the boys and girls of the town will cooperate and take advantage of the opportunity to show their interest and their good sportsmanship at the same time.

APPRECIATION

When Arthur Riader of 30 North Bowditch road, East Braintree, examined his automobile at 11 o'clock Tuesday night, after giving two young men going to New York a ride from Quincy to Winchester, he discovered that his flashlight was missing.

He notified the Police and Patrolman Clarence Dunbury picked up the young men, finding the flashlight in the pocket of one of them. At Headquarters they gave their names as Alfred McLaughlin of 120 Quincy avenue and Charles Smith of 39 Berkley street, both of Quincy. Riader refused to prosecute and after being questioned by Sgt. Joseph Derro the pair was permitted to go.

HUNTINGTON A POPULAR SCHOOL FOR WINCHESTER BOYS

For several years many boys have entered the Huntington School from Winchester. When the School year opens on Sept. 22 a number of boys from Winchester will be among those enrolled.

The Huntington School is conveniently located for boys who live in the Winchester district. The School can be very easily reached either by train or bus. There is an extensive well supervised parking area where boys who drive to school may park their cars without expense.

Mr. Sampson, the Headmaster of the School, will be in his office from now until the opening day for the purpose of enrolling boys and arranging schedules. The Huntington School accepts only boys who wish to be prepared for college and more than 95 per cent of Huntington School graduates have entered the leading colleges and universities.

Instruction is offered in all college preparatory subjects beginning with the eighth grade. The School has a special course for boys who need one or two years of college preparatory preparation before entering college. The School's faculty is made up of men who are well trained in their field of teaching and who have a sympathetic interest in the problems with which boys are faced.

In addition to its program of formal studies, the School also has an excellent extra-curricular program including carefully supervised athletics, physical training, hobby clubs, and musical organizations.

The general aim of the School is the all round development of the boy—the specific aim is effective preparation for admission to college.

Huntington is a fully accredited school; the certificate privilege having this year been renewed for the maximum period.

WINCHESTER BOYS ENTER DARTMOUTH

Pleasant street, Richard Sexton of Mason street and Edward Stone of Foxcroft road.

FALL TOURNAMENT REACHES FINAL ROUNDS

The annual fall singles and doubles tournaments for the tennis championships of Winchester got under way last week-end on the Palmer street courts with most of the preliminary round matches being played.

The remaining preliminary round matches have been played through the week and the semi-finals will be played Saturday afternoon. Championship matches in both singles and doubles will be played Sunday morning at Palmer street commencing at 10 o'clock.

"Dick" Riley beat "Babe" Walker in one of the quarter final matches with Thad Smith winning from "Bill" Morton in the other. They will be two of Saturday's semi-finalists, the others being the winners of the matches between Norman Dalrymple and "Bob" Drake and Bennett Wightman and "Jack" Hills.

In doubles the semi-finalists include Hall Gamage and "Dick" Riley, "Jim" Riley and "Bob" Drake and Larry Freeburn and Norman Dalrymple.

"Herb" Ross, defending singles champion is out of the going, being defaulted when he was not present to play his second round match with Bennett Wightman. Ross was trying to play in the local tourney and the Old Colony tourney at Swampscott. After an early morning wait at the local courts he went to Swampscott, returning to Palmer street at 5 o'clock just as Wightman and Jack Hill took the court for their match. When he attempted to play Wightman instead of Hills, protests were quickly raised by other players at the courts and an argument ensued which ended with the ruling that Ross had defaulted and was out of play. We picked up a good one on the excellent Ford radio hour last Sunday night at Camp. It is true that the wonderful music was slightly marred by the competition put up by the cricket who chose the radio for his band stand, and who was ably seconded in his musical antagonism by his mate under the bath tub, but all-in-all, between music, crickets and Mr. Cameron's excellent discourse between halves, we had a pleasant hour which we would have been loth to miss. Although beset and bedeviled, Mr. Ford seems to keep his head much better than might be expected. In fact if some of our rulers were but a fraction as temperate in these New Deal Days, perhaps the country could pull itself together and make at least a start towards that happy friendship and abundant life which we have had drilled into us for lo—these many years. Mr. Cameron's talks on the Ford hour are something worth listening to and of a grade well in keeping with the high standard of the Ford music, and if a little tid-bit slips in here and there it still retains the high class one would look for under the circumstances. In his Sunday night discourse he certainly got a grin from us with his "low thinking in high places"; so much so that we were "impelled to" "put it in the book" for future reference. It seemed quite trite. We may be pardoned for extending the classification and trust it does not apply nearer home than Washington, D. C., but we are no colossal man in a high place, and like the cat may sit off and look even if we ever, never criticize.

SECOND CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

At the service next Sunday morning, solos will be rendered by two well known singers, Mr. A. V. Pine, formerly tenor soloist of the Jewish Temple, Chicago and manager of the Morgan Memorial broadcasting over WHIH, and Mr. F. G. House, bass, formerly soloist of Christian Science churches in Chicago and Los Angeles. Both of these gentlemen are visiting relatives in this vicinity and we are fortunate in being able to secure artists of their ability.

We believe a treat is in store for those who are able to attend this service.

Mrs. George Restall of Lynnfield will be the guest organist for the service. The public is cordially invited to share in this service.

NORFOLK—A PRISON NOT A CLUB

I learn from the press this morning that Simpson, a jail breaker and man killer, who recently shot to death one policeman, Mr. Bell, and seriously wounded another, Mr. Murphy, while these officers were active in the performance of their duty, has been sent to the Norfolk State Prison. Why?

While officer Murphy was grievously wounded he kept his courage and nerve, and with unerring aim returned the shot that laid him low and drove a bullet into the vitals of his assailant.

A merciful government has decided that the man's life must be saved if possible, and that can only be done by a most delicate operation to remove the bullet, say the surgeons.

But why Norfolk? Because there is not in any other prison in Massachusetts another specially equipped hospital where skillful surgeons could undertake this job and if the prisoner were taken to any private or public hospital in the city he would have to be carefully guarded, not only during the operation, but until he could be removed back to prison, an indefinite time. It would take constantly one man, probably two, to guard him. If they were on eight hour shifts either three or six men, a very heavy expense. As he probably has friends in the city only the ablest men would be assigned to this work and the city deprived of their services at a time when every one is needed elsewhere.

At Norfolk no extra guards would be needed. The hospital rooms are entirely enclosed with heavy bars and in a maximum safety constructed building.

If the man recovers from the operation he can be transferred at once without going out of doors, to what is probably one of the most securely constructed buildings for holding desperate men ever built in this country. All cells are made of concrete and steel plates riveted together, the same as a boiler. The bars across the windows cannot be cut with a hacksaw nor broken with a sledgehammer. The doors are operated by the latest type of locking mechanical equipment. There are 105 of these cells.

If he escapes from this building, the wall is still in his road to freedom. It is as difficult to scale and as well guarded as it is possible to make it.

No building is within 100 feet of the wall on the inside, and nothing that will obstruct the vision within 200 feet of the outside of the wall. Powerful electric lights make the view from the watch towers as clear at night as in the day time.

Heavily charged electric wires cover the entire length of the wall. Not only would it be impossible for a prisoner to get out of Norfolk, but equally impossible for desperate men to release him, so that when writers refer to this as a "club" they overlook the fact that it is really a prison equipped to hold every grade of prisoner who may be sent there, with this advantage over every other prison in the State, different grades of prisoners may be segregated.

Those who planned the Norfolk Prison have been severely criticized for building and equipping so expensive hospital quarters.

When they expected the building to last 100 years, or possibly 200 to equal the one in Charleston, it did not seem wise to construct a cheaper building, or to equip it with inferior or second-hand surgical instruments. Many men from the various prisons in the State have been sent there for operation, so in a way it serves the whole State.

A Majority Committee of the Governor's Council, reporting recently on the prisons of the State, says of Norfolk:

"It has hospital wards and rooms move lavishly designed and equipped than many of those in our State institutions. This Committee finds ample justification, however, to criticize Norfolk as an economic waste and a possible failure, now that it has been in operation long enough to acquire a history."

"The general idea seems to have gotten into our institutions that reform can be accomplished without discipline or respect for authority."

After a somewhat careful observation of what has been going on in Norfolk, after it became a real prison rather than a fortified construction camp, I believe this statement does not apply to Norfolk at the present time.

A minority report submitted by Bayard Tuckerman, Jr., Councilor, says: "In Norfolk Prison Colony we have an ideal place for the reformation of certain types of criminals, and such an institution is worthy of the support of the Commonwealth."

I find myself in hearty agreement with Mr. Tuckerman's conclusion, and the use to which that prison is being made today indicates that it is a valuable institution to have on call.

DOUBLE FUNERAL FOR AUTO VICTIMS

A double funeral for Frederick Fitzgerald of Bristol, Pa., and his daughter, Doris, victims of a tragic automobile accident on the Worcester Turnpike Tuesday, Sept. 7, was held Friday morning from the home of Mr. Fitzgerald's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fitzgerald, 20 Winchester place.

High mass of requiem was celebrated in St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Joseph McGoldrick, there being a large attendance and many beautiful floral tributes. Six former classmates at St. Mary's Parochial School, David Styles, Daniel Delorey, John Halligan, Gerald Flowers, Samuel Joyce and John McDevitt were bearers for Doris, and her father's bearers were John and Edward Drohan, Edward Fitzgerald of Brighton, George Smyer, Thomas Smytherman, cousins of the deceased, and a brother-in-law, Howard Moffett. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

Mr. Fitzgerald and his daughter, who was 16, was killed when the automobile in which they were returning to their Bristol home was in collision with a truck carrying long iron rods. In the car with them were Mrs. Fitzgerald (the former Doris Moffett) Shirley Fitzgerald, a younger daughter, and Frederick Fitzgerald, Jr., Mrs. Fitzgerald and Frederick, Jr., were seriously injured and were taken to the Worcester Hospital. Mrs. Fitzgerald was able to leave the hospital last Thursday and Frederick, Jr., was brought home yesterday, but must return to the hospital later for an operation which it is not advisable to perform immediately.

The Fitzgeralds had been in Winchester visiting Mr. Fitzgerald's parents, Mrs. Archie DeMorris of Washington street. Mr. Fitzgerald, who was 38 and a leather worker in the Beebe Leather Company's plant in Bristol, is survived, besides his parents, by two sisters, Miss Elizabeth Fitzgerald and Mrs. Catherine Langon of Lowell, and by three brothers, Edward D. Fitzgerald, driver of the Fire Department's Engine 3, James H., and Harold Fitzgerald, all of this town.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

The payroll of firemen of the Black Horse Hose Company No. 2, located at Symmes Corner dated Sept. 1, 1879 shows that Samuel S. Symmes is now the only survivor. Here is the roll call: A. E. Ayer, H. P. Ayer, J. W. Carter, W. H. Herrick, N. A. Knapp, J. W. Russell, George H. Russell, Fred M. Symmes, Samuel S. Symmes and Walter F. Symmes. How many of them do you remember? All were prominent citizens in the early days of the town.

Early last Saturday morning at 1:45 a Ford roadster, driven by Francis J. Callahan of 26 Tremont street, was in collision on Main street opposite Town Way with a Ford sedan, driven by Joseph F. Connors of 47 Spencer street, Dorchester. The cars were going in opposite directions on Main street and were both damaged about the front. No injuries were reported.

It is expected that the work of placing the Western Union wires, running alongside the railroad tracks and crossing the center on the west side, under the new bridge, will be completed by the end of next week. The removal of the wires through the center will be a decided improvement and last of important work done in the square this summer.

"Matter" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, Sept. 19.
The Golden Text is: "Turn ye not unto idols, nor make to yourselves molten gods: I am the Lord your God (Leviticus 19:4)."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "No man can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. . . . Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Where withal shall we be clothed? . . . for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you" (Matthew 6:24, 31-33).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "We must not attribute more and more intelligence to matter, but less and less, if we would be wise and healthy. The divine Mind, which forms the bud and blossom, will care for the human body, even as it clothes the bird; but the mortal interferes with God's government by trusting in the laws of erring, human concepts" (p. 62).

WINCHESTER CHILDREN IN THE MOVIES

The parents, teachers and friends of the First Congregational Church will have the unique opportunity of seeing their children in the movies next Tuesday evening at the Parents-Teachers' dinner at 6:30 p. m. in the parish hall.

Last spring Mr. Ernest Dudley Chase took motion pictures of the entire Sunday School from the babies in the Cradle roll through all departments of the Sunday School. These pictures show the activities of the school and illustrate how some of our aims and purposes are being carried out.

Story hour in the nursery, a birthday service in the kindergarten, a primary sand table project of Shepherd life, a Junior department, studying the problem of war and peace through the illustration of a peace poster, Junior High and Senior High chapel and classes, and the children's day service—these are a few of the scenes in the picture.

W. P. A. QUOTA INCREASED

Upon the request of the Water & Sewer Board the town's W. P. A. quota of men for work on High street has been increased by 20. Chairman Edmund C. Sanderson informed the Star that the Board had requested the increase when they found that the construction job being done there could not be efficiently carried out with the crew originally allotted.

The Town has this week sent in its check for materials so that the sewer engineering project which has been in operation here may continue until Jan. 1.

VENETIAN GONDOLIERS FACE KEEN COMPETITION

The Italo-Ethiopian War has had something to do with the return of the old craft. Motor launches, using more oil than automobiles, are banned.

In recent years Venetian gondoliers have existed only on paper. A bulletin from the Washington, D. C. headquarters of the National Geographic Society. Tourists have remained true to this picturesque means of transportation. Venetian gondoliers, however, have found it quicker and cheaper to travel by motor launch or by the steamers that ply the length of the Grand Canal.

Grand Canal Black by Law

American tourists who have perhaps ridden in raily-colored gondolas at World Fairs or Florida resorts, are usually disappointed at their first sight of Venice's somber ones. Since the 18th century the latter have been black by law, but the pale, or ornamental "hitching posts" to which they are tied between trips, are far from somber, frequently being carved, striped, and adorned with bright poles.

Long and slender, with both bow and stern upcurved, a gondola is a light draft boat, and each stroke of the gondolier's oar sends it skimming over the water's surface. The passengers' usual numbering from one to six, ride on cushioned seats in the center. In windy weather a trip across one of the lagoons may be disturbing, otherwise the constant, very slight rolling of the gondola is quite pleasant.

Stepping into a gondola's open cockpit from the slippery, wave-washed steps of the Molo, leaving "cab stand" of Venice, one glides over the water, with a quivering rose and gray reflections, and enters the Grand Canal, the Italian city's aquatic Fifth Avenue. The waters of the canal lick the green-stained foundations of weathered buildings, and the reflection of hotels that rise like canon walls on either side.

There are numerous side canals. In these picturesque byways one slips under the arches of polychrome washing strung overhead, and balconies crowded with geraniums, past pink walls chipped stone statues. The byways are almost noiseless except for the splash of oars, mingled with the ringing of distant church bells, and, at the crossings, the gondoliers' cries of warning.

A gondola trip is most exciting after dark. Then one may glide into damp white mists on the lagoon, or into a silent byway, the darkness of which is infrequently broken by splashes of light from the windows of Skrimmer into the deep shadows of bridges, and past mysterious doorways opening onto the canal, one is apt to come to a moored gondola in it in imagination find Shelly reading by the light of its little brass lamp.

One gondola trip usually made by every Venetian, no matter how poor, is that to St. Michele, the city's cemetery, which lies on an island in the lagoon north of Venice. A single gondola to carry coffin and mourners may be the sole funeral transportation equipment of a poor family.

The funeral of the well-to-do, however, is elaborate. Processions of gondolas, their cabins' black curtains screening the mourners, follow in the wake of a black and silver funeral barge. Often 60 or 70 long and brilliant with floral offerings, the barge is frequently manned by gondoliers and funkies in black and silver lace.

Mr. Julius Richardson, 61, a resident of Main street, was painfully injured last week-end when he fell on the sidewalk in front of Haggerty's Garage near Lake street. Patrolman John J. Murray took him to the Winchester Hospital where he was treated by Dr. A. L. Mallett for cuts and bruises. Five stitches being necessary to close a cut on his chin. He was held at the hospital for observation.

Maynard MacDonald, second baseman of the Winchester Millionaires, had the stitches taken out of his fractured finger on Monday. MacDonald injured his finger in tagging a runner during the recent Millionaires-Cubs baseball series. The ligaments of his finger were badly twisted and setting the finger proved quite a job. The funny part of it is that the umpire ruled "Mayne" didn't tag the runner!

Miss Betty Dassel of Fairview terrace, who will enter her senior year at Radcliff College this fall, has just returned from a summer of travel in Europe.

HEART TO HEART TALKS

Flatterers

There are flatterers in Winchester as elsewhere. Every community has the individual who is like the fellow who stands behind a bar to deal out liquor, for gain. The fellow who utters honest praise is a really worthwhile chap; the man who receives it does so without humiliation and is fortified in character by it. But the flatterer is always a scoundrel or nearly always so, and the glad receiver of his "flattery" is always a downright fool—natural or otherwise.

It is very easy to observe that the desire for praise is often very strong in those men and women who never do anything to deserve it, and who are ever reluctant to award it to those who have earned it justly. There are men in every community who are universally recognized as supremely selfish, yet supremely greedy of praise. This ambition on their part certainly does not arise from any over indulgence in it, for they never had even a taste of it. They are known of the selfish as hard and mean, yet they have an itch for praise and popularity with a desire that almost makes one laugh although it is no laughing matter. They never indulge in a charitable act, they never do themselves or their good of their fellows, their whole world is shut up in themselves—without a single redeeming feature, without any generous qualities—yet they make a grab for every word that sounds like praise as if they were actually starved.

Let us have more sincerity in our relations with our fellows. If we think they deserve a little censure, let us tell them so, instead of criticise them harshly either. True, everybody likes a little honest praise now and then, but this "baloney" business is the bunk and the sooner indulgence in it is scrapped, the better for us all.

THIS WEEK'S GARDENING

By Alfred A. Fraser

To reseed the lawn, now it, take off weed stalks, rough it with a rake, sow high quality grass seed at least one pound to 300 sq. ft. of area and rake in. A moist soil condition will give quicker germination.

Forget-me-nots, daisies, or pansies started in August can be transplanted into the beds of frames where they are to remain in the winter.

Salt hay makes a long lasting, field-me repelling, winter covering. Buds for indoor winter forcing can be planted now. Narcissi, Tulips, Crocus should either be buried outside or else covered in a cool part of the cellar until at least the first of February. This is so they will make good root growth.

Japanese iris should be transplanted into a moist location. Need lots of water and fertilizer.

Don't delay in putting in spring flowering bulbs. You can plan the color of your garden in advance. In general, the best effect is to be had by group planting.

Young Arborvitae, Pine of Spruce can be transplanted in your window boxes for winter effect. They probably won't last over two years, but they are inexpensive to buy, and need no care beyond good watering after planting.

Why not try planting Winter Rye as a cover crop in your garden now? Turn it under early in the spring and this "green" manure will help your garden greatly.

Be sure you keep hollyhock, phlox, and larkspur leaves picked up and burned.

If fungus growth shows in the garden give a good coating of agricultural lime and water well.

Paperywhite (or yellow) Narcissi can be started indoors in pebbles or bulb fibre. With practically no care they'll flower about December 1. Plant a batch every two weeks, using large size bulbs.

Cracking cabbages should be opened part-way to check the growth.

STRAND THEATRE, MALDEN

"The Toast of New York," with Edward Arnold, Frances Farmer, Cary Grant and Jack Oakie as the stars, heads the double bill opening at the Strand Theatre in Malden today. "The Toast of New York" is based on events in the career of Jim Fisk, one of the pioneer financial moguls of this country whose legend remains in the money marts still reads like fiction. Fisk, beginning as a small town peddler in the picture, quickly becomes one of the most powerful money barons of Wall Street. Amassing a fortune from the manipulation of the stock of the Erie Railroad, he lavishes a King's ransom on Josie Mansfield, an unknown beauty whom he sponsors and makes a Broadway star, only to lose her amid the wreck of his many ambitions. Forbidden by the courts to conduct the business of the Erie in New York, Fisk moves the office of the company to Jersey City, and when it seems that Commodore Vanderbilt will gain control of the road, Fisk pulls a fast one and wins out. Fresh from her laurels in "The Toast of New York," the most popular played opposite Arnold, Frances Farmer has the Josie Mansfield role. Cary Grant is cast as Jim Fisk's pal, "Dandy" Boyd, who finally wins Josie from Fisk. Oakie, one of the great comedy of the meteoric financier, has a side-splitting comedy role. Rare humor, as well as spectacular drama, pervades the action. Heralded as one of the new singing and dancing sensations of the screen, Thelma Leeds, former radio and night club star, makes her film debut in the role of Florique, peppery French subterfuge. Others in the cast are Donald Meek, Paul Guilfoyle, Douglas Woods and George Irving.

"Racing Lady" with Ann Dvorak and Smith Bell as the stars, is the second feature on the bill starting today. The story deals with a wealthy automobile manufacturer who uses his string of horses and his attractive girl trainer solely as a publicity venture to help sell his cars. He runs head-on into trouble, however, when he attempts to scratch the horse this girl has raised from a colt, simply because he is not certain the colt has the speed to win the big race. The story is told in a most dramatic manner by Churchill, Willie Best and Harlan Tucker head the support.

"KNIGHT WITHOUT ARMOR" AT THE UNIVERSITY

Marlene Dietrich comes to the University Theatre on Sunday in her first British film. Alexander Korda's "Knight Without Armor," which co-stars her with the dashing Robert Donat, Frances Marion, ace Hollywood scenarist, made the screen adaptation of this beautiful love story which casts Marlene and Donat in their most thrilling roles as an alluring Russian countess and a man of mystery from another world who are thrown together amid the tumult of a history making day.

America's favorite family, the Joneses, are featured in "East Meets West" and then find it in each other, just like the rest of us folks, in their latest picture, "Big Business," the companion feature.

Wednesday, Review Day, the program includes, "Born to Dance" featuring Eleanor Powell and James Stewart and George Arliss in "East Meets West."

"The Toast of New York" starts Thursday. It tells the story of Jim Fisk, a financial genius who flourished in the era following the Civil War. Edward Arnold plays Fisk, with Frances Farmer in the role of Josie Mansfield, the ambitious beauty whom Fisk raised from obscurity to theatre stardom. Cary Grant, Jack Oakie and Donald Meek have important supporting roles.

"Mary The Girl" the associate feature includes such famous fun-makers as Hugh Herbert, Mary Boland, Frank McHugh, Mischa Auer, Carol Hughes and Alan Mowbray in its cast.

GRANADA ATTRACTIONS

"Artists and Models," the newest music and comedy sensation with Jack Benny heading a cast of screen and radio stars and hundreds of gorgeous girls, which includes Ida Lupino, Gail Patrick, Richard Arlen, Ben Blue, Judy Canova, The Yacht Club Boys, Louis Armstrong's Orchestra opens at the Granada Theatre in Malden today. In addition to the stars listed above, the film shows specialty numbers by Martha Raye, Andre Kostelanetz and his Orchestra, Judy, Ann and Zeke, of radio fame and glorious voiced Connie Boswell. The story opens with Jack Benny the head of the dizziest agency of the world. Benny promises to marry Ida Lupino whom he has "sold" to Richard Arlen for use in Dick's advertising campaign. In the meantime, Benny falls in love with Gail Patrick, Dick's fiancée. Then to make it perfect Benny remembers that he has promised her Miss Patrick and Miss Lupino that he will have each elected Queen of the Artists and Models Ball, of which he is chairman. Then Arlen falls in love with Miss Lupino. The night of the ball arrives and all four of them, Jack, Ida, Gail and Dick join the festivities. Jack decides to spend his time "dinking away" from the girls. But to his great surprise he finds that it is not necessary because Gail, by clever maneuvering, has straightened out the tangled mess and each of the boys wind up with the right girl while the show, the most tuneful and spectacular production ever brought to the screen, goes on merrily. The picture introduces six new songs: "Whispers in the Dark," "Public Melodrama," "Pon Goes the Bubble," "Stop! You're Breaking My Heart," "Sasha Pasha," and "Mr. Esquire." The dances were staged by Leroy Prinz.

Pat O'Brien, Ann Sheridan and Humphrey Bogart in "San Quentin" is the second feature on the bill opening today. This is a powerful melodrama with Pat O'Brien cast as captain of the prison yard. He has taken the place of Barton MacLane, who has been demoted because of his harsh treatment of the convicts. At a cabaret O'Brien meets Ann Sheridan, a singer, and falls for her. He does not know that Humphrey Bogart, one of his most troublesome convicts, is her brother. To make trouble for O'Brien, MacLane tells Bogart that Pat is having an affair with his sister. Bogart escapes and brings the film to a stirring climax.

READING THEATRE

One of production chief Darryl F. Zanuck's able assistants at 20th Century-Fox, Markey strolled one day to the studio, saw a dog, and was reminded at once of Rudyard Kipling's famous poem, "Fuzzy Wuzzy":

"Here's to you, Fuzzy Wuzzy, in your home in the Sudan. You're a poor beleaguered fathen. But a first-class fighting man."

This recalled Kipling in general, bringing to mind the popular author's romantic, exciting and colorful tales of India. This train of thought led naturally to "Wee Willie Winkie," one of the most famous of all stories of India, and it occurred to Markey that the Kipling adventure would provide an exceptional vehicle for Shirley Temple.

"Wee Willie Winkie," which John Ford directed, opens Sunday. For three days at the Reading Theatre, Wallace Beery and Ted Healy in "The Good Old Snak." The double feature bill for today and tomorrow includes Joe Penner and Harriet Hilliard in "New Faces of 1937" and "Speed to Spare" with Charles Quigley and Dorothy Wilson.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL RENOVATES ESSENTIAL COMMUNITY SERVICE

There is no organization in the town of Winchester—unless it be the town government—which supplies the completely unselfish service which is constantly rendered by the Winchester Hospital.

Few people realize how vital an efficient, well run hospital can be in their lives until they come in actual contact with it. Open 24 hours a day, prepared and equipped to meet any emergency every minute of the time, our hospital has built an enviable reputation under its excellent medical staff. The able administration afforded by its board of directors, officers and Managers and special committees has supported the work of the entire staff since the original foundation of the hospital in February, 1899.

The Winchester Hospital is not a public institution supported by town, state or nation, nor a private hospital conducted for profit. It is one of those paradoxes of organization which exists for the good of the community. Its main aim is to help folks to get well at a price which makes the first class treatment it offers available to rich and poor, old and young, regardless of race, creed or color. The hospital financial requirements are determined by the money needed to supply this service it gives so wholeheartedly. Since 1928—when a new addition was added—the hospital administration has been successful in maintaining a high level of equipment and personnel efficiency. Most complete surgical, x-ray, radiology, maternity and dietetic facilities make it an outstanding institution. A staff of vivacious, youthful graduate nurses who carry out their tasks with sincere feeling and interest makes the stay of its patients in the hospital pleasant as well as beneficial. The spirit of cooperation within the organization is one which attracts the immediate attention of every visitor. The operating end, which includes the power house, kitchen, laundry and refrigerating facilities—just to mention a few—is keyed to constant service. The food is the pride of the dietitian and the cook and it is the source of the patients' admiration.

Public spirited organizations, like the En Ka Society (Nurses Home), The Fortnightly Club, The Italian Club (Library), the Lion Club, the Club Concert Committee (operating suite), the Winton Club (linen), and many others, render services which are invaluable to the success of the hospital.

Patients with health regained look back with appreciation and complete satisfaction on their stay at the hospital. One little fellow, it is a fiddle, came back to visit his nurses. Drawing pictures himself as a patient and underneath in a strong childish hand the following notation: "The Hospital is terrible they say but when you get out you can't wait every day." The help and cheer spread by our Winchester Hospital should become common knowledge, for none of us ever can tell when we may need the hospital for our loved ones or ourselves. We are proud of our OWN Winchester Hospital.

WINCHESTER NAVAL FLIER KILLED

Stuart A. MacKenzie and Raymond A. Schmidt Crashed at Long Island

Stuart A. MacKenzie, Jr., naval aviator cadet and nephew of Mrs. William E. Schrafft of 45 Arlington street, with a fellow cadet, Raymond A. Schmidt of Alton, Ill., was killed instantly Monday morning when their plane crashed at Monticello, Long Island, N. Y., as they were flying back to join their unit at Norfolk, Va. Cadet MacKenzie sustained a fractured skull when his body was wedged between the fuselage of the plane and a large oak tree. His companion, Cadet Schmidt, died two hours after the accident in a hospital at Glenview, L. I.

Both young fliers had been on furlough and had spent their leave at the Schrafft home in Winchester. They were driven by the Schrafft chauffeur to the Quantico airport where they hoped off at 9:30 Monday morning. The crash occurred at 10:15.

The plane in which they were flying was a Vought scouting plane attached to the U. S. S. Yorktown. As it crashed it tore through a line of telegraph wires, broke through trees and struck with such force that its parts were scattered over a wide area.

Cadet MacKenzie's body was brought to Winchester, accompanied by Aviation Cadet Richard E. Friedman, a close friend of the deceased. Funeral services are to be held this Friday afternoon at the Schrafft home at 2 o'clock, with Dr. Austin Rice, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Wakefield officiating. Interment will be in Lakeside Cemetery, Wakefield, where Naval honors will be accorded by a firing squad and bugler.

Stuart A. MacKenzie, Jr., was 25 years old and unmarried. He was born in Woburn, son of Stuart A. and Geneva (Danforth) MacKenzie, spent his early years in Wakefield and later lived with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Schrafft, in Winchester until he went away to school at Governor Dummer Academy and Phillips Exeter Academy.

He was graduated from Yale with the class of 1935, taking an active interest in athletics and playing on the baseball team for three years. Immediately after his graduation he entered the naval aviation school at Pensacola, Fla., later being transferred to Norfolk.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Schrafft, Cadet MacKenzie is survived by his mother and by a sister, Mrs. J. C. Whitehair of Shaker Heights, Ohio.

KENDRICK SIGNS WITH BEES

Charles "Buster" Kendrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Kendrick of Holliston, has signed with the Boston Bees as a member of the team. He is prominent in local athletics, on Tuesday signed a contract to pitch next year for the Boston Bees baseball team.

"Buster" is a former Winchester High School baseball captain, and one of the best pitchers to represent the institution in recent years. He was one of the box mainstays of the Winchester Millionaires until this summer when he went down to the Cape to pitch and play the outfield for the Bourne Club, runner-up for the Cape League championship.

The local boy made the jump to fast company easily, his record in 1936 being nine wins and three lost, while his batting average was better than the wanted .300.

"Buster" is 19 and plenty big enough for big league competition, standing 6 feet 10 inches tall, weighing 185 pounds. He is a right hander with a loose, easy motion has a good "hard one" and an effective curve. Baseball men figure him a good prospect.

"Artie" Johnson, tall southpaw having already reached an agreement with the Boston club, will not actually sign his contract until he gets his diploma in June.

MARBLEHEAD HERE SATURDAY

New Athletic Field Ready for Gridiron Classic

After years of waiting, Winchester football fans will see their dreams realized on Saturday afternoon when Winchester High plays its first game on the enclosed gridiron at the Shore road, commencing at 2 o'clock.

Marblehead is the attraction, and an attraction that any high school would be glad to present to its followers far and near. During recent years the Headers have become one of the feature teams of New England and have shown their wares as far afield as New York City and Miami and St. Petersburg, Fla. Coach Al McGuinness' outfit is a colorful team, smartly coached and laden with tricky plays of the sort seldom seen put up by schoolboys.

Equipped with professional eleven's with black satin trousers, scarlet jerseys and helmets the Headers are worth a trip to the field just to see, and when they clash Saturday with the local team in the black and scarlet uniforms there will be odds of color along with some unusual football.

Marblehead seldom is orthodox in its formations and the locals will have to be considerably smarter than they were at Arlington to diagnose the plays the visiting club is likely to uncoil.

One should sell Marblehead short because it lost by a touchdown last week to Saugus. Coach "Buz" Harvey has a big bruising team at Saugus and had been working his charges especially for the Headers since the middle of August. That trimming will make the visitors a tough club to beat on Saturday, and the more so because of the wholly unexpected tie that Winchester played with the Headers on their own field a year ago.

Coach McGuinness is out to avenge that tie and the local boys will be there fighting to prove it was no mistake. Marblehead will find no set up here tomorrow.

Coach Lauer and his assistant, Coach Bartlett, have been busy this week ironing out the defects that cropped up against Arlington. They feel that with better breaks the locals might have won from the Scarlet, and the new head coach will have a much better line on his team for Marblehead than he had for the season's opener.

Winchester will probably show a slightly changed lineup against the invaders this week, with Paul Lender, former football captain, playing the number one back with Graham, Murray and Cicciello; and Tony DeSoto at center. "Dick" McCormack is starting at right guard instead of the veteran Jack Finger, who is still in the best of shape and "Clem" Baintow has won the nod to start at end with "Pete" Sibley. The remainder of the team has big "Bob" Gardner and "Dangerous Dan" Delony at tackles and "Lad" McMillan at guard.

Marblehead is bringing on its band of 40 pieces for the game and a big cheering section.

Fans are reminded that the game starts at 2 o'clock, the admission is 50 cents, that seats are reserved only for season ticket holders and that there is plenty of parking space at the field. The Police have made Shore road (formerly Railroad avenue) a one way street for the game, so that cars can drive to the field by way of the center but cannot return that way.

MRS. HELEN WYMAN

Mrs. Helen C. Wyman, wife of Reginald Colegate Wyman of 62 Aerial street, Arlington, a former resident of this town, died Sunday, Sept. 19, in the Ring Sanatorium in Arlington.

Mrs. Wyman, who was in her 29th year, was the daughter of Edmund and Josephine (Strom) Larsen of Forest street, She was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., but spent much of her life previous to her marriage in Winchester, attending the Winchester schools and graduating from Winchester High School with the class of 1920.

On Sept. 29, 1930, in the Second Congregational Church, she married Mr. Wyman, a member of the Metropolitan Police department, who survived her by parents, and a brother, Edmund Larsen of this town. Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at the late residence, with Rev. Henry G. Budd, pastor of the Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church of Arlington, officiating. Interment was in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, Arlington.

TRAIN TO ACCOMMODATE WINCHESTER SHOPPERS

Through the efforts of Mr. E. Langworthy Burwell of Winslow road, the officials of the Boston and Maine Railroad have agreed to have their train southbound leaving Winchester for Boston at 9:52 a. m. stop at Wedgemere at 9:54.

This additional stop will prove especially helpful to those living in the Wedgemere section who previously have had no train stop at their station for Boston between 9:02 and 11. Mr. Burwell has also called the railroad's attention to what he believes to be a dangerous spot from Bacon street to the station board walk. Road officials have assured him that when repairs are again necessary this step will be replaced with a ramp.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Four members were absent from the meeting of Sept. 23. Not since May 27 have there been so few absentees. The attendance percentage has risen steadily since mid-August and we hope to achieve more of our customary "excellent" records.

George Reed was present today for the first time since his return to American soil, and was welcomed by no means perfunctorily. To know George is to understand why he has a host of friends both in and out of our club.

President Warren Hersey has returned from his recent vacation. When he confirms the prevailing impression concerning the desirability of vacations.

Past President "Church" Hindes, chairman of the new members committee, formally welcomed Allen Kimball to club membership today. We look forward to a long and pleasant association with Allen, both as a personal friend and as a consistent and earnest worker for Rotary.

Guest speaker at the current meeting was Dr. Huber, of the Department of Public Health of this community. Dr. Huber discussed for our enlightenment a disease commonly known as infantile paralysis, a term which is a misnomer as the ailment is by no means confined to infancy nor, in a majority of cases, is it accompanied by paralysis of the limbs. Without in any way belittling the dangerous character of the disease Dr. Huber deplored the decidedly panicky feeling caused by its presence in a given area. In reality this disease gives much less cause for alarm than several more common maladies such as measles, whooping cough, etc. Dr. Huber's address was of great constructive value and it was a distinct privilege to receive trustworthy advice from this authoritative source.

Seldom have we found a clearer conception of the theme which the tax collector develops ("He Profits Most Who Serves Best") than that presented by Hugh C. Jenkins in an editorial published in "The Wanganui (New Zealand) Chronicle." Mr. Jenkins' treatment of that time-honored question, "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" we read—

"In the life of a man who faces up to that question there soon comes a time when he must fashion his own scale of values. Money can be bought too dearly, social position may be gained at the expense of essentials, and yet there are things which come to a man which he cannot buy. A man cannot buy a widow's prayers, an old man's respect, a boy's affection. He cannot even ask for them. They are things bestowed, they are things without price and without market, for there can be no trading in them. There is no such thing as a 'quid pro quo' in this scale of values and yet they provide life's greatest prizes."

There will be a meeting of the board of directors of this club at the home of President Warren Hersey, 32 Pierpont road at 8 p. m. Monday, Sept. 27. This is important and a large attendance is requested. Percentage of attendance, Sept. 16—84.38 per cent.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

The town has received from the Boston & Maine Railroad a license and permission to use a strip of land on Shore road, formerly Railroad avenue, and the widening of this road will be done.

There are many private garages in town that have never been properly licensed for occupancy and the Chief of Police has been checking up on them. It is his duty to make sure that a license is placed in their garages. This concerns the housing of inflammables and has nothing to do with the original license to build the garage. Garages thus occupied are in violation of a law punishable by fine.

Last Sunday afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock police headquarters was notified of an automobile accident on Cambridge street near Pond street.

Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy went to investigate and found that a Buick sedan, driven by Irwin Mader of 3 Hayden terrace, Somerville, and a Ford sedan, operated by Dirk J. Sheffer of Sachem street, Billerica, going in opposite directions had collided near Pond street. Sheffer told the police that another car had cut in front of him and in attempting to avoid it, his car had skidded into the Buick.

Both cars were damaged and Mrs. Mary Mader, riding with her husband, complained of injuries to her right foot. Her daughter, Claire, 3, sustained cuts about the chin and face, and another daughter, Jean, 8, was cut about the hand.

Fr. Ambrose White. Edson Kimball, organist at St. Anthony's played the wedding music and Miss Antoinette Anesia of Rosindale sang during the ceremony the "Ave Maria" and "Just For Today."

The bride wore a gown of satin and lace, made with a train with a tulle veil arranged with a lace and satin cap. Her flowers were valley lilies and white roses. The honor attendant and bridesmaids were all gowned alike in white satin and carried pink roses. The little flower-girl wore a long white tulle frock and the ring-bearer carried the wedding ring upon a pillow of white satin and lace.

After the ceremony a reception for a large number of wedding guests was held in Waterfield Hall which was elaborately decorated in a color scheme of white and pink. The bride's mother and the parents of the bridegroom assisted in receiving.

At the conclusion of the reception Mr. Marchesi and his bride left to enjoy a honeymoon in New York City and Florida. Upon their return they will make their home on Swanton street in this town.

WATER PROBLEM SOLVED BY WELL IN WELLESLEY

By Bernard Peterson in the Boston Transcript

Connecting itself with the inexhaustible supply of underground water, far down among the veins of the earth's crust, the town of Wellesley has solved its water problem for a long time at low cost.

The latest developments in a long-range program sponsored by the town's water and municipal light commissioners was the construction of a Layne and Bowler well which will release its flow as soon as the permanent pump is installed, and a new reservoir which is in process of construction.

The water board forestalled a water shortage for the college town. The daily consumption has been rising steadily for many years, reaching its peak last year when it became necessary to put restrictions on its use. To dig into the earth once more, to supplement the wells already in use, was the water board's decision, as the town has no inclination to assume the cost of joining the Metropolitan water system. Another million gallons a day out of a new well would give a comfortable margin of safety, but the well just completed for the town by the Layne-Bowler New England Company, to which the water board awarded the contract, has demonstrated a capacity of 4,000,000 gallons a day.

It is believed that this new well has tapped a broad subterranean water course from which the Merrimack River was diverted by glacial flows a million years ago.

Several communities in Massachusetts and in Vermont are watching Wellesley's and Needham's experience with this new type of wells, so constructed with an upper cement dam, gravel packs and enameled screens, that they tan the great water sources in the saturated strata at great depths and seal out all surface water. For many cities and towns this is said to be the shortest way to a dependable water supply.

Attractive and practical bridge sets, including table cover and coasters washable and waterproof, at the Star Office.

OUR MODERN AGE

HOW ABOUT IT?

This census of the unemployed has census takers quite annoyed. They hardly know just how to start. The thing that might upset the census is these new buildings under way. Each town has started some today, and folks with jobs who should be working are mixed in with the loafers looking around where they are excavating. They have to wait until hard work comes and building projects slow down some.

Don't wait any longer to have the necessary plumbing work done in your home. Call on the experts of Fells Plumbing & Heating Co., 656 Main St., today for a better job at a more reasonable price. You will be satisfied.

HUNTINGTON A POPULAR SCHOOL FOR WINCHES-TER BOYS

For several years many boys have entered the Huntington School from Winchester. When the School year opens on Sept. 22 a number of boys from Winchester will be among those enrolled.

The Huntington School is conveniently located for boys who live in the Winchester district. The School can be very easily reached either by train or bus. There is an extensive well supervised parking area where boys who drive to school may park their cars without expense.

Mr. Sampson, the Headmaster of the School, will be in his office from now until the opening day for the purpose of enrolling boys and arranging schedules. The Huntington School accepts only boys who wish to be prepared for college and more than 95 per cent of Huntington School graduates have entered the leading colleges and universities.

Instruction is offered in all college preparatory subjects beginning with the eighth grade. The School has a special course for boys who need one or two years of college preparatory preparation before entering college. The School's faculty is made up of men who are well trained in their field of teaching and who have a sympathetic interest in the problems with which boys are faced.

In addition to its program of formal studies, the School also has an excellent extra-curricular program including carefully supervised athletics, physical training, hobby clubs, and musical organizations.

The general aim of the School is the all round development of the boy—the specific aim is effective preparation for admission to college.

Huntington is a fully accredited school; the certificate privilege having this year been renewed for the maximum period.

"NORM" DALRYMPLE NEW SINGLES CHAMP

Pairs With "Larry" Freeborn to Win Doubles Crown

Norman Dalrymple, Yale varsity tennis star, won the singles championship of Winchester last Sunday morning, defeating Jack Hills in three straight sets, all at 6-2, in the final round of the annual fall tournament at Palmer street.

"Norm" did right well for himself in this year's tourney, for after grabbing the singles crown, vacated by "Herb" Ross, who was defaulted in an early round of the current campaign, he paired with the left-handed "Larry" Freeborn to win the doubles title from Hall Gamage and "Dick" Riley, 6-2, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3.

In his quarter-final match Dalrymple defeated "Buck" Drake, 6-4, 6-2, and in the semi-final won from "Dick" Riley, 6-4, 4-6, 11-9, a thrilling match. Bennett Wightman defaulted to Hills in the quarter-finals after had won a set, and in the semi-finals "Jack" defeated Thad Smith, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4.

The weather was cold and blustery, not at all good for tennis and especially uncomfortable for the gallery. There was, however, quite a number on hand for the matches and they saw some good tennis and close exciting competition.

JUNIOR DOUBLES AT PALMER STREET

Park Commissioner William S. Packer has announced that Winchester's annual doubles tournament for all junior tennis players who were not 15 years of age when the year began will be held all day Saturday on the Palmer street courts, starting promptly at 9 a. m. There will be three divisions for boys, girls and mixed teams. Entries will close with Mr. Packer, 11 Yale street tonight at 6 o'clock.

This junior tournament was started in Winchester several years ago and has met with ever-increasing success. Entries have been received from the four semi-finalists in Mrs. Wightman's recent girls' tournament—Cissy Madden of Jamaica Plain, Dorothy Wightman of Winchester and Jean Drake also of Winchester. Other entries include Olivia Swain, Reading; Betty and Ann Shelden, Waltham; Rosemary Baldwin and Peggy Green, Newton.

Entered in the boys' division are Ernest Johnson of Newtonville, Bruce Daniels of Worcester, Philip Scanlon, Steelwell Everts of Newton and Manuel Madden of Jamaica Plain.

CUBS CLOSED SEASON

The Winchester Cubs, scrappy little baseball team, managed by Mario "Payson" Marrone, concluded their current baseball season last week with a record of 12 games won against 13 reverses.

At first glance it might appear that the Cubs had not gone so well this season as they never before have had so many games in the lost column at the conclusion of a campaign. It should be remembered, however, that this season Manager Marrone sent his club on several occasions against teams hardly in his own class. Such teams as the Stoneham Cubs, consolidated Chatham Woburn, Boston & Maine Shop and Winchester Millionaires. Playing teams of their own age the local boys made an excellent showing, and exclusive of their series with the Millionaires, had a better than 500 average for the season.

SAILES WITH LEGIONNAIRES

The United States liner Washington, pride of the American Merchant Marine, sailed for New York on Monday at midnight last night as official flagship of the American Legion Foreign Pilgrimage, with the newly elected national commander of the Legion and a group of 600 American war veterans and their families, who are going over as guests of the Republic of France to celebrate the 20th anniversary of American participation in the World War. The Washington's peacetime expeditionary force included Legionnaires from almost every section of the country. Winchester being represented by Mr. C. Parker.

WINCHESTER LOST OPENER

Heavy Arlington Team Won 6-2 Victory

Winchester High opened its 1937 football campaign last Saturday afternoon at Arlington, losing to Arlington High, 6-2, in a game that was pretty much a battle of defense with neither team showing anything like a consistent punch when in possession of the ball.

Winchester was greatly outweighed and individually the local boys waged a game battle against their bulky opponent. Arlington showed no back to approach the capable Oliverios, but his superior weight permitted the Scarlet to outrush Winchester about three to one, rolling up 96 yards to 31 for the locals. Arlington lost 22½ yards from scrimmage to 17½ for Winchester, each team fumbling twice and recovering once. Each team tried four passes, no one of which was completed, Winchester having three of its aerial intercepts and grabbing one of Arlington's tosses. Winchester lost 30 yards in penalties, being offside twice, having an illegal shift once and once taking too many times. Arlington's one 15 yard penalty was apparently for unnecessary roughness.

Ficiello's fine punting kept the ball deep in Arlington's territory most of the first half and finally led up to Winchester's 20 point score. The game was only a few minutes old when the sturdy fullback got off a long boot from his own 30 to go outside at Arlington's 12 and a few minutes later kicked another to the coffin corner that traveled from the Arlington 38 to the six yard marker.

In attempting to rush the ball away from the goal line, Cashman fumbled and barely saved a Winchester touch-down when he managed to recover the ball in a cloud of black jerseys.

Shortly after the opening of the second quarter Ficiello again laid the ball outside at Winchester's five yard line, but this time the big Scarlet kicked out of danger and a few minutes later a Winchester pass was intercepted. Cashman following with a 14 yard line kick, gave the boys for the half's only first down.

Sibley intercepted a Quinn pass at his 25 to halt Arlington, but two plays later Mills grabbed a Sibley forward advance to the winning point. Winchester was hardly showing the best of judgment to pass in its own territory with but a minute to play and a two point lead, but nothing came of it, for the local broke up a sloppy lateral attempt to take the ball on their own 36 as the half ended.

Arlington scored early in the third quarter. Murray recovered a Quinn fumble, Winchester's 40, but the locals had to kick and Ficiello's boot bounced back and rolled back nearly 20 yards to the Arlington 49. Cashman kicked and the ball struck Johnson, bouncing back to the Winchester 18 where it was barely recovered by Murray.

On the first play Winchester lost 15 yards for an illegal shift, and Ficiello had to kick from his end zone. He was rushed to death by several big Arlington forwards and did well to get the kick away.

The ball slithered out to the 20 and hurried back to the 10, giving Arlington its first real scoring chance. Two tries at the line were piled up, but on third down, a delayed buck by Mills from a fake reverse fooled the center of the local line badly, the runner reaching the one foot line.

On the next play Mills crowded over. Cashman failed to kick the goal. That ended the scoring, though Arlington was well on their way to an other tally after Ficiello was removed from the game in the last quarter. The Scarlet intercepted a pass and returned the ball to the local 20, from where he was advanced to the four yard stripe as the game ended.

Both clubs took the field in new uniforms. Winchester wearing black jerseys with scarlet lettering, scarlet helmets and stockings and black pants. Arlington wore scarlet jerseys and stockings with silver pants and helmets. Between the halves the Arlington High band played and narrated, forming a "W" and an "A" in front of the stands.

GROSVENOR LIKELY CANDIDATE FOR WESLEYAN ELEVEN

David Grosvenor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Grosvenor of Norwood street, is being mentioned in early reports as a likely candidate for a regular position in the backfield of the Wesleyan University football team this fall.

"Dave" is probably one of the lightest boys playing college football but he makes every ounce of his poundage tell, is a good running back and a very sure tackler in an open field. He is a real featherweight in his gameness or his love for the game.

At Winchester High "Dave" was regular quarterback on the championship eleven captained by Jack Hanlon and Gerry Gervase. Though a real featherweight in those days he was a very dependable performer and did his fair share toward making the Red and Black a football power in the Middlesex League.

MYSTIC MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION WELCOMES BACK MRS. DRESSER

Anyone entering Felsdale close on last Wednesday night would have thought that the home of Mrs. Carlisle W. Burton had been transformed by some fairy godmother into Fairyland. The home, in a beautiful natural setting, was entirely surrounded by Japanese lanterns and through the open doors, came the music of Mrs. Hildegarde Livingstone's string quartet.

The cause of this beautiful transformation was the reception given by the Mystic Mothers' Association in honor of her return of Mrs. Caroline H. Dresser as principal of the Mystic School after her absence of a year from that position. The fact that it was a surprise party to Mrs. Dresser made it even more enjoyable.

Mr. Dresser, president of the Association who have served in that capacity since Mrs. Dresser first came to the Mystic School.

The teachers of the school assisted by serving doughnuts, cheese and cider in the garden. Mrs. Russell Ellis and the members of the board of the Association were most instrumental in making it a most beautiful and successful affair.

Over 200 persons were served and among those who signed the guest book were Mr. and Mrs. James J. Quinn, Miss Blanche A. Pratt and Miss Gertrude M. Lewis.

LIONS CLUB

A well attended meeting last Monday at the Elks seems to indicate that enthusiasm is running higher this fall. A good crowd greeted Mr. Frank Crawford of the Winchester Hospital with his pictures of the activities and efficiency of the local hospital. They were exceptionally clear and nicely arranged. Phil was featured and certainly added color or something in one of the shots. We have a fine institution that should be appreciated and supported.

We were also honored by a visit of our District Governor, Dr. Clayton Walker of Somerville and other guests.

Everyone seemed to enjoy the splendid lunch and the singing prompted by Jerry.

The missing Lions are missing something.

Next week, a very interesting film on home insulation will be shown donated by the Johns-Manville Co.

WINCHESTER JUNIORS AT LONGWOOD

Natalie White of this town won the girls' consolation singles in Mrs. George W. Wightman's annual fall tennis party at the Longwood Cricket Club last Saturday, defeating Barbara Peabody, 6-4.

With the redoubtable "Cissy" Madden of Jamaica Plain and Dorothy Wightman of Chestnut Hill in the tourney at the Winchester entrants on the girls side were unable to break through for a title. Jean Drake and Priscilla Tapley were semi-finalists, however, and did as well as could be expected against "Cissy," the ultimate winner and Dorothy, who was runner-up.

When Bennett Wightman defaulted his first round match, Winchester's best chance for a win on the boys' side of the tourney was lost. In mixed doubles Priscilla Tapley and Harold Salzman won their quarter-final round match from Cissy and Manuel Madden. Jean Drake and William Wightman losing to Dorothy Wightman and Bruce Daniels.

ON "CUT LIST" AT MT. HERMON

George W. Story, 3rd, of 17 Lebanon street was placed on the "cut" list of Mt. Hermon School for high ranking in scholarship during the past term, according to an announcement by headmaster David R. Porter at the beginning of the new school year.

To make cuts a student must have an average of 80 with not more than one mark in the lower 70's or not more than two marks in the upper 70's. Besides the distinction of ranking among the highest ten per cent scholastically in a school of 575 boys, the student has the privilege of "cutting" several classes each term. Boys use these cuts for going home or visiting friends off campus weekdays.

OBSERVED FIFTH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Helen Lucy was the party hostess and "Jackie's" paternal grandmother, Mrs. Mabel O'Connor of Woburn, entertained the young guests with piano and vocal selections.

Among the guests were Elizabeth, Dorothy and Mary Frances O'Connell, Joan and Dickie Tofuri, Betty King, Patricia Flynn, Barbara Pike, Evelyn Queen, Danny Sciascia, Jerry and Ann Hooper, Junior Savard, Sister Jackie, Charles and Bobbie O'Connor.

The question of motorizing the railroad gates in the center and the removal of the gatemen's shanty to the north end of the crossing is still under discussion and no decision has yet been made regarding the improvement. In connection with the idea, it has been suggested that a new and attractive gatemen's house be erected on the site of the present shanty, this to have a second story, glass enclosed, for the use of the traffic officer. The site is said to provide a good outlook of the whole square and to be an excellent location in case it is deemed advisable to operate the traffic lights by hand. The present control box on the south-east crossing is more or less dangerous, cutting off as it does the view and endangering pedestrians when cars make a right turn. Just when the controls for operating the new traffic lights will be received is uncertain, but the officer stationed at the square certainly puts the traffic through nicely and with a minimum of delay.

Something really should be done about our youthful bicycle riders! This isn't entirely our own idea. We have recently had several urgent requests to call attention to the careless and even defiant manner in which the youngsters ride their bikes around town, especially on the congested streets in and near the center. All the complainants have been primarily concerned with the safety of the kiddies and at least one of those who have spoken to us has worked extensively with and for young people. There is no questioning the fact that our young bicycle riders take some very long chances. They weave with abandon in and out of the heaviest traffic, generally on the left hand side of the street and with utter disregard for traffic signals and the most elemental rules of the road. Parents will of course reply in irate chorus that the children are too young to know about such things, but we contend that any boy or girl old enough to be trusted with a bicycle on the highway is old enough to realize the danger involved in failing to observe the ordinary driving regulations made for universal safety. In some cases it isn't a matter of carelessness or ignorance. We were told this week of a group of youngsters, who when given a horn by a careful motorist, deployed their bicycles across the road in front of him and told him in no uncertain terms where to go when he narrowly avoided hitting them. When one of the youngsters suggested that the man might come back after them and other boasted that his father would fix the motorist if he touched him. That appears to be the crux of the matter. The youngsters seem to feel that their parents will uphold them, right or wrong, and therein is the answer to the youthful criminal, if we can believe an authority like J. Edgar Hoover, king of the G-Men. Getting back to bicycles, it isn't fair either to the youngsters or to the great number of careful motorists to encourage the kiddies to take a chance on the highway. Complaints have been made of the way the youngsters ride against traffic on Thompson street and at the traffic circle in front of the Postoffice. Anyone would regret hitting a kiddie on a bicycle, and aside from the human side of the question there would be the loss of one's license and the legal trouble involved in such an accident, whether the motorist is right or wrong. The Police can be much more strict than they have been, but the parents have got to do the real missionary work. Teach the kiddies that it isn't sportsmanlike to risk their own safety or bring trouble to others. We personally like the idea of a bicycle pound where the wheels of reckless youngsters might be put in storage for a week or so until the owners came to realize their obligation toward insuring highway safety.

M. C. W. G. NOTES

Following the summer recess, the State Guild will hold its first regular quarterly meeting of the fall-winter season of 1937-38 on tomorrow afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce restaurant in Boston. The Regents of the several branches will be present to formulate plans for the diocesan charitable work which is carried on each year.

This year in addition to the several diocesan affiliations of the previous years, there will be assistance given to the Sisters associated with the work at the Blessed Sacrament Settlement House in the South End of Boston. This new work is a little different to any of our other affiliations in that our assistance will result in the making possible the addition of two more nuns to the group already doing this noble settlement work.

The regular meeting of the local branch will be held on Thursday evening, Oct. 14, at the home of Treasurer Delany.

OPENED WEDNESDAY

A registered nurse is in daily attendance to care for the children's health.

The school is conducted on the plan of small groups and individual instruction, and there are spacious enclosed grounds for safety. Tuition may be paid monthly, and a catalogue will be sent promptly upon request. The school advertisement appears in another column.

Little Dorothy Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sullivan of Winchester place had an exciting experience yesterday forenoon when she attempted to retrieve her ball that had gone down into the river at the rear of the Fire Station. The water had been drawn off, leaving a bed of soft mud into which the little girl sank at a point about ten feet from the shore. She was unable to move and was sinking well up to her waist when her plight was seen by Lieut. James Callahan of the Fire department who went to her assistance. Lieut. Callahan sank above his knees in the soft mud before he got the little girl onto firm footing and he in turn had to be assisted back to shore by his mates at the Central station.

"Reality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, September 26.

The Golden Text is: "For ever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven" (Psalms 119:89). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Make me to understand the way of thy precepts: so shall I talk of thy wondrous works. . . So shall I keep thy law continually for ever and ever. And I will walk at liberty: for I seek thy precepts." (Psalms 119:27, 44, 45).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The human mind is supposed to God and must be put off, as St. Paul declares. All that really exists is the Divine Mind and its idea, and in this Mind the entire being is found harmonious and eternal. The straight narrow way is to see and acknowledge this fact, yield to this power, and follow the leadings of truth" (p. 151).

FRESH FOOD FACTS

"Handle each apple as if it was an egg,"—that's the order given to the McIntosh apple pickers. Throughout the picking, packing, and all handling of the apples the owner's simple but sincere one-sentence command is law, for consumers and marketmen to use. And it is also a good law or rule for many or most other perishable fruits and vegetables, as well as McIntosh apples. This week hundreds of pickers accordingly are carefully gathering this delicate product and tenderly filling their baskets and crates with bottomed pails. The crates bottomed open so that the apples may be transferred to boxes and crates without the risk of bruises from "pouring."

New England has not a huge but a good McIntosh apple crop this year and fruit growers are now at the height of their "Mac" picking season, which usually lasts only about two weeks. Some large orchardists employ as many as 150 pickers. Only a few of the McIntosh apples reach consumers immediately and most of them will not come to the market yet for many weeks and months, some not until early Spring.

The numerous current pre-cooling plants in this state alone have a capacity of a million boxes. Within 24 hours after leaving the tree the McIntosh apples go into these especially designed and constructed refrigerated buildings. Right stage of maturity and promptness in getting the fruit to these plants are two important factors if the apples are to reach the public in good physical condition and retain their flavor throughout the extended marketing season.

Market demand and marketing practices have brought gradual changes in the varieties grown for commercial purposes. In Massachusetts the best commercial varieties are usually weeded down to about a dozen and of these, seven varieties are popularly singled out as the "New England Seven" including the current market favorites, Gravensteins, Wealthys, and McIntosh.

Apples outrank all other pie fillers. In spite of publicity for other fruits, the apple still reigns as King of Fruits.

GRANADA ATTRACTIONS

"Stella Dallas" with Barbara Stanwyck and John Boles as the featured players is the special attraction opening at the Granada Theatre in Malden today. Barbara Stanwyck in the title role is said to give the greatest performance of her career, if not the finest ever screened. "Stella Dallas" is the poignant story of the tawdry, vulgar woman who rises to magnificent heights through her sublime love for her daughter, "Stella Dallas," carries a terrific appeal to the emotions in its simple and powerful story. It depicts the love life of Stella, a beguiling and pleasure-starved mill girl, who after a brief romance marries Stephen Dallas, played by John Boles. He is outside her social sphere and they soon discover that they are definitely mismatched. Their baby is born and Stella's only redeeming feature is her love for her child. Her coarse manner of living becomes more pronounced and her flirtation and friendship with Alan Hale, a race track tout and his rowdy companions further alienates her husband. But Stella still idolizes her daughter, but a conversation she overhears brings to her the terrifying realization that she is standing in the way of her daughter's happiness. She decides to permit Stephen to divorce her, providing he will marry Mrs. Morrison, a rich and sweetheart and let the young daughter, played by Ann Shirley, live with them and have the advantages of a refined home. The fierce loyalty of the girl for her mother and her refusal to go with her father and Mrs. Morrison are poignant sequences that hit the heartstrings. But the mother is determined to sacrifice herself for her daughter's sake. She finally turns her child from her and hides the love for her that is tearing at her heart is the most deeply moving situation that has ever been filmed. Barbara Stanwyck's portrayal of the mother, showing the gradual breaking down of her moral fibre and her transition from the light hearted mill girl to the disillusioned and lonely woman is a triumph of dramatic artistry.

Madeleine Carroll and Frances Lederer in "It's All Yours," a sparkling comedy is the second attraction on the bill starting today. Mischa Auer, Grace Bradley, J. C. Nugent and Arthur Hoyt head the support.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Pag

Breakfasts take on added importance that the weather is cooler and children are in school. A substantial breakfast eaten leisurely is one of the best guarantees for health and good school marks that a mother can give her child.

National lamb week and apple week suggest two foods that are excellent values this week. Cranberries, grapefruit, pears, plums and peaches are also good fruit values. Among the vegetables the cabbage family, iceberg lettuce, onions, celery, potatoes and yellow turnips are outstanding. Eggs are still cheaper than last year at this season though seasonally higher. Butter, two, is more expensive.

Seasonable foods make up the following menus:

Low Cost Dinner

Shepherd's Pie with Mashed Potatoes Crust Creamed Yellow Turnips
Bread and Butter
Stewed Apples Cup Cakes
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner

Chicken Fricassee with Dumplings
Sweet Potatoes Green Lima Beans
Bread and Butter
Apple Snow Custard Sauce
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner

Appetizer Salad
Roast Lamb Pan-browned Potatoes
Creamed Broccoli Mint Jelly Rolls and Butter
Deep Apple Pie Hard Sauce

THIS WEEK'S GARDENING

By Alfred A. Fraser

All perennials should be transplanted by the first of November at the latest. Be sure that Madonna lilies, Oriental poppies, iris and peonies are planted this fall.

Plant lilies as soon as you get them. The species or botanical tulip make colorful rock gardens, propagate themselves. Crocus, daffodils and snowdrops are also helpful.

Chionodoxa, scillas and grape hyacinths are effective spring bloomers if planted in drifts under shrubbery. Borealis cut soil and arctic roses now—will give results next spring.

Annual plants can be lifted with a large ball of earth, potted and will keep flowering for a month or two—of the frost hasn't touched them.

Save the oak leaves—for the acid leaf mold they produce is good for Rhododendrons, wild flowers and evergreens. They protect as well as maintain the soil's acid condition.

Before freezing weather sets in cover your roses. Hill up 15 inches or so around the hybrid teas. Climbers should be laid down and covered with 3 or 4 inches of soil and some leaves. Lime will sweeten the compost heap and leave it ready for use in the spring.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT NOTES

Comparative Membership Figures in The Public Schools

These figures show the membership in our schools two weeks after opening compared with the figures two weeks after opening in 1936. While the total membership in the schools remains practically the same, there is a diminution of 47 in the elementary schools. This is quite in line with the trend throughout the country. The high school has, however, an increase of 55 and the high-land school an increase of 18.

There are now 12 New Plan candidates and everyone was successful.

Old Plan Candidates

These are students who take several examinations, some of which may be taken in the sophomore and junior year as well as in the senior year. Usually they are supposed to take examinations in enough subjects to qualify for the 15 units usually required for college entrance, or at least in those subjects in which they have not received certificate grade, assuming they are seeking admission to a college which admits on certificate.

There were six of these Old Plan candidates, three being seniors, two juniors, and one sophomore. Among them took eleven college Board Examinations. Ten of the examinations were acceptable to the colleges concerned, one was not accepted. Two of the examinations were below the minimum set by the colleges for average ability and training; three were of honor grade; seven were above the maximum for students of average ability and training.

Students Certified to College

These are students who ranked 50 or above in high school and who plan to enter colleges that will admit them on their high school certificates. These are certified to institutions of higher learning with four year courses and which grant degrees.

UNIVERSITY THEATRE

Rhythm, sweet, tremble and low-down; heavenly song hits by Gordon and Revel; scrumptious girls; a parade of personalities headed by Alice Faye, the Ritz Brothers, Don Ameche; flying fiddles, hot trumpets and honey crooners; dancing feet like rain on the roof; and the insistent antics of the Ritzmaniacs—there's everything for a smash hit in "You Can't Have Everything," sensational new musical show opening Sunday at the University Theatre.

All the uproar, the swing, the brilliance, and the freshness expected from the entertainment makers who produced "Sing, Baby, Sing," "Thanks A Million," "On The Avenue," "One In A Million," and "Wake Up And Live" is topped by a galaxy of featured talent, which includes Charles Winninger, Louise Hovick, Rubinooff and his violin, Tony Martin, Arthur Treacher, Phyllis Brooks, Tin, Tap and Toe, Louise Prima and his band and Tyler Brooke.

A group of flyers deprived of their pilot licenses in the United States, except for a "regulate" South American air service to fly mining equipment in condemned planes, and provide thrills and suspense in "Flight from Glory," the companion feature. It gives Miss Stanwyck the strongest role in her entire career and one which was coveted by every leading actress in Hollywood.

Co-starred with Miss Stanwyck is John Boles with a distinguished supporting cast, including Anne Shirley, Alan Hale, Barbara O'Neil, Al Shean of the famous team of Gallagher and Shean and Tim Holt, son of Jack Holt.

"Stella Dallas" is without a doubt one of the most poignant and gripping stories ever to be filmed. It was originally a best-selling novel by Olive Higgins Prouty, later a success on the Broadway stage and as a silent picture by Goldwyn.

Robert Young and Florence Rice are the principals in the light-hearted, laugh-provoking romantic comedy "Before Breakfast," a sequel to a social feature. Young portrays a happy-go-lucky playboy who tries to find a husband for Miss Rice but in the end decides that he is the best man for that job himself.

STRAND THEATRE, MALDEN

"Exclusive," with Fred MacMurray, Frances Farmer, Lloyd Nolan and Charles Ruggles as the stars, heads the double bill opening at the Strand Theatre in Malden today. The story concerns a war between two newspapers in a midwestern city. On one hand there is a paper which employs MacMurray and Ruggles, which is committed to a reform policy. The other paper is owned by Lloyd Nolan, a crooked politician, which he uses to cover up his high handed dealings and as a means to blackmail the city's leaders. Failing to get MacMurray and Ruggles to work for him, Nolan succeeds in getting Miss Farmer, Ruggles' daughter, who is unable to understand the principles which prevent her father, and MacMurray, her sweetheart, from accepting Nolan's offer. The powerful climax is reached when she discovers that she is being used as a tool by the suave Nolan and begins to appreciate the lofty ideals which motivated her father and sweetheart. "Exclusive" is an authentic picture of the business of news gathering and publication. The intelligent handling of its background makes it an important picture in addition to its entertainment value.

"The Devil is Driving," with Richard Dix and Joan Perry as the stars, is the second attraction on the bill starting today. The picture opens with Dix cast as an attorney who wins an acquittal of a young man accused of drunken driving. He commits perjury to secure the verdict but believes his duty is to his client. Through the influence of the acquitted youth's father he becomes district attorney. Then the same young man kills another person while under the influence of liquor. Then Dix realizes the terrible thing he has done. When the second trial opens Dix refuses to play ball with the politicians and the boy's father and sacrifices his own career to right a great wrong. "The Devil is Driving" is one of the most spectacular and dramatic films to come out of Hollywood this year.
